THE FUEL OIL SITUATION IN WINCHESTER

The Board of Selectmen have received from the OPA a preliminary statement with reference to the fuel situation as it affects Winchester users. While the plans at this date (Sept. 28) are announced as tentative, several points are of interest.

The reduction in oil is expected to be 33 1 3 per cent or a delivery of 66 2/3 per cent of normal consumption. However: "This one-third reduction is the minimum objective for overall consumption. Individual rations will be set within a range and the reduction for many individuals may largely exceed this figure."

Our Selectmen are urged to push the conversion of oil heating plants to the utmost.

The types of fuel oil to be rationed include Grades No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6. No curtailment is anticipated for domestic cooking and war production, but coupons will be used for all types of oil used.

Final and official dates of registration are not yet determined. Tentatively, registration dates are set as follows: Dealers will register with local listing boards on or about Oct. 5. Individual consumers will register at the local schools in the period between Oct. 12 and Oct. 20.

Dealer application and registration forms will be distributed to individual dealers by their suppliers.

Individual consumer application and registration forms for private dwellings will be handled entirely by the fuel oil dealers. The present plan is that a supply of forms be made available to each local board for the dealers to pick up when filing their certificates of registration. However, the school system of distribution is so effective that distribution may be made that way.

Four sets of forms are to be used, classified for private dwelling up to and including three families, private dwellings four families and up, offices, stores, commercial buildings, etc. and two other forms for industrial uses and domestic cooking and lighting purposes.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

DR. KIRTLEY F. MATHER IN WINCHESTER SUNDAY

Foremost Geologist in the Country

Dr. Kirtley Mather will speak to the young people of the Senior Forum on Sunday morning at 9:30 in the First Congregational Church parish house. This is the opening of the Forum course: "Man's Struggle for a Better World." Dr. Mather will speak on the subject "What Man Has Learned About the World in Which We Live."

Dr. Kirtley Mather is Professor of Geology at Harvard University and is Director of the Harvard Summer School. In addition to his work at Harvard, Dr. Mather has had a wide variety of other activities.

Dr. Mather, one of the foremost geologists of this day, is a popular speaker the country over and the young people of Winchester are most fortunate in having him open the Forum course. He is a remarkable speaker and will bring to us a wealth of treasures from his wide experience and rich background.

At the close of his talk, Dr. Mather will conduct a brief discussion period for questions.

All young people are welcome to join the Senior Forum.

WORLD WIDE COMMUNION SUNDAY, OCT. 4

Oct. 4, will be a significant day everywhere in the church. It will be World Wide Communion Sunday when Christians of all races and nations will gather in penitence and faith around the table of our Lord Jesus Christ.

When war is rampant in the world, Christians everywhere must maintain an unbroken and an unbreakable fellowship which will stand out in contrast to our divided and demoralized world.

Each Christian, by his presence at the Lord's Table, no matter in which part of the world he lives can bear his testimony to this abiding and continuing fellowship within the body of Christ, the Church.

PARISH PLAYERS OPEN 17TH SEASON

WINCHESTER BOY MISSING

John "Jackie" Halligan, son of Mrs. Ellen Halligan of Washington street, and the late John Halligan, has been reported as missing by the Navy Department.

Halligan enlisted in the United States Coast Guard about five weeks ago. He is a graduate of Winchester High School and will be remembered as a former care-taker at St. Mary's Church and parochial residence as his father was before him. His many friends are hoping that future reports from the young sailor may be more reassuring.

HISTORIC OBJECTS GO TO JUNK RALLY

Winchester's American Legion Post has voted to donate their cannon to the Scrap Drive and will parade in a body to Manchester Field to make the presentation at the Junk Rally on Oct. 3. Another historic object presented to the Rally is a six pound shell from the famous battleship Maine. The bin on Manchester Field grows larger daily as patriotic citizens pile their contributions of Scrap to Scrap the Axis. Among the objects seen there are old boilers, bedsteads, gas stove, tires, tubes, children's velocipedes, scooters, and baby carriages.

The Chairman of Metal Salvage, William Cusack announced that trucks from the Highway Department are available to call for any scrap which the owners cannot transport to the field. Call Win. 0207, Winchester Defense Committee, or speak to the neighborhood Salvage Warden. Everyone is urged to contribute the scrap before Saturday. All sorts of scrap needed for the American defense effort is wanted. Metals of all sorts, rubber, newspapers and magazines tied in bundles.

The program of the Junk Rally Day will include demonstrations by all of the various Defense organizations. The Rally will begin at 3:30.

As proof of the fact that Winchester is becoming increasingly salvage minded, Mr. Cusack announced the results of the tin can collection for September. While slightly over 6000 pounds were collected in August more than 17,000 pounds were collected in September. The collection also reflects the excellent work done by the Salvage Wardens, who first started functioning this month.

"Get out the Scrap now." Mr. Cusack urged. "The vital defense industries need it immediately. Send or bring your contributions to Manchester Field and come yourself to the Rally to see what Civilian Defense is doing in your town."

SERVICE FLAGS

The Winchester Legion Post is continuing the distribution of service flags to the homes of all Winchester men in the armed forces.

Since this action was taken by the Legionnaires early in May, 1942, there are doubtless many parents and others "next of kin", whose sons or husbands were in the service. Before the Legion Post started mailing out the flags.

Such names are not included in the lists furnished by the Selective Service Board. To make the flag distribution complete, the Legion welcomes any information as to homes where flags have not been sent.

A letter or post card addressed to Winchester Post 97, American Legion, 84 Washington street, or a telephone call to Win. 1139-J will result in any missing flags being promptly supplied.

WINCHESTER AIR RAID WARDEN IN NATIONAL MAGAZINE

One of Winchester's woman air raid wardens has anonymously acquired national recognition. In one of the double page advertisements in the October issue of 'The Woman's Companion" there is a group of pictures showing women's part in the war effort.

Miss Pollee M. Phipps of Post 3-4-2 is shown in the Winchester Report Center with her warden's arm band on her arm using the private line to Beggs and Cobb ordering them to sound the air raid alarm. The picture was taken when she was substituting for one of the Chief Wardens.

GIFTS FOR SOLDIERS

It was recently reported in the Star that a committee appointed by the Board of Selectmen to consider and make recommendations concerning a town-wide program for the sending of Christmas remembrances to all Winchester men in the Armed Forces had consulted with responsible authorities in the United States Army, and had been advised that the Army did not favor such a plan.

Dr. Charles H. Tozier, who has been actively identified with other programs for the raising of funds to send such gifts to men in service, and who had suggested the town, sponsored program for Winchester, has called to the attention of the Board of Selectmen a letter to him from the office of the Adjutant General, in which appear the following paragraphs:

"With reference to your inquiry in regard to the plan of sending packages to enlisted men of the U. S. Army, Navy and Marine Corps, from civilian organizations to which they formerly belonged, it is believed that such action on your part is highly commendable.

"The receipt of such small packages by the soldiers is a great aid in increasing the morale of the soldier. However, it is believed that the size of these packages shipped outside the limits of the United States should be limited."

The Board of Selectmen has indicated a desire that this statement receive equal publicity with the original note concerning the report of the committee appointed by them, in order to avoid any possible misunderstanding, or impediment to the work of various civilian organizations which are engaged in programs for the sending of such boxes.

The original inquiry to Army officials by the committee appointed by the Board related to a municipally sponsored program for Christmas remembrances to men in service, and the Selectmen after further inquiry are content to accept the report of their committee that such a program would be impracticable.

CRIPPLED MERCHANT MARINE VETERAN VISITED HERE

Peter J. Hyde, 45 year old veteran of the Merchant Marine with a record of 22 years at sea, stopped off last week on his way from New York to the Marine Hospital in Brighton to visit his brother and sister, Mr. John J. and Miss Mary Hyde of 12 Maxwell road.

Mr. Hyde experienced many thrilling adventures and suffered severe hardship from the day last March when he sailed as a member of the crew of a merchantman, Russia bound from New York. His ship was attacked by a plane and abandoned, the crew being picked up the following day by an English corvette, which in turn ran out of fuel.

Once again the crew was transshipped to another English vessel, which was torpedoed the following night. Mr. Hyde was one of 41 members of the crew of 149 who got away in lifeboats, being afloat for four days in Arctic waters, suffering untold hardships and seeing many of his shipmates die.

Finally the survivors were spotted by a plane and taken aboard a Russian mine-sweeper which landed them safely ashore.

Mr. Hyde spent 2½ months in a hospital at Murmansk, suffering from exposure. Amputations were necessary for the removal of his toes and he now walks with great difficulty. German bombings drove him and others to five different places before he sailed for home on an American ship from Archangel. He expects to spend three months in the Marine Hospital where it is hoped it may be possible to provide artificial toes which will enable him to gain balance and walk properly.

Red Cross urgently needs your help in making surgical dressings. Town Hall, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 10-4.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD WEEK FOR MASSACHUSETTS

Governor Saltonstall, in line with Governors of 18 states is co-operating in proclaiming the week of Oct. 4-10 for Needle-Work Guild publicity. All over the country, in cities, towns and villages the good news of the Guild, and what it stands for, will be set forth. More knowledge will bring greater interest and increased membership.

In the 57 years of its existence in this country, the Guild has grown from a tiny beginning in Philadelphia to an organization with branches in almost every state, to Hawaii, the Philippines and Alaska, with approximately a million members.

Winchester may well be glad that a branch was started here 32 years ago, and through its 20 directors and about 200 contributing members is able to distribute in the community about 400 useful articles of wearing apparel and household linens.

In the midst of needs created by the War and all the appeals to help people at a distance the home-front of our own community must not be forgotten, and it is through our nursing and church welfare organizations that our annual distributions are made.

This is a "charity which helps other charities," and its appeal has never been better expressed than by President Theodore Roosevelt who said he knew of "no other national charity which did so much good with so little red tape, time and money."

The annual meeting will this year be at Epiphany parish house on Monday, Oct. 19, at 2 p. m. with Miss Hilda Hope as the speaker. Anyone who is interested may obtain further information from the Secretary, Mrs. J. A. Hersey, or the President, Mrs. Robert Armstrong.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON CIRCLE

The board of the Florence Crittenton Circle will have its first meeting of the season at the home of the President, Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard, 32 Calumet road. The bazaar committee, headed by Mrs. George Wilson, will report on its activities and the other committee heads will outline plans for the coming year.

Those attending, and enjoying morning coffee, will be: Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, Mrs. John G. Pennjman, Mrs. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Fred Ritchie, Mrs. Frances E. Boothe, Mrs. Harold Richmond, Mrs. Loring Nichols, Mrs. E. Ober Pride, Mrs. Kingman Cass, Mrs. J. Herbert Waite, Mrs. Fred Aseltine, Mrs. Woodford Wilcox, Mrs. Reginald Bradlee, Mrs. G. Morton, Mrs. James McGovern and Mrs. Clifford Williams.

Plans will be made for the first regular meeting of the Circle, to be held at the home of Mrs. John G. Penniman on Friday afternoon, Oct. 16.

UNCLE ELMER TO APPEAR HERE

"Uncle Elmer and his Radio Song Circle" heard Sunday mornings from 8:32 to 9 o'clock over WEEI, Boston, will present a special program of Gospel hymns on Sunday, Oct. 4, at 7 p. m. in the First Baptist Church, Winchester.

The "Song Circle" is composed of young people who work at their regular tasks every day but give up most of their Sundays and weekday evenings to bring to an enormous and appreciative audience the gospel hymns that were so popular a generation ago. They have decidedly demonstrated that old time religion still appeals to thousands and that when presented to them in the right way will get them out of bed early Sunday mornings and bring them in surging crowds to the churches.

Old favorite Gospel hymns in solo, duet, trio and quartette arrangements with a generous variety of inspirational poems will constitute the major part of the program next Sunday, Oct. 4.

There are thousands of people who listen in on Sunday mornings in appreciation of the fine work the "Song Circle" is doing for those who are numbered among the sick and the shut-ins.

A free will offering will be taken. s25-2t

ROSS AGAIN SINGLES CHAMP

Pairs with Pennell for Doubles Crown Dave Riley and Polly Kimball Take Mixed Doubles

Herb Ross, perennial champion, successfully defended his Winchester singles title, won for the fifth time last year, by defeating Dave Riley, youthful challenger in the final round of this year's tournament last Sunday morning between showers on the Palmer street courts.

It was a two way win for Ross, who paired with Al Pennell to repeat their 1941 victory in men's doubles, this year at the expense of Bob Charles and Ed Williams. Dave Riley paired with Polly Kimball, Jackson sophomore and former State junior doubles champ, to win the mixed doubles crown from the father-daughter team of Bob and Marilyn Drake.

Ross' win over Riley brought him the Winchester Tennis Association Cup for the sixth time since he first won it in 1933. His doubles win, which brought him and Pennell the Benedict cup for the second straight year, was his fifth, he having won this trophy on three previous occasions with the late Roger Pettingell.

Riley and Polly Kimball, a new combination, were generally favored in mixed doubes after their semi-final victory over Dave's father, Jim, veteran of all veterans hereabouts, and Louise (Packer) Seager, former junior singles champion.

Following are the summaries:

BUTTERS RED HOT

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine champ, continued his torrid pitching at the regular matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association last week-end, pairing with the one and only Royal P. Teele, ranking officer of the organization, to hand out "the works" to all and sundry after a rather rocky start.

It must be admitted that Arthur and Royal dropped the first match of the series to "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe, and the Association's Secretary, of all pitchers, losing the last two games after winning the first one, 25-3.

McLaughlin and the Scrivener then took on Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham and Jim Baldwin of the "double figure Winchesters," proceeding to blow higher than the proverbial kite after winning the first game, 25-8.

Butters and Teele returned to the lists and took on Pridham and Baldwin, the latter pair losing the form that had carried them to victory in the proceeding match and going down, two out of three.

McLaughlin and the Secretary then tried their luck again and after a fair early game showing, faded in the first contest and never were in the second, losing in straight games.

Mr. Teele was by this time delirious with joy, though it must be admitted that his chief contribution to his team's victory had consisted of rattling the opposition with inopportune remarks anent their pitching form. Mr. Butters, however, was as steady as the arrival of the monthly bills, hanging them on the stake with such regularity as to become exceedingly monotonous to his opponents, though not to his partner.

Pridham and Baldwin decided to try it once more, but it just was no go. Butters was too good, and always when it hurt most Mr. Teele would get himself a ringer, to his own unconcealed delight and Mr. Butters' evident relief.

Mr. McLaughlin and the Secretary congratulated the winners, but it must be admitted that both had to be coaxed a little to "put it there" with the President.

The old law of "Caveat Emptor" is all very well, but "Wild Willie" and the Scrivener both incline to that school of thought which believes the victor should do something to deserve his booty!

WINCHESTER 7—SWAMPSCOTT 0

West to Treacy Pass Decided Hard Fought Game

A forward pass from Capt. Bill West to wingback Bob Treacy, in the last few minutes of the final quarter gave Winchester High a 7—0 victory over a hard fighting Swampscott High eleven last Saturday afternoon on the Shore road athletic field in one of the best football games played here in recent years.

Swampscott brought a big, hard-hitting team to Winchester and gave the local boys a slam-bang battle all the way. The blue clad visitors played rough, tough football, but the game was clearly waged and evidently enjoyed by the players of both clubs. Swampscott presented a very sturdy rushline that outplayed the locals pretty consistently, particularly with "Shiny" Amico and Dave Holmes on the sidelines, the visitors having a big weight advantage from tackle to tackle.

Amico was clipped on the fifth play of the game and received a knee injury that forced him out for the afternoon. Holmes hurt his hip and was in and out, finally giving way to Hicks, one of Coach Knowlton's watch-charm guards. When Boodakian was forced out in the second half by a kick in the face and replaced by Derro, Winchester was really outclassed in the center of the line and did well to hold the big Swampscott forwards in check at all.

Swampscott had the edge in first downs, 8-7, with Winchester leading in net yardage, 153 to 101. The locals lost 27 yards from scrimmage to six for Swampscott. In the air Winchester completed one of three passes for 14 yards and a touchdown. Swampscott made two of its eight passes good for 21 yards and had another long one nullified by a holding penalty. One of Winchester's forwards was intercepted and Captain West grabbed two visiting aerials to break up what looked like real enemy threats. The locals lost 25 yards to the officials while Swampscott lost 45, including two 15 yard penalties that really hurt, Winchester had no fumbles but Swampscott had two and both were costly. Each team had a kick blocked, but Winchester's block was nullified by an offside.

The visitors were threatening with the game hardly begun when Grant intercepted a partially deflected West pass and reached the Winchester 43. Amico was hurt on the play and Jim Kimball went in at his right tackle slot.

Paced by its flashy Captain Ring, a real running fool, Swampscott barged along to a first down on Winchester's 16.

Here Jackson broke through to get Grant for a life-saving five yard loss. Ring got back 10 in two tries inside tackle but on fourth down, five to go, was piled up by the center of the local line without gain, Winchester taking over at its 11.

Taking a lateral from West, Milliacci sprinted along the sidelines to the 46, but here the local offense bogged and West kicked short to the Swampscott 35. Swampscott started again with Ring doing most of the carrying and reached the Winchester 28 when a 15 yard holding penalty put an end to its drive.

Friberg kicked to Winchester's 15. In two tries at the line West made it first down on the 31. Milliacci added six off tackle and then took a lateral from West, being finally pulled down from behind on the Swampscott 24.

Milliacci picked up eight and Treacy and West made it first down at the 10. Swampscott lost five for invading a neutral zone, but West was stopped at the line and then the locals lost five for delaying the game. Milliacci was held at end, Treacy was thrown for a seven yard loss on a reverse and finally on fourth down with 17 to go Milliacci was again thrown for a loss back on the Swampscott 23, trying to skirt his own right end.

Swampscott really threatened soon after the opening of the third quarter when a West punt was blocked and recovered by Swampscott at Winchester's 15. Jackson broke through to get Grant for a yard loss, Ring picked up only five in two tries and on fourth down Grant's pass fell incomplete in the end zone.

Winchester drove out to its 40 where West got off a booming punt that rolled across the Swampscott goal line. Soon after the start of the last quarter West kicked to the Swampscott 25 and on first down intercepted a Swampscott pass at the visitors' 40. Giving a brilliant exhibition of sheer power and open field running, big "Monk" drove to the Swampscott four where he attempted to lateral to a team-mate. The toss was forward and cost Winchester 15 yards, the ball going back to the 19.

West drove through the tight packed eight man line for five yards, but failed to gain in another lunge at the blue wall. On third down he faded and shot a whizzing pass down the center alley to Treacy, who grabbed the ball just in front of the safety man, falling across the goal line as the latter made the tackle. Jackson easily converted at placement with Buzzotta holding.

The 215 pound Mattera ran the kickoff back from the goal line to his 24 and here Ring broke through for a gallop to the 45 where he fumbled and Buzzotta recovered. Winchester couldn't go anywhere and West kicked outside at the Swampscott 22.

Captain Ring in two tries reached the 35 and a Grant to Buchanan pass reached the 46 when linesman Wenner ruled interference. Grant tried again and completed a long heave to Anthony deep in Winchester's territory. The visitors were holding on the play, however, and the ball was brought back for a costly 15 yard penalty. A moment later West intercepted another pass and on the following play the final whistle blew.

For Winchester Capt. Bill West played a whale of a game and was easily the outstanding player on the field. Time and again he rammed through the tight packed Swampscott line on bull strength alone and his pass interceptions were very timely. Jim Kimball did a good job substituting for Amico and both Lentine and Errico did some hard tackling. For Swampscott, Captain Ring stood out and ranks with the best to play against Winchester in some time. Big Mattera, too, and the tackles, Stensrud and Wade, were strong defensively. One of the biggest crowds since Arlington used to open the local season saw the thriller.

SWAMPSCOTT GAME RECEIPTS BETTER THAN ANTICIPATED

Possibly because of the fine weather, the fact that Winchester won its opening game at Framingham and the fact that many people were unable to attend nearby college games because of lack of easy transportation, the local high school game drew a larger crowd than was anticipated by the management.

Five hundred and thirty-six adult tickets were sold at 55 cents each; 139 visiting students tickets at 30 cents each; 114 student tickets at 28 cents each; and 880 11 cent tickets to A. A. members and children under 12 years of age.

The total paid admissions were 1668. And the total gate receipts $465.22. Of this amount a little more than 10 per cent will be paid as a federal tax. The cost of running the game was approximately $100, including officials, police, ticket handlers, programs, posters and advertising.

All men in uniform were admitted free.

TENNIS PLAYERS IN SERVICE

An increasing number of local tennis players are with the colors, a partial list including Dick Riley, Billy Gilpatric, Hall Gamage, Bill Packer, Leo Lieberman, Bill McGaragle, Arthur Hills and Al Pennell. Pennell is the current doubles champion while Riley, Gilpatric, Gamage and Hills are former title holders.

LEXINGTON HERE TOMORROW

Kickoff at 1:30 to Aid Salvage Rally

Winchester High will play its football game with Lexington High tomorrow afternoon at the Shore road field at 1:30 instead of the originally announced 2 o'clock, the change being made so as not to conflict with the big Salvage Rally to be held at Manchester Field at 3:30.

Winchester figures to win from Lexington. The Minuteboys were none too impressive losing a 26-6 verdict to Wellesley last Saturday while the local boys were beating one of the good Class C teams in Swampscott.

Assistant Coach Mannie Palmer, who scouted Lexington, reports the Blue and Gold is big and rough, but not too finished, hitting hard and playing aggressive football.

Coach Knowlton was undecided about his left guard and right tackle posts as game time approached. Big Shiny Amico, who hurt his knee against Swampscott is not expected to start at tackle though his injury has mended nicely and he probably can play if needed. Dave Holmes, rugged left guard nursing a hip injury, will probably start, though Derro may get the nod at the last minute. Two shifts in the squad send Doug Cromwell, 170 pound fullback and Stevie Tompkins, a biggish third string center, to the tackle squad.

WINCHESTER BOYS IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Two Winchester boys saw plenty of service in the opening games of the college football season last Saturday, Steve Holmes getting in at right guard for Dartmouth in the Indians' surprise 17-6 victory over Holy Cross and Tony DeTeso starting at center for Tufts in the Jumbos 13-0 defeat at the hands of Bowdoin.

DeTeso, whose 150 pounds makes him one of the lightest linemen in intercollegiate football, played a whale of a game for the Brown and Blue, missing a touchdown when he tripped and fell on the Bowdoin 24 after picking a fumble out of the air. He and Dolan of Bowdoin met head-on as the latter bucked the Tufts line and the fierceness of Tony's charge knocked the ball from Dolan's arms.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NOTES

Last year, for the first time, the School Department invited the parents of our elementary school pupils to be present at the annual physical examinations of their children. The response was gratifying. The department again cordially invites the parents of our elementary school pupils to be present again at the annual physical examinations. The parents will be informed of the approximate time of the examinations by means of notices taken home by the children.

We are engaged in a war—a total war—more terrible and more extensive than any other in the history of the world. Our boys are scattered all over the earth, facing tremendous odds, but fighting brilliantly with all the strength and power at their command. Could any one of us resist an appeal from one of these hard pressed, smoke-grimmed lads for a bit more ammunition, a part for his plane, or a gun for his tank—if we had it to give? Those are some of the things we really are giving when we contribute our old metal. The Soldier out in the South Pacific, or in Africa, or in Iceland, needing just that extra material may well be one of our boys. Let us then get all the scrap metal there is in Winchester and take it to Manchester Field tomorrow with the knowledge that at least for the moment we are doing what we can to aid our fighting forces wherever they may be.

We took three of our new gas tickets and went down to our Camp on Cape Cod last week-end, singing our swan song and retrieving some cherished possessions to hold with us in remembrance of happier pre-New Deal and pre-War days. We had a pleasant trip. Carefully following our President's dictum of 35 miles an hour we had an open road, for everyone sailed by us and we had clear driving space. Still old fashioned, we forgot that this 35-mile an hour driving rate was in New Deal figures and not in the simple arithmetic we were taught in the old Highland School. We found our Camp in good condition. Not visited since early spring, it has been used by various friends in service from Edwards and Washburns, not to omit the bride and groom. (The bugs Helen, were a form of "lady bug," harmless tho plentiful. The Little Woman swept them all up.) The place (we thought) was clean and thanks to "Shelly" Hamilton our grass had been cut. Our old friend Myles Standish, has given up his eggs and all else but gasoline. For seventeen years we got those delicious, clover-fed eggs from him (and raspberries even into December). Mrs. Spaulding, down on the straight-away, a former Winchester resident, has closed her stand, and we missed her wonderful bread. Her husband, the fellow who says, "just hot; my wife just took it from the oven," reported a wonderful season. They are visiting their daughter, and may go to Florida. Down at Buzzards Bay, Arthur could give us nothing but two one-claw lobsters. Prices so high, fish so scarce and demand so great, he is thinking of closing up. So we had one-claw lobsters. We got a jar of beans however from Myron—which is something we do not have at home, and found a new hennery. The Middleboro melons at Algers were just as delicious as way back in 1925. We did not dine out at Camp. So far as we know we were the only place on the coast not restricted, but with Washburn's Island a glow of night-long lights, we had only to exercise a slight flight of fancy to imagine ourselves off Cottage City on a Saturday night. Commando boats of every description, drumming over the bay night and day like a gigantic swarm of mosquitoes, and soldiers, soldiers everywhere gave ample realization of War at first hand. We thought we might have to obtain a pass to go into the Island and were prepared to make a trip to Woods Hole previous to trying out the comfortable sun porch bed, but either they remembered us, or just considered us harmless, and we were not questioned, and enjoyed as much freedom as we were inclined to take. Myron's store has blossomed out into a complete emporium, with two large additions, booths, meals and the Post Office heralded by a neat sign announcing the headquarters of the ancient village of Waquoit. Good old Clarence came around as usual and entertained us with summer news. Clarence seems to be weakening. That job he had at Edwards, pulling down $75 a week, seems to have something. He is working for Harry Davis at his boat yard, but is considering going on a "project." He is undecided whether he will pay up his back union dues or just join up again. Horace did not come around He is still busy at Daniel's Island, but Bill Sheldon, who collects the junk from the Island, was in, and we were quite gratified in giving him a sizeable pile—inside and out. He is a good trencher man. Cabe Sanborn would be delighted to know that his old clay pigeon gun and his old spare tire holders which came off that sporty Mercier car will go to help swell the Falmouth tonnage. Isolated as we were, we depended on the radio for news and entertainment. It was most unsatisfactory. We wonder how many of our boys in service, isolated as we were, enjoy that constant blurb by politicians, public officials and show girls, announcing how much money we are spending, how much material we are turning out and how we are winning the war. We hope they do. There was enough of it. Second of importance was the condemnation of the farm bloc and its fight for 110 or 112 parity. The Administration, we constantly heard, was winning this great victory and saving the Nation. The nefarious farmers were going down in defeat. We heard nothing of Labor nor the Union. We don't pretend to know a thing about this farm controversy. As we see it, it is a herring drawn across the trail to quiet the Union. Evidently the Union has the great majority of votes, so on a show-down the farmers have got to take what is given them and like it. From our acquaintance with farmers here in New England they never have had such-a-much. If they have been able to keep up with the mortgage, they are prosperous. We get up mornings at 6:30, but we would not swap with the farmer who gets up at 3 to milk, works all day and brings in the wood before he turns in at 9. When a high school boy can join up with the gang and get a job at 50 "bucks" a week sitting around for 40 hours, we wonder how much the farm boy can get. It recalls to mind the story recently heard of school boys being recruited to pick apples. They immediately struck for 60 cents an hour—and produced labor pamphlets to back this pay up. As it took one man to oversee each three boys, the farmer gave up and let the apples rot. This seems to be a "money" War in every respect. Get what you can. If the Unions can pull down $85 to $100 a week, who can blame the farmer for wanting more? We bet there are few New England farmers who ever got that much every Friday night. The way food is being rationed and the fruit and vegetables rotting on the ground, the farmers may have an argument after all. Our friend Frank Souza, whom we stood-up with when he got married in the little Methodist Church at West Falmouth, gave us a big bag of delicious and perfect tomatoes. He would take no money. "They are just rotting" he said. "No one to pick them and no place to sell them." Our sympathies are with the farmers. We may get to the Cape once more, for our water is still on. If we do, we have the comforting assurance of the Lieutenant, who says the General will send the command car over to the station any time we can make it. Hot Dog!

MANY WINCHESTER SPONSORS

Many Winchester friends of the Salvation Army witnessed the launching of the Carrier "Salvation" during the dinner that opened the Greater Boston Annual Maintenance Appeal of that organization at the Boston Chamber of Commerce, on Tuesday evening, Sept. 29. Inspired by the colorful and patriotic program, the Winchester sponsors are more and more determined that the 1942 financial campaign in this community shall be of the Over-the-Top variety.

In the meantime, an appeal letter, signed by William N. Beggs, an attorney, and chairman of the Winchester sponsoring group, has been received by many former donors and new friends of the Salvation Army.

The letter reads in part:

"To keep the Home Front Strong, to assure succor to those in need, I invite your particiipation in the Salvation Army's Annual Maintenance Appeal in Winchester. Your help will bring about the continuance of the Army's day and night service in war, in disaster and in the assuaging of distresses that come to men and women on the Home Front.

Mr. Beggs, heading the men and women sponsors asks that every effort be made for old and new friends to hand or mail their donations to the campaign treasurer. He is G. Dwight Cabot of the Winchester Trust Co.

This year's sponsors also include: Earle E. Adrews, Ralph H. Bonnell, Rev. Paul H. Chapman, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, Mrs. Gerald D. Curtis, Ernest Dade, Harry E. Damon, Jr., George T. Davidson, chairman of the Park Commission; Horace T. Ford, Mrs. Don S. Greer, Mrs. Paul H. Howard, Charles E. Howe, William A. Kneeland, president of Winchester National Bank; Miss Corinne Mead, J. CHRISTMAS MAIL FOR MEMBERS OF ARMED FORCES ABROAD

Christmas parcels and Christmas cards should be mailed during the period beginning Oct. 1 and ending Nov. 1, 1942, the earlier the better, and each gift parcel should be endorsed "Christmas Parcel."

In view of the urgent need for shipping space to transport materials directly essential to the war effort, Christmas parcels shall not exceed the present limits of 11 pounds in weight or 18 inches in length, or 42 inches in length and girth combined. Not more than one Christmas parcel or package shall be accepted for mailing in any one week when sent by or on behalf of the same person or concern to or for the same addressee.

Owing to the great distance this mail must be transported, and the handling and any storage it must undergo, it is absolutely necessary that all articles be packed in substantial boxes or containers and be covered with wrappers of sufficient strength. Furthermore, as each parcel is subject to censorship, delay in the handling may be minimized by securing the covering of the parcel so as to permit ready inspection of the contents.

No perishable matter should be included in any parcel and intoxicants, inflammable materials (including matches of all kinds and lighter fluids) are unmailable.

MEMORIAL PLAQUE PRESENTED

The Winchester Lodge, 1580, of the Order Sons of Italy in America held a very impressive ceremony on the past Sunday afternoon at the lodge quarters, when their Venerable John A. Volpe presented to the lodge a Memorial Plaque for the memory of the deceased brothers of the lodge.

Dr. Angelo Maietta served as chairman for the occasion, and spoke very highly of the generosity of Mr. Volpe in presenting the marble plaque to the lodge. The plaque is constructed of solid marble on which are mounted bronze inscriptions as follows: "In Memoriam," "Members of the Winchester Lodge, 1580, Order Sons of Italy in America, who have been called to the far beyond." The name of Frank Zaffina is the first name attached to the plaque.

Assistant Venerable Angelo Tofuri accepted the gift from Venerable Volpe while ex-Venerable Carmen Frongillo gave a brief outline of the great part played by Brother Zaffina in the organizing and developing of the Winchester lodge.

The main speaker was Rev. Fr. John O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's Church, who also led the gathering in prayer for the deceased Brother.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Washington-Highland Chapter

The Washington-Highland Chapter of the Mothers' Association opened its 1942-43 season on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 22, with a well attended tea for the teachers. Mrs. George I. Chatfield, president of the Chapter, welcomed the teachers with a special greeting to the new members of the staff. Each teacher was presented with a corsage of tea roses. A delicious tangy punch and dainty tea cakes were served by Mrs. Victor Moses, assisted by her able social committee.

Mrs. Chatfield urged every one present to support and advertise the next meeting which will be held at the George Washington School on Friday, Oct. 23, at 3 o'clock. Miss Marjorie Shepherd, a well known professional reader and impersonator, will do a cutting from a popular play and several short sketches. Refreshments will be served and a grand prize awarded.

Proceeds will go toward the Scholarship Fund. Mrs. K. Foster Cleaves is in charge of tickets. Everyone is invited.

BIG SCRAP PILE IN HIGHLANDS

The big scrap pile in the Highlands at the junction of Clematis and Forest streets is attracting the attention of everyone passing that way.

Just about everything is in the heap, including two automobiles, an all metal safe, eight lawn-mowers, a big gas stove, several oil tanks, scooters, baby carriages, bird cages and lunch boxes.

One of the automobiles, both of which are painted red, white and blue, with appropriate messages like "one way ride to Hirohito" and "One way to Berlin-Rush", was donated by Warren Osborne and the other was towed home from Woburn by Richard Sullivan and Ralph Collander. Alfred J. Higgins and Sullivan conceived the idea of the scrap pile, which will swell the collection at the local salvage rally Saturday, and have collected most of it. The safe bears the legend, "Sweatshirt for Adolph!" Here's hoping!

HIGH SCHOOL CAFETERIA HELPS WAR EFFORT

Under the direction of Mrs. Mary Manzie, assistant to the dietician, the staff of the high school cafeteria are finding many ways to contribute to the war effort. Besides salvaging cooking fats and over 100 pounds of tin, they are making wide use of corn syrup to reduce sugar consumption.

The complete staff, besides Mrs. Manzie consists of Mrs. Bridget Maguire, Mrs. Mary Flaherty, Mrs. Josephine Meskell and Mrs. Ann Little.

SELECTIVE SERVICE NEWS

The Local Selective Service Board has been advised that, out of the 48 men who went forward for Army Physical Examination on Monday, the 28th of September, 40 passed the physical requirements for service in the U. S. Army, and eight were rejected. The men who were accepted were sworn in the U. S. Army and transferred to the Enlisted Reserve with instructions to report to their Local Board at 7:30 on the morning of Saturday, Oct. 10, for transportation to Fort Devens, where they will be formally accepted in the Army.

Dwigh B. Hill, 71 Middlesex street, approved as a volunteer officer candidate, also James D. Halwartz, 20 Brookside avenue and Charles E. Kitchin, formerly of 10 Winthrop street, declined to take the 14-day furlough which was offered them and they entrained immediately for Fort Devens from the Induction Station.

The Local Board sent forward for induction five colored registrants on Wednesday, Sept. 30, and have been advised that the following men passed the Army physical requirements:

Patrick C. Garner, 644 Main street, William R. Guy, 48 Spruce street, Charles B. Kirby, Jr., 35 Harvard street. They will be transported to Fort Devens at a date to be announced later.

HIGH SCHOOL SOCIAL STUDIES

Social Studies teachers in the high school held their first meeting of the school year on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Those present included Mrs. Stacy, department head, Miss Hall, Principal Graves, and Messrs. Cooper, Shutts and Smith.

A short discussion of department problems relating to equipment and marks preceded a general discussion of the question, "What can we do to increase the effectiveness of our teaching with regard to the present situation?"

Following this discussion, Mrs. Stacy reviewed the new book, "Education for Democratic Survival" by Walter E. Myer and Clay Coss. This book is one of the most challenging and provocative of recent publications dealing with the problems of education in a world at war.

THE LIONS ROAR

Well, boys and gals, the ol' Lion found himself a new den for the Sept. 28 meeting, none other than Randall's on Mt. Vernon street.

Due to unusual circumstances, several of the lads missed a swell dinner. The meeting was informal, with no official business. Instead, ladies' night was declared and among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas of Eaton street.

Following the grub, which was tops as afore mentioned, the gang roused the neighborhood as they returned to the business den of the King Lion. There they boisterously settled themselves as Lion Leo Garvey set up his equipment to show pictures, in full color, no less, of Father Flanagan's Boy's Town. Leo preceded the show with an interesting discourse on the administration of the incorporated City of Boy's Town, and followed this show with equally interesting pictures of the Elks' Convention and associated trip.

By popular demand, his pictures of Prince Edward Island were reviewed. We're sure that if Leo ever leaves the field of law, Hollywood will find a place for him as an ace cameraman.

Joining the meeting at the famed optometrist's office was Mr. O. E. Sweet. We wish we could see more of him at our meetings, for the whole meeting.

The whole pack of the Kings of the Jungle retired to their respective homes about mid-evening with lusty roars and not silent well wishes.

Now, what the ol' Lion really wants to know is, where the . . . were the rest of those cubs, particularly the ones who promised to come but didn't? Come on in, the food is fine.

M. C. W. G. NOTES

The first regular meeting for the winter season will be held on next Thursday evening at the home of the Treasurer.

EPISCOPALIANS PLAN FLYING FAIR

Buckle on your parachute and come to the Flying Fair at the Church of the Epiphany on Nov. 6. The Flight Commander, Mrs. John Lynch, and her assistant, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, have planned a novel and entertaining Fair.

The parish house will be converted into an airplane with flying insignia and propellers through the work of the decorations committee under Mrs. George Marks. The committees in charge of the various tables will be dressed as stewardesses and a box luncheon similar to those served on planes will be served at noon by Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes' committee.

One compartment of the plane will be occupied by the fortune teller, Marie Harding, who was so successful at the En Ka Fair this spring.

Small children may be left in care of an able stewardess, Mrs. Charles Butler. A nominal fee will be charged. Mrs. Butler's committee will provide toys and games to amuse their charges.

The Episcopalian Fairs in the past have always been famous for their gift tables and this year there will be a wider assortment than usual. Mrs. Reisner of the Symmes Corner Group has already acquired a large assortment of hand made gifts from her committee members who have worked throughout the summer.

Each Tuesday between now and the Fair there will be a table in the parish house where donations for the Fair may be left. Such tables as the preserves and jellies, used toys, white elephants and the $1 gift table are especially desirous of contributions.

Help keep the Fair Flying.

BOMBER NAMED FOR FORMER WINCHESTER MAN

A medium bomber, purchased by the proceeds from the first war bond auction held in Philadelphia, has been named the Hunnewell, in honor of Capt. Norman F. Hunnewell, fruit and produce auctioneer in the Quaker City for the past 20 years and a former well known resident of Winchester.

The auction was held recently at the Philadelphia Terminal Auction Co. and was attended by about 200 grocers and produce buyers. When the bidding seemed to lag at the $129,000 mark Roos Wallis, 4-party state administrator of the Treasury Department's War Savings staff, told those present that if they would boost the figure to $150,000, that would buy a medium bomber which they could name.

Within a few mintes the goal was reached, and it was as quickly decided to name it for Norman Hunnewell, who incidentally has recently joined the Army.

Bible selections will include the following passage from 1 Timothy 6:17, 19: "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; . . laying up in store for themselves a good foundation the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life."
One of the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included in the Lesson-Sermon, reads as follows: "Christianity causes men to turn naturally from matter to Spirit, as the flower turns from darkness to light. FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SCHOOL OPENS

The Sunday School of the First Congregational Church opened in all departments on last Sunday. The plans are as follows:

Nursery Department

The nursery department is for children from two and one-half years of age up to four years of age, whose parents are attending the Morning Church service. The department meets from 10:45 to 12 o'clock, and is under the leadership of Mrs. Lysle K. Bush, a trained Nursery School leader, and is assisted by Miss Jeanette Godrocz.

In the nursery department the aim is to make the Church School a happy place where the two and three year olds will wish to come. The Church School is often the child's first group experience, and individual adjustment is always of primary importance. From the standpoint of the small child the theme of the department is:

I play with other children
I learn that this is God's house, and I worship God.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT CLUB PICNIC

Seventy Wednesday Night Club members of the First Congregational Church enjoyed the annual picnic supper last Saturday held at the Horse Show grounds of the Winchester Country Club.

Games were played from 3 until 6 after which time the cook-out supper of frankforts, hamburgers, salad, coffee and doughnuts was served. Each member was requested to bring his own sugar!

The Wednesday Night Club is a group of young married people headed this year by Bob Harmon, president; Peggy Cooper, vice president; Cynthia Barone, secretary; and Kim Archibald, treasurer.

As the suppers are usually prepared by the young women, the picnic was taken over by the men. Ted Waller arranged the supper and Dr. Blanchard organized the games.

The young people lingered around the fire for some time, breaking up shortly after dark.

RETIRING COMMANDER'S REPORT STRESSED PUBLIC SERVICE

Retiring Comdr. Revelev H. B. Smith, in his recent report to Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, stressed the Post's service to the community, state and nation during the past year.

Emphasis was placed on the transfer of a substantial percentage of the Post's permanent fund from the savings bank to Defense Bonds, the Post's organization and operation of Airplane Observation Post 97A under Past Commander Stafford Rogers, the formation and success of the Auxiliary Police force of which Legionnaire Harry Goodwin is chief; participation of Legionnaires in other civilian defense activities; the interest taken in and the assistance lent local men inducted into the sevice; the distribution of service flags free to families of service men, 267 to date; and the fathering of a movement which resulted in increased dental care for school children in Winchester.

In addition to these new activities the Post has carried on as in the past, directing both the Memorial Day and Independence Day activities of the town and conducting a series of penny sales to raise funds for its charitable work.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION OFFERS VARIED EXHIBITS FOR SEASON

An exhibition of water colors by Eliot O'Hara, contemporary artist, teacher, and writer, whose work has received wide acclaim on two continents, will be in the Winchester Gallery for the month of October. The exhibition will open at 4 o'clock on Oct. 4, "Guest Sunday" with a talk and tea in the gallery at the Winchester Public Library.

The speaker will be Miss Eleanor Barry, teacher and artist, for 11 years chief assistant to Eliot O'Hara, and now a member of the faculty of the Museum School of Fine Arts in Boston.

This exhibition was obtained and arranged by Miss Edna M. Hatch of the Art Association's Exhibition Committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. G. Russell Mann. Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Herbert West and Mrs. Ejnar Bratt, in collaboration with Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes as chairman of the Hospitality Committee. Pourers will be Mrs. John L. Lobingier, wife of last year's president and Mrs. Lyle K. Bush, wife of this year's president.

The water colors in the O'Hara exhibit will be selected from a large group, many of which have been exhibited from a large group, many of which have been exhibited from California to New York under the title, "The Hemisphere in Water Color," and the subjects are taken from nearly all parts of both Americas. The three books written by the exhibitor, on water color and painting technique, "Making Water Colors Behave, Making the Brush Behave, and Art Teachers' Primer have been so widely read as to require several editions. All three books are owned by the local library and are recommended to teachers and students of water color and design for lessons and exercises for the improvement of technique.

For 12 years Mr. O'Hara has held a summer school in water color painting at Goose Rocks Beach, Maine, spending his winters traveling and painting throughout our West and in Latin America. He won the Guggenheim Fellowship in 1928 and has won several major awards and exhibited in the Soviet Union, England and South America. He is represented in public collections in England and in Bolivia as well as in almost every large city in the United States.

The exhibit of water colors, sponsored by the Winchester Art Association, will mark the second in the 1942-43 series which will include a memorial exhibition of the paintings of Nellie Littlehale Murphy in November, a special exhibition pertaining to the design of stained glass from the studios of Charles J. Connick in December, selected drawings, paintings and water colors from the studios of the Rhode Island School of Design in January, and a series of varied are exhibits throughout the spring.

The Art Association Board has announced its speakers' committee for the season to include Mr. Charles H. Watkins, chairman; Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff, Mr. Charles F. Dutch, and Mr. Bradford Eddy.

Largely because of the appeal of its exhibits and Sunday afternoon lecture-demonstrations and teas, the Winchester Art Association has become one of the most popular community organizations in Winchester. It has grown continually in the past ten years without any special drive for membership. Last year more than 80 new members joined, bringing the total membership number to 320.

Sunday, Oct. 4 is "Guest Sunday" when members may bring friends to the gallery talk and tea without the usual guest fee. Many members at this time make it a custom to bring some person who might become interested in joining the Association. The Winchester Art Association is open to all residents of the town, and if any newcomer or any older resident wishes to take advantage of the general invitation, he will be most welcome to the meeting at 4 o'clock and to membership, if he so desires, at the very nominal fee of $1 for the year.

Because the minds and hands of people are burdened and occupied with thoughts and work of War this year, the need for an occasionel cultural touch such as that received through the media of art, will be great, and more appreciated than ever before. It is the hope of the Association that Winchester people will visit its gallery exhibitions often.

PUBLIC SCHOOL INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

From the office of the Superintendent of Schools comes word that a more extensive program of instrumental music will be undertaken this season. Under the leadership of Mr. George Brown, conductor of our high school orchestra, orchestras and bands will be established in all units of the system as soon as sufficient players are available. Classes will be formed under competent teachers for the study of the various band and orchestra instruments and also for piano.

Next Monday Mr. Brown will visit all of the schools and explain the program. He will have with him demonstrators who will play on the different instruments. Those who already play will be urged to join the orchestras or bands and those who do not will be urged to take up an instrument and join a class.

Classes will begin the week of Oct. 12. The Elementary School Orchestra will meet Wednesdays at 1:15 at the Lincoln School beginning Oct. 7. The Junior High School Orchestra will meet Mondays at 12:15 beginning Oct. 19. The High School Band will meet Wednesdays at 2:15 beginning Oct. 7. The High School Orchestra will continue to meet Tuesdays at 8:20.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Winchester Unit

The next two Wednesdays the Winchester Unit of British War Relief will have dolls on their minds. Dolls for some of the thousands of children whose dolls were lost to them when war flight hurried them far from their homes, the little refugees now in the British Isles. It will take two weeks to get these Christmas presents ready, for the Unit expects to make them. So Oct. 7 will be the day when they collect scraps of material of all sorts, ideas, patterns, and models for soft dolls. For little boys the Unit hopes to make soft animals.

The managers of trans-Atlantic shipping promise to find space for these small Christmas presents. They have no room for presents sent to an individual and these are not accepted at all, but for the toys that go into a common good-cheer fund, to be shared wherever needed, they will provide room.

So again friends will go rummaging for spare cotton to stuff the toys, for gray outing flannel that would make them skin of an elephant or a cat, brown fuzzy bits for a dog; flesh or cream or white stuff that will make the foundation dolls. That for next Wednesday and on Oct. 14 the real making will begin.

Mrs. Fred Cameron, 90 Church street, Win. 1984, will receive materials and discuss ideas at any time. What your children liked best will surely please overseas children.

BOAT CLUB NOTES

Two starts, two wins, that's the record of the new nemesis to the male skippers of the Winchester Snipe Fleet namely "Floppy" Simonds.

The last six races of the season are being sailed for the Alden Sherman Memorial Trophy and the boys are really bearing down.

Five courageous but foolhardy skippers answered the starting gun in Sunday's near gale wind and proceeded to prove that Winchester has skippers who may not be able to beat "babes" but they can really sail under any conditions.

Ted Burleigh was first with Bill Hall second and third place went to Jay Smith.

The third and final senior dance last Friday night maintained the high standard of fun and frolic set by the two previous affairs. A good time was had by all and Mr. and Mrs. Burbank deserve a vote of thanks for their excellent handling of the affair. The sands of time are running out on this club year and the club is beginning to look and feel as deserted as a barn with a pole cat in it. So many people have asked us who was the girl with the gorgeous figure who ate 14 meat balls, we have been forced to print her name. This hungry but handsome female was none other than that gorgeous blonde creature Claustraphobia Clammerbottom. We hope you're satisfied.

SENIOR FORUM

Starts With Registration Supper

Last Sunday evening about 150 young people gathered in the banquet hall of the First Congregational Church for a Registration Supper to mark the opening of the Forum year. At the close of the supper, the group met around a roaring fire in the small parish hall for an informal get-together.

Bill West, president of the Forum, led a brief business meeting and plans were made for the winter. Carol Crandall gave a report of the summer conferences which Forum members attended this past summer. Steve Greene gave a report on the Officers' Retreat at Cedar Hill. Ted Atkinson told Forum members of the plans for the Fall Pilgrim Fellowship Rally which will be held in our church on Nov. 1. Also, Barbara Smith and Jean Stillman, chairmen of K. P. discussed the question of Forum members taking turns getting the suppers. Everyone agreed it would be lots of fun.

Then the president introduced Mr. Howard Bartlett of the Forum Executive Committee who gave a vivid picture of the Forum course for this year, 'Man's Struggle for a Better World."

The most exciting part of the evening came when Bill West searched through all his pockets, to find a list of the dish washers for the evening.

Carol Crandall, one of the chairmen of the social committee, led the best sing of Forum history. She was ably assisted in her song-leading by Charles Lovejoy. We hope the social committee will plan another sing next month led by Carol.

This Sunday is our first morning meeting, at 9:30. Dr. Kirtley Mather will speak. All young people welcome.

WINCHESTER NAVAL OFFICER WOUNDED

Commander Mullan Third Casualty in Neighborhood

Mrs. William Evans Mullan of 29 Lloyd street has been notified by the Navy Department that her husband, Commander Mullan, U. S. N., has been "wounded in action." Beyond that brief statement she has heard nothing, either from the Navy or her husband.

Commander and Mrs. Mullan came to Winchester early last December with their daughters, Polly, Betty and Joanne, and their son, Bill. Betty and Joanne attend Winchester High School, the latter being one of the attractive corps of varsity cheerleaders.

A regular Navy man, Commander Mullan is an Annapolis graduate, class of 1920, and a line officer. He has seen service on all types of Navy craft, including a long stretch of submarine duty during one of his two cruises to Honolulu. He is a native of Baltimore.

Commander Mullan is the third Naval casualty in his neighborhood, Lieut.-Comdr. Hugh David Black, whose home at 41 Lloyd street is only four doors from that of Commander Mullan, lost his life when his ship, the destroyer, Jacob Jones, was torpedoed by the Germans off Cape May, N. J., Feb. 28. Radio Operator Edmund L. Dunn, Jr., was reported by the Navy as missing on June 14, and the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Dunn, at 15 Maxwell road, is about an equal distance from the Mullan residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace H. Ford of Kenwin road are enjoying a vacation at Manchester, Vt., in the heart of the Green Mountains.

THE AMERICA'S, OUR HERITAGE

Dr. Tozier to Show Pictures for Soldier's Fund

Monday evening, Oct. 19, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Service Men's Committee of the First Congregational Church, Dr. Charles H. Tozier, who has taken many new movies and stills in our National Parks during the last summer, and has also taken pictures in Central and South America, will illustrate the beauties of our North and South American continents with motion pictures and stills.

The entertainment will be in the parish hall of the church. Dr. Tozier is donating considerable time to many different organizations so that Thanksgiving and Christmas boxes may be sent to men in the armed forces. Among these are the Town of Lexington, the First National Bank of Boston, the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, Employers' Liability, John Hancock Insurance Company, Boston Edison Company, Tremont Temple, Brookline Baptist Church, Eliot Congregational Church of Newton, Central Methodist Church of Malden, College Avenue Methodist Church of Somerville.

The pictures to be shown at the First Congregational Church will be the choicest of Dr. Tozier's brilliant photography. A cordial invitation is extended to all our townspeople. An offering will be taken to provide gifts for men from the Congregational Church in the armed forces, and for the use of a chaplain at Camp Blanding, Florida.

Lieut. George L. Snow, F. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Ellsworth Snow of 14 Glen road, on leave this past week, has gone to Camp Pickett, Va., where he is to be stationed.

WINCHESTER SCRAP YIELDS 200 TONS

An estimated 400,000 pounds of scrap has been received by the Winchester scrap drive and late contributions are still being received. This is well beyond Winchester's quota, and will bring in about $1000 for the Winchester Red Cross, which is to receive the money derived from the scrap sale.

One of the largest individual contributors to the drive was Mr. Francis Henderson of the Henderson Brothers Carriage Company. The contributions from Mr. Henderson came to nearly five tons of scrap, including such heavy items as shaftings from a factory.

The success of the scrap drive in Winchester may be laid to the efforts of the 200 volunteer workers who canvassed nearly every place in town. The town was divided into three groups to be canvassed, residential, business, (stores, factories, etc.) and farms. The Town Highway trucks did an excellent piece of work in collecting the scrap, and many volunteers assisted with their own cars, beach wagons, trucks, and even hand carts. Most of the latter vehicles belonged to that able volunteer group, the Junior Commandos who worked hard and long to bring out the scrap metals.

The scrap is now being removed as rapidly as possible from Manchester Field to the sorting yards in Medford. The entire collection and disposal has been handled by the Winchester Salvage Committee directly under orders from the W. P. B. Winchester residents may be sure that their metals will be sent as speedily as possible to feed the hungry steel mills.

First Lieut. William Holbrook Lowell, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. W. Holbrook Lowell of Lakeview road, reported for duty at Columbia Army Air Base this week and was assigned to a medical detachment. He received his specialized training at Robins Field Medical Department Training School, Macon, Ga., and Station Hospital, Craig Field, Ala. Lieut. Lowell is a physician and married, his wife making her home on Shelburne road in Burlington.

SELECTIVE SERVICE INDUCTION SATURDAY, OCT. 10

Elaborate plans are being made by the various groups of citizens of Winchester and Stoneham in connection with the ceremonies incidental to the departure of 50 citizens for Fort Devens, there to report for active duty with the United States Army.

The men, who are being transported to Fort Devens through the Local Selective Service Board, have been ordered by the Army to report in the Winchester Town Hall at 7:30 a. m. on Saturday, Oct. 10, and from there, after receiving certain gifts from the citizens of the towns and from the local American Legion Posts, will be escorted by the Junior Band of St. Mary's Church and a group of uniformed Legionnaires with the national colors to the railroad station in time to take the 8:32 train from Winchester to Boston. The men will occupy a special car on the rear of this train, and have been instructed to board the 9:05 train from the North Station to Ayer, Mass., where they will be met by representatives of the Army and transported to Fort Devens.

In this group to be so honored by the citizens of Winchester and Stoneham will be included three colored registrants who have been ordered by the Army to proceed to Fort Devens on Tuesday, Oct. 13 but who have been invited to be present on this occasion in order that the citizens of the communities may at this time suitably pay their respects to these men who are so soon to proceed to Fort Devens. It is expected that the Selectmen of both towns, members of the clergy and delegated representatives of various organizations will take part in these ceremonies, which are each month attracting a larger number of citizens to witness this early morning affair.

LEADING ROLES FOR "PIRATES OF PENZANCE" ANNOUNCED

Mr. Edward Center, well known director of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas announces that after several tryouts and rehearsals the leading roles for the forthcoming production of "The Pirates of Penzance" which the Winchester Mother's Association will present on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20 and 21, for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund, have been chosen.

Miss Claudia Renehan, the new supervisor of music in the Winchester schools, will sing the leading feminine soprano role of Mabel. Miss Renehan has sung this roll before at Boston University. Playing opposite Miss Renehan in the role of Frederick will be Mr. David Downer. Mr. Downer has been heard in the choir of the Methodist Church.

The other feminine leads will be Mrs. Marion Edwards who will sing Ruth. Mrs. Edwards has been acting as accompanist for the rehearsals every Tuesday and Thursday nights at the Recreation Center. Mrs. Miriam Greene will relieve her at subsequent rehearsals. Mrs. Elizabeth MacLeod will be heard as Edith. Mrs. MacLeod is already well known through her singing in the Baptist Church choir. Isabel, the naughty little sister will be sung by Mrs. Janet Burbank. Kate will be sung by a delightful newcomer to Winchester, Mrs. Ruth Beaman.

The other male leads will be sung by Mr. Dana J. Kelly as the King of Pirates, a delightful baritone. Mr. Kelley is a former Winchester High School football star. Mr. Aram Mouradian, remembered as one of the famous barber shop quartet of the Melody Mothers, will sing the part of Samuel. Mr. Alden Symmes brings his well known baritone to the role of the Major General. He is active in amateur dramatics in town. Another amateur dramatic enthusiast of no little fame is Dr. Milne Blanchard who will sing the Sergeant of Police. Mr. Blanchard and Mr. Mouradian are both members of the Congregational Church choir.

For any who might have worried about the advisability of giving a Gilbert and Sullivan in Winchester, the announcement of this fine cast will dispel any doubts. The chorus is also fine. All are enthusiastic operetta fans and all are putting every ounce of energy into the production.

Anyone who might be interested in augmenting the orchestra are urged to get in touch with Mrs. Robert Drake, Win. 1718-W. Instrumental players are still needed. Orchestral rehearsals will start about the middle of October.

HOW TO GO!

During the month of September the Winchester Theater sold $37,000 worth of war stamps and bonds in connection with the drive conducted throughout the motion picture industry.

WINCHESTER 19—LEXINGTON 6

A big, aggressive Lexington High School football team took a lot of the complacency out of Winchester's eleven last Saturday afternoon before yielding to the local boys, 19—6, in a game that provided plenty of activity and excitement from the opening to the closing whistle.

The visitors were reminiscent of the Lexington teams that used to have behomoths like Yaukoes, Bierenbroodspot, Janusas and Kelley in their lineups and against the type of offense Winchester everlastingly used, their tight packed seven and eight man line was very effective.

All afternoon Capt. Bill West was sent inside the Lexington tackles despite the fact that he was making and could make, but little yardage in that way. Only once all afternoon did Winchester pass and on that fourth down occasion definitely should have kicked Lexington into a hole. The Minuteboy defensive formation was made to order for passes over the line and in its defensive left flank zone where the halfback played very wide to guard against laterals. A few pass completions would of necessity opened up that tight packed Lexington line and given the powerful West a chance to get going.

Perhaps on the whole it was just as well that Winchester had a tough time with Lexington. The local boys held the visitors rather cheaply and had little fire when they took the field. Coming back after the half, Winchester was in the ball game and punched out two touchdowns which might have been three or even four if Coach Knowlton had elected to keep his first string in there.

This Lexington club under its new coach looked like quite a ball club in the making. Once they get a bit more polish and savvy they won't be easy for anyone. They have lots of size and fight, with a fullback in the 185 pound McNamara that is very good all around.

Winchester played without its 200 pound tackle, Amico, still nursing a sore knee, and Dave Holmes, chunky guard, played but little because of a hip injury. Their absence made the weight disparity between the two rushlines even greater in Lexington's favor.

The locals scored quickly. The Minuteboys had run but two plays after receiving the kickoff when Lentine intercepted a pass at his own 45. A double lateral from West to Millaciaci to Treacy made first down at the Lexington 39, West and Milliacci punched out another at the 20 and West in two plunges reached the 4.

Here Lexington braced and stopped West twice and Millaciaci once, short of pay-dirt, before Millinaci finally slid and rolled off his right tackle for the touchdown, going over standing up. Jackson's placement hit the left upright for no score.

The Minuteboys drove after the kickoff to Winchester's 28 where the locals held for downs. West spun and broke through the line for a pretty gallop to the Lexington 42, being brought down from behind by Busa as he was cutting in for a goal line dash.

Lexington held and on fourth down Winchester sprung a pass which backfired, giving the visitors the ball at their 40. After completing one long pass to McNamara for a first down Busa tried another which West intercepted at his 3.

Bill's kick-oot was nearly blocked and reached only the 34. A reverse ending in a long forward from Busa to Viano gave Lexington a first down at Winchester's 5 and two plays later McNamara took a little dinky pass just over Winchester's right end for the score. The try for goal also hit the upright.

The third quarter had just started when Harry Boodakian blocked a Lexington kick and Winchester recovered at the Lexington 10. Millaciaci twisted and dodged to the 1, but a fumble on a reverse lost five. Millaciaci was tried again, and once more went over standing up off right tackle. Jackson's try for goal was wide.

The visitors had to kick after the ensuing kickoff and Bill West drove back to their 33. A lateral from West to Errico reached the 20 and Lexington lost five for offside. On the next play, Bob Treacy, on a reverse, cut back nicely and scored. Jackson converted at placement.

Behind two touchdowns, Lexington opened up in the final quarter and completed pass after pass to advance from their 20 to the Winchester 7 where Umpire Cogan ruled interference to give the vistors a first down.

Coach Knowlton had rushed his first string back in a few plays before and Busa and McNamara were held at the line. Milliaci knocked down a pass on the goal line and Lentine intercepted a fourth down aerial inside the 5, lateraling to West who drove well up the field. The lateral was ruled forward and the ball brought back to the Winchester 1 in lieu of a 15 yard penalty.

West kicked out from deep in his end zone to the 42, where Lexington started again. A long pass from Busa to McNamara reached the Winchester 15, but here a pass was incomplete in the end zone and West knocked down another as the game ended.

Winchester made 8 first downs to 11 for Lexington, but outrushed the visitors, 165 to 71 net yards. Lexington, however, completed 13 of 21 passes for 139 yards while Winchester's only pass was no good.

JUNIOR HIGH CONTINUES GYM CLASSES WITH NEW INSTRUCTOR

James Douglas Caskie, Harvard 1943, is now conducting physical education classes in the Junior High School two days each week. A young man, with considerable experience as playground director, lifeguard, and swimming instructor, Mr. Caskie appeared to be popular with the pupils in his first contacts with them this week.

Mr. Caskie makes his home in Belmont where he attended high school before enrolling at Harvard. Not unlike many young men who are completing their collegiate careers next spring, he will have a busy time with his academic duties and physical education here.

McLAUGHLIN TORRID

The ridicule heaped upon "Wild Willie" McLaughlin at the previous meeting, coupled with an anonymous telephone call, received during the week advising him to take stern measures to improve his game, apparently so aroused the lion in the mild mannered pride of Stowe that at last week's regular session of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association he went to town all the way, stopping at no way stations and handing out "the works" to all and sundry, paired with Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham.

The Lake Street Lancers were away too good for the field, dropping only two games during the entire session while winning 12.

McLaughlin was easily the dominating factor of play, tossing ringers and double ringers with the nonchalance and aplomb that in the past have caused Nabnasset challengers to concede him the victor's toga without even joining the issue in the final round.

Mr. Pridham, while by no means dynamic, was nevertheless, good enough to be referred to by the president as "that Pridham" which is the same as saying he was pretty good.

Of President Royal P. Teele, the very best that can be said is that he had his moments. The trouble was he did not have enough of them. The Secretary was variable with the emphasis generally on the sour side, though he and Mr. Teele were the only combination to win from the champs during the entire session, keeping Willie and Roland out of the doubles at that on the second occasion.

Having lost the opening game of that series, 25-22, after holding a 15-3 lead, Mr. Teele and the Secretary were very confident of taking the deciding game. However Mr. Teele's attention was diverted by Larry Cooper's baby playing on the beach while the Secretary became involved in a discussion of Saturday's Winchester-Lexington football game, the result being that both failed to give the shoes that concentration necessary to ensure success even against mediocre opposition, let alone champs of the stature of Roland and Willie.

Mr. Butters, it must be admitted, was away off form last week-end, failing to win a game, though he tried with both the President and the Secretary. On the whole his best results were obtained with the latter, which goes far to show the depths to which the President fell while playing with the Maine State champ. So mutually critical did Arthur and Royal become that in their final game against the champs a count was kept. The Secretary knows who of the two scored seven and who, one, of the eight points they totaled against "Thin Finger" and the "Pride of Stowe," but as the paper trade has to stick together, he is making no announcement.

COMPLETED RANGERS COURSE

Sergt. George W. Hayden, Jr. of Winchester, now stationed at Fort George G. Meade, Md., has completed the course at the Rangers and Combat School. Major General Emil F. Reinhardt, commanding officer of the 76th Division at Fort Meade presented Sergt. Hayden with his certificate upon his graduation.

The Rangers are a newly formed unit trained for hand-to-hand fighting and their conditioning is especially rigorous.

Sergt. Hayden, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hayden of Mt. Pleasant street, is a former Winchester High School football player who has been in recent years prominently identified with the little theatre movement in Winchester.

BAIRSTOW SQUADRON LIEUTENANT

Laurence M. Bairstow, son of Mrs. Clement Bairstow of Washington street, has been appointed lieutenant of Squadron A, Group 1, of the Navigation Pre-Flight School at Monroe, La.

Graduating at the end of his nine weeks pre-flight course, he will enter the advanced navigation school located at this new field. The Monroe Navigation School is the largest school dedicated to the complete navigation training in the Army Air Forces Southeast Training Center.

Cadet Lieut. "Larry" Bairstow graduated from Winchester High School and attended Brown University, starring in track at both.

COLLIANDER IN AIR CORPS

Ralph Colliander, 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar R. Colliander of Forest street, who recently enlisted in the Army Air Corps, left Monday for active duty. A large group of his friends gave him a farewell party at his home Sunday evening, presenting him with a purse which he turned into a War Bond.

Ralph graduated from Winchester High School in 1940, catching for the baseball team in that year. He has been employed since leaving school by the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. in Boston and recently took an active part in collecting the huge pile of junk which was donated by people of the Highlands for the local salvage drive.

WINCHESTER HOST TO DANVERS

Visitors Only Team to Defeat Locals Last Year

Winchester plays Danvers on the Shore Road Athletic Field Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and this is the game, with the exception of the annual Woburn contest, that the locals want most to win this season.

A year ago an aggressive, hard-hitting Danvers eleven knocked Winchester out of the unbeaten, untied class, and since that Columbus Day afternoon at St. John's Field, the local boys have been waiting this year's return game.

Last season Winchester was not at its best for Danvers and on Saturday Coach Knowlton will be unable to field his strongest team against the Onion-towners.

Jim Milliacci, shifty tail-back who scored twice against Lexington last week, will be unable to start, being in quarantine because his sister has scarlet fever. "Dave" Holmes, rugged left guard, aggravated a hip injury last Saturday and may not be able to go all the way tomorrow though he is expected to start along with big "Shiny" Amico, 208 pound tackle, who has been out with a knee injury since the opening minutes of the Swampscott game.

Either Fran Poirier, converted end, or Jack Errico, will start in the tail-back slot against Danvers, according to whether Winchester kicks or receives, Poirier getting the offensive nod and Errico, the defensive. Jack is one of the hardest tacklers on the local squad while Poirier is a hard runner who may explode any time.

Winchester's Assistant Coach, Mannie Palmer, scouted Danvers last week and reports the Yale Blues are quite a team. On paper the visitors don't figure to be as strong as a year ago, having tied Winthrop 6-6, and won from Punchard last week, 12-6, when a Danvers boy picked a juggled ball out of the air for a long touchdown jaunt.

Danvers still has Pidynskowski, fleet scatback, who a year ago scored both touchdowns against the locals and who will be a good lad to watch closely indeed tomorrow. This Polish boy is both fast and shifty. Once he gets out there he'll be hard to catch.

The visitors will get a peek at a different West from the boy who got out of a sick bed to play them a year ago and who went the route at Danvers mechanically after getting a crack on the head early in the game.

Big "Monk," Frank Buzzotta, Bob "Wottaman" Jackson and "Shiny" Amico are the only boys on this year's team who saw much of any service at Danvers last year. The locals however ought to play a lot better game against Danvers this year than they did last season when they were away below par.

Tomorrow's game looms as one of the best, if not the best on this year's list. There'll be a lot of folks around. Better get down early.

XMAS BOXES SENT SERVICE MEN

The Service Men's Committee of the First Congregational Church, headed by Mrs. Howard J. Chidley, sent out 30 holiday boxes to men of the church who are overseas with the armed forces. Most of the boxes will be received by the men for Christmas, but some will get theirs in time for Thanksgiving and they are suitable for either holiday. In two or three weeks the committee is sending out 100 Thanksgiving boxes to service men in this country.

FORMER STUDENT RETURNS

Classes in Problems of American Democracy welcomed back today a former pupil, graduate of W. H. S. in 1942, Midshipman Leo Nihan, now with the United States Maritime Service at Great Neck, Long Island.

Apparently pleased to address the Problems Class, Midshipman Nihan outlined such of his duties as could be mentioned and in general indicated his enthusiasm for his important branch of the service.

Bob Guild, former Harvard fullback and coach, is much in demand as an official these days, working in many of the big prep school games, especially for Andover. For the first time in several years he won't officiate the Exeter-Andover game this year as this prep school classic conflicts with the Groton-St. Mark's contest which Bob has been working for the last 35 years.

How many people who wondered at the size of the big scrap pile on Manchester Field last Saturday realized the amount of effort by self-effacing workers that went into the collection of the huge amount of local scrap going to assist the war production effort. Women office workers at Civilian Defense Headquarters under Mrs. F. B. Craven, salvage wardens, organized and headed by Mrs. H. K. Spencer, and the town men and trucks under Town Engineer Parker Holbrook did an incalculable amount of work, efficiently and enthusiastically, to put Winchester away over the top in its drive for scrap metal. The whole effort was well conceived, capably organized and successfully carried through. The results obtained could not otherwise have been so great. The whole town shares in the success of the drive but the foundation for that success was laid by the groups of behind-the-scenes workers whose principal reward must be the realization of a good job done!

WHY NOT START A FORUM?

Oct. 2, 1942

To the Editor of the Star:

Enclosed is my check for subscription ending Sept. 5, 1943.

When I originally started my subscription, I facetiously told you that I was subscribing, rather than buying at a newstand, so that I could make any criticism necessary. Unfortunately, in the last year you have given me nothing particular to criticise. We at home look forward to receiving your newspaper every week.

However, you did send me a copy of "Flag Etiquette." In the very first paragraph it says that the flag should never be left out at night. I wonder if that is correct. I think that I have read on several occasions that it is perfectly proper for the flag to be left out day and night when the country is at war. As a matter of fact, the flag at my house is out most of the time, day and night. If it is not correct, of course, I will discontinue the practice.

I presume that you have given some thought to the possibility of making your paper perhaps just a bit more personal by having a sort of Forum section, wherein the subscribers could argue to their hearts content about subjects of interest. I know that I enjoyed such a column in another paper, and I think that there would be a lot of others who would also enjoy it. Perhaps you, like the rest of us, are trying to figure out where your taxes will come from and it would be impractical to give consideration to a suggestion of this kind until after the war.

Yours very truly,
Archibald Dresser,

SCRAP

To the Editor of the Star:

The Winchester Board of Selectmen congratulates the people of Winchester for the splendid results achieved by the scrap drive. It has been an inspiration to see scrap moving in a steady stream of cars, trucks and hand carts to Manchester Field. An estimated 200 tons has been collected and it is still growing. It is an interesting sight, made up as it is of almost every conceivable kind of household utensils from bottle caps, corset steels, brass clock works, safes, stoves, bed springs, etc., to automobiles and the Legion cannon.

The organization of the drive and the collection were excellently done. A persistent search for scrap has been going on in every home and place of business. Altogether, it has added up to a united effort by all of our people, the kind of an effort it takes to win this war.

Now the Board of Selectmen wishes to say that despite this fine showing the best is still not good enough. We must go back again and again and keep on digging for every pound of scrap we can find. Ten pounds more per person will give our armed forces 75 tons of additional equipment.

Let's keep the pressure on!

MOTHERS OF YOUNG BOYS ATTENTION!

To the Editor of the Star:

What is more vital right now than the training of young minds toward good citizenship? And yet, with our leader now in the service, Cubbing is faced with possible extinction unless we mothers of Cubs pull together considerably better than we have done in the past. Den 4, pack 3, will operate.

What will be the fate of the other dens? All interested come to a meeting at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 14, at the home of Mrs. W. B. Hersey, 29 Woodside road.

WE READ

That many factory workers are said not to be wearing the "E" emblems awarded them because the emblems bear no "union made" stamp. This oversight by the Navy is being corrected.

That 100 men in a New Jersey airplane factory struck because the milk delivery to a vending machine in the plant was late.

AND that band leader Don Mario was fined $500 by a local of the American Federation of Musicians because he stood up with a crowd at a Fourth of July rally in a Providence park and sang the national anthem!

RATIONING BOARD ASKS MOTORISTS AID

The Winchester Rationing Board, through the Star, is asking all motorists who are renewing their B and C gasoline coupon books send in their renewal blanks at once.

These blanks were mailed to book holders more than a week ago and are coming in very slowly. The board is planning to dispose of 300 renewal applications each evening, starting with Oct. 19, with the assistance of volunteer help, but fears unavoidable delay and consequent inconvenience to motorists unless the renewal blanks come in at once.

Both the B and C books expire Oct. 22. Approximately 900 B renewal blanks have been mailed to local motorists with an additional 500 C's.

MEAL TICKET TAX

The Town Treasurer has received from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts a check for $228.95 representing a distribution of the so-called "meal tax." This payment covers the period from Jan. 1 to June 30, 1942 and is Winchester's share of the tax and license fees, as determined by the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation and the Commissioner of Public Welfare. The intent of this payment according to the law is to offset, in part, expenditures by the Town for old-age assistance.

Young men, in good physical condition, between the ages of 18 and 27, who are high school graduates and unmarried, may qualify as Naval Aviation Cadets and during their period of training, which extends over a full year or more, will be paid $75 per month. E. R. Harry McGrath, local war commission chairman, or Leo F. Garvey, exalted ruler of Winchester Lodge.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Now, how would you make the eyes of a frog so that it would be orthodoxly goggle-eyed? Bring your best guess, your scraps of oil cloth, vagrant buttons of a fat nature and yourself to the Epiphany parish hall next Wednesday and see what the combination can furnish for some small boys' Christmas in Britain.

How big a scrap of fabric will do? Well, remember that the dolls must all be small. How big a piece of bright ribbon or plaid gingham would make a square scarf to tie over a peasant dolls head? Would that scrap of bias fold make a border on a peasant apron? Would that make the skirt of a doll's dirndl dress? Would that red or yellow or loud polka-dot make half the dress of a clown doll? Two inches of brush-binding would make a clipped mane for a pony. And what can we use for tails?

You see this Christmas-gift making calls for varied workers and for everybody's ideas. Even if you have a sprained left wrist, you can poke stuffing into a molly cottontail rabbit.

The Winchester Unit is delighted as the weeks bring new friends and it looks forward to Oct. 14 as a red letter day for newcomers.

FAMOUS ANTHROPOLOGIST TO SPEAK IN WINCHESTER

The Senior Forum at the First Congregational Church is looking forward to the next meeting on Sunday at 9:30 when Dr. Clyde Kay Mabie Kluckholm will address them. Dr. Kluckholm will speak on the suoject, What Man Has Learned About His Relations to His Fellowmen. This is the second meeting in the series on Man's Struggle for a Better World. Dr. Kirtley Mather was the speaker last week and brought to the group a never to be forgotten picture of an orderly universe with man at the controls. Dr. Kluckholm will carry on from that point as to what we have learned about controlling ourselves and our world.

Dr. Kluckholm graduated from the University of Wisconsin, Phi Beta Kappa, was a Rhodes Scholar to Oxford University, studied in Paris, Madrid, Vienna and Harvard, and Columbia. He is now Professor of Anthropology at Harvard. He is the author of many books, including Higher Education in the Southwest, Dance of Hasjelti, Great Chants of Navajo, and several travel books.

Dr. Kluckholm has just returned from a summer in New Mexico where he continued his study of the Indians there. Among other things he did this summer was to visit and help organize a new Japanese concentration camp in New Mexico.

All young people are cordially invited to hear Dr. Kluckholm at 9:30 on Sunday morning at the First Congregational Church.

Ted Atkinson is chaplain of the Forum for the month of October. Alice Parker is in charge of the Forum Chorus, with Anne Thompson at the piano.

STUDENT COUNCIL ELECTS PAUL BLAKE

In a discussion preceding the election of officers, Mr. Swenson reminded the representatives that the president and other officers should be leaders, those who are willing to sacrifice time and effort, and those who hold the respect of the entire student body.

The election results were as follows:

President: Paul Blake.
Vice President: Stephen Greene
Secretary: Virginia Terhune
Treasurer: William Daley

A committee for planning for future meetings, consisting of President Blake, Secretary Terhune, John Murray and Bert Moore, was also appointed.

MORTON C. SEELYE

Morton C. Seelye, a former resident of Winchester and brother of Nelson H. Seelye of Lewis road, died Tuesday, Oct. 6, at his home in Puyallup, Washington, after a three weeks' illness.

Son of Norman M., and Elizabeth A. (Hovey) Seelye, Mr. Seelye was born 66 years ago in Cambridge, attending the Cambridge schools and graduating from Rindge Technical School, then Rindge Manual Training School. He came to Winchester in 1893 and married Helen St. Barb Eustis, daughter of Mrs. Clara E. Eustis and the late George Eustis, for many years town treasurer and library trustee, and sister of Ernest R. Eustis, treasurer of the Winchester Co-operative Bank.

Mr. Seelye and his wife went West years ago. Mr. Seelye operated an apple ranch in Washington until the past few years when he had engaged in the canning business. Besides his wife, and brother in Winchester, he leaves a son, Winthrop, of Seattle; two daughters, Mrs. Charles W. Fox, living in Oregon, and Miss Janet Seelye of Seattle. There are also three grandchildren.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon in Puyullup.

LEXINGTON GIRLS WON

Lexington High School girls spoiled the Winchester girls field hockey opening yesterday afternoon by winning the first game of the season on Glen Field, 5-4. Winchester jumped to a quick start on Esther Capone's two goals, but Lexington knotted the count before half time.

Phyllis Russell tallied twice with the resumption of play to give Winchester a 4-2 lead which was held up to the last few minutes of play when the visitors scored two quick ones to tie it up once more.

The deciding goal was kicked into the Winchester net by one of the local forwards, Mackino, the last Lexington player to touch it before the boot being credited with the tally.

Between the halves of the first team game the Winchester seconds blanked the Lexington seconds, 3-0.

WOMAN'S ALLIANCE

On Tuesday, Oct. 6, the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian Church held its first meeting of the season. At 1:15 a delicious war time luncheon was served by Mrs. Theodore R. Godwin and Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge and their committee.

Following this meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Theodore C. Brown. Mrs. Raymond C. Terhune reported for the Home Service Committee and told what had been done for our boys in the service and what it hoped to do. One objective was a Communion set to be sent to some Unitarian Chaplain, a need for which has been keenly felt.

This will be realized as a substantial sum has already been raised.

Mrs. Charles F. Dutch, chairman of the Cheerful Letter gave a vivid picture of the joy the letters, books and patch work pieces brought to the recipients, also told of the needs of the Southern school her committee had adopted and thanked the women of the church and Alliance for their generous support. In practically all the Southern States the towns furnish only the school building and teacher equipment must come from contributions.

Miss Ella Emerson gave a splendid report of the Isles of Shoals meeting called this year Shoals Inland as it was held at Soo-Nip-Park Lodge, Lake Sunapee, N. H., the Shoals being barred for the duration. The sea breezes and ocean views were replaced by the lake zephyrs and woodsy scenes. The same spirit of conservation, good will and comradeship permeated Alliance Week.

After the completion of the business, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, pastor of the church, conducted the devotional service and also gave the address of the afternoon, "Putting Religion to Work in This Church." He urged all to strengthen and deepen the religious, cooperative and friendly spirit so well begun, to make daily reading of the Bible and prayer a vital part of our lives.

A large number attended and all went home feeling the uplift of the message.

MEETING OF WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The Women's League of the First Baptist Church held their all day meeting last Thursday, Oct. 1. White Cross work for the year was started in the morning and at noon a Pot Luck Luncheon was enjoyed.

The afternoon business meeting was called to order by our 1st Vice President, Mrs. Martin Swanson in the absence of our President, Mrs. Roy Elliott. Devotions were lead by Mrs. William Gooch and her theme was Faith.

Mrs. R. Mitchell Rushton gave a most interesting review of the home study book for the year, "Rim of the Caribbean." Then Mrs. H. Stanley Kinsley inspired us with her enthusiastic account of her summer studies at Northfield so that we all left the meeting with a challenge for greater service.

FOOD FOR THE FLYING FAIR

When you go to the Flying Fair at the Episcopalian Church on Nov. 6, don't bother to plan any meals for that day. Have your box lunch aboard the plane, and take the whole family for dinner, which is being planned by Mrs. Charles Wansker.

Remember to have the children come after school for while you have your delicious tea served by Mrs. E. Craig Greiner and her committee, the children will want to attend the movies for which Mrs. William Everett has arranged. When they come out of the movies they will undoubtedly stop first at Hoodsies stand, run by Mrs. Charles Harte. If they are still hungry, they may purchase candy from Mrs. William Mitchell, and you will probably be there too, buying home made fudge, a special pleasure in these sugar rationed days.

Another feature the children will head for is the popular parachute grab basket. Mrs. Benjamin Dorman has several new surprises for this year.

You will want to stock your pantry shelves with the preserves and jellies from Mrs. Alvin Mancib's table. Come early for the supply is limited.

Of course, you and you family will want some of the home made rolls and cookies from Mrs. Stuart Newton's food table. Here again it is well to buy early for this table is one of the first to sell out.

If this sounds like an indigestible day, you may choose among the many attractions offered. But remember, this comes but once a year, and this year it's Nov. 6.

METCALF UNION TO HEAR DR. ELIOT

On Sunday at 7 p. m., the Metcalf Union of the Unitarian Church will listen to recordings by Dr. Frederick M. Eliot, President of the American Unitarian Association, and Rabbi Beryl Cohon, Rabbi of Temple Sinai, on the subject, "The Influence of Jesus." The meeting will close with a general discussion of "How Jesus Fits Into the Unitarian Point of View of Christianity." Last Sunday, following a delicious supper served by Margaret Parkhurst and Shirley Bonnell there was a lively and interesting discussion led by Mr. Holley Shepherd on the subject, "Religion and Democracy." The supper for September was in charge of Priscilla Hurd and Vivienne Chapman.

HOW YOUNG CHILDREN LEARN TO READ

All mothers of Winchester's first grade children are cordially invited to attend the second of a series of discussions on how young children learn to read in the modern school.

The meeting will be led by Miss Gertrude M. Lewis, supervisor of elementary education in Winchester and will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 20, at 1:30, at the Lincoln School.

Children accompanying their mothers will be cared for by Miss Taylor, teacher of the Lincoln School kindergarten.

COLOMBIAN JUNGLES MAY EASE RUBBER SHORTAGE

Colombia's jungle hinterland, where the United States is reported discussing plans for a large wild-rubber supply, comprises some 100,000 square miles in the southeastern quarter of the South American republic, says the National Geographic Society.

Preliminary surveys have shown a vast rubber supply, neglected because it is inaccessible. High coastal mountains make highway construction into the interior costly, and adequate supplies from other sources before the war made sueh highway expenditures uneconomical. Rivers in the region are not navigable by large craft.

Many Natural Obtacles

Other obstacles to the development of this equatorial area were excessive heat, diseases common to tropical swamplands mosquitoes, electric eels, cannibal fish, alligators, and other wild life, and unfriendly native Indians.

Colombia's rubber-growing region is adjacent to the original home of rubber in Brazil. Brazil is estimated to have as many as 300 million wild-rubber trees. There, also, transportation has presented a problem.

Colombia's rubber development plan does not include the building of roads, but air fields. Airplanes will carry the product to seaports.

Untouched Creation

Most of the jungle to be opened never has been explored by white men. Extensive work was undertaken by 16th-century explorers at the cost of hundreds of lives. On some trips they spent several years cutting through the wilderness. They, however, were seeking gold, not rubber.

The United States has imported rubber from Latin America, but none has come from Colombia in recent years. Colombia's great export crop has been coffee, accounting for nearly two-thirds of its outbound trade.

PAST NOBLE GRAND'S SERVICE CLUB

The Past Noble Grand's Service Club of Victoria Rebekah Lodge, 178 held its first meeting for the fall and winter sessions last Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bessie Mobbs, 57 Lake street.

The business meeting was presided over by our president, Sister Mabel Larson. All unfinished business was disposed of and many activities were planned for the winter, one of the first being a Hallowe'en party to be held at Association Hall on Oct. 29 and will be open to Rebekahs and Odd Fellows.

Many of the sisters told interesting stories of their vacations, these stories were suddenly interrupted by the howling of sirens and whistles and they all picked up their chairs and went to another room that could be blacked out, where the meeting continued.

At the close of the meeting, delicious refreshments were served at small tables for the members and guests by the hostess assisted by Sister Jessie Ripley and Mrs. Hattie Chillis of Newfield, Me., a guest of the hostess.

There were several other guests present from nearby towns, also from New York City and Washington, D. C.

On account of the air raid alarm, it was late when the members departed to meet the next time at the home of Sister Jessie Ripley, Wedge Pond road, Wednesday, Oct. 28.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED

A car which was found to have been stolen last Saturday morning in Cambridge was recovered by the Police on Swan road shortly before midnight on the same day.

The car was reported as having been standing on Swan road all day in front of the Thompson home at No. 47. In response to a call from the local Police, the owner, Dudley Palmer, Jr., of 50 Follen street, Cambridge, reported that the car had been stolen from in front of his home where he had left it to be taken by garage employees. The spare tire and two sets of golf clubs were missing when the car was recovered here.

SALVAGE RALLY BIG SUCCESS

Approximately 200 tons of scrap metal and junk had found their way into the huge bin on Manchester Field by the time the big crowd assembled for the far-heralded salvage rally on the playground last Saturday afternoon. Practically every sort of metal items imaginable was included in the tremendous pile that covered the triangular space just behind the memorial boulder. There were a number of ancient automobiles and among the unusual articles seen by the reporter were some old volumes of Milton and Tennyson and a pair of bronze statuettes that looked like real museum pieces.

Perfect weather aided the rally which opened with a parade as Winchester Post, 97, escorted the World War cannon from the town hall grounds to Manchester Field, accompanied by St. Mary's Band, the Auxiliary Police and Fire Departments, Sea Scouts, Civilian Defense Medical Units, several junk laden trucks and a group of Winchester Highlands Salvage Collectors who towed several old automobiles, gaudily painted and decorated with all sorts of best wishes for Hitler, Hirohito, Mussolini and Company.

The parade started exactly on time and proceeded to the playground through Main and Thompson streets. Drum-majorette Lorraine Hurley led the band under the supervision of Rev. Fr. Francis J. Sullivan, Comdr. James W. Blackham headed the Legionnaires, who had their colors and color guard, the Auxiliary Police were led by Chief Harry Goodwin, the Auxiliary Firemen by Commissioner T. Parker Clarke and the Sea Scouts by Skipper Lou Goddu. The Police wore dark trousers, white shirts and dark blue overseas caps, carrying their long night-sticks. The Firemen wore steel helmets, black oilskins and rubber boots. The Sea Scouts were in uniform as were the Red Cross motor corps drivers and canteen unit.

At the field the line of march circled the playground and filed in front of the band stand where the marchers were reviewed by Harold S. Fuller, Defense Director; Otis Leary, Salvage Chairman; William C. Cusack, Metals Salvage Chairman; N. Robert Voorhis, Assistant Metals Salvage Chairman; Donald Heath, Evacuation Chairman and Red Cross Disaster Relief Chairman; Elliott Cameron, Red Cross Chapter Chairman and Deputy of the Public Safety Committee; Frederick B. Craven, Deputy Defense Director; Mrs. Frederick B. Craven, Chairman of Women's Division Salvage Wardens; Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, Director of the Medical Division of Civilian Defense; and Reveley H. B. Smith, Director of the Protection Division and Chief Marshal of the parade.

St. Marys Band opened the program by playing America, led by Prof. Frank Barone. Commander Blackham made the formal presentation of the World War 1 Cannon to the Salvage Committee, the acceptance being made by Chairman Cusack of the Metals Salvage Committee.

Cordons of Auxiliary Police were thrown out to clear a space in front of the band stand where Auxiliary Firemen staged a demonstration featuring their new pump and tank truck.

The pump, mounted on a Ford truck chassis and assembled by Water Department crews under the direction of Chairman Edmund C. Sanderson, Chief of the Public Works Division of the Civilian Defense, is a unit capable of delivering 250 gallons per minute from any source at 135 pounds pressure. The tank truck, also constructed by the Water Department, holds 1000 gallons and mounts a smaller pump, capable of serving two lines of garden hose up to 110 pounds pressure.

The larger pump gave an excellent account of itself, sending two half-inch streams some 50 feet in the air and quickly putting out a fire started in an old supply shed.

Following the pumping exhibition Auxiliary Firemen assisted by Chief Gorman and Lieuts. Noonan and Callahan of the regular department put out incendiary bombs by the use of sand, stirrup pump and back-tanks.

Members of the canteen unit in attractive blue and white uniforms then set up a canteen in jig time but produced no coffee for the interested Auxie Police, who were commencing to get a bit chilly in their shirt-sleeves.

They were followed by an exhibition of first aid by West and East Side Medical Units, which was well enough done to quickly quiet the snickers that rippled around the ring of on-lookers as the first "victim" stretched herself upon the turf.

Between the various events St. Mary's Band played selections from the bandstand led by Professor Barone, the young musicians giving an excellent account of themselves. R. H. B. Smith, armed with a megaphone, acted as announcer.

SALVAGE NOTES

The collection of salvaged fats continues to increase each month, Mrs. W. E. Underwood, Winchester chairman, announced this week. Winchester should remember, however, that all the scrap for the guns is useless if the guns have no ammunition. Save every drop of fat so that it can help to make bullets for our guns.

Tin can collections for Winchester will take place on Oct. 20 and 21, the Salvage Committee announced this week. Remember to put your cans out early.

Don't throw away your newspapers and magazines. These are still wanted for salvage. Wait until you have at least 100 pounds and then call either a junk dealer, the Salvation Army or the Morgan Memorial.

O'HARA WATER COLORS AT LIBRARY

Eliot O'Hara's exhibition of water colors which the Winchester Art Association is sponsoring this month at the gallery of the Public Library is outstanding for its fine painting and fascinating for the glimpses it affords of life and scenes about the world to which most of us are strangers. Many of the pictures are of the tropics, sun-drenched, with glistening white stuccos, turquoise water, bold purple headlands and graceful dark green palm trees.

There is plenty of strength and color in the pictures, yet the color, while vivid, is never garish nor used to cover defects in essential craftsmanship while the bold, authoritative brush can curb itself to real delicacy in such studies as Osorno from Puerto Varras, with its graceful volcanic peak of orchid and white seen across a sand-bar and light blue water past a clump of dark green trees.

Elementally poles apart are such pictures as Musk in Redwood Park, with its feeling of primeval strength depicted in the huge tree trunks, and Down-Town Pittsburgh, teeming with industrial life with its network of bridges and steel-furnaces in full blast.

Most unusual is The Corcovado from Leblon, with its tall blue-black cross-surmounted peak, jutting through masterfully painted fleecy clouds, above olive-colored slopes and dark blue water.

Full of tropic charm is Waikiki at Sunset, showing a bold purple headland above turquoise water shading to deep blue glimpsed through tall palm trees under a purpling sky.

Penguin Island, Megellan, is an interesting study of solemn penguins on dark brown rocks with a background of leaden sea, and the artist has chosen to combine the primitive with the modern by painting his Ketchikan Totems flanked by a telegraph pole and a late model automobile. A descendant of the Incas, showing a South American Indian wearing a felt hat and red cloak, is a fine character study.

The Andes from Puerto Blest is a striking picture with its lofty peaks breaking through the clouds above a winding river. Yuma Dunes has fine depth and bold warm coloring that shades from orange in the foreground to the deep purple of the mountains at the rear.

Among other striking studies are Mt. Hood in April and One-Eighth Above Water, showing a cutter dwarfed to toy proportions as it steams past a huge Arctic iceberg. Far removed but equally well painted is Sixth Avenue and Twenty-third Street, a fine example of perspective with its tall buildings stretching away from an elevated railway station with a bit of fire escape and some shop signs in the right foreground.

EPIPHANY WOMEN BEGIN YEAR'S WORK TUESDAY NEXT

Women of Epiphany parish will begin the work of the year by coming to a Corporate Communion at 10 o'clock Tuesday, Oct. 13. Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, Rector of the parish will be the officiant.

Immediately after the service the three-fold work of the Tuesdays will be ready for old and newcomers up in the parish hall. For our own immediate community there will be bandage-making for Winchester Hospital. For the needs of the nation and the United Nations there will be Red Cross sewing, by hand or machine, and Red Cross knitting. All women who live near Epiphany or who find it easy to reach by public transportation are invited to use this workroom whatever there church affiliations may be.

Sewing for the Episcopal Church workers and their hospitals and schools in remote parts of our own land is the third kind of handwork done on Tuesdays.

All women of the parish are members of the Women's Division of the Church Service League, and the presence of as many as possible for all or part of the day is cordially urged. It is the day when parish acquaintance grows and when ideas and plans get canvassed.

The Council, which consists of heads of activities, will meet at 10:30 in the Rector's study. The new head of parish women, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, will preside. She will have a substantial leaven of experienced members, who served last year and will have these new Council members, Mrs. Paul B. Roberts, second vice president, Mrs. Guy Livingstone, secretary, Mrs. Charles Wansker, ways and means; Mrs. Harvard Mann, Altar Guild; Mrs. Bernard Swiedler and Mrs. Arthur Y. Hills, Work and Supplies; Mrs. Newton Lamson, the Church Periodical Club; Mrs. Albert Crockett, Kitchen Supplies and Mrs. Ambrose Reasoner, Symmes Corner.

Luncheon will be at 12:30. A hot soup will be served cafeteria style, and workers may supplement this as they wish by box lunches. Simpler menu and service are concessions cheerfully made to meet war shortages and increased war work for women to do. But the friendly meal together will be kept.

Adjusting to transportation conditions, the Tuesday Luncheon Group will have its monthly teas and business meetings in the parish library this year. The first tea will be at 3 o'clock Oct. 13. Mrs. E. Clark Greiner, chairman of the Tuesday Luncheon Group will preside.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

There was one case of Scarlet Fever reported to the Board of Health for the week ending Thursday, Oct. 1.

BAND LEADER OUTLINES OBJECTIVES FOR INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

Concurrently with the effort to interest prospective musicians to take up various band and orchestra instruments, the high school was treated to a most entertaining and instructive assembly last Monday morning. Intrigued by the instruments on display, the students could hardly wait for Principal Graves to turn the meeting over to Director George Brown.

Mr. Brown appealed for student support of the band and explained that rehearsals would begin on Wednesday of this week. He emphasized the point that whereas there are musicians enough for a band nucleus, many more are needed to give W. H. S. the band long awaited and anticipated. He then introduced Mr. Arnold Manganelli of Carl Fischer, Inc.

Beginning with an explanation of the four types of instruments required for band and orchestra, Mr. Manganelli captivated his audience with his stories of the various instruments and with the ease that he played each. Although the purpose of his visit was to show the availability of instruments and the potentiality of the students as bandsmen, the effect was that of a preliminary lesson in music appreciation. Encouraging every student to learn the name and correct spelling of the name of many band instruments, Mr. Manganelli spoke of the possibilities of each instrument and demonstrated the approved technique for playing the stringed instruments, the wood winds, and the brasses.

Mr. Brown, an accomplished cellist, demonstrated the cello and bass viol, evoking much applause. He announced that classes in instrumental instruction will begin Oct. 19.

At the close of school on Monday a letter setting forth the excellent qualifications of Mr. Brown and the names and qualifications of the several instrumental instructors was handed to each interested student. Mr. Brown is a Harvard graduate who studied conducting under Borchard in Berlin, Weingartner in Basel, and Paumgartner in Salzburg, has successfully conducted orchestras at Andover, Brandenburg, Harvard University, Melrose, and Springfield, Vt., besides leading the orchestras at Cummington Music Camp, Eastern Massachusetts Camp, and the South End Music School.

"SCOUTS OWN"

The Parish Bell Ringers will play, and Mr. Charles Noyes of the Fellsland Boy Scout Council will give a brief talk at the "Scouts Own" to be held by the Winchester Girl Scouts on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 18 at 3:30. If the weather continues to be warm the meeting will take place at the scout cabin, located just above Symmes Corner at the end of Chardon road.

A "Scouts Own" is not a religious service, but an inspirational meeting designed to help the girls realize the ideals of scouting. The council feels particularly fortunate in having as speaker, Mr. Noyes, who is the new Field Scout Executive of the Fellsland Council. He was formerly the minister of the Second Congregational Church.

The Bell Ringers, all of whom are Girl Scouts, are under the direction of Mrs. Henry A. Poveleite. They are Marion Horwood, Virginia Lovejoy, Barbara Johnson, Betty Engle, and Marjorie Johnston. Their selections for this occasion will be America, America the Beautiful, The Bells of St. Mary's, and Blue Bells of Scotland. Mrs. Poveleite, who has trained ten ensembles of ringers, has bells which were cast in the famous old White chapel foundry in London. This foundry, located in the shadow of St. Paul's Cathedral, is now an underground shelter. The Liberty Bell at Philadelphia and the noted Westminster Abbey bells were cast there.

All those interested in scouting are cordially invited to attend the "Scouts Own."

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Approximately 100 people attended the tea and gallery talk at the Public Library last Sunday afternoon. Prof. Lyle K. Bush, president of the Winchester Art Association, welcomed the many guests of members and opened the October exhibition of water colors by Eliot O'Hara by presenting Miss Eleanor Barry, chief assistant to Mr. O'Hara for many years.

Miss Barry said that originally Mr. O'Hara was a business man, not entering the field of art seriously until after his marriage. On a trip to Europe with his wife he was encouraged by her in his painting and found to his surprise that his pictures aroused interest in America. His continued efforts won him the Guggenheim Fellowship in 1928, which recognition resulted in his final change from business to art.

He built his water color gallery at Goose Rock Beach, Me., in 1931 where over 300 artists have since exhibited. His school, starting with small classes of 20 has increased to classes of 100 or more students.

Eliot O'Hara believes that the first quick vivid impression of the subject is best, so travels continuously to find new material. While on trips he paints from five to eight hours a day, seldom taking more than an hour for each painting.

"Because of the necessity of intense concentration," said Miss Barry, "The best work can be done under the most difficult circumstances."

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Herbert West and Mrs. Ejnar Bratt who prepared a most attractive tea table set off by a beautiful arrangement of autumn leaves and late flowers. Mrs. Lyle K. Bush poured.

The O'Hara exhibition will remain at the Winchester gallery until Oct. 28.

We have the new Total War Battle Map in colors by Ernest Dudley Chase, artistic and practical. 50 cents at the Star Office.

BUSINESS (NOT) AS USUAL

Yes! The war, in its present phase, has not only affected your purchases of meat, coffee, gasoline and fuel oil, but it has affected your insurance agent in no uncertain manner. The desire of all of us to conserve in the use of automobiles has, and may to a greater extent, affect the lives of all of us. The fact is, I, and maybe you too, will have to conduct business somewhat differently than in the past, and yet I hope equally satisfactorily. The probable shortage of fuel oil with which to heat my former office has forced moving to an office in the rear of 33 THOMPSON STREET, WINCHESTER where, of course, I'll be glad to have you call.

FOR YOUR PROTECTION. Nothing will interfere with your being furnished with any form of insurance protection you may desire and as promptly as possible. You may be sure of that, and of the fact that I'll be all the more anxious to serve you.

JONES WINS ALDEN SHERMAN TROPHY

George Jones, affectionately called "Pop" by young and old at the club because he is the senior skipper of the Snipe Fleet, sailed the six handicap races for the Alden Sherman Memorial Trophy and scored such a high average that his name will be the first to appear on the coveted trophy. Mr. Jones was the high handicap skipper in the races and by virtue of finishing far better in most of the races than he has during the season, he beat out the strong Hall, Newman, combination that also did an excellent sailing job.

Never during the series did Youani have more than a single point lead in the standings, a strong indication of how well Jay Smith figured the handicap system and how hotly were the races contested.

At different stages during the series George had single point leads over "Floppy" Simonds, Jay Smith, Mert Ober and Bill Hall, but he beat off all their bids by his determination and superb sailing.

Junior Dance a Jolly Jam Session

The dungaree dance held at the boat club last Friday evening may have been misnamed (only two pair of dungarees present) but it certainly wasn't a mistake. More than 40 of Winchester's nice young couples came early and stayed 'til the last strains of Good Night Ladies floated out over the starlit lake. And a good time was had by all.

Club Chatter

The club has been very fortunate in having such a fine steward and stewardess in Mr. and Mrs. Kent. They have done an excellent job this year and we all hope they'll be back with us again next year. The junior dance should have been named the sweater dance. We never knew so many colors, sizes and shapes of sweaters existed. Jack Albree should have been given a prize for those bright socks he wore at the dance. They certainly were loud enough to speak for themselves. "Weenie" Pratt further proved that he should stick to canoeing when he crewed for Jim Snow Sunday afternoon and jinxed him into a very poor last. Here we are writing the last report of the year and we still haven't a nom-de-plume. Some of our readers have suggested some names for us but none of them is printable. It has been a lot of fun writing these records of club doings and before we get sentimental let's close this up with the famous words of that glamour girl with the classy chassy Claustraphobia to wit: "That's all there is there isn't a single meat ball left. 't a sigle meat ball left."

PHONED FROM COAST HOSPITAL

Comdr. Mullan Talked with Wife in Winchester

Definite news of Comdr. William Evans Mullan, U. S. N., of 29 Lloyd street was received early Wednesday evening when he talked with his wife in Winchester by long-distance telephone from a hospital on the Pacific Coast.

The phone call was the first authentic report Mrs. Mullan had received since the original Navy Department message which stated that her husband was wounded in action. This was sometime ago and she and her family had been anxiously awaiting further news which they hoped would be more encouraging.

The first of this week a report from one of the big news services reached Boston, stating Comdr. Mullan was in a camp hospital at a South Pacific port recovering from shrapnel wounds in the arms and legs, a broken leg and burns on the back.

Mrs. Mullan had heard unofficially that her husband was in a South Pacific hospital and as the Boston news dispatch had been delayed, felt that he might be on his way home. Her surmise proved correct, all doubts being removed by the receipt of the phone message at 6:30 Wednesday evening.

Comdr. Mullan reported that he is getting along nicely and that no permanent ill effects are anticipated. The shrapnel wound in his arm is the most troublesome and may necessitate his remaining in the hospital for a short while.

As soon as he is released he will come to Winchester on leave. Needless to state his family is eagerly awaiting his arrival.

AN OUTSTANDING RECORD

On Tuesday morning Reginald Guy, with two other colored draftees, Charles B. Kirby, Jr., and Patrick C. Gardiner, left for Camp Devens.

Reginald is the last of five brothers to join the armed forces. The others are Charles, Arthur, Warren and Alden, sons of the late William Guy, formerly sexton of the Congregational Church. Surely this is a record which few families can match.

WORTHEN—FARNSWORTH

Miss Helen Holmes Farnsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Farnsworth of Bacon Street, and Frederic Paine Worthen, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thatcher Washburn Worthen of Hartford, Conn., were married on Saturday afternoon, October 10, at 4 o'clock in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church. Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, and Dr. Sidney Lovett of Yale University were the officiating clergymen, and the wedding music was played by the church organist and choirmaster, J. Albert Wilson. A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's gown was of ivory satin and heirloom lace, and she wore a tulle veil caught to a lace cap with orange blossoms and her bouquet combined white orchids, white larkspur and stephanotis. Mrs. William F Ilaneman, the former Betty Breed, and Miss Rebecca Farnsworth, sister of the bride, were honor attendants, wearing gowns of rose faille and carrying contrasting gladioli. The bridesmaids, Miss Emily Worthen, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Jean Roberts, wore similar costumes in pale blue faille.

Thomas Worthen was best man for his cousin, and the ushers were Palmer B. Worthen of Winchester another cousin; George Lawrence Austin, Jr., of Hartford, Dr. William N. Runyon of Cooperstown, N. Y. James H. Gilbert of New York, and Robert B. Swain of Madison, Ct.

Mr. and Mrs. Worthen will live in Hanover, N. H., until Mr. Worthen's graduation from Dartmouth in December, after which he will go to Officers Training School in Colorado. He prepared for college at the Kingswood School, and is a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity and the Sphinx Senior Society at Dartmouth. Mrs. Worthen, a member of the Junior League and Vincent Club, made her debut in the 1940-41 season, following her graduation from the Wilmot School. She also attended Edgewood Park Junior College.

FAMOUS PLANE SEATS IN SCRAP PILE

Among the more interesting items found in the big junk pile on Manchester Field were three bucket type aluminum seats taken from an airplane used on one of Admiral Byrd's trips to Little America.

The contributor did not make his identity known, but informed the officer on duty at the scrap pile that the seats had been stored in the garage of his summer home in New Hampshire, and that the garage had burned down. Being largely of metal, they survived the fire, and finally found their way into the junk pile, from where they will go to help defeat the Axis.

90TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION OCT. 25-NOV. 1

First Baptist Church

A week of unusual services including a birthday party supper and the illumination of a huge birthday cake with 1000 candles is being planned.

In 1852 18 staunch Christians met and created our religious fellowship. Little did they realize that 90 years later we would gather to commemorate their faith and the faith of the multitudes that have followed.

In these eventful days it is fitting and proper that we should do honor to the memory of all who have helped to make this society such a power for good and to re-dedicate our lives to carry on the challenge of Christ and His Church.

VAN AUKEN—LYBECK

The marriage of Miss Phyllis Markham Lybeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Lybeck of Everell Road, to Kenneth Godfrey Van Auken, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Van Auken of Bloomfield, N. J., took place on Saturday evening, Oct. 10, at the First Congregational Church. The pastor, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock in a setting of white chrysanthemums, palms and ferns, and the wedding music was played by the church organist and choirmaster, J. Albert Wilson.

Miss Lybeck was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin, having a bodice of lace, long sleeves and a court train. Her long tulle veil was caught to a Dutch cap of lace matching the bodice of her dress and her flowers were orchids, combined with roses and bouvardia.

Miss Dorothy M. Lybeck of Winchester was her sister's honor attendant and another sister, Miss Maxine M. Lybeck of Winchester was one of the four bridesmaids, the others being Miss Susan Van Auken of Bloomfield, N. J., sister of the bridegroom, Miss Madeline Blood of Fall River and Miss Marion Savage of Meriden, Conn. Miss Pamela Chapman, of Everett, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

The honor maid wore a deep orchid taffeta dress, long waisted with three-quarter sleeves and a sweetheart neck. Her head-dress of ostrich plumes matched her dress and she carried matching orchids and bouvardia.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of taffeta in a lighter orchid shade, but otherwise similar to that of the honor attendant. They too wore matching ostrich plumes in their hair and carried orchids and baby's breath. The flower girl wore a pale orchid taffeta similar to those of the other attendants with orchid taffeta bows in her hair and carried an old fashioned bouquet centered with an orchid to match her frock.

Charles D. Fisher of Bloomfield, N. J., cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Bradford Lawrence of Beverly, Alexander Flandreau of New York, A. John Kajander of Woonsocket, R. I., Lawrence Freedman of Worcester and Clifford I. Markham, Jr., and Gifford M. Chapman, both of Everett and both cousins of the bride.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the parish house of the church. Mrs. Lybeck, mother of the bride, wore a gown of aquamarine crepe with an orchid corsage. Mrs. Van Auken, the bridegroom's mother, also wore orchids with her plum crepe gown.

After a wedding trip to New York, Mr. Van Auken and his bride will make their home in Bloomfield, N. J., where the bridegroom is associated with Walter Kidde, Inc.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Van Auken are graduates of Tufts College, the bride being a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and the bridegroom of Delta Upsilon and Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. and Mrs. Lybeck gave a dinner for the bridal party preceding Friday evening's rehearsal at the Shaker Glen House in Woburn.

EDWARD F. MAGUIRE DEAD

60 Year Old Resident Passed Away Wednesday

Edward F. Maguire, a resident of this town for the past 60 years, died at the hospital on Wednesday night. Although in failing health, he had been a familiar figure about town up until a short time ago.

Mr. Maguire was born in Boston 83 years ago, the son of Owen and Bridget Maguire. He came to this town when 23 years of age and for a time ran a grocery store. Later he became engaged in the second hand furniture business, which he conducted until a few years ago on Main street.

He was elected one of the town Constables in 1897 and had held this office until the present time, being constantly returned to office by the voters. For many years he was chairman of the Democratic Town Committee. He was an old member of Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus.

He married Julia E. Fitzgerald of this town, who died many years ago. He is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Catherine L. Haley and Mrs. Mary Humphrey of this town, and Mrs. Alice Payzant of Boston; also by one son, Edward F. Maguire, Jr., of Stoneham. One sister, Mrs. Mary E. Tighe of Somerville, also survives.

The funeral services will be held from the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main street, Saturday, Oct. 17, at 9 a. m. High mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. The burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Flags on the Town Hall, the Common and Winchester public buildings were flown at half mast to mark his passing.

SELECTIVE SERVICE BOARD TO RECLASSIFY MARRIED MEN

The Local Selective Service Board has been advised that they shall commence immediately the reclassification of all married men without children with the idea that those who follow within this group and who are not engaged in a war production industry will be available for military service as soon as the thinning ranks of single men are exhausted.

It is expected that the induction of this group of registrants under Selective Service will take place in December or immediately after the first of the year, unless the national Congress amends the Selective Service Act as it is now written, and directs the immediately classification and resultant induction of the 18 and 19 year old registrants who registered last June 30.

It is planned by the Local Board to send special questionnaires to all men on whom they must consider a reclassification. These questionnaires are much more simple to fill out than the original Selective Service questionnaires and are principally for the purpose of bringing out the dependency circumstances of the registrant.

The Local Board is prepared to fill its October call for 52 men who are to go forward on Oct. 31 from its pool of single men classified in 1A.

MYSTIC SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

"Parade" a Success!

On last Friday evening the parents, teachers and friends of the Mystic School had a very enjoyable time, thanks to Mrs. Theodore Chilcott and her excellent committee. "Mystic Mothers on Parade" were beautiful in their costumes and many humorous bits were chuckled over by husbands who for the first time really had fun at a fashion show. Mrs. John Coon recited poetry in a lovely voice explaining the period of each gown to the accompaniment of appropriate music. Incidentally Mrs. James Daschback received many compliments on her splendid efforts as pianist. Mrs. Robert Tonan was in charge of the delicious sandwiches and punch served in the kindergarten room. Afterwards parents and teachers met in closer acquaintance since they had all seen and mutually enjoyed a grand performance. Mrs. Victor Wolff is also to be congratulated on the splendid job she did as ticket chairman. The evening was a financial success which all friends of the scholarship fund will be glad to hear.

Again many thanks to Mrs. Theodore Chilcott and her committee for a beautifully successful venture!

NOTES ON THE FLYING FAIR

All those who wish to glimpse the future should remember that on Nov. 6 the Flying Fair at the Episcopalian Church offers a well known fortune teller. Make appointments now with Mrs. John Swift of Fells road, Win. 1549-W.

Mrs. Robert Thomason and her co-chairman, Mrs. Neal Borden have made some adorable cuddly dolls for the toy table. They are just the things for a young child to tuck into his crib. Many other toys will be available for children of other ages.

Greens for winter decoration and plants for year round cheerfulness will be available at the plant table run by Mrs. Frank Booth and Mrs. Arthur Jackson. One of their interesting features is a collection of ivy growing in green glass bottles, perfect to brighten the mantelpiece.

The children's table has some lovely dresses and pinafores to match. Mrs. John Gannon, chairman and Mrs. Walter Watson, co-chairman, have arranged for both practical and pretty gifts for children. These are hand made and very reasonably priced.

Miss Eleanor Dow and Mrs. A. S. Crockett are assisting Mrs. Craig Griener in planning the tea to be served from 3 to 5. There will be gay little tables to seat those wanting tea, and an abundant variety of sandwiches will be offered.

Don't forget to bring your contributions to the Fair on any Tuesday to the parish house. A box will be available for contributions to the white elephant table run by Mrs. E. F. Boyd, the used toys table, the preserves table and other special gifts that have been requested.

WYMAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The fall meeting of the Wyman School Mothers' Association is scheduled to be held on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 21, at 2:30 in the afternoon in the Wyman School hall.

Mrs. Rodney Long, the new president of the Association will preside and an interesting program is being planned on the subject of "Physical Education in the Winchester Elementary Schools."

Miss Helen Neidringhaus, our very popular director of physical education will explain the many sides of a subject that is so closely linked with the posture, play and health of the children who come under her care. Any questions that have risen in the minds of the parents, will be gladly answered.

Mrs. Albert Crockett as chairman of the social committee, is planning the usual hour of refreshments after the meeting, which has been so pleasant in past years.

The new mothers who attend have found this a delightful opportunity to become acquainted with other mothers of their children's friends, thus cementing the parent as well as the child to the successful undertaking of the coming school year.

As all mothers of Wyman School children are automatically members of the Association, it is hoped there will be a large attendance at this first meeting of the coming season.

ALICE DIXON BOND

Mrs. Charles Greene of the Winchester Mt. Holyoke Club introduced Alice Dixon Bond to an eager audience at the first of her series of five book talks on the morning of Oct. 6. Given at the Winchester Library hall, proceeds from the series go to a scholarship for a Winchester girl at Mt. Holyoke.

Mrs. Bond spoke of the Boston Herald Book Fair, to be held this year at Symphony Hall, from Oct. 19-22 which she is most busy in organizing and, because of loss of speakers to war activities, re-organizing.

Among the books reviewed were See Here, Private Hargrove, by Marion Hargrove, a humorous account of a rookie in camp, written by one of them, The Sword and the Lamp, Alice Tisdale Hobart's story of a family of French grape-growers in California and their Americanization, The Drums of Morning, by Philip Van Doren Sterns, one of the best novels to date about the Civil War and one which clears the name of Abolitionists who have suffered of late in fiction, and Miracle of the Congo, an account of Ben Lucian Burman's visit to the Congo country which is now the heart of Free France.

Mrs. Bond's next book talk will be at 10 on the morning of Nov. 17. Tickets may be obtained at the library hall door.

PRIDHAM BIG WINNER

Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham, whose sky-scraping shoe and general consistency often arouse the ire of President Royal P. Teele was the big winner at last week-end's regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association. Roland didn't lose a match during the entire session, being even good enough to carry the President as a partner during the first two against the Secretary and Jim Baldwin and then against "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe, and Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine champ.

Thereafter, in accordance with a new ruling, the championship combine was broken up and just what happened during the remainder of the session is hard to recount. The Secretary and President Teele teamed up against Pridham and McLaughlin, going down two out of three. As usual Mr. Teele and luckless Secretary made a swell showing in the game they won and had a commanding lead in the first game which they proceeded to blow.

Following the match, Mr. Teele and the scrivener, reinforced by Roy Winchester, of the double figure Winchesters, repaired to the second court and practiced assiduously, with so far as could be ascertained in future matches, little or no results.

Meanwhile Messrs. Butters, Baldwin, McLaughlin, and Pridham were locked in debate on the championship court, but who played who and who won we wouldn't know, except that Pridham didn't lose.

Thereafter Mr. Teele and Mr. Baldwin took on Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Butters, and according to Mr. Teele won two out of three. It is a known fact that Mr. Teele threw a ringer that decided the third game, but the Maine State and Stowe champions took the second by a wide margin. The outcome of the first game seemed somewhat in doubt. Mr. Teele claimed it, but Mr. McLaughlin demurred, and being pressed, Royal admitted that all had lost track of the count. Mr. Butters refrained from comment, but smiled in a marked manner!

On the championship court Howard "Foul Line" Wittet and the Secretary engaged Messrs. Winchester and Pridham with the latter team emerging victors. Mr. Winchester went very much beserk at the stake, throwing several ringers, including one double header that took the game that kept him and his partner in the running.

A special meeting of the Association was held on the holiday, but three of the regulars were among the missing. A governmental desire for sustaining effort in war production kept "Thin Finger" from the beach, Mr. Butters on his own admission mind you, played golf and Mr. Teele was on K. P. duty at home.

The Secretary and "Wild Willie" were on hand, with The Winchesters, reinforced by Ray "V for Victory" Hayward, Hennie Knowlton and Herb Gardner. No report of play is available, for as McLaughlin aptly put it, the contests were not "league games."

It might be said in passing that the first two shoes Mr. Knowlton threw were ringers and that "Wild Willie" was all that the name implies. Mr. Hayward was badly handicapped by the utter lack of any sort of cigar, whole or stump, and so was unable to put forth his best effort.

HOLMES STARTS FOR DARTMOUTH

Steve Holmes of Lakeview road, former Winchester High football player, will start at one of the guard positions for Dartmouth against Harvard in the stadium on Saturday as the result of his outstanding line play in a substitute role against Colgate last week.

Steve is a junior at Hanover and this is his second year on the varsity. At 185 he is one of the lighter forwards in the wigwam of the Indian of the North. Hampered by injuries while at high school, Steve never was an outstanding schoolboy football player, but was always rated by his coaches as potentially very strong. He was president of the class of 1940, winner of the Mansfield Sportsmanship Cup and voted the best all around boy in his class.

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Holmes and has a brother, Dave, playing regular left guard on the current Winchester High team. Dave, a chunky 165 pounder, is also headed for Dartmouth.

WINCHESTER 19—DANVERS 0

West's 95 Yard Touchdown Run Feature of Offensive Classic

Winchester High won one of its objective football games on Shore road athletic field last Saturday afternoon when it turned back a scrappy Danvers High eleven, 19-0, to avenge the 14-6 licking at Danvers last year, a licking that spoiled an otherwise perfect season.

Capt. Bill West led his mates to a well earned victory and was once again the outstanding player of both teams, scoring all three touchdowns, including that most spectacular of all scoring jaunts, a punt return that went all the way, covering 95 long yards from the Winchester 5 to Danvers pay dirt.

Big "Monk" was great last Saturday, but he had some help along the way. "Fatty" Buzzotta did some fine work on the opposing ends while the center of the local line, "Gaspie" Lentine, Harry Boodakian and the half-pint, Freddie Hicks, opened some nice holes for their pile-driving captain.

Defensively big Bob Jackson played his best game of the year while the tackles, Ken Harvey and sturdy Doug Cromwell stood out. "Fran" Poirier, who replaced the strangely quarantined Jim Milliacci, contributed several sparkling runs to the winning cause.

By and large Winchester's win was a team victory with each one playing his part well. Coach Knowlton had his boys really readied for Danvers and they played their best game of the year, despite the grandstand quarterbacks' concern over the fact that Danvers made three of six well thrown passes good for 34 yards against them.

The game was a battle of offenses with both defenses looking weak at times, though Winchester with the chips down twice stopped Danvers short of a score when the Yale Blues were really threatening.

Both teams were handicapped for the game. Danvers had one of its first string ends on the sidelines with a broken elbow and lost its fleet Capt. Allie Pydynkowski at the start of the second half with a shoulder injury which was probably received earlier in the game when the flying Pole stopped big Bob Jackson on an end around with a beautiful cross block.

The loss of Pydynkowski hamstrung the Danvers offense which showed little after he left the game. While he was in there the fleet 160 pound tailback was a real threat that gave Winchester several bad moments. Whether he would have scored had he been able to play through, no one knows. He was in there both times Danvers was in scoring position and couldn't make it. Winchester believes it could have won with Pydynskowski playing all the way.

The locals had their had hard luck too. Milliacci was out and so was Dave Holmes with a hip injury. Big "Shiny" Amico was also forced out after a few minutes with a shoulder injury and Jack Errico, a strong defensive back, went out with Pydynkowski after making the tackle that stopped the Polish destroyer.

Winchester made 14 first downs and 283 net yards by rushing to nine first downs and 140 yards for Danvers. During the first half alone when both teams were going all out offensively Winchester rolled up 172 yards on the ground and Danvers, 101. Danvers passed for 34 yards, making three out of six good, while Winchester passed three times and completed none. Each team drew a penalty and Danvers' hurt like blazes for it came when they were really threatening to score.

Winchester's first touchdown resulted from a smashing offense starting the first time the locals had the ball. Danvers had to kick after receiving and Pydynkowski's boot went outside on the Winchester 6. On first down West, from kick formation, broke through the center of the Danvers line and legged it to the Winchester 47 on a grand bit of broken field running, being pulled down from behind by Daley.

Errico skirted right end for 4 and Treacy reversed to the Danvers 44. West picked up 5 for a first down and then drove through for another first down at the Danvers 24. A lateral from West to Treacy to Poirier (who had replaced Errico) picked up only three, but Poirier got away around right end to the 12 and Treacy added 5 on a reverse.

On second down West drove straight through the line inside right guard for the touchodwn. Jackson's well kicked placement was slightly wide.

Danvers took the ensuing kickoff and drove from its 44 to Winchester's 7, a 16 yard pass from Pydynkowski to Piccolo making first down on the 14. Pydynkowski got only a yard at the line, but Piccolo reversed to the 7 and the threat was on. Big Daley was held at the line and a fourth down pass from Pydynkowski out in the right flank fell incomplete in the end zone.

Winchester started at its 7 and, paced by a 15 yard end around by Jackson, and Bill West's pile-driving smashes off tackle, drove to the Danvers 22 where a lateral was fumbled and recovered by the visitors.

With Pydynkowski and Picillo doing some great running, Danvers reached the Winchester 26 where Pydynkowski passed to Kornachuck for a first down at the 15. Winchester braced and stopped three plays, but a fourth down pass from Pydynkowski to Papamihial was good for a first down at the 4 and the visitors were again at the threshold.

Pydynkowski was stopped dead at center and a Danvers lineman was offside on the play, the ball going back to the 9. Pydynkowski tried Winchester's left tackle but finding no hole attempted to skirt left end, slipping and falling on the slippery turf for a two yard loss. Buzzotta then intercepted a Pydynkowski pass down the alley and fought his way back to his 10, from where in two rushes West reached the 25 as the half ended.

Winchester scored again at the start of the new half. Pydynkowski went out on the kickoff and Danvers couldn't gain, Kornachuck kicking to Treacy who got back 15 yards to his 48. West and Poirier and West again made it first down at the Danvers' 31, where on second down, West broke over his own right guard, cut out nicely and raced to the Danvers 3, being knocked outside. On first down big "Monk" bulled his way over on a straight buck off his own right tackle. Jackson's little placekick flubber just got over for the extra point.

From then until the closing minutes of play the teams continued to battle in the hot sunshine with Winchester having an ever-growing edge. With perhaps three minutes remaining Dzierzek intercepted a West pass at Winchester's 48. The visitors had to kick and West caught Kornachuck's boot at his own 5.

Jim Farrel threw a vital block that got big "Monk" away and the Winchester fullback started up the field, edging toward the sidelines and picking up speed every stride.

Bob Treacy blocked nicely at the Danvers 40, accounting for two men and then West really straightened out along the touch-line with a single Danvers tackler crossing over for a try at midfield.

The blue clad boy couldn't match Wests speed and about two yards separated them at midfield. This quickly became 5 and then 10 as the driving fullback went all the way with the Winchester stands a bedlam.

PUNCHARD HERE SATURDAY

Winchester High School's football team, riding the crest of an unbeaten, untied wave, meets Punchard High School Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Shore road athletic field, and this game is likely to be anything but a breather for Coach Knowlton's charges.

Punchard beat Reading, 15-0, last Saturday, no especially momentous feat, but the week previous it played Danvers a very even ball game, losing only when a Danvers boy grabbed a fumble in the air and raced for a 12-6 victory.

Pydynkowski played the whole game against Punchard so the Andover boys did pretty well in that one. They are likely to prove troublesome in the event Winchester is a bit let down after its stirring victory over Danvers, which is not unlikely.

The Danvers players reported that Punchard had a good team with a couple of fine backs in Buntin and Craig, the first a real speed-boy and the latter a good plunging back.

Coach Knowlton expects to have both Milliacci and Holmes in the starting lineup after a week's layoff, but Shiny Amico, 200 pound tackle, is not expected to answer the opening whistle.

Coach Vye of Danvers and his players were loud in their praise of Winchester's Bill West and local fans who have not seen this big boy in action ought to come down for a peek at him and his mates tomorrow. Only one more home game after this one!

Many in Winchester were pleased to learn that Wendell Mansfield's Springfield College eleven won its first game since he became head coach last year when they defeated Northeastern 13-0, in one of last Saturday's upsets. There was some regret mingled with the pleasure at Mansfield's success for a Winchester boy, Barney Vespucci, was one of the Northeastern first string ends.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Winchester High School's leading candidate for the title of "Most Active in National Defense" is Otis E. Alley, teacher of Chemistry and Physics. Better known as Doc Alley to his pupils, he is active not only in Winchester but also as an instructor at the Boston University School of Medicine. A prominent figure in local defense activities, he lends his valuable services to the sugar and gasoline rationing, and has helped in the various war bond drives of the town. He also is especially active assisting in selective service. Many a draft questionnaire has been made up, written out, and signed with the name Otis E. Alley. He is one of the men behind the scenes in assisting those incapable of filling out their draft questionnaires.

However, more notable than his activities as an average citizen is his skill along the line at which he is most proficient, chemistry. At the Boston University School of Medicine Dr. Alley is currently conducting courses in nutrition, vitamins and engineering. This valuable training is being given to doctors entering medical school.

Another branch of chemistry vital to the national effort is blood donations. Dr Alley is doing extensive research on blood testing and classifying types of blood.

We cannot, for the life of us, see why all this argument and criticism has been aroused over the President's secret trip of inspection. If the trip was kept a secret until it was over—what harm was done? Is it that someone did not want him to make the trip, and knowing that he was doing so, imagined he could prevent it? If the President felt that he might be in danger should the country at large know of the incident, why should it be heralded? The controversy seems picayune. It may serve to breach the already none too cordial relations between the Government and the press. Why that should be attempted we do not know. It seems a silly incident to quarrel over in war time.

The Star has received a request from a subscriber that an "Old Friend" column be started along the lines of our "Share Your Car" information. It may appeal to many older residents. The Star, certainly, is more than willing to do its part. With most of our younger folks either away or interested in war work, the "oldsters" are coming into their own. Whether there are enough of them here in Winchester who would like to get in touch with friends of by-gone days, remains to be determined. If you desire, or can give, such information, you are welcome to use the services of the Star.

GOVERNMENT OF PEOPLE

There is total global war.

The issue is Free Enterprise and Individualism, or Centralized Government and Regimentation.

American might is necessary to win this war for Democracy, and upon the Republican Party of the United States rests the burden of keeping alive and holding high the spirit of free enterprise and individualism, the very foundation of the G. O. P., the principles for which it was created.

Here in these United States we have already embarked a little way on the road that could lead to complete centralized control, an ordered economy and full bureaucracy.

We are at war. We have 100 per cent Unity for this war and we will win this war. Further, we trust that upon winning the war we will cast aside our too great experiments in ordered economy (induced by world wide superstitions created by the depression and the glowing propaganda of other lands, which had started on their path). This is a Republic for which Republicans stand and we must rely on the Republican Party to keep free enterprise alive for world democracy.

LOST AND FOUND CHILDHOOD FRIENDSHIP COLUMN

To the Editor of the Star:

Your patriotic "Share Your Car" column is a splendid manifestation of brotherly love.

That idea prompts another. Could we have in your valuable paper a lost and found childhood friendship column?

Where are the friends of happy childhood days? Some have passed away, others have moved to distant cities and towns. We have lost track of many of those who live outside of our town and we should like to find them and obtain their addresses. Can't we share their addresses with one another?

I would like to start such a column by asking, "Does any Star reader know the address of Alton Sheppard?" Thirty two years ago he attended the Wyman School with us. He was lame, using crutches but always wearing a friendly, contagious smile. He was loved by all of us. His father was a doctor and the family lived in the apartment next to the Winchester Trust Company. Could anyone share his address?

No doubt many others have childhood friends who are lost and could thus be found.

Can't we "salvage" these previous childhood friends and place them once more in friendship's lodge?

Trusting that my humble idea may appeal to you.

Very hopefully yours,
Bob Alexander

SERVICE MEN APPRECIATE BOXES

(Excerpts from Letters)

Naval Training Station,
Newport, R. I.

"I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for that wonderful gift I received from the Service Men's Committee. I was overwhelmed when I received it, but when I opened it, words cannot express my thoughts. The men in my company have received gift boxes from various sources, but they all agreed that they never had seen one to match yours. I don't know if you realize the happiness that you bring to an enlisted man, but I wish to state, here and now, that it is an endeavor that brings the First Congregational Church of Winchester nearer to the hearts of its members in service. I know that I am speaking for my fellowmen when I say that, regardless of consequences, we will see this thing through until every God-loving man may worship Him as he pleases and return to a peaceful world."

Goldsboro, N. Carolina

"I received the box which was sent to me and have enjoyed it beyond words. You can't possibly realize the feeling it sent through me when I opened it up. The thought that friends and the church are still close to me, even though I am hundreds of miles away. In the toil and drudgery of this job, that thought is very satisfying."

Army Air Force Technical School,
Lincoln, Neb.

"A letter from home told me to expect a box from the kind First Congregational Church—but instead I received a whole picnic. It was wonderful. Families and friends are generous in their sending of boxes to the boys and we do enjoy them. With about twenty-eight of us—all hungry—you may well imagine the quickness of devouring any goodies that come our way.

The box was very attractive, as I opened it to that top layer, and it did not suffer from its long trip from the East, all was in good order. The toilet articles are much appreciated. We all found the sardines to be a special treat.

Pearl Harbor, T. H.

"I was never so surprised in my life as I was when I received your interesting letters a couple of days ago. About three hours ago, your wonderful package arrived. Everything in it can be used to great advantage. I can't thank you enough. It is great the way you folks back home are keeping our morale up, and helping us out in general."

New Caledonia

"I just received another box from the Service Men's Committee and wish to thank them through you for their thoughtfulness. It's very encouraging to know that you people back home are thinking of us way out here in New Caledonia, 12,000 miles away."

c/o Postmaster, New Orleans, La.

"The easiest way for me to indicate how much the candy was appreciated is to state that it was the first candy that has been on this post in over three months. I think that nothing more need be added other than to say it was sincerely appreciated."

FINANCING HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC PROGRAM

In view of the fact that citizens of the town are urged to support the athletic program of the local high school by attending home games and paying the admission fee charged, it is fair to assume that they would be interested in a statement of the financial condition of the high school athletic association and of its policies. It is with this purpose in mind that the following summary has been prepared.

Before the opening of the enclosed athletic field, the high school athletic association found it extremely difficult to finance a comprehensive athletic program for the boys and girls of the school. Almost the entire revenue was derived from voluntary contributions of patrons at home games.

During the period from 1925 to 1934 deficits of from one to five hundred dollars were faced, with small favorable balances for only three of those years. Under such conditions it was impossible to provide all the first-class equipment needed; transportation was often handled by private cars; and A. A. membership fees were $2.25 per year per pupil.

With the opening of the new field the financial condition of the association improved materially. As a direct result the association sponsored an ever-increasing program of student athletic activities. Inter-school games for second teams and for freshmen groups were arranged; transportation was handled entirely by public buses, and the membership in the A. A. was reduced to one dollar per year.

Better and more equipment was purchased, more complete police protection was arranged for at home games, the cost of annual awards and letters increased (in 1941 this item alone amounted to $229.71).

Perhaps a graphic picture of what the enclosed field has meant to the association finances might best be obtained from the following figures:

In 1927 the total income of the association was $2,465.37. The total expenses for that year were $2,551.90. A deficit of $86.53 was the result.

In 1941, the total income of the association was $4,787.80. The total expenses for that year were $4,635.05. A balance of $646.90 was the result.

The figures for 1927 represented the highest income for any year previous to the opening of the new field, and the figures for 1941 represented the highest income for any year since its opening.

The budget of the association for the current year is based upon a careful study of the finances of the association for the past five years. The budget figures follow:

MT. ELBRUS, EUROPE'S HIGHEST TRAINING SITE OF RUSSIAN FIGHTERS

If the Nazi flag waves from Mt. Elbrus, as reported, it is a feather in the highest hat of Europe, says the National Geographic Society.

Twin-peaked, snow-covered and wind-swept, Elbrus rises 18,471 feet, more than 2500 feet higher than the highest peak in the Alps. It is situated approximately 60 miles southwest of Pyatigorsk, a health resort in the northern Caucasus, and slightly farther northeast of the Black Sea port town of Sukhumi.

Elbrus was one of the first of the Caucasus mountains to be mapped. Its summit was first reached by the famous English mountaineer, Douglas Freshfield, in 1868. A German scientific party explored the region in 1929, but since, the Russians, fearing espionage, have limited exploring to those holding official permits, and mountain climbing in the Caucasus has advanced very little. Many of the high peaks of the range, therefore, have never been scaled.

In peacetime the valleys and the slopes of the Elbrus were speckled with tents of Russian sports groups, students taking their training in first aid, map reading, and mountain warfare. Men in all walks of life from all parts of Russia took courses Some of the defenders of the Caucasus may have had their training in in mountain fighting in this region. the modern skiing schools and training camps in the Elbrus region.

Natives living in the shadow of the giant mountain call the Elbrus "Mingitau," the great "White Mountain." They believe that a great bird protects the mountain peak and prevents climbers from reaching its heights by attacking with its great beak and talons.

FOR OUR OWN AND OTHERS

Epiphany Thrift Sale Oct. 22

This week householders of Epiphany parish are on a rummage hunt upstairs and down for articles that will be useful and saleable at the fall rummage sale, Thursday, Oct. 22. The hours will be from 10 to 4. Mrs. John Sharon and the Evening Branch will have charge of the sale, in the parish hall.

They know these goods will be in demand; shoes and clothing for children of every age, and for men and women; warm things that can go to school or to market or to the factory this war winter. The friends of right and freedom, the foes of Hitler and brutality, are hunting for bargains to give and to buy, for dimes and quarters saved this year by thrifty buying will "pass the ammunition, and we'll all stay free."

If warm clothing for men is left after the sale, it will go in to the Seamen's Club, Boston, to outfit some merchant seaman destitute after a wreck.

The market will have also dishes, useful gadgets and even knick nacks. And it will be worth while to look here for a good time dress, gay and thrifty.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Winchester Unit

Your John, he is grown up now and in uniform, and you send his letters to him at one of this big general addresses, New York or San Francisco or Seattle, but you can still see him rounding the corner of the stairs bumping sleepily from step to step the Teddy bear that always went up to bed with him. That picture from England reminded you, the little bomb-frightened child clutching his faithful and comforting bear as he was being taken to safety in a children's hostelry. British War Relief wants 100,000 of these soft, cuddly dolls and animals.

On Wednesdays in October the Winchester central work room in the Epiphany parish hall will be making these toys. Come with materials, ideas, needle and thimble or paintbrush. Everybody welcome.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR SERVICE

If there are women in Winchester who sincerely want to give valuable service in this war effort there is a real opportunity to do so in the Volunteer Nurses' Aide Corps.

Never has the need for nurses been so great, and it will be much more acute as the war progresses. We can not wait until the real emergency arrives. Nurse's Aides must have instruction and practice now in order to be prepared to give the necessary assistance in the crucial period.

An epidemic now might become a major catastrophe because of lack of nurses.

The class starting Oct. 26 will be the last one given this year. Consider whether you are really doing as much as you should at the present time. If not, here is your chance. You may register all next week at Red Cross Headquarters in the Town Hall or at Civilian Defense Headquarters, 572 Main street from 2-5 p. m. week days. Full information is available at both places.

ICE CREAM IN NEW WAR-TIME ROLE

In addition to being "America's favorite dessert," ice cream has become important as a war-time food. Its value as a basic food is recognized by the Army and Navy and is included two or three times a week in the Master Menus issued by the Quartermaster's Corps. According to one of New England's largest Ice Cream Manufacturers, H. P. Hood & Sons' Ice Cream is one of the most popular items sold in the Post Exchanges of New England Army Posts.

An average serving of vanilla ice cream contains approximately 200 calories for energy, one-fifth of the amount of calcium needed by an adult daily as well as significant amounts of Protein, Minerals, and Vitamins A and G.

Ice Cream is the balance wheel of the entire daily industry. Milk production varies greatly during certain seasons of the year and the peak or flush season occurs at the time ice cream consumption is the greatest. Hence ice cream utilizes the surplus of the farmer insuring a year-round market for his product.

DR. TOZIER TO PRESENT NEW PICTURES

Monday evening at 8 o'clock, in the parish house of the First Congregational Church, Dr. Charles H. Tozier will take his audience by superb movies and still pictures over thousands of miles of North, Central and South America. He will show magnificent scenes from Mexico, Guatemala and Brazil, our allies to the South of us, including the spectacular Sugar Loaf, outside of Rio de Janeiro, where Axis sympathizers have been caught flashing signals to German U-boats.

We shall also travel across our own country and see the grandeurs of the great canyons of the West and the natural wonders of Yellowstone Park, caught through the lens of his camera last summer, then on to the Canadian Rockies.

It will make you proud you are an American and you will understand better what we and our neighbors to the South are fighting for.

There will be no admission charge. An offering will be taken for war services.

This is part of the generous program Dr. Tozier has set for himself by which to send good-cheer boxes to men in service. His pictures have already been seen by thousands of people this fall in Boston and surrounding towns. They have met with great success. Winchester will want to match his generosity. Everybody is invited.

MISS SKORNIK RECEIVES ADVANCED DEGREE

Among those who recently received degrees from the Harvard School of Education is Miss Helen Skornik, high school commercial teacher, who received the degree of master of education.

Miss Skornik came to Winchester last year from Willimantic, Conn., after several years there, to fill a position made available by the marriage of Miss Florence White. While at the Connecticut school, Miss Skornik served for a time on the staff of the University of Connecticut where she taught short hand and typing to late afternoon classes.

SONS OF ITALY COLUMBUS DAY BANQUET

On Monday evening, Oct. 12, the Winchester Lodges of the Order Sons of Italy in America held their annual banquet in celebration of the 450th anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus. In other years, this annual festivity has been a gala occasion, looked forward to and attended by several hundred guests and many of the town's leading citizens, and has usually been held at the Fortnightly Hall. However, due to present day conditions, the Lodges felt that while the day should be given recognition as usual, it should be on a much smaller scale. For that reason, the banquet was held in the Sons of Italy Hall on Swanton street, which at the most could only accommodate 60 people.

In spite of catering difficulties, the dinner was excellent. After dinner, Toastmaster Carmine Frongillo introduced the three members of the armed forces who happened to be in Winchester on that day, and who were guests of the Sons of Italy at the banquet at which were members of the organization. They were Pfc. Lawrence Penta, of the U. S. Marine Corps stationed at Quantico, Va.; Pfc. Alfred Subrizio, of the U. S. Army Air Corps; and Pvt. Gaetano Mistretta, also of the U. S Army Air Corps. The boys were unanimous in their liking for army life, and looked splendid.

The banquet committee was then introduced, consisting of Regina Luongo, chairman; Susie DeAngelis, Henrietta Penta, Teresa Muraco, Angelo P. Tofuri and Gabriel J. Vespucci. The toastmaster, Carmine Frongillo, also served on the committee.

The principal speaker of the evening was John A. Volpe, Venerable of the men's lodge. Mr. Volpe gave a brief history of Christopher Columbus, and commented on the present war effort of the United States, stressing the need for each of us to do his part in every way possible to assure ultimate certain victory over our enemies. He urged that War Savings Bonds be bought "until it hurts, so that this country may remain the greatest nation on the face of the earth." He then read a paragraph from a letter he had received that day from Lieut. (Dr.) Angelo L. Maietta, who expressed his regrets that for the first time in nine years he would have to forego the pleasure of attending the Sons of Italy Columbus Day. banquet. Dr. Maietta, it was stated is now stationed in the Coast Artillery Anti-Aircraft Corps, Camp Stewart, Ga. Mr. Volpe also expressed the regrets of the Men's Lodge in temporarily losing to the Army another friend, Dr. William D. Barone, who enters the Army on Oct. 31, and will be stationed at Miami Beach, Fla. with the rank of Lieutenant. The Winchester Sons of Italy now has 29 members in the armed forces.

The short speaking program was followed by dancing, a trio rendition of several tunes by Pfc. Alfred Subrizio and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ficociello; a solo by Leo Manoli; a few well-told stories by Anthony Ficocielo; and community singing by everyone present. It was a small gathering, but everyone had a lot of fun.

THE SALVATION ARMY

The sponsoring committee headed by William N. Beggs, is happy that so many old friends of the Salvation Army, have assisted in the 1942 hunt for a goal of $2000 by hand and mailing their donations to the campaign treasurer. This according to those interested in an all-out victory is gratifying. Mr. Beggs now goes further and asks that at least 400 new contributors call on or mail their offering to G. Dwight Cabot, treasurer of the Winchester Trust Company.

The shortage of men to assign to collection work makes the request for mailing and handing money to Mr. Cabot a necessity. It will also hurry the close of the campaign and mean much less contacting of Winchester folk at their homes and places of business.

In speaking of the campaign work in Winchester, one of the 37 communities that make up the Metropolitan Division, William G. O'Hare, executive secretary of the Boston Welfare Department and head of the Army's Greater Boston Appeal, asks for an all-out victory here as well as in Boston and the 45 towns and cities in the general financial effort.

He continued:

"The job is a big one. Results will tell the story of whether or not our people want to keep the home front strong. I give my time and effort to the Salvation Army because I have seen their work. They never disregard an appeal for help. They give, they act quickly. They serve well. Thus the reasons I have been long associated with the Greater Boston Advisory Board and campaign committees. I wholeheartedly commend the work of the Salvation Army for your consideration."

"THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER"

To Inaugurate Parish Players Season

Described by critics and audiences alike as the most hilarious farce comedy hit of the season when it was presented on Broadway, and by motion picture fans as one of the funniest and fastest of screen comedies "The Man Who Came to Dinner" will inaugurate the 1942-43 season of the Parish Players at The Little Theatre Beneath the Spire on Friday and Saturday evenings, Nov. 6 and 7.

Briefly the plot of The Man Who Came to Dinner" describes a hectic fortnight in the trans-continental lecture tour of Sheridan Whiteside, caustic, amusing and brilliant author, radio entrepreneur, and international wit . While stopping overnight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stanley of Mesalia, Ohio, Mr. Whiteside slips and falls on the icy pavement as he enters the Stanley home, fracturing his hip. At first the Stanleys are thrilled with the prospect of having the eminent Mr. Whiteside as their house guest, but their joy turns to almost every other emotion as they quickly discover that Mr. Whiteside is far from the charming old gentleman to whom they have listened weekly on the radio.

Heading the cast of the hit will be three players who have already appeared in the play in prior presentations. In the role of Sheridan Whiteside Winchester play goers will meet, for the first time in several seasons, Francis Hart, who during seasons past has directed 14 of the Parish Players productions.

In the important role of Maggie Cutler, Mr. Whiteside's secretary will appear Lynda Nelson, also a veteran in her role, a member of the Cape Playhouse 1942 Resident Company. In the amusing role of Beverly Carlton, appears Francis Russell, another Cape Playhouse veteran, who made his Winchester debut in an important role in the memorable Our Town. Also included in the large cast who are already busily rehearsing under Mr. Hart's direction are Mary Worthen, Ivar Hakinson, Edith Chamberlain, Dorothy Wills, Clifford Cunningham, Elizabeth Swasey, Anne Newton, Harold French, Priscilla Roy Harris, Janet Dalrymple and Irving Plitt.

Winchester's most recent group of Army selectees left town last Saturday morning for induction at Fort Devens, leaving town on the 8:32 train.

The usual exercises were held at the Town Hall under the direction of W. Allan Wilde, chairman of the local Selective Service Board, with addresses by town officials and clergy from both Winchester and Stoneham. Three Winchester colored boys, Reginald Guy, Charles Benjamin Kirby, Jr. and Patrick Chester Gardner, whose Army orders required that they leave for camp the following Tuesday, were present with the other draftees to be included in the town's send-off.

Following the exercises the selectees marched to the station, headed by St. Mary's Band and escorted by a detail of uniformed members of Winchester Post, 97, A. L., with their colors and color guard. A large group of relatives and friends of the young soldiers was present to see them off to camp.

ARE YOU SCRAP MINDED YET?

There are still many citizens in the town who have not as yet made any survey of their attics, cellars and garages for scrap metal. They just haven't gotten around to it yet. There are others who have not yet cleaned out ALL of the metal which they are not using and which they could easily do without. If you are in either one of these groups, won't you please make a serious effort to get busy on this little chore, and get out all you have right now. It really doesn't take much effort once you start.

If you have metal articles too heavy to bring down to Manchester Field, call Civilian Defense Headquarters, Win. 0207, and they will have a town truck collect it.

THE LIONS ROAR

Hiya kids! The ol' Lion had a small but jolly meeting last Monday night. Dinner was at Randall's again and entertainment, as at the prior meeting, at "a certain optometrist's office."

Before reporting further, there are a couple of comments hanging on from our last report to the citizens along the main drag. First, we apologize for the typographical error (gee, a two bit word) which was not our fault. The Mr. O. E. Sweet was actually Mr. A. E. Sweet. Sorry Al.

Also of note, the Lions column has been called "trite." Arm, ye Lions, and demand redress, only who ever heard of getting satisfaction from a woman yet! If anyone is curious, it was not even a Lioness who made that crack, but we know a Lion who knows her.

To get back to the latest meeting, we report three guests, Mr. Thomas (a repeater and we hope often), Mr. Colby and Mr. Dowd. We would like to see these lads wearing the famous Lion's pin.

Entertainment for the evening was unusual to say the least. Mr. Harold Bowne of Winchester spoke on Alaska, Our Frontier. He described Alaska with respect to size, climate and value (both strategic and resourceful). His talk was strictly informal and was emphasized with snap shots that he took while in the salmon cannaries there in the last war.

A later announcement will be issued to Lions as to time and place of the next meeting. Be There.

DONATION DAY AT THE HOME

The Home for Aged People in Winchester will hold their "Annual Donation Day" at the Home, 110 Mt. Vernon street, on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 21, from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

The Directors hope that many of our townspeople will call that day to greet the family and the staff, renewing their acquaintance with the splendid Home that has been maintained in Winchester for nearly half a century through the generosity of our citizens.

It has been the custom on "Donation Day" to give food, canned goods and other things to the Home in the same thought and spirit as our forefathers had when they originated Thanksgiving Day.

No ticket is needed for admission on Donation Day, as more than all else, the Board desires that our citizens make a short visit to the Home that afternoon and partake of refreshments with the family, to whom the event has for many years been a "red letter day."

Anyone desiring to make a contribution for the comfort and welfare of our residents and not knowing exactly what to select can receive suggestions by telephoning our matron, Mrs. Wolloff, Win. 0497.

German U-Boat Rammed, Crew Captured By Canadian Destroyer in Fierce Duel

THE top photo, one of the most graphic taken during the present war, shows a German submarine slithering away from the bow of a Canadian destroyer as the destroyer attempted to ram the U-boat. The action during this encounter took place at extremely close range—often with the two vessels no more than a few feet apart. The destroyer just missed ramming the submarine when this photo was taken by a member of the crew, but her aim was more accurate and deadly a little later, and the sub was crashed by the destroyer's bow. The raider stood suspended in the ocean for a moment and then was swallowed up by the waves.

The survivors of the submarine were picked up after their craft was sunk. The lower right photo shows the rescue. The U-boat survivors smoked and chatted as they waited their turn to board the Canadian destroyer.

The daring, courage and clever seamanship exhibited by individuals in this sea battle is typical of the spirit found in the sailors of the Royal Canadian Navy.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH CELEBRATES

The friends and members of the First Baptist Church of Winchester are full of enthusiasm and busy with plans as they celebrate their 90th Anniversary.

The Anniversary Celebration was launched last Sunday, October 18, when the pastor, Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton, preached a moving and challenging sermon, "The Old Friends Are Coming Home Again." In this address he gave a three fold message. Our Anniversary is a flaming torch kindling fires upon the altars of memory; our Anniversary bridges the yawning gulf between the past and the present with a span of 90 years, and our Anniversary will again bring the old friends home across this great span with memories aflame. His conclusion emphasized the deep responsibility and glorious opportunity of the people at home to welcome those who return.

Sunday, Oct. 25, 10:45 A. M. Mr. Harry G. Sanborn will give an interesting history of the church and the spiritual advance of its people.

Wednesday, 7:45 P. M. H. Wadsworth Hight, Rev. Arthur L. Winn, Miss Elsie Locke, Mrs. John C. Winchester, Mrs. Frederick C. MacDonald Mrs. Richard S. Taylor, Mrs. Ernest Butterworth, Mr. Harry C. Sanborn, Mrs. Martin S. Swanson, Rev. Henry E. Hodge, and Rev. Benjamin B. Browne will give reminiscences of the church life.

Friday, Oct. 30, 6:30 and 8:00 P. M. will be the Birthday Supper and Candlelight Service. A huge Birthday Cake, six feet high and four feet wide, will be decorated with a thousand candles. The entire evening will be filled with good things, supper, special music, the impressive Candlelight Service, greetings from the churches of Winchester by the Dean of the Ministers, Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, and the speaker of the evening, Dr. Grady D. Feagan, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Arlington.

Sunday, 10:45 A. M. Dr. Isaac Higginbotham will preach an inspirational sermon on the future of the church.

The public is cordially invited to all these services.

Lt. Comdr. Heneberger was chief gunnery officer of the Quincy.

His exciting account of the battle described the conditions aboard his ship and his subsequent rescue as it sank.

Lt. Comdr. Heneberger was graduated from Annapolis in 1925, and is married the former Bernice Walling of California. Mrs. Heneberger and their son, Harry, Jr., 13, now live in Newport.

HERBERT L. BALDWIN

WINCHESTER MAN DIRECTED ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN

The Boston and Maine Railroad, for the second time within a year, was awarded national honors this week, when National Ad-Views, a nationally circulated publication in the advertising profession gave the road the "Socrates High Award of the Year".

The "Socrates Award" is given each year "after Socrates and his staff of advertising executives have reviewed and analyzed the ads of over 5,000 leading national advertisers during 12 months ending Sept. 30. The Boston and Maine, having scored the most points in the monthly cumulative score card has won the vote of the judges for the "Socrates High Award of the Year".

A Winchester resident, Herbert L. Baldwin, of 5 Ardley Place, directed the advertising which won this award and which, last winter, was given the National Advertising Award in the railroad class of the National Advertising Awards, another country-wide competition.

In its announcement of the award to the B and M, National AdViews said: "The Boston and Maine Railroad's Advertising is under the active direction of Herbert L. Baldwin, the road's Publicity Manager, who is also Executive Secretary of its Advertising Committee.

"Mr. Baldwin, a former reporter, feature writer and Night City Editor of the Boston Post, has been in charge of the Boston and Maine's Publicity Department for about 13 years and has had active charge of its advertising policies for some seven years. Under his guidance the B and M's advertising copy has been changed from the prosaic and dry to where it reflects the keen analysis of the public mind and what makes it react, which he gained in some 15 years in newspaper work.

"A plain-spoken type of newspaperman, Mr. Baldwin now has the Boston and Maine's advertising couched in language that is not only trank but in the verbiage easily understood by anyone. Into it creeps and oft-times predominates a sense of humor which keeps bringing delighted chuckles from the road's patrons.

"Gasps were almost audible in the railroad industry when, some three years ago, the 100-year-old B and M blossomed forth in the newspapers with an advertisement captioned 'That's a Hell of a Way to Run a Railroad'. The ad's caption was a phrase often flung at it by its patrons and with frankness and candor the B and M tossed the complaints back at its patrons and pleasantly and humorously told them the whys and wherefores.

"The road doesn't hesitate to admit its shortcomings. Time and time again it has reported to the public, in its ads, such phrases as 'Sure, our passenger cars aren't all 1942 models but they're clean and safe.'

"Summed up, the Boston and Maine was the first railroad in the country to adopt the candid and frank approach in its advertising for it has 'talked plain New England language' for the past five years.

"The road set a new style in railroad advertising which, it seems, is being reflected more and more throughout the country as railroads depart from the staid and get into the modern vein which people understand and read."

Mrs. Chester Baker (Mary Carr), of West Springfield was an over-night guest in town this week visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. James H. Carr of Highland avenue.

TO ENTERTAIN BOYS

Many Winchester families have wanted to entertain service men in their homes, but very few have known how to locate men who really wanted to be taken into the family for a few hours. All have said they wanted to know how to get through to the right boys—"how to go about it." Encouraged by the great demand for some kind of organization, a committee, sponsored by the College Club, has talked at great length with a group in Wellesley who has done such an exemplary job of giving true New England hospitality to men who are sorely in need of it.

We are sure we know how to bring the right men to Winchester. It is true that some men prefer Scollay Square on a Sunday afternoon, but there are literally hundreds of others who really yearn whole-heartedly for a simple family dinner, a chance to help with the dishes, a quiet (?) Sunday afternoon in the back yard with the kids next door, a full cookie jar, apples and pop corn or just to sit in a comfortable chair and read for a while before he has to take a late afternoon train back to Camp.

Winchester is famed for its homes, its children, and its dogs, there can be no town that has a bigger heart full of cheer and gratitude to offer boys who are far away from all that means home to them.

Already twenty families have opened wide their doors on Sunday, November first, to forty boys, two in each home, from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Recreational Committee in Boston. We have chartered a bus which will bring the boys to the Winchester Station where the committee will meet them and take them to their respective hostesses. The boys aren't starving, Uncle Sam is a generous provider, but all boys are hungry for plenty of food, the simpler the better, and good cheer along with it. They really welcome a chance to help with the dishes—they say it makes them feel more at home. The length of stay and means of transportation back to Boston depend on the individual hostess, most boys are strangers in Boston and need to be put on the right train to the city and also as they are always near "broke" they need the carfare back.

We realize the first day of collection, hospitality is an experiment but we hope it will be such a successful day that every Sunday will be a day of sharing with our men in the service, our homes which are perhaps dearer to us today than ever before. The Civilian Defense Committee has very eagerly and generously offered us the use of their office and telephone for our clearing house. If you find it possible to entertain two men in your home on any Sunday will you please call Civilian Defense Headquarters, Winchester 0207 between one and five in the afternoon.

We can charter a bus that holds forty men to come out from Boston for $8.00. Contributions to cover this expense are greatly needed and we have a fund in Defense Center where any who finds it impossible to have soldiers or sailors in their homes can offer financial help to make our Sunday entertaining possible.

Any who have husbands, sons, or brothers far from home who have been offered a friendly hand by their new neighbors know how much this kindness has meant to these men. These boys, here, are about to join those out there, in the great struggle to keep our homes inviolate. Let's show them that home is worth fighting for and that we have a heart full of gratitude to them for the great task they have undertaken.

WINCHESTER MAN TELLS OF BATHTUB RUBBER

School Committeeman Robert F. Lybeck, of Everell road, who has been aeronautics managers and is now a rubber expert with the Colonial Beacon Oil Company, is quoted editorially by the Boston Post recently on the subject of "bathtub rubber." This is the newest rubber synthetic, flexon, known professionally as "bathtub rubber" because the process is so simple it can be carried out in the family tub, with the proper equipment. Mr. Lybeck makes the heartening prediction that never again will the United States need to depend on natural rubber from foreign lands, and that by 1944 we will have enough synthetic rubber to provide tires for everyone. Our school solon even claims that for some purposes the synthetic rubber will prove better than the natural variety. Knowing the quality of the Lybeck predictions we feel quite braced over his rubber prognostications. How do YOUR tires shape up for another year's wear?

WINCHESTER 27 — PUNCHARD 0

Locals Easily Maintain Unbeaten, Untied Record

Winchester High came back nicely from its big Danvers game effort to give another good exhibition of football last Saturday afternoon, beating a big but otherwise outclassed Punchard football team, 27-0, on the Shore road athletic field. Coach Knowlton used every member of his squad except the injured "Shiny" Amico, and we suspect that it was the showing of his reserves that was largely responsible for his apparent satisfaction after the game.

The local scrubs played through the entire third quarter, holding Punchard safely, and later in the final minutes of play scored on the visitors with a well thrown long pass from Sam Tibaudo to Bobby Quine, a pass that ate up 43 long yards.

Big Bob Jackson, nursing a sore ankle, did no kicking, but Dave Holmes signalized his return to play by kicking two of the three points after touchdown with Jack Errico adding the other.

Winchester had a big edge over Punchard in statistics, running up 16 first downs and 283 yards by rushing to 10 first downs and 106 yards for the visitors. Through the air Winchester completed five of 10 passes for 83 yards, while Punchard could make but two of its 13 aerials good for 14 yards. Three of the visitors' passes were intercepted by the local defense which was much sharper in this department than in previous games.

Winchester lost 50 yards to the officials, including two 15 yarders for clipping, one of which nullified a touchdown. Punchard lost 25 yards in penalties, including a 15 yarder for holding.

The undermanned visitors made their big bid at the start of the game when they took Lambiase's kickoff at the 25 and drove deep into Winchester's territory, only to have the omni-present Bill West intercept a forward pass and drive back to his 30 yard line.

From that point in four tries big "Monk" reached the Punchard 35, Milliacci, Buzzotta and Treacy making it first down on the 24.

In the second quarter a Winchester threat missed fire on the 2 when a West pass fell incomplete in the end zone, but soon the local boys were in possession again on the Punchard 33. A West to Milliacci lateral went all the way but Winchester was called for clipping at the 5 and the ball went back to the 20.

Treacy got 2 and a West to Milliacci pass added 2 more, before West passed again, this time to Buzzotta who was downed on the 5. Milliacci added 2 at left end and West hit off tackle for the score. The try for point after was blocked.

There was no scoring in the third quarter though the Winchester seconds drove to the Punchard 18 before losing the ball on a fumble. Poirier during one offensive sally reeled off a nice gallop around left end good for 23 yards.

The varsity got in to start the final quarter and play wasn't far along when the locals were penalized for clipping back to their 19. On kick formation West broke through to the 33, from where Milliacci got away off tackle for a thrilling run to the Punchard 4, a sore leg preventing him from going the full distance.

Treacy carried it over on a reverse on first down behind some nice effective blocking, not a hand being laid upon him. Holmes kicked in the extra point at placement.

Coach Knowlton commenced sending in the subs again and Punchard flashed for a bit but soon had to kick, Murray getting back 15 yards to his 34. Combining running and passing plays the locals moved ahead to the Punchard 43 where with only a few minutes remaining Sammy Tibaudo, reserve fullback, shot off a corking pass to Bobby Quine, who gathered the ball in at the Punchard 15 and ran for the score. Jack Errico added the extra point and soon after the game ended. The summary:

Mr. Floyd Stahl, head coach of the baseball team, assistant football coach and chief scout, will talk on the teams which Harvard will face this fall, and Assistant Coach Henry Lamar, well-remembered speaker of last year's Harvard Club football dinner, will again analyze movies of the Yale game, as well as commenting on the make-up of this year's Harvard team.

TEELE COVERED DOUBLE

Royal P. Teele, the paper trade's gift to horseshoe pitching, performed that most coveted of all horseshoe feats at the regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association last week-end when he covered a double-header thrown by "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe.

Royal almost didn't make his sterling contribution to early fall play at the beach. As a matter of fact he almost didn't show up, being still on K.P. duty at home when the clans, or what was left of them arrived at the arena.

Only "Wild Willie", Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham and Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, braved the none-too-good weather conditions in time to answer the starter's whistle. The secretary was suffering with an attack of blind staggers and the whereabouts of other sometime members of the Association could not be learned.

For a while it looked like no quorum, but "Wild Willie" would have none of that dish and soon had the President on the phone, Royal, with his usual tact and diplomacy, finally succeeding in getting his K.P. sentence remitted for the time being.

Squaring away late the four gladiators found their form had suffered during their period of chafing at the post and the resulting shoes were variable, to say the least.

Mr. Pridham was the most consistent of the quartet, but Mr. McLaughlin undoubtedly had his moments, and it was during one of them that he hung up the double-header so gloriously covered by President Teele.

"Willie's" characteristic little smile had hardly appeared after his two shoes landed on the stake when Royal's first shoe was on top of them. Breaths were held while the second Teele shoe described a perfect arc to land squarely upon its predecessor. There after pandemonium reigned, the Teele whoops of triumph being loudest of all.

After "putting it there" all around, play was resumed, but with nothing further of moment occurring. For Mr. Butters' play little could be said, excepting that when least expected he came through with a ringer that hurt the more because current form had led to the anticipation of a contingency apparently so remote.

McCLELLAN IN NAVY

James F. McClellan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. McClellan of Water street, who recently enlisted in the United States Navy, left yesterday mornig for active duty at the Naval Training Base.

Last Satuday evening a large group of relatives and friends of the young sailor gathered at his home to give a farewell party and to present him with a purse of money and a number of appropriate gifts. After Jim had expressed his appreciation, a program of piano music was played by Mr. A. Amico and luncheon was served.

McClellan graduated from Winchester High School where he was prominent in baseball, captaining the nine in his senior year. He is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan to enlist in the Navy, his brother, Charles, having enlisted in July. He is now a gunner's mate.

AUXIE POLICE TO SEE FILMS

At the regular meeting of the Winchester Auxiliary Police to be held this evening at the town hall, commencing at 8 o'clock, two motion pictures will be shown, Traffic Control and Pistol Practice, both of timely interest to the Auxies. With the regular police force being constantly weakened by enlistment in the armed forces, it is quite in the cards that the Auxiliaries may play an important part in fulfilling certain police duties in the not to distant future. Those in charge of the force are evidently working to this end.

WINCHESTER AT MAYNARD SATURDAY

Winchester High School's fast stepping football team journeys to Maynard Saturday afternoon for a game with the Orange clad warriors of Maynard High.

This shouldn't be too tough a game for Winchester with Concord knocking off Maynard last Saturday. The boys from the mill town started very late and called off their Belmont game because they were helping the farmers so they shouldn't be too far along even at this mid-season date.

Coach Knowlton, however, is taking no chances and is conceeding nothing, after learning that Reading had beaten Danvers last week, 19-0. The beating Danvers took here probably cost the Reading game, but anything can happen in this game of football, so the locals are going all out, at least until they find their best is not necessary. The memory of Stoneham two years ago and Punchard last year is still too green to take anyone lightly.

Coach Knowlton can call on his first string if necessary Saturday. Harry Boodakian's ankle turned out better than was at first thought and big Shiny Amico is ready after sitting out the Punchard game. Dave Holmes can start and so can big Bob Jackson.

It is likely, however, that the reserves will see plenty of service Saturday, and the way the reserves went last week against Punchard that doesn't mean that Maynard can take it easy while they are in action. The game is called for 2 o'clock and you can reach Maynard, provided your gas situation is good, by way of Lexington and Concord or by the turnpike out of Arlington Heights.

FRESHMAN NIGHT NEXT TUESDAY

All parents of Winchester High School freshman have received this week letters inviting them to Freshman Night to be held next Tuesday evening. Between 7:15 and 8:15 they will find the regular teachers of the Wadleigh in their home rooms. Officers of the upper classes of the high school will act as ushers to help the parents find the rooms and teachers whom they wish to meet.

Following open house at the Wadleigh, the scene shifts to the high school auditorium where, at 8:30, the program will be continued. Short talks will be given by Assistant Principal Arnold Nichols and Guidance Director Robert Swenson. The main speaker of the evening will be assistant Dean Evan Collins of the Harvard University School of Education. His topic will be Adolescence. Principal Samuel Graves will preside at this meeting.

NAVY DAY IS OCT. 27

So many young men from Winchester have volunteered for the Navy and Naval Aviation; so many Navy men live in Winchester; and Winchester is so easily accessible to the Charlestown Navy Yard and the Navy Executive Headquarters at 150 Causeway street, Boston, that Winchester through its large representation in the Navy as well as for patriotic reasons, is unusually interested in the Navy this year.

Navy Day was sponsored first on Oct. 27, 1922 by the Navy League of the United States.

On the General Navy Day Committee is John D. West of 74 Wedgemere avenue, who is an associate member of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board of the First Naval District. Mr. West was Navy Day Chairman of the Navy League for Massachusetts last year. National Commander of the Naval Order of the U. S. is Frederick B. Craven of Wedgemere avenue. This organization is composed of Naval Officers during any war participated in by the United States.

We have not heard much lately of Farm Parity. Apparently the farmers have been taken care of. It is noticeable however, that another benefit for the farmers has been introduced. We now hear of giving them social security. Well—when the farmers pay a fifty-fifty wage percentage for old age and almost a three per cent of wages for unemployment, they may realize what "holding to our social gains" really does for them.

We quote from a recent letter to a Boston paper: "If Mr. Willkie, or any other American, is traveling about the world in times like these, saying 'what he dam well pleases' he's better come home and learn some common sense." Come home to learn common sense? Well, well, well. Even Mrs. Roosevelt, unquestionably our leading lady, is going to England to call on the Queen.

For many years we have had our oil burner serviced through a company on a blanket contract. The company takes care of the burner, keeps it in operation and cleans it for a stated sum. This week the burner needed attention and was serviced. When the mechanic left he presented a bill for $3. Inquiry reveals that "our" (everything today seems to be our) Government has required cancellation of these contracts. Henceforth one must pay for each call and each servicing. Talk about Government control! The act may be a great advantage to the war effort—(we wouldn't know), but to us it looks just like another one of those things we are experiencing in increasing daily discomfort to fulfill some New Dealer's idea of making us "war conscious."

NO WATER SHORTAGE ANTICIPATED HERE

The rainfall for the year ending Sept. 30, 1942 in most sections of Massachusetts was below normal and reservoirs are very low.

The deficiency in rainfall has been the most critical during the months of August and September.

The Town of Winchester is very fortunate in having an auxiliary water supply. Water has been constantly taken from the ground for over 18 months and the supply is still adequate.

No shortage is anticipated by the Water Department which would lead to the curtailment of the use of water—as is the case in some other communities.

Winchester Water and Sewer Board

A PRICE STABILIZATION

We quote: "As an added incentive to bring men back to the mines, the NWLB majority directed that the $1-A-Day boost (voted at that time) be made retroactive to May 10 in the Idaho mines and July 1 in the Utah mines."

"The War Department gives $200 burial expenses to relatives of soldiers killed in action. But the widow does not get the money unless she can produce evidence that the coffin makers complied with all the rules covering wages and hours in Government contracts."

"Bearhart tells of one pensioner who was unfortunate enough to break his reading glasses. A collection was taken up in the privacy of his lodge and new glasses were presented with appropriate lodge ceremonial and love feast. A Social Security 'Snooper'—Gearhart's word—learned about it and the pensioner was docked the $25 the glasses cost."

"The desire of the President to postpone compulsory manpower legislation and the reluctance of the Administration to apply force to savings show a preference for democratic processes." (Thank the Lord for that little ray.)

"In l'affaire Petrillo the master of the musicians is being bedamned because he will not let his men make records to be played on the radio or in public places. Maybe that wasn't nice, but Mr. Petrillo is within his rights.

The Supreme Court gave labor unions immunity from antitrust and antiracketeering laws. Justice Frankfurter wrote the decision and even a great many laymen can understand it. Congress could change the law but Congress refused. The administration did not bring pressure on Congress.

Those who do not believe the labor unions can do as they please may examine the statements of Thurman Arnold, antitrust specialist in the Department of Justice. If Mr. Petrillo weakens under the clamor it will be only because he lacks that intestinal fortitude we used to talk about before we gained courage to refer openly to guts."

IMPRESSIONS OF RETURNED VACATIONER

Oct. 20, 1942

To the Editor of the Star:

I am 86 years old and want neither office nor political preferment.

If after reading the enclosed you think that some soldier boy, or his mother, or his best girl would get a bit of encouragement from reading this, please publish it in the next edition of your paper.

Lewis Parkhurst

(From the Boston Herald Mail Bag)

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have recently returned from a restful outing among the White Mountains of New Hampshire, and the Green Mountains of Vermont—all resplendent with the most brilliant-colored autumn foliage. I find myself invigorated in body, and refreshed in spirit by many days' and weeks' breathing the bracing air, walking among the majestic mountains and gorgeous hardwood foliage, with a clear, ocean-blue sky over all.

On arriving home I find three important things have occurred, which double, if it were possible, my physical vigor and mental alertness.

First: The return of Wendell L. Willkie to the homeland, after having served President Roosevelt as a most marvelous and faithful errand boy, under the most dangerous conditions; and in addition to that, reporting the facts as he found them, without fear or favor.

Second: William M. Jeffers, newly-appointed rubber administrator, says: "I don't intend to be influenced by anybody anywhere, at any time! If the Army wants rayon instead of cotton, no southern bloc of cotton growers or political lobbyists can prevent their getting it!"

Here are two men who are not afraid to say no instead of yes—yes, forever!

Third: The most important and far-reaching of all—the Senate of the United States of America, whose members have been for months fighting and bickering over petty and personal matters, have amazed their entire constituency by voting like a thunderbolt; 70 to 0, to pass the most gigantic tax bill ever considered in this country—and perhaps in any country in the world—so that friend and foe alike will now see that we are no longer isolationalists, or divided among ourselves, and the best resources of men and materials of this powerful nation can now be vigorously applied, not only to win this war, but to help build up after the war a worldwide peace of international democracy. The outlook of this tremendous undertaking must be most encouraging to us all.

IN PRAISE OF OUR REPRESENTATIVE

The following is clipped from the Lowell Sun and is an extract from a recent letter sent that paper:

Women voters should know that she (our Representative, Edith Nourse Rogers) works and fights for legislation for the benefit of women.

The bringing of more oil and gasoline to New England has been in great measure done through her efforts. She started work for waterway barges to move the oil more quickly and bringing it in tank cars, and for pipe lines.

Every representative has two loyalties—two duties—one to his district, and one to his country. Mrs. Rogers has faithfully done both of these duties.

We may thank her for legislation which made Fort Devens available for an up-to-date receiving station.

We may thank her for the WAACS. She has voted for every appropriation for national defense since she has been in Congress. She voted for the early appropriation for airplanes.

These are just a few things Mrs. Rogers has done for us. And all this should not be a one-way proposition. She works for us.

She is, indeed, working now, late hours in Washington for us and for the country, instead of conducting a proper campaign for her own reelection. We should show our gratitude by getting out and piling up a record vote for her.

Only in this way, can we get representatives who will represent us. Only so can we make democracy work.

NORMAN TALCOTT.

A LETTER FROM A NURSE'S AIDE

To the Editor of the Star:

I have just completed my 150 hours of service at the Winchester Hospital as a nurse's aide In volunteer work I know of no greater need than for these aides. Feeding children, bathing patients, and carrying trays, which are only a few of an aides duties, bring a personal satisfaction of accomplishment. Everyday as the nursing shortage becomes more acute the hospital need becomes greater.

If you are considering this course do not be afraid that you will be asked to do work such as scrubbing floors or heavy lifting. We have not enough nurses aides at the present time. One morning a week at the hospital is probably not more time than you are now giving to war work. It is the equivalent to the 150 required hours per year, after the training period.

Every nurse who can be relieved to enter the armed forces means better care for your boy and mine.

SELECTIVE SERVICE NEWS

The Local Selective Service Board has issued this week 55 orders to registrants living in Winchester and Stoneham to report for Army Physical Examination, and, if accepted induction into the Army on Oct. 31, 1942.

These men have been ordered to report at the Winchester Town Hall at 7:30 a. m. at which time they will be checked in, and conducted to the Winchester Railroad Station where they will board the 7:59 train for Boston. Such of these men as pass the physical requirements of the Army will be sworn in that day and returned to their homes for a 14 day furlough, unless they wish to waive this furlough. Such men as are not accepted physically will be returned to their homes and subsequently reclassified by their Selective Service Board.

The Local Selective Service Board has started its work of considering the reclassification of the few remaining single men who have been deferred on the basis of acute dependency and the married men without children with the idea that men in such circumstances must be reclassified in 1A in anticipation of enabling the Board to fill their quotas for induction in December and in the months immediately following. The Local Board is obliged to have classified in 1A ready for induction a sufficient number of registrants to meet the expected increased calls which are known to be forthcoming. Registrants who fall in this group have been mailed a special questionnaire which, upon its return, will enable the Local Board to absorb the facts concerning their circumstances as they now exist.

RECENT ENLISTMENTS IN THE ARMED FORCES

The Local Selective Service Board has been advised during the past week of the enlistments in the armed forces of the following men who are residents of Winchester:

LIONS' GOVERNOR HERE MONDAY

The Winchester Lions' Club will hold its first meeting at Little Shaker on Thompson street Monday evening at 6:30, with dinner to be followed by a business session.

The occasion is of much interest to local Lions as it will mark the annual visitation of Governor of District 33-A, Rev. Lawrence Carvell of Lawrence. Delegations are expected from Medford, Arlington, Lexington, Wakefield and Governor Carvell's own city and a real Lions' party is anticipated.

Dr. Charles Donahue of the Winchester Club will preside and Dr. Robert L. Emery, ol' Lion Bob himself in person, will act as master of ceremonies and lead the Lions in their traditional "roar."

LORING P. JORDAN IS A CANDIDATE

To the Editor of the Star:

Among those interested in public affairs there is fear that many citizens will be so much occupied with war activities that they will not make the effort to vote. Consequently, it seems unwise for any of us to rely on past experiences or successes.

The ballots at the primary election showed my name only as a candidate for the office of Register of the Probate Court, but an opposing candidate will appear on the ballot at the November election, who obtained his nomination by means of stickers. It is common opinion that I have no opposition.

Very truly yours,
Loring P. Jordan

At an election of officers on Oct. 16, the following pupils were chosen:

Vice President: Peter Redding
Secretary: Deborah Symmes
Treasurer: Clinton Mason

The first meeting, at which the new president presided, made plans for the ensuing year.

WYMAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' MEETING

The fall meeting of the Wyman Chapter of the Mothers' Association was held in the assembly hall of the Wyman School on Wednesday, Oct. 21. In her opening words of welcome Mrs. Rodney Long, as president of the Association spoke of the constancy in purpose and practice of just such an organization as the Mothers' Association in comparison with the changing conditions of a world at war.

The usual business meeting was carried on before other items of interest to the school mothers were discussed. The new movie projector, donated by this Association and 13 other organizations in Winchester for use at the Library, is to be ready for its initial showing on Oct. 30. Plans are underway for regular free Friday evening programs from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. and it is hoped there will be an attendance by all members of the family as the programs are to be as interesting and instructive to the parents as to the children.

Mrs. Langley Keyes, past president of the Association, spoke of the Pirates of Penzance, now being coached for its opening on Nov. 20 at the high school, to benefit the school scholarship funds. Her enthusiasm was so infectious that none of the members present felt they could afford to miss an evening that promises such entertainment at such a convenient distance.

Miss Lowry, Principal of the Wyman School, spoke of her appreciation of parental co-operation and how she feels no child problem however trivial, should be overlooked.

Miss Helen Neidringhaus, director of physical education in the Winchester schools gave an interesting talk in explanation of the Hows and Whys of Physical Education. All programs point toward the fair play team play, courtesy, co-operation in sports and exercise that develop coordination and alertness in the pupils under her instruction.

At the conclusion of the meeting coffee and numerous delicious sandwiches were served in the kindergarten room by Mrs. Albert Crockett and her committee. The mothers were joined at this hour by the teachers of all the Wyman School grades.

Members of the social committee are Mrs. Thomas Kirwan, Mrs. Donald Lovis, Mrs. Richard Bolster, Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, Mrs. Robert Thomason, Mrs. George Marks, Mrs. Harry W. Stinchcomb, Mrs. Lawrence Hawkins, Mrs. George Makechnie and Mrs. Frank d'Elseaux.

Mrs. James McGovern, Mrs. Cedric Seager and Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker were added hostesses for the afternoon.

NEEDLE-WORK GUILD ANNUAL MEETING

On Monday, Oct. 19, Epiphany parish house hall was a busy place for the regular collection of useful articles of clothing and household linens brought together an unusually generous supply of gifts from the 200 members of the Guild. The 601 articles varied from blankets, towels and pillowslips to tiny baby garments, with warm night wear, hose, sweaters and mittens, which will contribute to less fortunate Winchester neighbors this coming winter.
Mrs. Robert Armstrong, the president presided over the business meeting at 2 p. m. and introduced the speaker, our Public Health Nurse, Miss Hilda Hope opened her talk with Disraeli's words written in 1877. His words are as true and vital today after 65 years of effort, and progress in caring for the health of the human family.
In clear and interesting fashion, Miss Hope then brought to her audience the many duties and functions which devolve upon our Health Department and its busy nurse. Primarily she works constantly to keep people well, to assist in control of communicable diseases, to supervise sanitation in all its branches, cooperate with baby, and dental clinics and to constantly help in educating parents to understand how to protect the health of their children. Records especially show the improvement here and throughout Massachusetts in T. B. prevention through proper care of children.
Our nurses and welfare workers from each of the churches were happy to carry back to their work the attractive garments for distribution.
There will be many brighter Thanksgivings and happier families in Winchester because of the Needle-Work Guild.

TICKETS FOR "THE PIRATES" GO ON SALE OCT. 30

The members of the Scholarship board and the heads of the committees for "The Pirates of Penzance" which is being given by the Mothers' Association for the benefit of their scholarship fund, in the High School, on Friday and Saturday, November 20 and 21, met recently in the home of Mrs. Lyman Smith to discuss the details of the production. The choice of the Pirates has proved a happy one for Winchester. Everyone who has attended the rehearsals has had a great deal of fun.

A most important committee is the program committee which is being headed by Mrs. Guy Livingstone. The members of her committee who are working hard at this time are: Mrs. Francis Carroll, Mrs. Harry Cusack, Mrs. Charles Feinberg, Mrs. Carl Goddard, Mrs. Gustav Josephson, Mrs. Langley C. Keyes, Mrs. William G. Urmson Jr., and Mrs. John West.

Mrs. Erskine White is the chairman of the costume committee which is busy raiding attics. Others on the committee are Mrs. Murray Moore, Mrs. Rex Crandall, Mrs. Woodford Wilcox and Mrs. Donald Davis.

The chairman of the ticket committee, Mrs. Paul Shiverick, announces a new system in the sale of tickets this year. They will be put on sale in the old First National Store in the Locatelli Building on Main Street on Friday, October 30, and for the following week some one will be in this office from 9 to 5 every day except Sunday. It is felt that in this way everyone will have an equal chance to reserve the better seats. The sale will be conducted just as the sale of theater tickets in a box office in a Boston theater. Come early when you are down town and reserve your favorite seats.

To be truly strong, America must know and eat the right foods — foods properly cooked to retain their health-giving values. This means "waterless" steaming of vegetables; broiling instead of frying; low-temperature roasting of meats for tenderness, flavor and economy. Cook with gas for health and victory.

THIS CAR IN YOUR WARTIME SERVICE

If you Really Need a Car, you can— and should — get a New One NOW!

This car wants a wartime job!

It's ready and eager to get out helping someone do his part in the war effort – you'll be doing your country a patriotic service if you'll put it to work at a really needful job, instead of letting it stand idly by.

This is one of many brand-new, unused, 1942 models built before automobile production ceased – models that are safer, more dependable and, in many cases, more economical to run than older cars which have passed their prime.

That is why present car-buying regulations take into consideration the age and condition of your present car as well as the use you make of a car.

Thus if you are included in any of the seven major classifications of eligible buyers, chances are that you not only can but should replace your present car with a new one now.

You will ride on tires with their whole life before them. In this car, you'll travel behind a Buick FIREBALL valve-in-head straight-eight engine that makes the most of every single drop of fuel and oil.

Even the wheels in this Buick help get maximum mileage from tires, because the whole car is built to serve you through the duration.

The panel lists the seven major classifications of car-owners who are eligible to buy new cars now. If you are included – or think you might be – see your Buick dealer now about giving one of these eager beauties a wartime job to do.

Buick factories have been all-out on war production for months—but Buick dealers can make immediate deliveries from large and complete stocks.

IF YOU ARE INCLUDED IN THIS LIST, YOU'RE ELIGIBLE TO BUY

There are seven major classifications for persons eligible to buy new cars under basic rationing rules.

These include: (1) persons engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly; (2) physicians, nurses, clergymen, veterinarians; (3) car-owners engaged in public service, such as fire departments, public health, highway maintenance, etc.; (4) owners of taxicabs and other means of transportation; (5) farmers; (6) newspaper wholesalers; and (7) traveling salesmen in certain fields.

Your Buick dealer will be very glad to help you determine whether you come under the rules of eligibility. He will also be glad to help you fill out the proper applications.

Don't guess about your eligibility — see your Buick dealer now and make sure.

If you NEED another car...

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

That the Winchester Girl Scouts are making a vital contribution to the war effort is evidenced by the report on scouts' community activities given by Mrs. Franklin J. Lane at the Council meeting. They will distribute books to shut-ins, clean the Red Cross rooms, make "Ditty Bags" earning a dollar to fill them for the soldiers, assist in baby care at the welfare room two days a week and get stockings ready for Christmas.

The Council is happy to announce that Miss Helen Page is the new director. She has been in Lawrence for four years, and has had a great deal of camp experience.

The Parish Bell Ringers under the direction of Mrs. H. A. Peveleite were a highlight of the "SCOUTS OWN" which was held Sunday, October 18, in the High School auditorium.

The Girl Scout Council welcomes two new members this fall, Mrs. William G. Morse and Mrs. Clarence Roberts.

The Boston Council of Girl Scouts invites all Winchester Girl Scouts to the opening services of the Girl Scout victory campaign week.

On Saturday, Oct. 24 at 10:30 a. m., Jewish Girl Scouts may attend exercises at Temple Israel, Commonwealth avenue by Rabbi Joshua Loth Liebman, or Saturday, Oct. 24 at 9:30 a. m. at Temple Mishkan Tefila, Seaver street, and Elm Hill avenue, Roxbury, Rabbi Herman H. Rabinovitz.

Protestant Girl Scouts may attend services Sunday, Oct. 25 at 4 p. m. at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, 136 Tremont street by Dean E. S. Van Etten.

Catholic Girl Scouts will have special exercises Sunday, Oct. 25 at 3 p. m. at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross on Washington street in Boston.

SALVATION ARMY APPEAL

The announcement that the $100,000 mark has been passed in the 1942 Greater Boston appeal of the Salvation Army, at the first general report meeting of the 1942 campaign organization, on Tuesday, gave impetus to the more than 2000 workers seeking an all-out-victory. The luncheon report session was held at the Boston Chamber of Commerce, with William G. O'Hare, general chairman, in charge.

It is the desire of the Winchester sponsoring committee of the Salvation Army that former donors and new contributors hand or mail a donation to the campaign treasurer. He is G. Dwight Cabot, an officer of the Winchester Trust Company. This will be considered a friendly gesture due to fact that there is a shortage of men on the Army's collection force. William N. Beggs, attorney and chairman of the 1942 appeal committee points out that due to increase in maintenance costs and a well rounded program that larger donations by former friends and many new contributions are hoped for.

MISS AVERY LECTURE

An appraisal of the general trend of the war and the national state of mind will be given by Miss Eunice Harriet Avery in her lecture, "As the World Stands Oct. 28," first in her series on the interpretation of world affairs, to be given next Wednesday afternoon at the Wyman School hall at 2:30.

The lecture committee, headed by Mrs. Raymond S. Wilkins, includes Mrs. Harold R. Beebe, Mrs. Robert B. Blackler, Mrs. Burton W. Cary, Mrs. Harold V. Farnsworth, Miss Helen A. Bill gaily deposited a collection of keys on our big pile gracing the Star Office window a week or so ago. This week he suddenly became aware of the fact that in his enthusiasm he had included the key to his desk in the collection. As a result we granted him a front seat in our show window while he occupied his spare time going over the million or more keys of every description. We took a "don't" on the results of his hunt, but, would you believe it, he found the key. At least he claimed he did. When you pass by, take a look at that pile.

ANOTHER DAY FOR OIL REGISTRATION

Acting upon advice received from the office of Fuel Administrator Henry Parkman, Superintendent James J. Quinn has ordered the Winchester schools kept open for fuel oil registration on Saturday, Oct. 31, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The original registration period was to have ended Friday night, but because of a scarcity of registration blanks in many places, it has been necessary to extend the time. There was no lack of blanks in Winchester and registration here could have been concluded in the normal three days.

Because of the fact that the extra day has been announced generally in the press and feeling that there might be some confusion and disappointment, Mr. Quinn decided to act in accordance with many other communities and extend the registration time here.

HOWARD—DEWAR

In Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Thursday evening, Oct. 22, Miss Ethel Lorraine Dewar, daughter of Mrs. Helen E. Dewar of Blind Bridge street, became the bride of Paul Whitcher Howard, yeoman, U. S. Navy, son of Mrs. Mertie Howard of Cushing street, Medford. White chrysanthemums and tall altar candles made a most attractive setting for the ceremony which was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, D. D., pastor of the church. Mrs. Clarence W. Stickney of Wilton, N. H., aunt of the bridegroom, played the bridal music.

Miss Dewar was given in marriage by her uncle, Leigh S. Roberts of Winchester. She wore a gown of white cotillion taffeta with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and a full skirt extending into a train. Her long tulle veil was held in place by a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Francis R. Manzie of Winchester was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a pink silk jersey dress having a square neckline and full pleated skirt that was gathered at the waist. A short matching veil fell from a headdress of dusty rose flowers and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Edward H. Howard of Millis was best man for his brother, and the ushers were John L. Dewar of Winchester, brother of the bride, and Leigh S. Roberts, Jr., also of Winchester and cousin of the bride.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, the bride and bridegroom receiving in a bower of autumn leaves and fall flowers. Mrs. Dewar, mother of the bride, wore a wine crepe gown with a corsage of roses, and Mrs. Howard, the bridegroom's mother, wore talisman roses with her blue silk jersey gown.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard spent their honeymoon on a short trip through New Hampshire.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1935. Mr. Howard, a graduate of Medford High School, class of 1935, is on active duty with the Navy, being stationed at Key West, Fla.

The harvest supper held on last Saturday evening was a most gratifying success. There were at least 200 people present.

Considering that the food was coocked and served by the committee and Junior members, it required tremendous effort, and chairman Mrs. John Doherty is indeed to be congratulated. A fine sum was made for the treasury.

The Junior members, whose help and assistance made this affair a success are: Jean Logue, Adeline Hintlian, Virginia McPartland, Mary Murray, Alice Mobbs, Mary McGrath, Phyllis and Virginia Donaghey, Claire McGrath, Patricia Leahy, Barbara Doherty and Margaret Mary Harright.

NEW TRAIN TIME MONDAY

Commuting habits of thousands living north of Boston will be changed next Monday when a majority of suburban commuting schedules will be rearranged, with the running times of trains lengthened from 2 to 5 minutes in order to take care of added time at station stops because of increased war-time patronage, the Boston and Maine Railroad announced today.

The new time tables becomes effective next Sunday, Nov. 1.

The leaving times of a majority of the trains at Winchester and Wedgemere are changed in some cases two or three minutes to conform to the new schedules.

In another column of this issue of the Star the detailed schedules are outlined and railroad officials urge that all commuters check them and become familiar with the new times so that they will not miss their trains commencing next Monday morning.

The new timetable shows that the so-called "Theater and Hockey Train" leaving Winchester 7:43 p. m. and Wedgemere at 7:45 p. m. will be operated commencing next Monday and will continue until April 10, 1943.

It also shows that the Wintertime outbound train leaving Boston at 8:50 p. m. and arriving at Wedgemere 9:04 p. m. and Winchester at 9:06 p. m. is also restored for the same period.

NEWS FROM "SHELLIE"

The Star received this week a letter from our Sergt. Shellie Hamilton who is now ensconced in the Quartermaster Officer Candidate School at Port Lee, Va., to which he recently was transferred from Edwards. The letter is something of an event because the Deacon is not long on correspondence, and claims his schedule at candidate school leaves him little time for writing.

He wrote that he was delayed seven hours getting to Quantico because of track washouts and high water due to flood conditions. At the Marine base he hoped to drop off and visit his Star buddie, Larry Penta, who is with the Leathernecks at Quantico, serving as instructor on the rifle range. No one was allowed to leave the train, however, and the visit was off.

Another Winchester boy, Warren Hichborn, is at candidate school at Fort Lee, and some indication of how busy they keep the boys may be obtained from the fact that up to the time of his letter to us, Shellie had no time to look Warren up, though they are close friends and enlisted together.

Captain Cass and his Company are preparing for their annual State inspection and dinner at the Armory on Friday night, Oct. 30, on which occasion the Armory will be closed to visitors. The new commander is a veteran of World War I, during which he served as 1st Lieutenant in the Construction Division of the Army. He is a graduate of the 1942 Army Tactical School at Sturbridge, the Fort Devens Bomb School and the State Guard Officers Training Camps at Camp Edwards in 1940, Camp Stover, Upton in 1941, and Brockton in 1942.

In civilian life he has been active in Winchester civic affairs for many years and is a former member of the Board of Selectmen. At present he is Staff Secretary to the Committee on Air Raid Precautions for Industry of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety.

WINCHESTER MAN ON ARMY INSTITUTE STAFF

Mr. William E. Spaulding of Main Street has been for some weks in Washington where he is serving as director of the editorial staff for the Army Institute which enrolls the personnel of the armed forces in university extension and correspondence courses studied in off-duty time.

It is the job of the editorial staff to select and develop study materials which will be as nearly self-teaching as possible and which the students can work on independent of any instructor.

The Army Institute is located at Madison, Wis., but the editorial staff is in Washington, and both operate for the Special Service Division of Services of Supply. Mr. Spaulding is being joined for the winter by Mrs. Spaulding, former member of the Winchester School Committee, and their youngest son, Dick. They will live at Crest View in Maryland.

Their other three sons are at college and school, Bill being a Junior at Leland Stanford University, Palo Alto, Cal., where he is a member of the enlisted reserve. John is a member of the first year class at Harvard and Donald is at Loomis School.

BIG DONATION OF KEYS

John Welch, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Welch, Jr., of 28 Lebanon street, made one of the largest single contributions to the old key collection campaign in Winchester on Tuesday when he brought to the Star Office a good sized carton full of keys which he had collected from his schoolmates at the George Washington School.

John is a member of the fourth grade of the school and must have worked hard to get together all the keys he proudly dumped into the window at the Star Office. On behalf of those who are collecting the keys for the government we thank him and his schoolmates for their spendid donation.

SAMUEL OSBORNE WILKINSON

Samuel Osoorne Wilkinson of 47 Yale street, widely known Boston electrical contractor, died Friday night at his summer home in East Orleans where he was stricken with a heart attack after an afternoon of hunting.

Mr. Wilkinson was born in Boston Oct. 31, 1887, but spent much of his early life in Everett, being educated at Everett High School and Lowell Institute with further study at Boston University. He spent his business life with the James Wilkinson Company, electrical contractors, of Boston, a firm founded by his father, James Wilkinson, in 1872.

Upon the death of his father he succeeded to the presidency of the business and was widely known throughout the New England electrical industry serving for many years as president of the Electric Contractors Association of New England, retiring from that office this summer.

Mr. Wilkinson came to Winchester in 1921. While in Everett he served as a member of the Common Council for several years and was president in his last term. He was a member of Palestine Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and Bethsaida Royal Arch Chapter of Everett, and of Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Marion Spinney Wilkinson; two sons, James O., and Robert D. Wilkinson; and two brothers, Robert L., of Dayton, Ohio, and James C. Wilkinson of San Diego, Calif.

J. Henry Smith, Jr., left, Winchester Chairman for the 1943 Greater Boston United War Fund Campaign, and Brooks Potter, Metropolitan Division Chairman, survey the North Metropolitan Area, which will play an important part in next January's campaign.

GREATER BOSTON COMMUNITY FUND

Although Winchester has not been associated very long with the Greater Boston Community Fund campaign, it is very proud of its record of accomplishment in those years, and those in charge for the 1943 campaign for funds for the Greater Boston United War Fund (including the Community Fund) to be raised this coming January are already hard at work building up this year's organization.

Chairman for Winchester is J. Henry Smith, Jr., of Dartmouth Street, who served last year as associate chairman for Districts. Just a few days ago, a meeting was held at the Smith home which was addressed by Brooks Potter, chairman of the Metropolitan Division for the 1943 campaign, and Bradford U. Eddy, executive secretary to the Metropolitan Division.

Attending this meeting were James Nowell, associate community chairman in charge of Special Gifts, and other associate chairmen as follows: Harlow Russell, Districts; Ralph W. Hatch, Administration; Edwin C. Whittemore, Publicity. Mr. Russell, already active in building his District organization, was accompanied by two assistants, Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., and Sherman B. Russell.

PARENTS OF FRESHMEN HEAR ASSISTANT DEAN COLLINS

Asserting that each child represents an individual in the making, Assistant Dean Ryan Collins of the Harvard University School of Education encouraged parents to accept their children as normal human beings, although old theories of the behavior of adolescence would place them in a separate category. In an address delivered before an interested audience in the high school auditorium last Tuesday night on the occasion of Freshman Night, Dean Collins called for a more normal view of adolescence. He advocated striving to provide good health in order that the normal process of growing up could go on in the best possible environment. Surprising but sensible was his observation that the parent could best help his child by first interpreting the adult for the child allowing himself to be analyzed rather than the ritual more commonly followed.

Prior to the address by Dean Collins, Principal Samuel Graves welcomed the audience of parents and teachers and suggested that the program begin with the audience singing the National Anthem. Miss Renehan led the singing and later obliged by singing A Heart That's Free by Alfred G. Robyn. She was accompanied by Mrs. Chares E. Greene. Mr. Graves then introduced Mr. Arnold Nichols, Assistant Principal, who spoke of the necessity for good work habits as primary training for a successful school career. Mr. Robert Swenson, Guidance Director, was then introduced. His topic was How the Guidance Department can be of Service to the Student.

Parents of freshmen called at the Wadleigh where they were able to converse with their sons' and daughters' teachers in the usual class rooms. Ushers were the officers of the upper classes namely: Frank Buzzotta, Robert Jackson, David Holmes, Robert Ramsdell, Stephen Greene, Kenneth Harvey, Marilyn Chefalo, Herbert Mahoney, Kendall Way, Gordon Clennon, Barbarie Harmer.

Teachers present were Miss Carmichael, Latin and Mathematics; Miss Bailey, English; Mr. Smith, General Science; Mr. Shutts, Civics and History; Mr. Nichols, Mathematics and Science; Mr. Palmer, Algebra; Miss Niven, Foods; Miss Hall, Civics; Miss Knowlton, French and Mr. Albro, Latin.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

An outstanding lecture of great interest to Winchester people is to be given before the Historical Society at the Library on Thursday evening, Nov. 5.

The subject of this lecture is "The Middlesex Canal" and it is to be given by Mrs. Richard B. Coolidge of Medford from the notes and slides of Prof. Melville S. Munro of Tufts College, who has had to give up all work owing to poor health.

The Middlesex Canal, which was in operation from 1803 to 1846, ran from Boston to Lowell through the west side of what is now Winchester and its course can still be traced here. It entered the town near Wildwood Cemetery from Woburn, crossed Wildwood street near Fletcher street, crossed Church street under a small bridge near Sheffield road, thence ran down to Mystic Lake, following the line of Mystic Valley Parkway into Medford.

Members of the society are urged to bring guests to this meeting, and all citizens of Winchester who are interested in hearing this lecture are welcome.

WINCHESTER LIONS CLUB NOTES

The Tail Twisters Last Twirl.

Hello Kids, yep, this writer is closing his column for a while.

He hopes someone else will pick it up and do a little better job, but for the time being this is all. Some day the story can be told.

There really was a swell meeting last Monday night. Mrs. Buckmaster was not ready to use the room in the Little Shaker on Thompson street so she opened the Shaker Glen House exclusively for the Lions.

There was a large gathering including several guests and two, really fine fellows, Dr. Cecil Pride and Rogers Colby, were initiated into the club by the District Governor, Clinton Carvell. We hope they carry on the good work and help put over some of the projected financial drives this winter.

There is another little drive we would like to have everyone take part in, there is a room at Fort Ruckerman that needs furnishing. It is a home roome, a place of relaxation for the men stationed there. Only trouble now is, that there is nothing to relax on or with. Chairs, tables, lamps, smoking stands, anything that might help to make the room home like is needed. Surely wen you were looking for the scrap you must have found something you weren't using and that they could use and set it aside saying it was too good for the scrap. Let us send and get it for the boys at Fort Ruckerman. Call Ray Woodman, Win. 2600, Bob Shaw, Win. 2081-R or Chris Powers, Win. 0201 and they will see it is called for.

Lieut. Clifford MacDonald visited the Lions Monday night and told us about the project and we decided it was a patriotic act to supervise the furnishing of this room. Won't you all help.

On account of Bill Bowne entering the service and new men entering the club there was a rearrangement of committee to carry on the Rubinoff concert which will take place Jan 3, 1943.

ACCEPTED FOR O. C. S.

Mrs. Evelyn Pinkham of Prospect street was very pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening when she received a telephone call from her son, Pvt. Lawrence Pinkham, who is stationed at Camp Croft, South Carolina, informing her that he had just received notification from the examining board, that he had very successfully passed his examinations for entrance to Officers' Candidate School.

At the termination of his three months basic training in South Carolina, he hopes to receive a short furlough before being transferred to Fort Benning, Columbus, Ga., where the following ten weeks will be spent in intensive study at the Infantry Officers Training School. WINCHESTER 24—MAYNARD 0
Reserves Saw Service Against Impotent Orange

Winchester High School's football team won its sixth in a row last Saturday afternoon, beating Maynard High at Maynard, 24—0.

The Orange turned out to be about the weakest opposition the local boys have faced this fall, which was more or less to be expected since the Maynard football players have been helping farmers and working in shops to the detriment of the Orange eleven.

The Maynard boys were short of condition and after most of the scrimmages toward the end of the game an orange clad player or two would be stretched upon the sod. Maynard fought to the end as always and tackled sharply, but its players could not match Winchester's well developed team game and only Coach Knowlton's desire to play on as even terms as possible kept the score down.

Coach Knowlton sent every one he had against the Orange except big Bob Jackson, pile driving left end, who was nursing a sore ankle. Coach Vodoclys of Maynard had some big boys in his lineup and generally speaking the first teams were pretty evenly matched for size.

Soon after play started West ran a punt back 20 yards to the 50, from which point the locals drove inside the Maynard 20, passes from West to Buzzotta and Treacy featuring the advance. A Milliacci pass, however, was intercepted and Maynard kicked out to midfield.

Once again Winchester started and with West hitting hard off the tackles Milliacci skirting the ends and Treacy running well on reverses, the locals drove to the 5 as the quarter ended. On the first play of the second quarter Treacy went over on a reverse without being touched. Holmes try for the extra point at placement was blocked.

Maynard had to punt after the ensuing kickoff and West got back to the Orange 35. Here the locals sprung a quick-starting surprise play that caught Maynard flat footed, big "Monk" sweeping behind perfect interference for a touchdown around left end. Once again Holmes kick was blocked.

Still in the second quarter West ran a punt back to the Maynard 40, where the locals again started to roll. Nice runs by West and Milliacci, with a 20 yard reverse by Bob Treacy carried to the 15. Here West dropped back to pass, but when no one rushed him, ran with the ball reaching the 4 with the help of a swell block by Fran Poirier. West drove for two yards into the tight-packed eight man line and then on second down, faked inside and ran around Maynard's left end for the touchdown. Lambiase tried for the extra point at placement, his kick too being blocked.

In explanation of so many blocked kicks it should be said that the football in use was very light and invariably came back from center high, so that too much time had to be consumed in getting it into the proper position to kick.

Coach Knowlton played his scrubs during almost all of the third quarter, getting the varsity back in time to take the ball on downs at Winchester's 40 as the final period commenced.

On first down West faded back and shot off a pretty pass right down the middle to Treacy, who took the ball in stride over his left shoulder on the Maynard 40 and went all the way, an especially well executed play. Lambiase again tried for the extra point, but this time his well kicked placement was just wide of the uprights.

From then on Winchester subs went in and out so fast it was hard to follow them. The crowd had one more thrill awaiting them when little Joe Errico took a pass and wriggled and spun away from tacklers to go 20 long yards before being finally downed by the last man between him and pay dirt.

Following is the summary.

COMMANDOS SURROUND MR. HENDERSON!

HENDERSON FARM PRODUCES HUGE QUANTITY OF SCRAP
High School Commandos Aid Salvage Drive

If an alert airplane spotter should be aroused early some Saturday morning by a sudden rattle and clatter, he would instinctively look to the sky for the source of this commotion. This time, however, there would be no aircraft in sight, for the clamor would be emanating from the Henderson Farm across the street where a group of Winchester High School "Commandos" were just beginning their morning task.

Mr. Francis Henderson, once a large-scale manufacturer of carriages and other horse drawn vehicles, is donating the metal from many of his time-worn conveyances to the scrap campaign. Approximately twenty tons of these axles, wheels, rods, and iron bars will immeasurably reenforce the supply of precious metal. Chairman Otis Leary, after hearing of this veritable mine of scrap through a call by Sector Salvage Warden Mrs. James Newman, turned to the high school commandos who responded without delay.

An observer on some previous Saturday would have seen history teacher Kenneth Shutts and Guidance Director Robert Swenson, clad in work clothes, zealously pitching in with the commandos against the steel and iron sections of the antiquated vehicles, once the priceless property of their owners. A part of this industrious group were observed setting fire to a pile of several carriages in order to burn away the valueless wooden parts, while the remainder were hauling and dismembering the residue from the previous week's fire. Two of the town trucks were viewed rumbling up the dirt road overflowing with valuable metal to help axe the axis. On hand, as usual, was George Gould, high school photographer, scrambling over the piles and dodging the heavy duty sledge hammers in an effort to catch a picture of Mr. Leary and his hard working assistants.

The complete list of commandos is as follows: Richard Feuno, Robert Goddu, Robert Ramsdell, Everett Twombly, Ronald Leary, Richard Briggs, William Cole and Charles Locke.

The Henderson Brothers plant was opened in Porter Square, Cambridge, in the year 1856. There they began at once the manufacture of many different models of carriages, ranging in design from the Democrat to the Brougham, and often costing as much as $5000 when custom made.

Norway iron used in the manufacture of these carriages is of the highest grade found in any form of construction hereabouts. This iron was not forged by machines, but was wrought by the old fashioned method which utilized the mighty brawn of the blacksmith. Real artists were the model makers and designers of this era before the advent of the automobile. Decorative iron had to be hand made and the work had to be done by master craftsmen.

As the automobile increased in popularity the carriage manufacture began to slacken, but the owner continued on for some years. Not until 1936, after eighty years of continuous service to the public, did the Cambridge plant close its doors. In that year Henderson Brothers ceased as a business in Porter Square.

On Mr. Henderson's two-hundred acre farm he had constructed a barn four stories high and about one hundred by sixty feet in outside dimensions. Unique in construction, this barn has housed from one hundred to one hundred and fifty vehicles. The high stone walls are of field stone and three feet thick, supporting a roof which requires none of the customary cross beams for bracing. Called "balloon construction", it gets its name from similar construction used in balloon hangars.

Inside the barn are carriages too valuable for scrap metal. Some have been partially dismantled to provide spare parts for others which are once more seeing service. Many other carriages are extremely serviceable and await a purchaser to put them on the road again. The scrap metal was derived from discarded carriages which have long since served out their time and have reposed in scattered lots around the farm.

This excellent demonstration of good will by Mr. Henderson sets a brilliant example for other patriots to follow. Excess scrap lying around, if donated to the government or sold as junk, could produce arms, ammunition, and tanks for our fighting soldiers on the battlefields of the world. Call the commandos.

WINCHESTER AT READING
Locals Protecting Six Game Winning Streak

Winchester High will go to Reading Saturday afternoon to keep a football engagement with Reading High at the Junior High School field commencing at 2 o'clock.

Coach Knowlton's charges will be riding the crest of a six game winning streak and will be shooting for seven straight tomorrow. On paper at least their assignment should not prove too difficult.

Reading's principal accomplishment this season is a 19-0 victory over Danvers, achieved on the Saturday following the locals' 19-0 win over the boys from Oniontown. Allie Pydynowski played only two minutes against Reading and generally speaking in that game Danvers showed the effects of its beating at Winchester the previous week-end.

Reading was beaten by Swampscott, early in the season 20-0 and lost to Punchard 15-0. Last Saturday it beat Chelmsford 12-6, and Chelmsford, a team beaten by Concord, hardly rates a strong club. Last season Reading was expected to give Winchester a hard battle, but proved a distinct disappointment, and unless its team has improved considerably shouldn't be too hard for a team that has yielded but a single touchdown in six games.

Coach Knowlton is taking no chances however, and will start his first string against Reading, which of course could surprise tomorrow. Big Bob Jackson, stream-lined at 195, is back at left end. Better run 'em right Reading.

BLACKS BEAT WHITES IN SERIES

The Black beat the Whites, 16-12 in a hard fought game of the Winchester High School intra-squad football series on Manchester Field Tuesday afternoon, a 50 yard touchdown run by freshman Sammy Tibaudo, White fullback, featuring.

The Whites lead in the series, three games to two, but any of the games could have gone either way and the leaders are no "shoo-in" to win final honors.

Coach Knowlton instituted this intra-squad series to give the boys who see little varsity service a chance to get experience by actually playing football under game conditions. The boys get a great kick out of the games which are played under regulation conditions with officials and linesmen. Competition is very keen, the big squad having been carefully divided to distribute the strength as evenly as possible.

Coach Knowlton himself is delighted with the boys play and already has noted several potential varsity performers. He urges all who like to see plenty of action by two teams playing for everything that is in them, not to miss at least one of these battles. Just to see the players argue with head linesman "Red" Hannon is worth the trip to the field.

SCHOOL TODAY

Winchester is having regular school sessions today despite the fact that the annual teachers' convention is being held in Boston, a fact that has in the past called for a holiday. The schools have been closing at noon during the past three days because of the oil rationing use of the buildings.

BUTTERS AND PRIDHAM CHAMPS

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine champ, and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham emerged as champs from last week-end's regular matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association.

Arthur and Roland took on Mr. Teele and the Secretary first and won three out of four, the Assocaition's ranking officers making on the whole a sorry showing.

While this match was in progress Jim Baldwin and Roy Winchester, the double-figure Winchesters, put in an appearance and after a bit of intensive work on the practice court, took on the champs, losing two straight, despite the rather natty green hunting cap Mr. Winchester was sporting.

Mr. Teele and the Secretary then returned to action and handed out "the works" in no uncertain fashion to the champs in the first of a three game series, winning 25-8 as the Secretary threw a doubleheader over a bridge nicely, if unwittingly, built by Mr. Butters.

That wholly unexpected eventuality so unnerved the champs that Mr. Teele ran out the match in the next box, but the second game was something else again. Arthur and Roland, their dander up, jumped to a big early game lead, which only some very gilt-edged pitching on the part of President Teele was able to offset.

Finally with the score 18-18, the Secretary got another unexpected ringer which made the count 21-18. Mr. Teele's first shoe was as he expressed it "feeble", but his second one split the stake nicely. Mr. Pridham got a "near one" as usual and then a ringer. His team was behind 21-19.

Murmuring the famous adage of the Butters family, never to miss the stake when you are 19 and behind, Arthur took deliberate aim and hung his first shoe squarely on the pin. After another pause, wherein he again plotted the arc carefully, he sent up his second shoe which after a bit of a slide, also got far enough on to count as ringer number 2. Feelingly exhorted by Mr. Teele, the Secretary tried hard and his first shoe was a good sporting effort, the calks of the Butters shoe preventing it from slipping onto the stake. Of the second little can be said, except that it opened nicely. Arthur and Roland had evened the match.

The deciding game was nip and tuck all the way with the Butters-Pridham combine finally leading 23-18. It was at this point that Mr. Teele, adusting his "googles", delivered the "coupe de grace", as perfect a double ringer as you would see anywhere. His whoops of joy rang above the courts as Mr. Butters and the Secretary grimly prepared to deliver the deciding shoes.

The Secretary pitched first. To his own and Mr. Teele's extreme disgust his first shoe just missed ringing, but ended up "touching" and his second, by good fortune rather than design, built rather a decent bridge in front of the stake. Mr. Butters' only salvation lay in high pitches and as things turned out his offerings were high all right, but also wide. Mr. Teele and the Secretary picked up the marbles.

That didn't quite end play. Mr. Teele and Mr. Baldwin took on Mr. Pridham and Mr. Winchester, the latter pair winning going away. So great a toll had the previous tight-lipped struggle taken from the Teele frame that it is said he failed to garner a single point in the second game, though this we are reluctant to believe.

In passing, mention should be made of a new pitch which Mr. Winchester is developing. The Association now has the McLaughlin butterfly, the Teele flopper, the Butters hyperbole and the Pridham sky-scraper, but these shoes all turn more or less.

TO JOIN HUSBAND AT MIAMI BEACH

Mrs. J. Joseph Tansey has leased her home on Canal street to Mr. Edward Fischer of Arlington and is leaving Sunday with her son, George, and daughters, Gail and Ann, to join her husband, who is a lieutenant in the Army Air Corps at Miami Beach, Fla. Before leaving Winchester Mrs. Tansey and George spent several days with her aunt, Mrs. Milton J. Quinn, at the latter's home on Church street. She will be accompanied south by Lieut. Tansey's father, Mr. John J. Tansey of Nelson street.

Even the Secretary's "unpredictable" generally turns too much or too little. The Winchester pitch, believe it or not, turns not at all. Each shoe is a potential ringer, depending upon the accuracy of the eye for the stake. Last week a certain margin of error in this aim prevented best results, but Roy has hopes, and high hopes at that!

SOPHS-JUNIOR-SENIORS MARK THE DATE, NOV. 21

On that evening will come the first of a series of square dances sponsored by the high school and arranged by a committee of students aided by a few parents. So, girls lay aside the long dresses and high heels and boys put the undertaker suit back in the moth balls, for these dances are strictly informal.

The caller will be Allan A. Smith, a graduate student from M. I. T. who knows all about engineering a square dance and all the patter that goes with one.

For the small sum of $2, you can have four parties, instruction in a sugar coated pull and a bushel of fun.

Watch the paper for further notices of time and place. The dances will either be in the Lincoln School or the high school gym depending on the numbers. Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors only of the Winchester High School are eligible.

We don't know how many enemies we made last week. We tried to give each lady her fair and proportionate share of space and attention. Of necessity many articles were curtailed and shorn of unnecessary verbiage, although only one, Miss Narden, was entirely omitted. We never before knew Winchester had so many clubs, organizations and groups—and we have lived here and published a paper here for 1o—these many years. If any were left out of last week's Star, do hasten to correct the list. We will continue to do our best. If we fail to measure up to the old standard, please bear with us. We still must print the news of the Town first and "your" (we dont like the word, but it is better than "our") organization, committee, society and church will be given every consideration. We might continue and remind you that this is war time, but we know that fact has been brought home to many of you in a way far larger than any request to consider us in its connection, so we will not elaborate upon it. We appreciate your interest in the Star.

Tomorrow night is Hallowe'en, and a good Hallowe'en it would be in which to call off, at least for the duration, the malicious mischief and hoodlumism which have been more or less prevalent in recent years. These are stern times for us all. People's patience is sorely tried, their tempers on edge. In some homes in Winchester the war has already brought a heavy load of grief, in all there is real anxiety for some relative or neighborhood boy in mortal danger in the combat zone. This is no time to add annoyance and property destruction to the other burdens most people are bearing. We think the town youngsters are good enough sportsmen to keep their fun in bounds for this year at least, and believe they will do so if the thing is put squarely to them. That is a job for their parents. The young people of the community did wonders during the scrap collection drive, and in other ways have assisted with the war effort. Here is still another way in which they can help, greatly. After all this isn't just an ordinary year.

Motorists will do well to drive cautiously in leave-covered streets these days and use extreme care in driving through any piles of leaves large enough to cover a child. Piles of leaves have a great attraction for children and they will hide in them, whether they happen to be safe in their back yard or pretty well out in the street. We can imagine their parents have reasoned with them, but in case any haven't, they should. Fortunately we are none of us doing much driving with our A cards, but there are enough B and C cards in Winchester to seriously jeopardize the lives of kiddies burrowed deep in piles of leaves in the streets. Parents ought to do what they can to keep their youngsters out of such places, but it is the motorists who need to watch out. We can think of nothing much worse than running over a child playing in some leaves.

Well, we filed our application for fuel oil, marked all the little squares on the questionnaire, we hope in the right places, and computed the floor area of our house to the best of our ability and the accuracy of an advertising yardstick we happened to have on hand. Our visit to high school was a pleasant one. Sam Graves' benign smile and genial welcome made us feel something less like the conspirator we imagined ourselves as we filled out our questionnaire, and as we sat down at a desk with Mrs. Stacey we found that we were entitled to include more space for heat than we thought we were. Everything was very nice. We didn't have to tell whether or not we gambled or whether we had whatever it is the Listerine people say you have if you get dandruff on your coat collar. We were speeded on our way with words of cheer by Sam, who assured us that our questionnaire would be given careful attention by what he called "computers." Somehow we didn't just like that word. It sounded a bit grim. We liked it less when we saw the little group of thinkers who compose this group getting their final instructions and pep talk from Dwight Cabot in one of the first floor rooms. They all looked devilish efficient and eager to get about their computing duties. Nor did it add to our confidence to see in the forefront of the computers Art Butters, whom we prevented from winning a close-locked horseshoe game not long since. Mr. Butters nodded civilly as we passed along out of the building but we thought we saw him lick his lips as a purposeful gleam came into his eye. We still are hoping for the best. The Squire assures us we can always address a letter to the Rationing Board, and he even went further, stating positively they would "consider" it. We guess everything will be all right but somehow we hope it won't be too cold a winter!

DR. MAIETTA LIKES THE STAR

Oct. 21, 1942

To the Editor of the Star:

Just a short note to let you know that I am well and to tell you a few things about Camp Stewart. But, first, I must thank you for the issues of the Winchester Star. I don't believe you could appreciate what your newspaper has done for me.

In a flashing moment, it has brought Winchester and its young ones to me and while I read the issues it seemed that for the moment, I had not left Winchester at all. I save the papers, and read them when I am just a little homesick. It's a nice gift and Price, believe me I appreciate it deeply.

Camp Stewart is an anti-aircraft training center and it is a beehive of activity. I am in charge of a battalion dispensory and also in command of the medical detachment for my battalion which is the 467th. We are a semi-mobile unit and are of a semi-permanent nature, in that when we are assigned after training we will be more or less stationary.

Our training here will continue for four to six months at which time, we will receive and may be assigned to coastal defense or sent overseas. Battalions training here are classified under the Coast Artillery Anti-Aircraft.

When I arrived here, I felt a little lonesome and homesick. At present, although I am very busy from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m., I still think of home, and my friends and Winchester, the town that I love so much. But the Army has and is still doing something to me. Although I'm busy, I'm not pressed for time, or borrowed as I was in Civilian practice. I'm learning to plan my plan and execute my plan with soldierly poise. Lastly, I am proud of my uniform and that I have been privileged to serve my country and that I have been honored in being commissioned an officer of the Army of the United States.

I hope and pray that I shall do more than adequate justice to the dignity of my uniform and that, if and when the time does come to lay the blue chips on the line, I shall unflinchingly take my place beside my fellow officers and march on to a glorious victory.

Remember me to Rotary and again with many thanks for your gift, I close extending many well wishes for your continued health and success.

Yours in victory,
1st. Lieut. Angelo J. Maietta, M. D.

WILL BE ON THE BALLOT

To the Editor of the Star:

On election day, November 3rd, the voters of this town will have the opportunity of determining whether or not our Representative in the General Court shall be advised to support a Joint Resolution addressed to the Presidnet of the United States calling upon him to issue the call for a Convention of the Free Peoples for the purpose of drafting a Constitution for their common government.

The present armed conflict with the Dictator governments must be won; but if the peace is allowed to go by default as it was a quarter of a century ago, military victory will be a hollow shell.

The fundamental reason for the failure of the League of Nations was that it was a league; a consultative gathering of the personnel of various governments, but not an instrument for the exercise of the sovereignty inherent in the citizens of the respective countries. This fact left the League without authority, and wide open to the clash of governmental ambitions and jealousies. This latter fact accounts for the fact that two years elapsed before the League Council ordered even an investigation of the Japanese violation of Chinese sovereignty in Manchuria, and the further fact that the Council accepted the report of fact submitted by the Investigating Commission but never even debated or acted upon the recommendation of the Commission as to action. Even if they had then acted it would have been "too little and too late", the mischief was already done.

The organization of a Federal Union of Free Peoples would provide the machinery for prompt decision and effectively powerful action to restrain would-be international bandits. It would also provide for the solution of many of the economic questions, which, unsolved lead to war and make possible the activity of economic exploiters now working unchecked on an international scale.

The most common objection to such a Federal Union is that it would involve a partial surrender of national sovereignty by each nation concerned. This claim is absolutely fallacious, as our own history proves. Before the submission of the Constitution of the United States for ratification, the colonies adopted their own constitutions which laid the foundation for our federal union. Virginia opens its constitution with a Bill of Rights whose caption reads, quote, "A declaration of rights made by the good people of Virginia in the exercise of their sovereign powers, which rights do pertain to them and their posterity, as the basis and foundation of government. Section 2:—That all power is vested in, and consequently derived from, the people; that magistrates are their trustees and servants, and at all times are amenable to them". End quotation. In the Massachusetts constitution Part the First opens with a Declaration of Rights, in which Article IV reads, quote, "The people of this commonwealth have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves, as a free, sovereign, and independent state; and do, and forever shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right, which is not, or may hereafter be, by them expressly delegated to the United States of America, in Congress assembled". End quotation.

The nub of all this is that sovereignty is vested in the people; government is but an instrument for the practical operation of this reserved sovereignty. When the colonies ratified the Federal Constitution they did not waive that sovereignty in any respect, but simply delegated to the federal government certain duties and responsibilities which in the past had been delegated to the Commonwealth government. Should the United States enter into a Federal Union it would only mean that certain duties now delegated to the government of the United States would be withdrawn and delegated to the Federal Union. This would be in no sense a surrender of sovereignty by the people; merely a change in the agent acting for the people.

Some nations which have not in a practical way recognized the sovereignty of the people as being the only sovereignty possessed by official governments, may have a more difficult time but such recognition is a condition precedent to admission to the Federal Union.

This proposed change in governmental agencies is not a "cure-all" but does provide the mechanism by which an alert citizenry can actually exercise their sovereignty on a wide enough scale to make it effective in maintaining a workable degree of political and economic peace in the world.

A "yes" vote on this ballot is a real push on the wheel of human progress towards decent, sane, association among men.

JUNOR-SENIOR ASSEMBLY

The first Junior-Senior Assembly was held Saturday night, October 24th at the Country Club, with one hundred and thirty-five present. Ben Dudley's Reglmentals pleased everyone and at times proved so entertaining that almost all the dancers stopped to watch them. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Maynard and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drake were in the receiving line. Bob Coon was head usher and his able corps of assistants, Bob Johnson, David Holmes, Stearns Ellis, Crosby Grindle, Bill Cole, Steve Greene, Gordon McGovern, Ted Atkinson, Dick Fenno, Dick Coon, and Bert Moore, functioned very smoothly. They were entertained at supper by Mrs. Holmes before the dance.

SALTONSTALL OF MASSACHUSETTS

Governor Saltonstall, of Massachusetts, vetoed a last minute action of the Legislature, which passed an inadequate act for Old Age Assistance. The Legislature then passed the Act over the Governor's veto, of course, for purely political reasons.

The bill was not vetoed because of the increase in the amounts to be paid to the aged but because the Legislature failed to provide adequate new taxes to finance the increased cost to the Commonwealth.

Leverett Saltonstall, in character, in true tradition of a Saltonstall of Massachusetts, never plays politics as such. He continued his native, inborn instincts to do the sound thing, the American way, regardless of any personal, political considerations. He did that which will eventually prove to be of the greatest advantage to those of old age receiving continued aid.

Well, even though Saltonstall did not and will not play the political game, it will show, even as early as 1942, that citizens have become taxconscious due to the new increases in federal income taxes and hidden federal taxes that will soar the cost of living.

1944 is not far away. The prediction of this column is that Saltonstall will be called by the nation in 1944 for high position and really drafted in 1942 by Massachusetts.

LET'S CUT OUT FOOLING

Perhaps if our advice to some New Dealers, away back, had been followed, "Create a New Project," B. B. B. (Bucket Brigade Boys), we might have fooled the Japs. Then we would have not been back to.

Viz.: With these Bucket Brigade Boys we could have emptied the Pacific into the Atlantic, settled forever the Pacific problem and all invasion by water. This could have been done with probably 100,000,000 men and it would not have cost much over a million billions.

Foolish idea? Look over the New Deal theories. Take the 1000 mile forests (a housing project for birds) to cost $100,000,000, actually started; take, well, we could go on and on. "Quoddy," etc., etc.

This is constructive criticism. We are at war. We will win this war, but to do so will take all our energy and surplus; yet we are today still spending billions on domestic affairs and social reforms just as silly, during total war, as the two mentioned above. We could save billions and 100,000 civil employees for war work if we cleaned house.

Socrates

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

One of the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included in the Lesson-Sermon, reads as follows: "There is but one way to heaven, harmony, and Christ in divine Science shows us this way. FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

A large attendance marked the opening of the 62nd session of the Fortnightly last Monday, with Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, president, presiding.

Announcements of planned club activities foretold a busy, interesting and worthwhile year.

Today at the Copley Plaza Hotel is being held the War Service and Press Conference. Mrs. Hall, Mrs. George G. Brayley, Mrs. Harold H. Given, Mrs. William E. Priest, Mrs. E. Adele Emery and Mrs. Talma T. Greenwood are among those attending.

The Glee Club with Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham directing, and Mrs. Lucy Wilcox Cushman, accompanist, begins its weekly rehearsals on Thursday, Nov. 5, at 10 a. m. in Fortnightly Hall.

The Literature Class has chosen for its theme this year Understanding China. At the first meeting on Monday, Nov. 2 at 2 o'clock in Fortnightly Hall, Mrs. Gordon Mann and Mrs. Joseph W. Morton will speak on The Chinese Novel.

War stamps will be sold and orders taken for war bonds at all Fortnightly meetings.

Members of the Fortnightly will sell stamps and bonds at Winchester and Wedgemere Stations through November.

Fortnightly Red Cross Unit sewing meetings which have been held at the homes of members during the summer will return to Fortnightly Hall this week.

It is also hoped to start a class in home nursing in the near future.

As previously announced the Art Committee whose chairman is Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes Win. 1926, is sponsoring classes in the painting and restoration of furniture and the painting of trays.

Next meeting Nov. 9, is International Relations Day with a very special program. At 10:30 a. m. the Fortnightly will be guests of the League of Women Voters at Fortnightly Hall.

The regular Fortnightly meeting at 2 p. m. on that day will be open to the public with the League of Women Voters as guests. Pennington Haile will speak on Our County's Responsibilities in a Postwar Period.

Report of Mrs. Warren Whitman, chairman of Legislation Committee of the Fortnightly at meeting Monday, Oct. 26.

Referenda on the ballot:

Medical Freedom in plain language is Shall an act to allow physicians to prescribe contraceptive care to married persons for the protection of life and health, be approved? Yes - No. It gives individual freedom of action to those who want it and compels no one to follow a course she does not approve. Permissive only.

Local option on Liquor is three fold.
a. Licenses for sale of all liquors.
b. Licenses restricting sale to wine and ale.
c. Licenses for sale of package goods only.

Pari-Mutuel Betting.

Some counties have proven to their own satisfaction that is economically unsound, civically disastrous and morally corrupt. If the estimated $373,557,071 taken in by the tracks in eight years the State has received $16,245,310 or an average of about $2,000,000 per year which has been allocated to well pay the Old Age Assistance. With the loss of revenue from gasoline taxes the state will have to find elsewhere the money for Old Age Assistance if this source of revenue should be cut off. What price civic morality?

Local questions:

Public Policy initiative relating to Union Now. An expression of opinion as to the establishment of an International Co-operative Organization for the prosecution of the war and the maintenance of peace and justice for all peoples after its conclusion.

Names of Continents

The two Americas are usually regarded as two separate land masses or continents. Similarly, physical geographical regards Europe and Asia as one great land mass, Eurasia, though politically they are separate continents. The great land mass around the South pole is generally considered a separate continent, Antarctica.

WINCHESTER LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

France Will Rise Again

Over 200 people had the pleasure and intellectual stimulus of hearing Pierre de Lamux when he spoke to the Winchester League of Women Voters and their friends on last Friday evening at the Wyman School hall. His subject was, "The France of Today."

Monsieur de Lanux viewed the problems of his own country with admirable objectivity and lack of emotional prejudice.

Going back to the fall of France he felt that we could discard the many complicated explanations which have been suggested and substitute the simple one that the military leaders of France were not as good as the military leaders of Germany.

Monsieur de Lanux is not concerned about the ultimate fate of France since she has suffered similar, possibly as horrible disasters many times in her long history. Each time she has had a rebirth, not through her leaders but from within the heart and soul of the French people. Before the fall of France the French people were not well informed because of the inadequacy of their press. Today, through the underground, they are much better informed than then. Monsieur de Lanux said he had seen a copy of an underground paper which has a circulation of 50,000 copies.

Also the British are doing a good job dropping information in flights over France. The extent of the underground work preparing for revolt was clearly shown at the time of the Commando raid on Saint Nazaire. Here the people of the city arose and fought furiously with their hidden weapons that it took the Nazis three days to put down the uprising.

Speaking of whatever pro-Nazi sympathy or desparate resignation in France in 1940 Monsieur de Lanux assures us that it has been wiped out by the actions of the oppressor since then. Frenchmen of the right center or left parties have shed their differences and feel their unity of purpose within France and with all of the oppressed peoples of Europe. They realize, to their sorrow what we are now learning, that no nation can stand alone. All this brings closer a possible realization of the old dream for a federated Europe.

Asked about the effect on the occupied countries of a long wait for a second front, the speaker believed that the people in these countries did not worry so much about when these soldiers would come to their rescue as when they would leave. In other words they fear that after a military victory by the United Nations on the continent we will retire from our position of responsibility and leave them again in danger of suffering a similar catastrophe.

An opportunity will be given by the Winchester Legion Post to every person in Winchester interested in the morale and welfare of the boys from this town who are in the service, to see upon the screen some of the finest things in North Central and South America that these men will defend and preserve, not only for this but for future generations.

Wherever these pictures have been shown, they have created tremendous interest and its the concensus of opinion that there is nothing else to which they can be compared. What better way can be found to end the day that has been set apart for so many years as a standard to the morals of our whole community, than in taking part in one of the finest programs for one of the greatest services we have ever had an opportunity to share. These pictures have previously been shown before capacity audiences under the auspices of Boston Edison Co., Tremont Temple, Federal Reserve Bank, John Hancock Life Ins. "FOOD FOR VICTORY"

By FRANCES STERN

Chief of Food Clinic, The Boston Dispensary
Assistant in Medicine, Tufts Medical School
Author, "Applied Dietetics"

Food is one of our most important weapons for victory. The country is producing sufficient food to feed the armed forces adequately, to send as much food as can be convoyed to the United Nations and to supply the people on the home front.

In order for the homemakers to make food an effective weapon they must know what kinds of food to serve, how much of each their families need and most important, why they need it for health. The President may make recommendations that food be rationed, Congress may pass the laws, officials of the government may determine the ways and means—but it is the homemaker who makes them effective.

Rationing is fair play—the truly democratic way. The government has already asked the nation to ration meat voluntarily to 2½ pounds a week. Meat is not only one of the most popular foods, but it is also one of the most desirable foods nutritionally.

One of the principal constituents of meat is protein that the body needs for growth, muscle and repair of body tissue. It was given its name over a century ago, derived from a Greek word meaning "to take the first place." Fortunately foods other than meat also supply protein, as all animal and plant life is dependent upon protein for growth.

In the following chart foods are listed that are approximately equivalent to meat in protein, and the amounts of other food constituents contained in these foods can also be compared to meat.

PROTEIN FOODS	HOUSEHOLD MEASURE	PROTEIN GRAMS*	CARBOHYDRATE GRAMS	FAT GRAMS	CALCIUM MILLIGRAMS	IRON MILLIGRAMS	VITAMIN A MICROGRAMS	THIAMINE MICROGRAMS	ASCORBIC ACID MILLIGRAMS	RIBOFLAVIN MICROGRAMS
MEAT	1 ounce	7		5	4	1.1		36		30
MILK	1 glass	8	12	10	288	.6	464	128	5.2	520
CHEESE AMERICAN	1 ounce	8	1	11	279	.4	900	14		150
FISH (non-fatty)	1 ounce	6			7	.3		10
EGG	1	7		5	33	1.5	500	75		165

*¼ ounce = about 7 grams
1 ounce = about 30 grams
1 gram = 1000 milligrams
1 milligram = 1000 micrograms

In adjusting the diet to the meat ration let us take for example the use of 1 glass of milk for 1 ounce of meat.

1 glass of milk provides:

Same amount of protein as	1 ounce of meat
2 times more energy value than	1 ounce of meat
2 times as much fat as	1 ounce of meat
70 times more calcium than	1 ounce of meat
One half as much iron as	1 ounce of meat
3½ times more thiamine (Vitamin B_1) than	1 ounce of meat
17 times more riboflavin (Vitamin B_2) than	1 ounce of meat
Carbohydrates, which meat does not provide Vitamin A, which meat does not provide

The National Research Council on Food and Nutrition has confirmed the figures of leading scientists and tells us how much protein a person requires per day for body needs. For every 15 pounds of body weight, the adult needs ¼ ounce of protein (or 7 grams as shown on the charts). For example, if the average weight of the homemaker were 132 pounds, she will need 2 to 2⅛ ounces of protein per day. A man weighing 154 pounds requires 2½ to 3½ ounces of protein per day. Most men prefer the latter amount.

Each of these foods supplies about ¼ ounce (7 grams) of protein:

Complete protein	Incomplete protein
1 ounce meat	½ cup dried beans, peas, lentils (cooked)
1 egg	2 medium potatoes
1 ounce fish	1 large sauce dish cereal
1 glass milk	2 slices bread
1 ounce cheese	6 crackers (2" x 2")
	1 ounce nuts

The sources and kinds of protein are important to remember. There are two protein sources—animal (complete protein) and vegetable (incomplete protein.) The vegetable proteins alone (with few exceptions) cannot completely serve the body needs as they do not have all the substances required, and so are called incomplete proteins. For this reason ½ of the day's protein intake should be from an animal source, complete protein.

An average serving of meat is about 3 ounces per day for women and 4 ounces for men. This amount comes well within the meat ration allowed per person.

MEN ARRESTED WITH STOLEN TRUCK

Police Say Contents Dumped in Mystic River

Patrolman John E. Hanlon arrested in the center early Wednesday morning two men who allegedly had stolen a truck and driven to Winchester after first dumping the contents in the Mystic River in Medford.

Officer Hanlon was on duty in the center at 1:30 when his attention was attracted by a Ford ten wheel truck with platform body, crossing the tracks from Main street to enter Church street.

He stopped the truck at McCormack's Pharmacy and the driver said he was looking for a Winchester employee of G. Rappolli and Company of Medford manufacturer of cement blocks and the owner of the truck.

The operator gave his name as George H. Verge, 20, of 57 Wedgewood road, Medford. With him was a man giving his name as Arthur Delisle, 22, of 29 Marion street, Medford. Verge had no license in his possession, so Officer Hanlon had him drive to Headquarters where he turned him and Delisle over to Sergt. Joseph Derro.

The latter's checkup with the Registry disclosed the fact that Verge's license had been suspended during last January. He and Delisle claimed to be employees of Rappolli, but when the latter was contacted he stated they were not now in his employ and that the truck had been taken without his permission.

Police say after further questioning the men admitted taking the truck from Rappolli's garage. Another checkup with the owner disclosed the fact that when it had been left in the garage it had been loaded with cement blocks valued at $60. After further grilling Verge and Delisle are said to have admitted dumping the blocks into the Mystic River in Medford.

Both were placed under arrest by Officer Hanlon, Verge charged with operating after his license to do so had been suspended and with larceny. Delisle was charged with larceny. They were turned over to the Medford Police who later reported that the men had admitted attempting to break into a garage in Medford.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF, WINCHESTER UNIT

But nobody would take a bow. The luncheon hour group at the central work room Wednesday was enthusiastic at hearing the news of the benefit bridge, but nobody would admit that she had a larger share in making the party successful than all the others who worked at it. So finally the Star's reporter gave up her hunt for names and committees and decided the party at the home of Mrs. John Haines would just have to go down in Winchester history as an event managed as an absolute democracy, a regiment that was all captains and colonels.

The last guests left at 5:55, and the benefit turned in for the unit's findings' purse and its bank account $55.15.

Two home-staying friends of British Relief swelled the bank account by sending through Mrs. Percy Gleason two checks for $20 each. Their gifts are made as the Bible recommends with the left hand not knowing what the right hand is doing, and so names are omitted from this account.

Many friends will guess out their identity. They have had years enough to have celebrated their golden wedding a year or so ago. A lot of living goes into that stretch of time, but out of the mingled elements of health and sickness and good days and ill days they have distilled an unfailing cheer and thankfulness, which people go to their home to seek. The Unit thanks these anoymous givers.

YOUTHS SURPRISED AT WEST SIDE GARAGE

Two youths made their escape early Tuesday morning after being discovered by a resident of Copley street apparently attempting to break into his garage.

Everett L. Vincent of 11 Copley street as he drove into his garage saw two youths at the door. They took to their heels as soon as the headlights of the car fell upon them.

The Police were notified and an alarm brought Patrolmen Clarence Dunbury, John Hogan, Stanley Mullen and Neil Kerrigan to the scene. While searching around the Vincent property Officer Mullen discovered two youths lying in some bushes at the rear of the house. Upon catching sight of the officer the pair ran off, refusing to stop despite two shots fired in the air by Officer Mullen.

The latter gave chase but lost the youths in the darkness of Copley street. The Police searched the entire neighborhood but failed to locate them. Their description was broadcast over the radio but no further news of them was received.

SPEEDING TRUCK DRIVER STOPPED IN MEDFORD

Wednesday morning shortly before 1:40 Patrolman George Lallas called Headquarters, reporting that he had tried to stop the driver of a truck on Main Street near Mystic Avenue. The driver had ignored his signal and continued in the direction of Medford, where the police of that city, in response to a radio call, stopped him and took him to Headquarters.

Officer Lallas drove to Medford in Patrol 52 and placed the man under arrest, charged with speeding, failing to stop for an officer, drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. He gave his name as Abraham A. Gilman of 43 Normandy Street, Roxbury. In court at Woburn later in the morning his case was continued until Nov. 5.

HIGHLANDS MEN'S CLUB TO MEET

The Winchester Highlands Men's Club will hold their regular monthly meeting in the assembly hall of the Second Congregational Church at 7 o'clock this coming Thursday evening, Nov. 5.

Mrs. Susan Foster and her associates will cater and all attending members are in for a treat as Mr. John Campana will give a practical review of banking systems and credit unions. Mr. Campana is a well known Boston banker and the activities committee feels very appreciative and fortunate in getting him to devote his valuable time for the benefit of the club.

The October meeting was greatly enjoyed by all as Mr. Courtenay Crocker discussed prospective peace plans in the making and told of interesting experiences he had in the Orient when advisor on Foreign Affairs to the Government of Siam.

A brisk business meeting was held directly afterwards. Mr. Ralph T. Jope, Mr. Thomas Grace and Mr. Gordon Lorenzen volunteered to shoulder part of the many duties of the program and activities committee and Mr. Richard J. Sullivan was made chairman. Plans were also started to form a publicity committee which would also edit the new creation called "Windy Whispers."

WINCHESTER BOY RECEIVES SPECIAL PROMOTION IN THE PACIFIC

Graham Murphy and two of his young shipmates were given the privilege of taking in September, an examination for which by normal peace time advancement in the United States Navy they would not have been eligible until four months later. Their commander asked for the earlier date because he needed to give them more responsiblity than they could have without the higher rank. A perfect score in the examination, would have been 400. Our Winchester lad made the score of 396. He of course received promotion, and, now carries weighty responsibility on his ship, although he is still only in his teens.

When Winchester reads stories of stout lads of other days who were doing a man's job early and doing it well they can say, "Well, who says there's a sore decline in Adam's line. I know a Winchester boy—"

Graham Murphy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace G. Murphy of 33 Nelson street.

GAFFNEY DRILL CORPORAL

Among the service letters received by the Star this week was one from Corp. Gerry Gaffney who is with G company, 6th Quartermaster Training Regiment at Camp Lee, Va. Gerry, former Winchester High and Tilton School football star, is a drill corporal, breaking in new recruits arriving at camp every four weeks.

Other Winchester boys at Camp include Co p. Tommy Hannon who is also a drill corporal and Harry Boyle who is a member of the drum and bugle corps.

Before becoming a drill corporal, Gerry was assigned as a motorcycle rider at camp. This was to a certain extent old stuff for him as a consequence of his former experience in the State Constabulary. According to Gerry, however, there is a vast difference between police riding and army riding, and when a man has learned to ride the "army way" he can really ride what he terms one of those "widow makers."

How to make sure you are getting enough PROTEIN

War work is hard work, and the harder you work the more protein you need for energy. The foods shown here supply that vital energy. Some of them are becoming scarce, others expensive, so one way to be sure that you and your family are getting enough protein is to drink plenty of milk and eat plenty of cheese. Protein not only supplies energy but is the food element responsible for the maintenance and building of body tissue.

Milk not only gives you this much needed protein but supplies valuable vitamins, minerals, and butter fat. Use milk and cheese as a replacement food for meatless days.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

On Sunday afternoon, November 1, at four o'clock the Winchester Art Association will open a Memorial Exhibit of the work of Nelly Littlehale Murphy at a tea and gallery talk in the Winchester Public Library.

Frederick W. Coburn, a former Winchester resident and well known to New Englanders as Art Critic, newspaperman and lecturer will speak on "The Life and Works of Nelly Littlehale Murphy."

Of particular interest to Winchester and New England people are the flower pictures and landscapes of Mrs. Murphy, for although a native of California where she was born in 1867, Mrs. Murphy came to Stoneham in her girlhood. She attended Chauncy Hall School and the Boston Museum School, 1885-1886. It was during these school years that she first met a fellow-student Hermann Dudley Murphy whose landscapes, flower "Still-Lifes" and portraits are today famous throughout the Art world, and who many years later became her husband.

Her initial creative work consisted in charming small scale illustrations for children's stories. It was not until her marriage to Hermann Dudley Murphy in 1916, however, that her latent talent in water colors unfolded. In their Lexington studio and during their travels she painted constantly, and together they exhibited—Hermann Dudley Murphy in oils, Nelly Littlehale Murphy in water colors. From that time to her sudden death in May 1941 her work developed until she was classed one of the foremost exponents of water color in the country.

Mrs. Murphy was a member of the New York Water Color Club, The American Water Color Society, the Grand Central Galleries of New York, the Boston Society of Water Color Painters. She is represented in the permanent collections of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, the California Palace of Fine Art in San Francisco and the Stockton California Museum of Fine Arts. In 1933 she won the Boston Art Club Purchase Prize.

Pouring at the tea will be Mrs. George Chandler Coit and Mrs. Alexander Samolloff. The latter, daughter of Hermann Dudley Murphy and Caroline Bowles Murphy is assisting her father with arrangements. The hostesses will be Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian and Mrs. William F. Hickey.

The Exhibition will be open to the public from ten A.M. to nine P.M. week-days throughout November.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The Girl Scout Victory Fund drive, inaugurated to serve the double purpose of helping to alleviate war-born distress among children of the world and to make a timely war loan to the Government, is in full swing in Winchester, Mrs. Gilbert H. Tapley, Commissioner of the local Girl Scout Council, said today.

Under the plan of the drive, each Girl Scout member in the country—girls and adults alike—is asked to buy at least one in addition to her regular purchases and to contribute the extra stamp to the national fund. The public will not be asked to make contributions. The drive ends on Thanksgiving Day and the results will be announced nationally on December 7 the anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

The accumulated stamps received at the Girl Scout National Headquarters in New York will be converted into War Savings bonds and held in trust for the alleviation of distress among the children of the world as soon as conditions permit. Under details of the plan worked out with the Treasury Department, the bonds need not be held until maturity if need for the money develops earlier.

The Victory Fund provides a medium through which all of the Scouts of Winchester are uniting with Girl Scouts all over the country in a definite effort toward a better world. The fund constitutes an immediate loan to the government and an ultimate gift to the child sufferers of the ravages of war.

Our Government wants us to buy more war bonds and stamps now. Our government is glad to release the funds when they are needed to help the children on whom we must depend to make democracy and freedom living realities throughout the world. Through this Victory Fund the Girl Scouts can help realize both their general objectives—winning the war and winning the peace.

Mrs. John H. Joy is Chairman of the Victory Fund Drive for Winchester.

THE WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

Mrs. James S. Allen presided at the annual fall meeting of the Winchester College Club held at the parish house of the Unitarian Church on Tuesday evening, Oct. 20.

The reception for President Roswell Gray Ham of Mt. Holyoke College which preceded the more formal part of the evening gave an opportunity for greeting old friends and meeting many new members. Mrs. Langley Keyes, chairman of the hospitality committee, Mrs. James McGovern and Mrs. James B. Willing arranged the very attractive reception. Mrs. R. H. B. Smith and Mrs. Robert M. Keeney poured while a number of Mt. Holyoke alumnae served coffee.

Before the short business meeting a musical selection was beautifully rendered by Mrs Robert Drake, her two daughters, Miss Marilyn Drake and Miss Betsy Drake, and Miss Alice Parker.

President Roswell Gray Ham spoke to a very appreciative audience in an entertaining and enlightening manner about the crisis of education. He said that he is not a "Profit of Doom" in the higher educational field but that education is being streamlined and speeded up to meet the need of the world crisis and in all probability will never return completely to its former state.

WHAT YOU WANT TO KNOW ABOUT

War-time restrictions ON telephone service

IT IS VERY UNLIKELY that you will be deprived of the telephone you now have. You may be asked to take a party-line if you now have an individual one. No long cords or additional residence extension telephones will be available for the duration. Should you move to other quarters, there is no assurance of your getting your present type of service or any telephone service in the new location.

That, in essence, is what the War Production Board's Order, "L-50," means to every residence telephone user. This is a war order necessitated by the fact that almost without exception, every item on the list of critical materials needed for the manufacture of telephone apparatus is a critical war material . . . copper, rubber, steel, magnesium, aluminum, tin, lead and so on.

We're sorry that the war is placing restrictions on the convenience of your telephone service. Every effort is being made, and will continue to be made, to give you as good service as we can within the limitations imposed by the greatest war effort in our history.

BAPTIST CHURCH CELEBRATES 90TH ANNIVERSARY

The anniversary program is passing all expectations. As Americans take time out of their busy days to honor those who have served their country's flag, so Christians give honor to those who have served the Christian flag. Ninety years of service to God and country is the splendid record of the First Baptist Church of Winchester.

On Sunday morning, Oct. 25, Mr. Harry S. Sanborn, for many years a deacon of the church and a life long resident of Winchester, led the people back in memory over the span of years. His historical sketch of old Winchester took his listeners back to the days when Winchester was a sleepy New England village and a few staunch Christians felt the need of a church building to house those of the Baptist faith. His account of the years of growth was most interesting and a challenge to the members of today to carry on the work of God.

The music for this service, under the able direction of Mr. Arthur Flemings, was an inspiration to all.

On Sunday evening, the Young People's Society presented a typical service of 1852. The young people taking part were appropriately costumed for the service and Donald Marchant as minister deserves special mention. The people who heard him preach felt the depths of their transgressions as he quoted from Spurgeon's sermon on Secret Sins, written nearly a century ago. This service was planned and carried out by Miss Dorothy Swain, Young People's Director.

It is not too late for you to attend the Anniversary Birthday party tonight, Friday, Oct. 30, with the spectacular lighting of the 1000 candles given by those who love the church and wish to honor the people whose lives have been spent for the Christian cause.

2000 VOLUNTEERS SEEK GOAL OF $250,000

The Greater Boston Annual Maintenance Appeal of the Salvation Army with its more than 2000 volunteer workers, seeking a goal of $250,000, are on their last week of intensive campaigning, with a new slogan for their final efforts. It is, "Larger Donations from Old Friends —Thousands of New Givers."

Winchester will be represented at the Tuesday noon meeting, being one of the 37 communities that make up the Metropolitan division. In the meantime William N. Beggs, attorney, and for several years chairman of the sponsoring committee plans to ask more former donors more new friends of the organization that serves day and night the plight of the unfortunate, to hand or mail donations to the campaign treasurer. He is G. Dwight Cabot, an official of the Winchester Trust Company. Mr. Beggs again points out that it will be considered a friendly gesture if all would follow this plan. Collection forces have been thinned because of the lack of man power.

VICTORY COOKING SCHOOL

The hundreds of women who attended the Big Victory Coking School at the Winchester Theatre Wednesday were unanimous in their praise of what an enjoyable and profitable afternoon was spent.

The Cooking School demonstration was ably conducted by Mrs. Hazel A. Cheever, Home Service Director of the Arlington Gas Light Company. Mrs. Cheever conducted the class right from the stage of the Winchester Theatre and gave the housewives suggestions on Nutrition in order to help the war effort in keeping the home front strong and healthy. The food made on the stage was given away as prizes as well as baskets of groceries, brimful of products of leading New England Manufacturers. Each basket contained the following products:

Statler Towels—Jumbo Roll—the towel of a thousand uses.

Nucoa—Delicious, Modern, Margarine guarantees in one pound over nine thousand units of "Protective Vitamin A."

Kellogg's All-Bran—Join the Regulars—eat this laxative food daily.

Wheat Toast Wafers—Loose Wiles—Delicious and healthy.

Nabisco Shredded Wheat—100% Whole Wheat—a good source of Vitamin B as Nature provides it.

Boston 1815 Flour—a super-fine flour made especially for Angel Cake—Sponge Cake—Biscuits—Doughnuts and Fancy Pastry.

Mrs. Boardman's Leanermaise—Non-fattening mayonnaise—delicious and creamy—only three calories to the tablespoon.

Bond Bread—"Enriched".

Whittemore Neutral Cream—Whittemore Shoe Dressing for all colors of smooth leathers—for boys', ladies' and men's shoes.

Besides the baskets of groceries many valuable and useful prizes were awarded which were donated by leading merchants who are the sponsors of this Cooking School. Every woman attending the final session of the Cooking School will receive a Photograph Coupon good for an absolutely "Free" 8 x 10 Potrait of a child taken in the home by Dwight Davis—a specialist in Home Portraits.

Next Wednesday's Cooking School session will be high-lighted by the personal appearance of Martha Lee—foremost editor of Home Economics in New England who conducts a Household column for the Boston Record-American, which is widely read by the New England housewife.

The doors open at 12:45 during the Wednesday session of the Cooking School. An early attendance is advised in order to obtain the best seats as there is much interest created in this special treat not only by the women of Winchester but also by all the surrounding communities.

NORWAY BEFORE AND AFTER THE INVASION

At the meeting of the Fortnighty on Monday, Mrs. Harold H. Given of 217 Forrest street was the guest speaker. Attractively dressed in the colorful red and white Hardanger embroidered and hand beaded costume of her native Norway, she gave a vivid and interesting account of that country before and after the Nazi invasion.

In her talk she explained Norway's history, life and traditions. Its early history, she said was more like a fairytale as the country is so old and goes back to the ice-age.

She told of the laws of the country, which were very rigid. The right to vote belonged to every Norwegian citizen and the franchise was extended to women in 1907, even before it was granted in the United States.

Speaking on taxation she mentioned that one-fourth of the municipal taxes went for the maintenance of elementary schools. Next came the care of the poor, and third, public highways.

We Americans "Remember Pearl Harbor," but the Norwegians remember April 9, 1940, the day the Nazis invaded Norway. According to Norwegian ways of thinking Nazism must be destroyed. If not, it means the end of fair play, decency, humanity and civilization.

She also spoke on education, religion, customs, exports and imports and told of some of the ersatz products which they are using today.

Seventy-five per cent of the Norwegian Marine was at sea when the invasion took place and are now fighting with the Allies. Young Norwegians who escaped after the invasion are now training in camp Little Norway in Canada, getting ready to go back to fight for their country.

"SOUTHWEST PASSAGE"

Winchester is fortunate indeed to enjoy again Mr. Alonzo D. Nicholas and his presentation in natural color of Southwest Passage, a motion picture showing heights of beauty, depths of grandeur and density of mystery as he unfolds the glorious snow-capped mountains, the peaceful valleys and the awe-inspiring enchantments of the Grand Canyon, the Yosemite, Bryce and Zion Canyons, in his hour and a half program at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church on the evening of Nov. 11.

This delightful picturization has been shown to capacity audiences and is given for the second time in this church upon request.

Mr. Nicholas' fine technique, attention to detail, symphony of line and color add immeasurably to the enjoyment of his pictures, while his accompanying lecture highlights many outstanding features of God-made and man-made wonders of the great Southwest.

MORE FUN FOR THE FAMILY

"Family Night at the Winchester Public Library" to see educational moving pictures is a new feature offered by the Public Library.

The first program in the series will be held this week Friday night at 7:30 in the gallery of the Winchester Public Library. The pictures to be shown this week are The Coast Guard Academy, a technicolor-sound film and Men of the Coast Guard. These films were obtained from the U. S. Coast Guard Department in Washington, D. C.

There will be a second showing of the same films this week Saturday morning at 10:30 for boys and girls who may not be able to see them with their families the night before.

The Family Night programs beginning next week Friday night, Nov. 6 and running every Friday night through the winter are being planned by Dr. Abraham Krasker, Director of the Visual Education Department of Boston University. This assures a fine series of worth while educational moving picture programs that will be enjoyed by all of the family.

Book displays on the subjects of the moving pictures will be a feature in both the Adult and Boys' and Girls' Departments of the Library.

The equipment necessary to carry on these educational moving picture programs was purchased by contributions from 17 organizations in Winchester who are co-operating with the Board of Trustees and the Librarian in this new community project.

"WINGS OF VICTORY" SHOWN AT LIBRARY

The audience which filled the gallery of the Winchester Public Library on Tuesday evening for the showing of Wings of Victory was a demonstration of the interest in Russia and Russian pictures in this community. All the available seats were filled and late comers stood against the walls.

Miss Corinne Meade, in behalf of the Trustees and the Library welcomed the audience.

A young sailor of the British Royal Navy, one of a group of 12 sailor guests of neighborhood dinner parties, spoke a few words in behalf of Russia and the need of help.

The picture was full of drama and Russian comedy and a strong plea for the value of a goal in life was made.

Although a little long, the program was over a little after 10.

The next in the series will be on Wednesday evening, Dec. 2.

The voluntary donations to Russian War Relief amounted to $46.

PACK 3 CUB NEWS

A most encouraging assembly of about 30 cub mothers met at the home of Mrs. W. B. Hersey, 29 Woodside road, last Wednesday evening, Oct. 21.

Mr. Noyes, cub councillor, presided.

The business of the evening was to impress upon the mothers the seriousness of a lack of those willing to undertake the responsibility of being den mothers. From the Wyman School 45 boys have signed up to be cubs and 35 from the Mystic, 80 boys in all. As not more than ten boys may belong to each den, that means at least eight dens are needed. Before the end of the meeting we had six dens complete with three other mothers willing to help if a den mother could be found to team up with them. Mr. Noyes emphasized a course for den mothers, running for seven consecutive weeks, starting Oct. 30 at 10 a. m. at the Winchester Public Library. We hope this course will be well attended and that more mothers will be accordingly encouraged to become den mothers.

As soon as a proper committee is formed a cubmaster appointed, we shall be ready for as many boys as we can accommodate in the dens formed.

HIGHLAND CHAPTER MEETS

The Winchester Highland Chapter of the Mothers' Association met on Friday, Oct. 23 in the auditorium of the school.

Graciously welcoming members and friends, Mrs. George Chatfield, president of the Chapter, opened the business meeting. It was with deep regret that the members accepted the resignation of Mrs. Frederick Ives, 1st vice president and the new slate of officers now comprises the following members: Mrs. Arthur Cameron, 1st vice president; Mrs. Robert Singer, 2nd vice president; Mrs. James Woolley, secretary.

A very interesting and enlightening resume of the establishment of a scholarship fund, its growth and expansion was given by Mrs. Lyman Smith. Because of her untiring effort to swell this fund a vote of thanks was given Mrs. K. Foster Cleaves.

Friday, Oct. 30, is to be family night at the Winchester Library, Professor Krasker, director of Visual Education at Boston University, will begin on that night, a series of educational moving pictures which promises to be most interesting.

Another item of interest to parents is the lecture to be given Nov. 17 on New Fall Books for Boys and Girls by Mr. Thomas Curtis, known as the Book Explorer.

Following the business meeting Miss Marjorie Shepherd, a noted reader and impersonator, entertained the members and guests and all agreed it was a most enjoyable afternoon.

The grand prize, a $50 War Bond was awarded Mrs. William DeCamp of Highland avenue.

Hot spiced cider and delicious doughnuts were served the members and guests by Mrs. Victor Moses and the members of her social committee. The beautiful table decorations arranged by this committee and its chairman added much to the auditorium.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB WINNER

The Winchester Garden Club was among the organizations awarded first prize for its arrangement of baskets of autumnal decorations at the annual meeting of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts yesterday at Horticultural Hall in Boston. The Winchester Better Homes Garden Club won a second prize in this contest. Mrs. John B. Wills was among the individual prize winners from Winchester.

Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini and Mrs. John Maddocks arranged the prize-winning exhibition. Among those attending from Winchester were Mrs. William Goodhue, Mrs. Willard Hudson, Mrs. Herbert T. West, Mrs. Norman Mitchell, Miss Louise and Miss Eleanor Bancroft, Mrs. Raymond Strawbridge, Mrs. Edward Grosvenor, Mrs. Harold Twombly and Mrs. Theodore Elliott.

Mrs. Grosvenor was in charge of registration, assisted by Mrs. Twombly and Mrs. Elliott. FRANKFORT RAILROADS AND INDUSTRIES RICH TARGETS FOR R. A. F. BOMBERS

One of Germany's oldest cities and an important industrial, commercial, and railroad center felt the impact of war bombs when Frankfort was visited by the R. A. F., says the National Geographic Society.

While the Main and Rhine normally offer Frankfort good water-transportation facilities, railroads, touching there lead to the important centers of Europe, and the city's industries are many, Frankfort's standing amid German cities largely has been based upon its financial strength. Mayer Anselm, the first of the Rothschilds, hailed from Frannfort, whence he sent his five sons to corner the money markets of Europe. Since that time Frankfort has been the home of some of the world's strongest moneyed institutions.

Home of Rothschilds

The ancestral home of the Rothschilds was at 26 Bernestrasse, formerly Judengasse or Jew Street. During the days of Mayer Anselm, Judengasse was closed at night and on Sunday and holidays to prevent the Jews from leaving their district. The gates were torn down in 1806 when the French occupied the city.

Frankfort lies about 24 miles up the Main River from the Rhine. The city has occupied its present site for more than 1200 years. It was called the "ford of the Franks" when Charlemagne held an imperial assembly there in the eighth century. Frederick Barbarossa, the first reigning German king, was chosen in the Romer, Frankfort's 500-year-old city hall. Several emperors who succeeded him were elected after stormy sessions in the same venerable building.

Emperors Crowned There

From early times the city maintained a position of marked independence. In the 16th century it became a free city. Unhampered by local principalities it rapidly grew. The city paid tribute to the emperor alone and received his protection under which, like other free cities, it became a great center of commerce, industry and wealth.

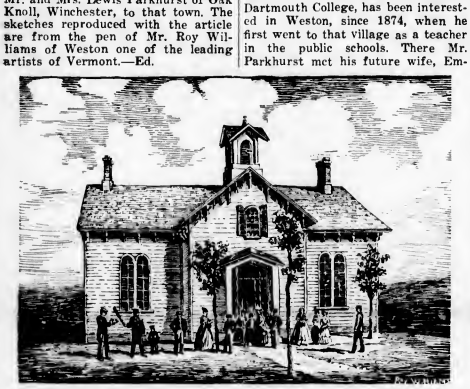
WESTON RECEIVES TOWN HOUSE

Winchester Couple Give Vermont Town Fine New Building

The Star is indebted to Mr. Raymond Taylor, postmaster of Weston, Vt. for the following account of the latest gift, and other benefactions, of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Parkhurst of Oak Knoll, Winchester, to that town. The sketches reproduced with the article are from the pen of Mr. Roy Williams of Weston one of the leading artists of Vermont.—Ed.



Weston, Vt., Village School, Where Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Parkhurst Taught Before Their Marriage

A brand new Town House, under construction for over a year, was presented to the town of Weston, Vermont, recently by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Parkhurst, of Winchester. Mr. Parkhurst, for many years head of Ginn and Company, text book publishers of Boston, and also well known throughout New England as a former Senator in the Massachusetts Legislature and as former Senior Trustee of Dartmouth College, has been interested in Weston, since 1874, when he first went to that village as a teacher in the public schools. There Mr. Parkhurst met his future wife, Emma Wilder, also a teacher in the same school, and in 1940 they celebrated 60 years of wedded life.

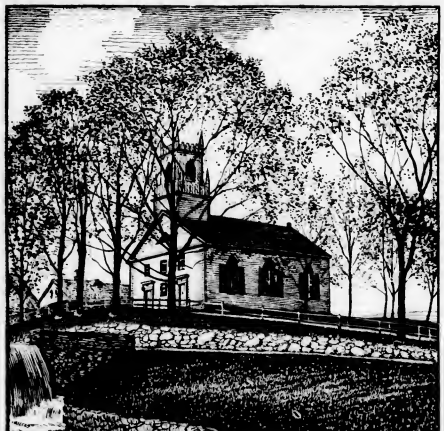
Mr. Parkhurst's other benefactions to the town of Weston, include the Community Church, the Wilder Memorial Library, many of the restorations on the Farrar-Mansur house and extensive improvements along the banks of Cold Spring brook.

The new building, now the property of the citizens of Weston, was formally accepted by Charles Bolster, Weston's senior citizen, in a fitting ceremony on Saturday, the 10th of October. The deed was then handed over to Miss Fannie Parkhurst, town clerk, who will occupy one of the offices in the new building.

The structure is a one-story example of provincial early American architecture. It sets on the south side of Weston Common, next to the village school and is surrounded by spacious lawns. Back of the building is a large playground, also a gift of the Parkhursts to the people of Weston.

In the small entrance hall, on the wall, is a bronze plaque commemorating Mr. and Mrs. Parkhurst's gift to the town. It reads as follows:

"Lewis Parkhurst, a freshman in Dartmouth College and Emma Wilder, daughter of Judge Wilder of Weston, taught the village school in the building adjacent to this in the winter of 1874-5. In due time they became husband and wife, and in 1940 celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at Winchester, Massachusetts, their home for many years. In 1940 they purchased this village land and dedicated it for all time to be used as a playground for the children, and a Town House for this community. In 1941-42 this building was erected and the land and building presented by them to the citizens of Weston."



Community Church, Weston, Vt., Given by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Parkhurst

It is expected that the town will take some suitable action in recognition of this gift at the next Town Meeting.

The building consists mainly of two rooms, one for the meetings of the selectmen and other officials of the township. This room, paneled in pine, has a fireplace. It has been furnished by Mr. Parkhurst with chairs and an oak table, the latter used for many years by Mr. Parkhurst in his Boston office of Ginn and Co.

The town clerk's office, on the other side of the building, is lined with bookcases and has a large built-in vault as well as the original town safe for the storage of town records.

In the basement is a furnace and two public toilets. The building, a frame structure, is clapboarded and painted white, with dark green blinds.

COMMANDER MULLAN HOME

Wounded Executive Officer of Vincennes Arrived Friday

Comdr. William Evans Mullan, U. S. N., executive officer of the heavy cruiser, Vincennes, sunk early on the morning of Aug. 9 during the night melee between United States and Japanese naval forces off the Solomons in the Southwest Pacific, arrived at his home, 29 Lloyd street, last Friday. Wounded during the sharp half-hour action, he was hospitalized at a Naval base in the Southwest Pacific and on the West Coast. His right leg is in a cast and he is still undergoing treatment at a local Naval Hospital.

Commander Mullan's ship was one of the cruisers which had been stationed to prevent any possible attack on United States transports engaged in putting troops ashore to consolidate the positions won by the Marines at Tulagi and Guadalcanal. They clashed with Japanese naval units attempting to prevent the landing operations.

The Vincennes was sunk by underwater damage. Commander Mullan had been put out of the fighting before the vessel went under, having been struck by shrapnel blasts from four different directions, sustaining wounds in his arms and legs, one hand and his back as well as a broken leg. He was dragged out of the thick of things, and when the ship commenced to list after being struck, was pushed overboard, a brother officer getting him into a life belt before the plunge.

Once in the water, he started swimming toward one of the ship's liferafts, when as he expressed it he saw a comrade making excellent time toward the same destination. Tailing on to him, Commander Mullan was towed to the raft where he and other survivors remained afloat for five hours until they were picked up by a destroyer. Eventually he was landed at a base hospital in the Southwest Pacific where he was when his wife and family here heard definitely that he was all right, or as right as a man can be with numerous shrapnel wounds and a broken leg.

When he arrived at the West Coast hospital he called Mrs. Mullan and is now at home with her and their family, looking surprisingly fit and anticipating the removal of the cast from his broken leg and his return to active duty.

He said that the spirit of all the wounded Naval men he has encountered can be expressed in the words, "We have a job to do out there in the Pacific that is still unfinished, and we wapt to get about it."

The proceeds of the Parish Players' 17th season are to be devoted to War Services. Among these services, it is hoped to send aid to a chaplain at Camp Blanding, Florida. The service rendered by the chaplains is recognized as a most important part of camp and army life. We hear much of keeping up the morale of the soldier. The man best equipped in training and personality to do this, is the chaplain.

Ushers for the Friday night performance will be Mr. Forrest E. Thompson, Mr. Warren C. Whitman, Mr. A. Kirby Snell, Mr. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., Mr. Alan Switzer, Mr. Arthur Rogde, Mr. F. Meredith Cooper and Mr. Leon F. Sargent. For Saturday night they will be Mr. Samuel M. Graves, Mr. Ralph Swan, Mr. Forrest E. Thompson and Mr. Carl Wood.

HONOR COMES TO WINCHESTER BOY

On Sunday evening, several hundred young people from the 30 towns and cities comprising the Woburn Association of Congregational Churches met at the First Congregational Church for their fall conference.

At the annual election, Theodore Atkinson, Jr., better known as Ted, was elected president of the Pilgrim Fellowship for the entire Association. This is the first time that a high school student has ever held this honor. In previous years it has been a college-age president, but Ted is well qualified not only to carry on the traditions of the office but to lead the Pilgrim Fellowship to new heights.

Ted was a Forum Director during the year 1940-41 and this year is treasurer. He was a delegate from the First Congregational Church to the Youth Conference at Durham, N. H., this past summer. Last month he was Forum Chaplain. On Saturday mornings he teaches at the West End Community House in Boston, working with the underprivileged boys in the carpentry shop of the settlement house. All these activities have well prepared Ted to do a fine job as Pilgrim Fellowship President.

Mr. Walter L. Rice of the Parkway had the misfortune to break his leg in two places last week by a fall at his home. He is at the Winchester Hospital and is reported to be recovering satisfactorily.

WINCHESTER FOR LODGE AND SALTONSTALL

Good Vote Despite Bad Weather. Birth Control Favored—Liquor, Dogs and Horses Frowned On

Winchester got out 5770 voters, or slightly more than 71 per cent of its electorate, for Tuesday's State Election which saw the town retain its strong Republican status. Governor Saltonstall was an easy local winner over Mayor Roger L. Putnam of Springfield, the Democratic standard bearer, and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., had more than a two to one edge over Democratic Congressman Joseph E. Casey of Clinton.

Edith Nourse Rogers, popular Congressman from Lowell, led the local ticket with 5098 votes, 141 more than Rep. William Eben Ramsdell of Winchester polled for second place. Neither had opposition.

Aside from the gubernatorial and Senatorial contests chief local interest was centered in the referenda. The town favored the birth control amendment, but by less than 1000 votes; voted down all liquor legislation, with a gain showing for package stores; voted against horses and dogs, almost two to one against the latter; and favored by more than two to one the proposal for a convention of representatives of all free peoples.

According to no less an authority than the Associated Press, Winchester was the first town hereabouts to have its complete returns in. The last precinct was in at 11:35 and the final returns were given out at midnight. There was a big late afternoon and evening vote, 2557 ballots being cast after 4 o'clock and 736 between 7 and 8 in the evening. One hundred and 40 absentee ballots were received in time to count, 45 being sent in by service men.

WINCHESTER OFFICER HOME FROM GUADACANAL

Capt. Richard D. Kirkpatrick, U. S. M. C., arrived in Winchester at 4:30 Tuesday morning by plane from San Diego, Calif., on the final leg of his journey home from the battle lines at Guadalcanal in the embattled Solomon Islands. Capt. Kirkpatrick makes his home in the Winchesters with his wife, the former Jean Wilson, and their four months old son, Charles Darrow Kirkpatrick, 2nd. He saw his son for the first time when he arrived home to spend a 15 day leave, which he hopes may be extended to a month. He sailed to San Diego from the Southern Pacific on a Navy airplane carrier.

Captain Kirkpatrick expected to get home about three weeks ago, but was delayed and notified his wife that he would arrive in California later this month. Mrs. Kirkpatrick and the captain's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Darrow Kirkpatrick of Melrose, had made arrangements to go to California to meet him, planning to leave last Sunday. Last Friday night word was received that he was flying to Winchester the first of the week, the message being received in time to prevent Mrs. Kirkpatrick and the Darrows from taking their trip West.

Captain Kirkpatrick has been in the thick of the fighting in Guadalcanal where he has been serving with the Marines' engineering corps. He is a graduate of Tufts Engineering School, class of 1940, and married Miss Wilson, a college classmate, in Charleston, S. C. in September, 1941. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert V. Wilson of Main street is also a graduate of the Nurses Training School at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

HONORED WITH PARTIES

Miss Jane Wilson, who is to be married to Mr. Carl H. Bolter, Jr., of Lexington on Saturday, Nov. 14, has been honored with several parties of late. Last Saturday she was given a party by the Winchester National Bank staff, where she has been a member of the clerical staff. They had a luncheon at the bank, and she was presented a very lovely gift.

Wednesday evening she was surprised by a shower given for her at the home of Mrs. Willard Grush on Wedge Pond road. The hostesses were Mrs. Grush, Mrs. Richard Chase of Boston, and Miss Grace Croughwell. It was a kitchen shower and she received many very lovely and useful things. The presents were brought into the room in a very original sailboat made of a clothesbasket, mop, tablecloth, etc.

Mrs. Warren Goddu returned from the hospital last week and is now able to be out for short periods daily.

GILBERT W. HOOD, JR., TO HEAD RED CROSS DRIVE

A separate drive for funds in 1943 by the Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross and the appointment of Gilbert W. Hood, Jr., to lead it was announced yesterday by Elliott F. Cameron, chapter chairman.

No quota has been set for Winchesters share in the National Red Cross War Fund Campaign, to be conducted in March. The Red Cross Roll Call usually held in November will be combined with the War Fund Campaign and George Roland Carter, Winchester Roll Call Chairman will have his workers assist Mr. Hood.

Raising the Red Cross war fund for 1943 will be the responsibility not of a limited group of patriotic individuals, but, of every member of the community who is conscious of his or her obligations to our fighting men and to the homes which they left behind.

Mr. Hood resides at 6 Everett avenue, Winchester, and is vice president and treasurer of H. P. Hood and sons in Boston. He graduated from Harvard University in 1920 and from the Harvard School of Business Administration in 1922.

JOSEPH E. GENDRON

Joseph E. Gendron, Somerville banker and widely known resident of Winchester for many years, died Tuesday, Nov. 3, at his home, 22 Calumet road, after a brief illness at the age of 81.

Mr. Gendron was born in the City of Quebec, Canada, but came to Winchester in 1866 at the age of 5 years and had since made his home here, attending the public schools and graduating from Winchester High School. Charles L. Harrington was then master of the high school and there were eight in the graduating class.

Banking was Mr. Gendron's life work, and he was one of the oldest members of the Massachusetts Bank Officers' Association. He received his early training in the Bank of the Redemption and the Broadway National Bank in Boston, later becoming associated with the Somerville National Bank, in the service of which he spent 40 years, as cashier, president and since the first of the current year, as chairman of the board of directors. He was also active in the organization and development of the Somerville Trust Company.

From early boyhood Mr. Gendron devoted much time to the study of the piano, being as a young man a pupil of Carlyle Petersilea, prominent Boston teacher, who was interested in a musical career for him. At that time Mr. Gendron played in concerts in Boston as well as contributing his talent to local entertainments. He also participated in amateur theatricals, appearing in plays produced by an organization which added much to Winchester's social life and when older residents will remember as the Dramatic Club.

He maintained an active interest in sports throughout his lifetime, being one of the leading bowlers of the Calumet Club from its early days throughout its existence. He was also a bowling record holder of the Boston Athletic Association, often participating in B. A. A. tournaments in the afternoon and Calumet matches the same evening. He was president of the Calumet Club in 1903 and was a member of the board of governors of the B. A. A. in 1930-31.

In addition to bowling he was a baseball enthusiast, playing on several of the early Winchester teams. He had a keen memory for athletic personalities and statistics and was often sought for early data by those compiling a history of the Myopia Hunt Club which had its inception years ago in Winchester.

As a young man he was identified with town affairs as town auditor, then an elective office, being elected in 1892 and serving until 1896. Flags on the common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff in his honor.

In 1890 Mr. Gendron married Florence Avis Holbrook of Winchester, who survives him, with a son, Courtenay H. Gendron.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon at the late residence by Mr. Prescott Baston of Arlington, first reader of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Winchester. Interment was in Forest Hills Cemetery.

Their plans for a quiet informal observance of the occasion went somewhat awry when the Women's Society of Christian Service at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church of which Mrs. Dodge is a member, gave her a surprise luncheon at the Little Shaker on Thompson Street and presented her with an appropriate silver gift. Concluding the day Mr. and Mrs. Dodge were dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. Roger E. Makepeace at the Methodist parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodge were married Nov. 5, 1917, at the home of Mrs. Dodge's mother, Mrs. S. W. Sherman, in Malden. They have one son, Sherman Metcalfe Dodge, now in the Army Air Corps. The highlight of their anniversary was a telephone call from their son, who is stationed in Greenville, Miss.

MEMORIAL EXHIBIT AT LIBRARY

The Winchester Art Association is sponsoring for its November show at the art gallery of the public library a memorial exhibition of water colors by Nellie Littlehale Murphy, wife of the eminent artist, Herman Dudley Murphy of Lexington, whose former residence in Winchester adds interest to the exhibit.

It is significant that the memorial show opened during the observance of National Art Week, for here is available for Winchester art in its truest form.

There are many studies of flowers shown for Mrs. Murphy had a great love for flowers and enjoyed unusual success in transferring her feeling for their beauty to paper, clarity of line and verity of both form and color combining for both realism and artistic effect. Blessed alike with imagination and sensitivity her studies are never mere reproductions. All bear the stamp of a truly, artistic approach.

While flowers predominate among the 45 or so pictures in the exhibition there is also an exquisitely painted group of small English landscapes and others that indicate the countries visited by the artist in her search for beauty. Windmill, Bruges, is an interesting little picture, done in somhre hues, sharply contrasting with the wealth of color in a large tropical landscape which is unnamed.

Mountain Gorge, Puerto Rico, is strongly painted to bring out its rugged reality and there is fine perspective and depth in the study. In Taxco, with its road winding down into a valley past stucco houses with mountainous highlands in the background.

Trees, Mexico, is a sun-drenched study of fantastically spreading trees, through which can he glimpsed a characteristic orange-roofed stucco dwelling against a background of purple hills.

Mrs. Murphy's love of the fanciful is clearly apparent in The Hermit's Shrine, a beautifully done study in deep blues and jade green, showing a heared Chinese figure, peering heningly from beneath dark green trees which surround a small bronze temple on a terraced eminence above hiue water. Beside the figure is a small stag, and on one of the steps leading to the temple, a dog. A towering cliff rises protectingly on the right and the dark green of the trees merge into the dusky deep blue of the sky.

In the same ve'n is the Water Hole, showing animal figures and birds in shimmering irridescent colors with a big rainhow bubhle very delicately painted. The House With a View shows a multicolored shack perched precariously on a rocky peak surrounded by wind-hiown trees.

Highly imaginative is The Brink, with its white gaily caparisoned elephant peering over a precipice from among bare tree trunks, in the hranches of which is perched a solemn owl. Very colorful is the study of three rose-colored flamingos shown amidst fanciful orchid-tinged green foliage.

Outstanding among the many flower studies is a heautifully painted large picture of Peonies and Scotch Roses. Still another is a tall vase of delicate wisteria, seen against an effective apple-green background.

The memorial exhihition will remain at the library through November and is open to the public.

WINCHESTER GIRLS BLANKED MEDFORD

Winchester High School girls' field hockey team played its best game of the season last Friday, blanking the Medford High girls at Medford, 3-0.

The game was fast and Winchester took a quick lead when Capt. Esther Capone scored in the first minute of play. After the opening bully the local girls quickly rushed the ball down the field into the striking circle where it was passed from scrimmage across in front of the Medford uprights. Captain Capone was "on it" very fast to drive it past Goaler Brogrette.

Winchester scored again before half time when Right Winger Betsy Drake really slapped home a loose ball from a scrimage in front of the Medford sticks. Capone scored the final goal in the second half when her shot from a hot scrimmage in the Medford striking circle beat Brogrette again. The summary:

RUDOLF JORDAN GOES TO YPSILANTI

Mr. Rudolf Joroan, a citizen of this town and a member of the Winchester Unitarian Church, has been called to be Director of Gilbert House at Ypsilanti, Michigan. This "service on the home front" for the workers at Willow Run Bomber Plant was begun last summer hy a group of Unitarians in cooperation with local agencies. This social settlement was so well received and so much needed that the National Unitarian War Services Council and a Citizens Committee at Ypsilanti are opening Gilbert House with a year round program from nursery school through adult education groups and recreation clubs.

Mr. Jordan, who goes to head up this large and important undertaking, is the former Welfare Director of this town. He is well qualified by training as a social worker and by his experience in directing work for men and boys as well as general welfare work in Washington, Maryland, Kentucky, and Iowa as well as in New England.

WINTON CLUB ADVANCES BENEFIT DATE

Stage Show, High School Auditorium, Dec. 11, 12

The November meeting of the Winton Club, the second of the season presided over by Mrs. Fulton Brown, the newly elected president, was held at the home of Mrs. Clarence McDavitt, Jr., of Wedgemere avenue, on Monday of this week. The usual large attendance was gratifying to the Work Committee as the Winchester Hospital, under war conditions, is demanding more and more of the Winton Club, which has for a period of years, supplied, sewed and kept mended all the linen used. Thousands of articles are annually prepared by the members at the monthly meetings.

Following the routine business Mrs. Brown called upon Mrs. E. George Pierce, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, to present to the members the plans for the annual Winton Club Hospital Benefit to raise the large sum of money needed to meet the increased linen budget of the hospital. Mrs. Pierce reported that her large committee, Mrs. Kenneth P. Pond, Mrs. Raymond C. Dexter, Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. Lucius Smith, Mrs. Frederick M. Ives, Jr., Mrs. Chandler W. Symmes and Mrs. Loring P. Nichols, were submitting a plan which was the result of extensive investigation as to it being suitable and practical this war year. The members greeted whole heartily the announcement that a full stage show would be given in the high school auditorium under the direction of the John B. Rogers Company of Ohio, with Mr. Alfred Burke, the director, the evenings of Dec. 11, 12.

The splendid opportunity for increased attendance made possible by the large seating capacity of the auditorium will allow many friends to see this finished production of song and dance numbers, by Winchester talented young people who in former years were unable to attend the annual Cabaret in the Town Hall.

The co-operation of the school authorities and the wish of the Club to meet the fuel rationing and the transportation problems has made possible the advance date, in December from the usual mid-winter social week-end of January. Also the increased hours of war work by many members and others who have always been ready to help the committee with this important hospital benefit, has been considered in planning the program during the pre-holiday days.

Mr. Burke, director was introduced to the members and he gave an additional resume of the dance, song and comic numbers, and word sketches of the colorful costumes and scenery. Also a description of the entertainment which was convincing that the 1943 money raising project would meet, in every way the high standard of the Cabarets of former years, yet be in keeping with the necessary curtailments brought about by the war conditions.

The rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, read the service at 8 o'clock, and a reception followed in the church parish house.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin and a finger-tip veil caught to a coronet of matching satin. She carried bouvardia with an orchid. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Barbara Mitchell, who wore a gown of peach tulle with a taffeta bodice and a peach coronet with a short matching veil. WINCHESTER 27—READING 0
61 Yard Touchdown Jaunt by West Featured Seventh Straight Win

Winchester High experienced little difficulty in racking up its seventh straight victory of the current football season, outclassing Reading High last Saturday at Reading, 27-0.

A big crowd, including many from Winchester saw Capt. Bill West and Company give another convincing exhibition of all around football that proved too much for the fiery Reading boys who started very fast but quickly slowed down after an error of judgment gave Winchester its first scoring chance soon after the opening whistle.

Reading rushed the kickoff to a first down at its 35. Fennelly and Pendergast reached the 43 in three tries and on fourth down the Scarlet gambled on a rush. Pendergast was stopped a yard short of first down, Winchester taking over on the Reading 44.

West quickly broke through for a first down at the 30 and Treacy reversed for almost another, being stopped just short of the 20. West drove through again to the 12, but here Reading dropped Treacy for a three yard loss.

Milliacci picked up four and then five, advancing to the Reading 6, from where West went over through center standing up. Bob Jackson split the uprights with a perfect placement conversion for the extra point with Buzzotta holding.

Soon after the following kickoff a bad pass from center drove Reading away back to its 28. Fennelly's kick was downed by Jim Tibaudo on the Reading 49. Treacy was held on a reverse and West got only three at center, but running from kick formation big "Monk" crashed to the Reading 36 for a first down as the quarter ended.

West hit off tackle for eight more and Jack Errico, who had replaced Milliacci got away around his own right end to the Reading 7. West once more plowed over inside guard and once again Jackson's placement try was perfect.

Coach Knowlton sent in his second and third stringers to play most of the second quarter, returning the varsity to stop a Reading passing flurry that had advanced to a first down at the Winchester 34.

Reading kicked to start the new half and Winchester drove from its 34 to the Reading 18 where it lost the ball on downs. A 14 yard end around run by big Bob Jackson featured this advance, which was stopped only momentarily.

Fennelly lost a yard on his first try for Reading and threw a pass which was intercepted by West, big "Monk" really driving along the sideline after the catch to reach the Reading 14. From this point, on a quick breaking sweep, West went over again standing up, and Jackson kicked the goal with another perfect placement.

Winchester's scrubs played out the quarter and remained in action in the final period until a questionable clipping penalty put the locals back on their 29. A bad pass on fourth down prevented a kick and Reading took the ball at Winchester's 39.

On second down the Scarlet fumbled, Harvey recovering for Winchester at the local's 39.

Here on a quick opening play on first down West broke through a huge hole inside his own right tackle to go all the 61 yards to pay dirt, simply outspeeding the two Reading safety men as he went between them. Jackson's attempted conversion kick was flubbed off to the right and the score was 27-0.

With an entire team of substitutes in action Winchester threatened to score just before the final whistle. Fran Poirier set up the chance with a pretty dash around right end from the Reading 35 to the 18.

There Poirier faded back and threw four passes, none of which clicked, though the last was squarely muffed by the potential receiver at the goal line.

Winchester had a big edge in statistics, rushing for 11 first downs and 269 net yards to five first downs and a net 12 yards for Reading. None of the locals' six pass attempts was good, Reading completing four of its 11 aerials for 47 yards. Each team lost 25 yards to the officials and each team fumbled once.

A feature of Winchester's defensive play was a great tackle by Melargni, who late in the game broke through a flock of blockers to pull down Perry for a 10 yard loss in a try at left end.

Principal Wade L. Grindle of Winchester High, wearing the uniform of a Lieutenant Colonel in the Army, attended the game and got a great hand from the local stands as he entered the field. The Colonel's progress across the field was slow as he stopped to shake hands with the local boys warming up on the gridiron.

HELD PRE-GAME RALLY

Recognizing the Stoneham football game tomorrow as a stiff contest, yet to be won, the Winchester High School Student Body held an enthusiastic pre-game rally in the assembly hall this morning, complete with cheers and speeches.

Featuring the rally was the first appearance of the newly organized Winchester High School Band, the members of which played selections for the rally under the direction of George Brown.

Coach Henry T. Knowlton of Winchester High School and Faculty Manager of Athletics Ray V. Hayward attended the meeting of the Massachusetts Interscholastic Basketball Association in Boston Wednesday evening.

UNBEATEN STONEHAM HERE SATURDAY

Strong Defensive Team Unscored on This Season

Two unbeaten schoolboy football teams will meet on the Shore road athletic field Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when Stoneham High plays its annual game with Winchester. The visitors are coming to town with a great defensive record, being unscored upon so far this season. Offensively the boys from the hockey town started slowly, playing scoreless ties with Ipswich and Lexington, but in recent games their scoring plays have been clicking and on last Saturday they snowed under Punchard, 19-0.

No less an authority than Winchester's assistant coach, 'Mannie" Palmer, makes the statement that Winchester will have no cinch with Stoneham tomorrow. Coach Palmer scouted Stoneham last week and reports that the visitors have a big rugged line from tackle to tackle, as big a forward wall as any Winchester has faced, some good ends and a couple of backs that will bear watching all the time.

Stoneham has a good passing game and if the locals have shown a weakness to date it has been on their pass defense. Coach Knowlton has been drilling his charges hard for Stoneham and expects the local boys to give another good account of themselves tomorrow.

Over in Stoneham the fans are all het up over their club and figure it has a real chance against Winchester. Some 300 of these fans are marching over to the game, giving their bus fares to buy war bonds. That is something not so common these days, and it looks like the visitors will have plenty of support.

Locals fans can always be depended upon, and so a big crowd looms with seating accommodations likely to be taxed. Get around early is our advice, to which we add the admonition not to miss this last home game of the current season. It may well be the best of the lot!

There will be a meeting for the discussion of the formation of a Winchester unit of the State Guard on Nov. 12 at 7:45 p. m. in the Little Town Hall.

McLAUGHLIN COVERED DOUBLE

It remained for "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe, to feature last week-end's regular matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association which were somewhat curtailed by the inclement condition of the weather. The secretary, hearing nothing from the President, figured there would be no play, so stayed at home. Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine camp, was still groggy from his oil rationing duties and also failed to report.

Mr. McLaughlin, after a week's layoff, which by the way was not satisfactorily explained, paced the field by once again having his name inscribed on the Association's honor roll reserved for those who cover double ringers. The fact that Royal P. Teele, perennial president of the Association, flung the double header that "Willie" covered in no sense diminished the latter's satisfaction in his achievement.

The covering occurred during a match in which Mr. McLaughlin and James Baldwin of the double-figure Winchesters went down to defeat before the rampant Mr. Teele and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham, who was late in arriving at the courts, mistakingly believing there would be no play. "Willie's" characteristic smile as his second shoe landed upon his first on top of the Teele pair around the stake broadened perceptably. Mr. Teele, like the sportsman he is "put it there" and led the cheers for his adversary's accomplishment.

Mr. Teele had poor luck in his first match when he paired with Roy Winchester against Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Baldwin. The President's showing was a sorry one and toward the last of the match Mr. Winchester was carrying him squarely on his back.

Nothing daunted the daughty President returned to action with the tardy Mr. Pridham and handed out "the works" to McLaughlin and Baldwin, despite "Wild Willie's double-covering proclivity.

By that time the Cullen Brothers, Johnnie and Benjie, had arrived at the courts and were persuaded to take on McLaughlin and Baldwin. The Stone avenue bearcats did all right, so much so that they split the first two games and actually led in the deciding contest for a time.

Facing a tidy deficit, Mr. McLaughlin pulled himself together and commenced to throw double-headers, pulling the game out of the fire to Mr. Teele's intense disappointment.

Just to show there was no hard feelings Royal paired up with Willie and took on "Thin Finger" and Mr. Baldwin, winning going away. Mr. McLaughlin's first two shoes were just over the foul line, but a meaning look from Mr. Teele, who "wasn't saying a word" quickly pulled the "Pride of Stowe" back into his usual ringer-tossing form.

Miss Shirley Brackett, daughter of Mrs. M. Richard Brackett of 153 Cambridge street, Winchester was recently pledged by the Lambda Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta sorority at Jackson College. She is a member of the class of 1946.

We quote: ". . . . stressed in his closing speech that 2,537,000 persons were on the Federal payroll and only 5,000,000 are in uniform." And Washington says we have got to do something about increasing our man power!

It appears that our item of last week claiming but one Winchester organization was omitted entirely from our columns was an error. We find that there were two, for the W.C.T.U. ladies have visited us and take exception to our claim of only one. We regret this omission exceedingly, and hasten to offer our regrets, trusting that our W.C.T.U. friends will bear with us in recollection of the many years' service we have performed satisfactorily in their behalf.

The Star has been surprised to learn that quite a few townspeople believe that the Winchester teachers were paid for their services in connection with the rationing of sugar, gasoline and fuel oil. They were not! Their service in each case was a voluntary one, contributed in some instances at considerable personal sacrifice. The teachers are not complaining. We haven't encountered one who begrudged the time and effort necessary to do what was a really arduous job. It is well however, to have no misconception of this, their latest service to the community. It was rendered free, and with a smile!

LOSES PATIENCE WITH THIEVING

Editor of the Star:

I have lost patience with the amount of thieving and vandalism going on about my home and I understand from reading the papers that this is a condition prevailing throughout the town. Within the past two weeks I have been robbed of gasoline five times and the U. S. Government stamp has been stolen from one of my cars. Different articles have been stolen from my garage and a short time ago a friend who left his car in front of my home while making a brief call lost a new robe.

The papers, from time to time, report that thieves and vandals have been caught by the police but, on payment of costs, they are allowed to go free to commit other crimes.

I am told of one case on the West Side where the daughter of a well known resident disfigured the automobile of a neighbor and, when apprehended, her parents were abusive to the police. The citizens of the town have not been allowed to know who these criminals are,—indeed it would almost seem that the police are expected to protect the criminals rather than to protect the law-abiding people and it is about time they were informed so that they may have a chance to protect themselves.

Respectfully yours,
George M. Bryne

COMMENDS SALVAGE COMMITTEE

October 30, 1942

Dear Mr. Leary:

I wish to express my appreciation and that of the entire Regional Salvage Organization, for the faithful untiring efforts you placed behind the recent drive to get in scrap metals. The results from your town indicate that you uncovered much scrap of which no one was aware. Indeed your contribution to the war effort is appreciated.

Through you, may we extend our thanks to the many volunteers who assisted you, and to the public, each of whom, to a greater or lesser degree contributed time, effort and thought, which enabled your community to make its fine showing.

Since it is impossible for us to write to everyone, we should appreciate your asking your local newspaper to extend this expression of thanks to your community.

Sincerely yours,
GURTH F. CHAMBERS,
Regional Conservation Manager

SENDS STAR SUBMARINE CACHET

Groton, Conn.
October 31, 1942

Editor of the Star:

I thought that you might be interested in receiving a cachet from our new victory yard. Every submarine has a cachet printed to designate three of its principal events. First, the keel laying, second the launching and then, finally, the last one when she is commissioned.

As you probably remember I was appointed, by the Navy department, senior inspector of ships' construction. Nearly a year ago and since that time I have been stationed at the Electric Boat Co., the largest manufacturers of subs in this country and probably, (we hope) in the world. This yard has launched thirteen submarines this year, which is certainly a step-up when you realize that it wasn't many months ago that they launched but one a year.

The "Star" is forwarded to me each week and it is surely read from cover to cover.

Best regards,
"ED" LARAWAY

Lt. Thomas H. Dunbury of 72 Clewley Road, West Medford, Army Air Corps flyer who fell to his death with six comrades when their plane crashed four miles outside of Venice, Fla., on the night of October 28, was widely known in Winchester, his father having been a native of this town.

Lt. Dunbury was the son of Thomas H. and Isabelle (Bassett) Dunbury. He was born 24 years ago in Medford, his father having moved to that city after his marriage. Still in Winchester are his father's stepfather, Fred Branch and his three brothers, Patrolman Clarence E. Dunbury of the Police Department, George and Harry F. Dunbury.

Lt. Dunbury left Medford High School in his sophomore year, but after working four years, returned to school and completed his high school course, graduating in the class of 1941. During that summer he took a course at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, necessary for his admission to the Army Air Corps, in which he enlisted last December.

He was first sent to Moody Field in Georgia, from where he was transferred to Page Field at Fort Myers, Fla. He was commissioned August 5 of this year and so proficient a flyer did he become that three weeks ago he was made an instructor for pilots flying bombers. Besides his parents, Lt. Dunbury leaves two sisters, Hazel and Jean, and two brothers, George and Frederick.

It is planned that representatives from the Board of Selectmen and various fraternal and religious groups, the parents and friends of the inductees and many citizens of the towns will be present for the purpose of saying an official goodbye to the men who are about to enter the armed forces in the defense of the country.

These inductees will be escorted by a uniformed detachment of the American Legion and will be marched with the Junior Band of St. Mary's Parish to the Winchester Railroad Station where they will board the 8.32 train for Boston changing there for the 9:05 train from Boston to Ayer, where they will be met and transported to Fort Devens.

At Fort Devens these men will be uniformed, subjected to certain inoculations and intelligence tests, after which they will be sent to a training camp. It is expected they will leave Fort Devens within a few days after their arrival during which time it will be difficult to communicate with them for lack of a suitable mailing address.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

At a joint meeting of the Cemetery Commissioners and the Selectmen the board was advised of the resignation of Albert A. Reed from the Board of Commissioners on account of ill health. Mr. T. Price Wilson was unanimously appointed to fill the vacancy until next town meeting, or until his successor is elected.

The Board approved the recommendation of Chief Gorman that Warren B. Osborne, 11 Clematis street, be appointed a substitute call man.

The following jurors were drawn:

Henry A. McGrath, 16 Rangely ridge, first session of the Superior Criminal Court at Cambridge, to report, Dec. 7.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Eight members were absent from the meeting of Nov. 5.

Recent callers at the home of Harry Winn have found that indomitable Rotarian in high spirits and in firm resolve to regain the health and strength which have been denied him for many weeks past. His fellow Rotarians should bear in mind that short calls on Harry will be most welcome and encouraging.

Harry Mueller has received a teaching assignment at the Harvard Medical School which will, unfortunately, prevent his attendance at our club meetings for the present. We extend our sincerest congratulations to Harry for the honor bestowed on him and look forward to his reappearance at our weekly gatherings.

The recent award of the Army and Navy E Flag to J. H. Winn's Sons for excellence in production work for the service has brought a feeling of elation not alone to our members who are connected with that company, but indeed to every club member. The announcement of this award today brought a well deserved and hearty round of applause.

Fernando Carbajal of Lima, Peru, president of Rotary International will be present at an interdistrict meeting to be held at the Hotel Statler on Wednesday, Dec. 9. It is unusual for Rotarians in this area to be privileged to meet Rotary's ranking executive and it is anticipated that Boston's largest dining salon will entertain a capacity gathering. It will be necessary, therefore, for each Rotarian attending to make reservations in advance. Further details will follow shortly.

Our guest speaker today was Mr. Ernest C. Cloon, Inspector of Foods and Drugs for the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Mr. Cloon's address told us of his experiences in maintaining and enforcing regulations for the preservation of healthful conditions as they affect articles of food sold in this Commonwealth, standards which in this respect have placed Massachusetts in the van of her sister States. This address ranks very high among the excellent presentations heard at our meetings and Mr. Cloon was roundly applauded.

Next week we shall listen to an address by John B. Ray of the Department of English History at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mr. Ray's subject will be Hitler's Second Defeat.

Percentage of attendance Oct. 29, 61.11 per cent.

Average attendance for October, 1942, 71.11 per cent.

"Adams and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, Nov. 8, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text is: "As by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous" (Romans 5:19). Other Bible citations include: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, throughly furnished unto all good works" (II Timothy 3.16, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is manifested only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek . . . The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understand spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained" (pp. 272, 547).

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

With his characteristically quiet, force and equally appreciative acknowledgment of the people's vote allowing him to remain in office to serve the district for another four years, District Attorney Robert Fiske Bradford, in his talk to the Women's Republican Club of Winchester Wednesday afternoon assured the audience that although the Republican victory was most gratifying still we must almost enter into a realm of metaphysics and political philosophy in order to thoroughly understand the apparent apathy and inertia of the voters in this state in Tuesday's election. However with their hearts and souls in the Solomon Islands, it is easily understandable. But good government must go on and people with the sterling qualities of Governor Saltonstall must be retained in office to carry us through the emergency and lay the foundation for proper post war reconstruction.

Mrs. Jos. Ryan, president of the Winchester Women's Republican Club presided and after thanking "Bob" Bradford for his genial kindness the audience was invited to enjoy cider, doughnuts and cheese, served by the Social Committee, Mrs. Wellington Caldwell, chairman; assisted by Mrs. Robert E. Hight, Mrs. Alan Hovey and Mrs. J. I. Broidy.

WINCHESTER LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

International Day Monday

No one interested in world affairs today will want to miss the all day meeting at Fortnightly Hall on Monday, Nov. 9. The Winchester League of Women Voters and the Fortnightly are combining to present an International Day. Commencing at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Phillip Woodward, Moderator will present Mr. William S. Howe, Miss Sarah Wambaugh and Mr. Arnold Metzger. They will speak on the subject, "The Axis Nations in a Post War World." Luncheon will be served at 12:30 in the Methodist Church and at 2 p. m. the speaker of the afternoon Mr. Pennington Hale will talk on "America's Responsibilities in the Post War Period." Luncheon reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Malcolm Nichols, Win, 1428. Guests and friends of both organizations are invited to attend.

Miss Mead, our ever helpful librarian, has a shelf now reserved for books of special interest to League of Women Voters members. SELECTMAN'S WOOD STOLEN

A quantity of seasoned firewood owned by Selectman James A. Cullen and piled on the Brooks property just over the line in Medford was stolen during the night last week. This wood had just been purchased by Mr. Cullen and he was about to move it to his wood yard on upper Main Street. The night after this theft the wood, belonging to the caretaker of the Brooks estate, was stolen from a barn on the property. The Medford police are investigating. Tire marks showed a large truck had been used in the theft.

JAMES C. McCORMICK,
Treasurer of the Town of Winchester

Winchester leaders get together to complete local plans for the 1943 campaign, Jan. 21 to Feb. 10, of the Greater Boston United War Fund.

Pledging their utmost to the success of the coming campaign with its five-partner appeal for the all-time needs of Community Fund hospitals, health and social service agencies; and the war time needs of USO-Greater Boston Soldiers and Sailors Committee, War Prisoners' Aid and United Nations Relief, they are (left to right) Edwin C. Whittemore, associate chairman in charge of publicity; Chairman J. Henry Smith, Jr.; President James Nowell of the Community Chest, who is associate chairman in charge of special gifts; and Harlow Russell, associate chairman heading districts.

WINCHESTER VISITORS AT THE SEAMAN'S CLUB

Seven Winchester residents attended the Open House at the Seamen's Club of Boston on October 31, the first anniversary of the Club under its new name and in its new location. Formerly the Sailors' Haven in Charlestown, a year ago it moved into Boston and opened a larger work for men of the sea in what had been the Exchange Club, 22 Batterymarch Street.

Within that year the tangible practical services rendered to seamen are told in astonishing figures: 100,000 persons have been in as guests and visitors; $75,000 has been left there for savings or safekeeping; 40,000 men have had a night's lodging; 282 survivors from sunken ships have found shelter, care and kindness there, and have been outfitted for return to the sea out of the 'sloppe chest' which is kept for such emergencies. The crews of seven torpedoed ships have been lodged at the Club. On such occasions every corner turns into use, and the handsome ballroom where guests had tea Saturday fills with double-deckers and has a thorough look of utility.

But normally it is for gay recreation, and 15,000 men have here attended entertainments and dances. Winchester supplies a group of young women, whom the hostess of the Seamen's Club, Mrs. Wallace Leonand counts on her staff of faithful young helpers at the dances and teas.

The visitors saw the Netherlands room, where portraits of the Queen and the Crown Princess, magazines in the Dutch language, Dutch titles at the mantel and long Dutch pipes in a fireside rack reminded mariners now without a homeland of those homes for whose sake they still have perilous seas. A similar sense of home is being built up for Scandinavian seafarers. Winchester people who would like to give or to loan for the duration pictures or bits of Scandinavian home furnishings or books in those Northern tongues may talk with Mrs. R. K. Miller, telephone Winchester 1969-J.

The Club is sponsored by the Episcopal City Mission, but its service knows no denominational frontiers, and it is women of various Winchester churches who give jams to the Club "Jelly Cupboard".

Winchester women may assist the activities of the Seamen's Club also by dollar-a-year associate memberships.

Mrs. Henry Sawyer, 4 Cabot Street, telephone 0041, is the Winchester chairman of memberships.

Guests at the Open House were Mrs. Henry Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Livingstone, Mrs. A. H. Farrell, Miss F. Louise Nardin, Mrs. R. E. L. Meehan and Miss Ruth Meehan.

MYSTIC MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The first regular meeting of the Mystic Mothers' Association will be held in the school hall on Tuesday, November 10, at 2:30. Mrs. N. Robert Voorhis, the new President, will preside.

Mrs. James B. Willing, one of our own Mystic mothers, will speak on "Why and what we read to our children". Mrs. Willing for many years has made a study of children's books and her talk will be of interest to all mothers.

Refreshments will be served under the direction of Mrs. John P. Moser. The new mothers who attend will find this a delightful opportunity to become acquainted with other mothers of their children's friends thus cementing the parent as well as the child to the successful undertaking of the school year.

Inasmuch as all mothers of the Mystic School are automatically members of this Association, it is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department was called to put out three fires over the week-end Saturday.

The first call was at 1:05 p. m. for a brush fire on Russell's Hill off Cross [illegible] in the Highlands. At 2:20 there was a fire in a pile of wood in the rear of the residence of Mr. Joseph W. Perry, 727 Washington St. The final alarm was from Box 144 at 7:45 p. m. for a woods fire which was in Arlington near Overlook Road.

BETHANY SOCIETY ANNUAL FAIR

The annual fair of the Bethany Society of the Second Congregational Church will be held Friday, Nov. 13. Tea will be served during the afternoon and supper will be served at 6 o'clock. n6-2t

NOT THE TIME FOR IT

At least that was what Officer Neil Kerrigan thought when he discovered three high school boys about to cut down a tree on Highland Avenue near Summit Avenue not long after midnight last Sunday morning.

Officer Kerrigan's attention was attracted by a light shining through some trees and making his way toward the glow he found three youths armed with an axe and saw them just about ready to get to work on a tree there.

Upon being questioned, the trio assured him that they had been commissioned by the owner of the tree to fell it, and having let Saturday go by without accomplishing the project, had decided to get the job done after a dance which they had attended.

Lacking the assurance of the owner and being just a bit doubtful of the trio's bonafides, Officer Kerrigan conducted them to Headquarters, where their fathers were notified and came for them. The story they told the officer turned out to be true, but the owner of the tree had not thought the job would be done at just the time chosen by the boys to carry it out.

As things turned out it was lucky Officer Kerrigan broke up the party for an investigation of lot lines disclosed the fact that the man who had ordered the tree cut down did not own it and the party whose tree it was decided he did not want it cut down anyhow!

HALLOWE'EN VERY QUIET

The quietest Hallowe'en ever, was the verdict of police and firemen last Saturday night as local youngsters pretty generally refrained from malicious mischief and hoodlumism.

The police had very few calls, there being one for a pane of glass broken in the door of the house on Wildwood Street, but whether children were responsible was not learned. Some boys moved some lumber from the yard of a house on Dix Street out in the street, but by the time the police arrived, in response to a call, the lumber had all been replaced in its original position.

The worst trouble reported occurred at Association Hall on Vine Street where a dance was in progress. Several boys and girls, who were refused admission because they would not buy tickets, broke one window and cracked another in the building. Their names were given to the police.

At Fire Headquarters everything was very quiet, there being but a single run during the evening, for a woods fire which turned out to be in Arlington. There were no false alarms.

ENSIGN TOMPKINS SUPPLY CORPS GRADUATED

Ensign Russell B. Tompkins of the Navy Supply Corps Reserve, was one of the 181 young officers who were graduated on Oct. 30 from the Navy Supply Corps School at Harvard University, having completed the rigid four months course.

As the result of his graduation Ensign Tompkins is no longer a "probationary" officer. He has received his "general service" commission and will be assigned to duty at an important shore activity.

Ensign Tompkins is the son of Mrs. Elsie Tompkins of Glengarry. He is married and makes his home at 21 Warren Street. He is a graduate of Winchester High School and Dartmouth College.

Dr. William F. Hickey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hickey of Edgehill Road, is stationed with the Medical Corps of the United States Army at Camp Livingstone, Alexandria, Va.

ASSIGNED TO ANOTHER NAVY JOB

Mr. Robinson Abbott of Everell Road recently returned to town for a brief stay after spending 19 months as United States Navy chief engineer on the construction of the Bermuda Naval Air Station. He has now been assigned by the Navy to Atlantic City, N. J., in a similar capacity.

Mr. Abbott, a graduate of Tufts Engineering School, class of 1918, played varsity football while at college and after graduation was for a number of years a member of faculty of the Engineering School at Tufts, coaching the junior varsity football team. Mrs. Abbott is making her home in Winchester and their son, David, is a second year student at Northeastern University.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Members and guests of the Winchester Art Association attended the opening of the club's current exhibit last Sunday afternoon.

The President, Lyle K. Bush, introduced the speaker, Frederick W. Coburn of the Lowell Courier and the Boston Herald, whose former residence in this town and friendship with Nellie Littlehale Murphy, the exhibiting artist, gave an unusually informal warmth to the occasion. Heightening this feeling was the presence of Herman Dudley Murphy, famous artist in his own right, who planned the placement of pictures of the late Mrs. Murphy and who chatted interestingly with many of his friends.

All felt the truth of Mr. Coburn's comment—the power of Mrs. Murphy to translate spontaneously the fleeting beauty of life to tangible form.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian and Mrs. William F. Hickey. Pouring were: Mrs. George Chandler Coit and Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff. The latter, daughter of Herman Dudley Murphy and Caroline Bowles Murphy, not only assisted her father but arranged the centerpiece for the tea table—chrysanthemums, pom poms, in rose rust hues, highlighted by white and accented with clusters of slate blueberries. The copper container rested on a chinese tray and was flanked by Czechoslovakian silver candlesticks.

The exhibit is open to the public throughout November on week-days from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

NONAGENARIAN VOTED TUESDAY

There would be no question of inclement weather affecting the size of any vote if all citizens were like Mrs. Benjamin F. Ayers of 18 Bacon St., ninety years young, who refused to be kept at home by Tuesday's rain, casting her ballot at the town hall, as usual.

When she called for the driver of the car, in which Mrs. Ayers rode to the polls asked her if she was going to vote in spite of the storm and received an emphatic acquiescence. It is a coincidence that Mrs. Ayers' mother cast her first vote at the age of ninety and when the fact was called to his attention, the then Governor Alvan T. Fuller sent her a beautiful bouquet of violets with a personal letter in which he wrote that he sent the flowers in memory of his own mother.

WINCHESTER OBSERVED ARMISTICE DAY

Exercises at Memorial—Service at Unitarian Church

Winchester observed Armistice Day on Wednesday with the usual brief exercises at the World War Memorial Statue on the high school lot at the traditional hour of 11.

Earlier in the morning Comdr. Frel Stevenson and a detail from Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, placed a wreath and flag at the base of the statue, and at 11 a detail from Winchester Post, American Legion, with colors and color guard, marched to the memorial and drew up before it. As the clock struck, Comdr. James W. Blackham placed a second wreath tied with Red, White and Blue ribbon, at the base of the statue and as the Legionnaires came to "salute", Trumpeter Larry Parker blew taps.

An Armistice Day service was held at the Unitarian Church last Sunday with the minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman preaching a special sermon in keeping with the occasion. The choir sang patriotic anthems with Judson Cooke at the organ.

A delegation of 30 Legionnaires, under Comdr. James W. Blackham, with their colors and color guard, attended the service, being escorted by Winchester's Sea Scout Ship under Skipper Louis E. Goddu. The Sea Scouts stood at attention as the Legionnaires entered and left the church.

The church was filled for the service which witnessed the dedication of a shield bearing the names of members of the parish serving in the armed forces. The shield, presented by Mr. Lewis L. Wadsworth, was displayed in the chancel of the church surrounded with a wreath and banked with flowers. Members of the families of those whose names appear on the shield attended the service. These names were read by Mr. Chapman as the congregation stood, preceding the dedicatory prayer. Thirty-nine men and one woman, Miss Nancy Robinson, who is in the WAAC's, are listed as already in service. Four other names awaiting call appear on the shield.

Mr. Chapman took as the subject of his sermon "Foundations of Freedom."

He reminded his hearers that the foundation stones were the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, the preservation of the Union in the Civil War, and the extension of freedom by the first World War. He declared: "As Lincoln said of our nation, so it is true of our world, 'it cannot exist half slave and half free'." He concluded: "If we expect to enjoy freedom anywhere we must extend it everywhere. Liberty and equality of opportunity must become world wide. The future of freedom is in our hands. Are we willing to sacrifice that it may become universal?"

LEGION TO SPONSOR LECTURE

For War Service Program, Thanksgiving Night at Town Hall

The illustrated lecture by Dr. Chas. H. Tozier at the Town Hall on Thanksgiving night, should be of special interest to all parents and friends of men in the armed services. The moving pictures and slides bring home to the audience as nothing else can, what we are trying to preserve for this generation and those to follow. It offers an opportunity to spend at least a part of this great National Holiday in consideration of what our boys are fighting for and at the same time to help the Winchester Legion members carry on their war service program. The Town Hall should be crowded to the doors with our citizens who can in this way lend a hand toward the success of a most worthy cause.

Legion Post Commander Blackham says, "With Dr. Tozier contributing his services, the Legion Committee working hard to bring out a capacity audience, the men in service will have an opportunity to observe if the townspeople are backing them up not only in words but also in deeds. Let us show the men in uniform we will not 'let them down.'"

Tickets at 50c each, no seats reserved, are on sale at Hevey's Pharmacy, Winchester News, Winchester Star, Winslow Press, P. T. Foley and Company, Vernon Shoe Clinic, McCormack's Drug Store.

LOCAL COMPANY MAKES RECORD

The 7500 employees of New England Power system worked throughout the entire month of October without a lost-time accident, it was announced by President Irwin L. Moore.

The Arlington Gas Light Company is a part of New England Power system and its local safety campaign was under the direction of a safety committee headed by Albert K. Peirce.

October, one of the most hazardous months for industrial workers, has for this reason always been selected as the safety month in the New England Power system and, in accordance with custom, workers this year embarked upon a campaign fully determined to go through the month without a single accident. Hitherto no perfect record had been achieved, although in 1935 the safety drive was marred by but one accident.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The federal government is allotting various equipment to the Civilian Defense Auxiliary fire force, and possibly some equipment to the medical units, depending upon the amount available. Mr. E. C. Sanderson has been appointed civilian custodian officer to serve under bond.

The State Department of Public Works is forming an Ordnance Company for heavy maintenance of equipment. It is not the intention to draw from city and town organizations, but rather to allow for placement of those who are to enter the service in a location where the service rendered will be of maximum use as well as give the man a broader knowledge of the work in which he earns his livelihood.

15 WINCHESTER MEN INDUCTED INTO THE ARMY

The Local Selective Service Board having jurisdiction over Winchester and Stoneham gathered together a total of 35 registrants this morning in the Winchester Town Hall who were under orders from the United States Army to report for active duty today.

These men had been ordered to report to their Local Selective Service Board at 7:30 a. m. at which time they were given some words of advice and encouragement by an official spokesman of the Board of Selectmen and by various members of the clergy from both Winchester and Stoneham. They were escorted to the Winchester Railroad Station by a uniformed contingent of the American Legion Post to the marshal musi of the Junior Band of St. Mary's Parish of Winchester. They boarded a special car attached to the rear of the 8:32 train for Boston in charge of the group. The inductees took the 9:05 train from Boston to Ayer where they were met by a detail from Fort Devens.

These inductees will be uniformed and given certain intelligence tests at Fort Devens to determine in which branch of the service they are best fitted to serve and will undoubtedly be moved to a training camp within a comparatively few days. It is requested by the Army that the family and friends of these registrants do not attempt to visit them over the ensuing week-end or attempt to write the inductees until they have received from the inductee an exact and complete address.

SELECTIVE SERVICE NEWS

The Local Selective Service Board is in receipt of advice that they are to induct 50 registrants into the Army of the United States on Dec. 30, 1942, who are to be taken from their registrants classified in 1A, Category 1, as far as possible and if the number of registrants in this classification is not sufficient to fill the call then they shall induct a sufficient number of registrants taken from their present classification of 3a, Category 2, which is comprised of single men who are judged to be the principal support of dependents

The Board is in receipt in further advice that inductions after the first of the year will be larger, rather than smaller, than those which have prevailed during the past months, in which connection and in order to fill these quotas it will be necessary to draw on its registrants, in rotation of their order numbers, who are married but without children.

Selective Service questionnaires will be forwarded to the 18 and 19-year-old registrants as soon as definite instructions are received to this effect from National Selective Service Headquarters, which is expected to be forthcoming immediately following the passage of the amendment to the Selective Service Act now before the national legislature. It is expected that if such instructions are received promptly enough that the induction of these registrants may relieve, to some extent for a limited time, the likelihood of induction of the group of married men without children.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The fall meeting of the society was held in the art gallery of the Winchester Library on Thursday evening, Nov. 5. Before a large audience, the president, Miss Russell, called the meeting to order.

After the various reports of officers, Miss Russell introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Richard B. Coolidge, former president of the Bay State Historical League. She had been entrusted with the papers of Professor Munro of Tufts College who had spent much time and study on the history of the Middlesex Canal.

Long before the Boston and Lowell Railroad was built, loads of goods and lumber from Lowell were drawn by horse or oxen down the old Woburn road to Winthrop Square, and thence lightered by boat along the Mystic River to Boston. In 1785, former Governor Sullivan and Loami Baldwin were the instigators of a plan to extend this water system by building a canal all the way from Lowell. They hoped to do it with the aid of the Merrimac River but the levels were not right, so it was the Concord River instead that helped. This canal was 27 miles in length and had 30 locks.

This waterway or canal went thru Charlestown, Somerville, Medford through the Brooks estate, along the Mystic Lakes on the site of the present Mystic Valley Parkway. The Aberjona River after it leaves the lakes shows granite piles on the bottom used for aqueduct and the farm house on Grove street, Medford was built of this stone. Then through Everett avenue, west of Sheffield road across Church street, Fletcher street to Willow street along the boundary of Wildwood Cemetery, Lake street and Horn Pond through Woburn, Wilmington, Billerica near Manning Manse where is the ruin of a stone aqueduct. Soon it reached the Concord River and later reached Lowell by way of Chelmsford.

But the Boston and Lowell railroad came into existence and this brought about the end of the canal which helped in its own destruction for on its surface in barges came the rails and ties for the railroad bed.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The November meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association was held on Friday, Nov. 6, at the home of the president, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer.

Present were Mesdames Bugbee, Coulson, Huckins, Jope, Monroe, Pond, Righter, Spencer, Thompson and Willing. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted. Mrs. Willing reported on a lecture by Dr. Menary, superintendent of the Boston City Hospital, on "The Hospital in Wartime." He said that the armed forces need many more nurses than they have at present and that hospitals are the fifth largest industry in America.

Mrs. O'Leary reported 262 visits for October, this year's total is 2040 as against 1825 for last year.

Dr. Z. Eileen Taylor gave an extremely interesting talk on Military Medicine, particularly stressing Blood Plasma, its derivatives and their uses. Briefly blood plasma can be stored indefinitely whereas whole blood can be stored only two weeks. Blood plasma was just used experimently in 1918, generally in 1927. It can be used on sea, on land, or in the air. It has been found especially effective in the treatment of burns and crushed wounds on the present war battlefields. The Red Cross blood donor center is very anxious for more donors. Appointments may be made by calling the Red Cross office or the Winchester Civilian Defense Headquarters.

Mrs. James F. Dwinnell, Jr. was elected to fill a vacancy on the board.

The meeting adjourned at 12 noon.

BETHANY SOCIETY ANNUAL FAIR

HOSPITALITY OR SERVICE MEN

In these busy days when there are many varied ways of aiding the war effort we call your attention to an opportunity where your whole family can participate and spend a most enjoyable afternoon. Under the auspices of the College Club the opportunity is offered you on specified Sundays to entertain service men.

Very enthusiastic reports have been received from the hosts and hostesses who entertained the first group of men. At the same time the men seemed to enjoy themselves. We have learned that in many homes the time passed so quickly and enjoyably that the last train to Boston carried extra passengers. A number of the boys have found time in their busy days to write notes of appreciation.

Would you like to entertain two or more service men next Sunday? We understand that there is still room for a few more boys in the bus which is to come from the Soldiers and Sailors Recreational Center on Sunday, Nov. 15. To add your name to the list of hostesses for next Sunday or a future Sunday you may call Civilian Defense Headquarters, Win. 0207 between the hours of 1 and 5 in the afternoon.

GOAL OF $2000

Collection work continues in Winchester in connection with the 1942 appeal of the Salvation Army which has as its goal $2000. This objective will assist that organization in making good with the forces of Uncle Sam on leave, as it did in the first World War and meet the advance cost of maintenance in units that meet the need of many unfortunates. Brother Thomas Woodruff continues his work of calling on men and women, at home and offices, so that all former friends shall have opportunity to give as well as to seek out scores of new donors.

William N. Beggs, attorney and chairman of the sponsoring committee again points out that due to the lack of man power for a large collection setup because of the Army's war plan and men going into war plants, it is desirous that many more hand or mail their donations to the campaign treasurer. He is G. Dwight Cabot, treasurer of the Winchester Trust Company.

The fifth general of the organization founded by William Booth said in asking for a "New Order" in spiritual values:

"I make no apology for asserting that the fundamental problem of life cannot be deal with by any political development or any adjustments in the realm of economics or in any mere human measures. That problem derives from the human heart and can be solved by spiritual means only."

General Carpenter added that a new world can be brought about only by new people and new people can be produced only through the transforming power of vital religion.

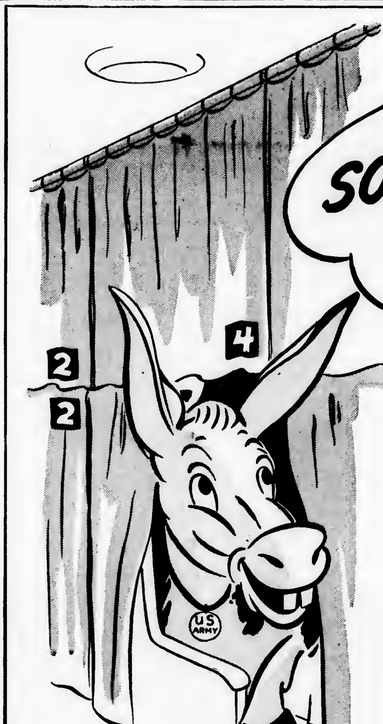
SOME QUARTERS EH SARGE?



COME, come, now Maud, old timer—you can't ride in a Pullman car. No, not even if it IS where your buddies of the Army are riding in comfort as they move about America getting ready to fight.

Yes, Maud, we know that in the last war you and the boys rode in the same cold and uncomfortable box car while you bounced from place to place. Sure, you liked being part of the "40 men n' 8 horses" but the men didn't share your enthusiasm for traveling companions.

Now that you've seen those comfortable berths where fighting men are riding, snug and warm while they sleep and move towards the fighting fronts, perhaps you won't mind our describing what you saw, to some of the folks who growl a bit these days about "the shortage of railroad transportation and the old cars".

What they really mean is there IS a shortage of reserved accommodations on trains. Why shouldn't there be when as many as 3,300 Pullman sleeping cars have been in use at one time riding fighting men in comfort? Isn't it better—and doesn't every patriotic American want it that way, instead of riding our boys around with mules?

We can't tell—until the war is won—just how many troops we've moved nor where we moved 'em. But we can tell that the Boston and Maine has done its share in moving, secretly and quickly, thousand and thousands, and more thousands of fighting men which the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Marine Corps have started on their way. That's where our best all-steel coaches disappear to from time to time while a few unthinking folks make wise cracks and ask "where'd ya get this Noah's Ark?"

We can tell those folks who are traveling for pleasure that we really don't appreciate their anguished howls when they can't secure a lower or a bedroom. Or when they squawk—and how—because they can't get a drawing room for one person who isn't traveling for any purpose more important than the semi-annual visit to Aunt Matilda in Kalamazoo. We want those berths and rooms for busy men on war business and for fighting men going to the front.

Travel for fun can well be done in the daytime—if at all—in mid-week and in coaches. Sure, it isn't as nice as what Americans are used to. But neither is an insect-infested foxhole in the Solomons. This is war, and the railroads know it.

We're stripped down for our job—and doing it well. The Army and the Navy tell us so. With the Boston and Maine (like all other American railroads) NOTHING matters today but winning the war. So, please be a patriotic American. Don't travel unless you must. If you must, travel in mid-week. If you have to ride in coaches and are crowded, be doggoned glad you aren't where the bullets are whizzing.

WINCHESTER 12 — STONEHAM 10

Poirier to West Pass Brought Victory in Final Minute

When you're casting up your list of major and minor prophets don't forget to place the name of Manford L. Palmer high on your big league roster. "Mannie" is of course Winchester High School's assistant football coach and he it was who predicted that Winchester would find Stoneham the toughtest team it had faced since it beat potent Swampscott, 7-0, in the second game of a highly successful season. He was right! And how he was right! Stoneham as it played last Saturday gave Winchester by far its hardest game of the year, only a great clutch by Capt. Bill West of a Fran Poirier pass enabling the local boys to come from behind and win a thin-edged 12-10 victory in the last 30 seconds or so of play.

Stoneham was red hot for the game and Winchester below its peak. The boys were not over-confident, rather if anything, a bit tight. They scored quickly and then couldn't seem to do anything right. Their chances seemed virtually hopeless when they finally came into possession of the ball with less than a minute left to play and the score 10-6 against them. The action that was crowded into those last few seconds of play was about as exciting as any your reporter can recall in 20 years of covering Winchester games.

Many will tell you Winchester did not deserve to win. Nonsense! Any club that can keep in there punching in the face of the tough breaks the locals got last Saturday and finally in the last minute of the game, with the chips on the line can come through with a scoring play, deserves its victory in our book. If you say Winchester was lucky to win, we'll agree and Stoneham has no one but itself to thank that its hiking rooters didn't take a victory home to the hockey town with them. If the light blue warriors had been less eager to give West "the business" in the waning moments, they might have prevented that final score. Two 15 yard penalties for unnecessary roughness, both richly deserved, placed Winchester in scoring position. Stoneham had been playing some pretty rough football all afternoon, and it was just when it most needed to keep Winchester at bay for another few seconds that its chickens came home to roost.

The biggest crowd of the season witnessed the game which had plenty of pre-game color. Three hundred or so Stoneham students and rooters marched over to Winchester, being met at the line by a Police cruiser and a group of local cheer leaders. Meanwhile the Winchester student body formed at high school and marched to the field, led by a bass drum and cymbals player.

After Winchester's game-winning touchdown the local stands emptied like magic as the big crowd surrounded the players of both teams, mad with joy. The Police finally cleared the field for the final play or two, but at the conclusion of the game there was some jostling as several visiting fans milled around Referee Hawkes. The prompt intervention of Officer Farrell prevented anything coming of this and there was no actual trouble. The best of feeling prevailed between the two cheering sections and between the halves the Stoneham girl cheer-leaders put on a swell show in front of the local bleachers, featuring a back-flipping girl that was very much "the goods."

Winchester was outweighed by the visitors quite a bit, especially on the rushline and its running plays got nowhere against the big fiery blue clad forwards. Stoneham played an habitual seven man line that shifted into a virtual nine man line, the minute the ball was snapped, with its two deep men never more than 15 yards and often considerably less than that distance back. In the face of this insurmountable opposition, Winchester chose almost continually to rush, seldom passing more than once in a sequence despite the fact that Stoneham was literally murdering its running game. Almost anytime a quick kick would have rocked the visitors back on their heels, but not once did the locals make use of this useful offensive weapon. Winchester always kicked on fourth down and Stoneham made it mighty tough for the kicker, though in the face of an avalanche of blue jersies that blocked one of his boots, West got off several corking kicks, one of which resulted in his team's first score.

Stoneham had to kick after the opening kickoff and West made a corking runback of Knight's boot from his own 20 to the Stoneham 35, where he was just knocked outside by the last Stoneham boy between him and a touchdown. A nice block by Jim Tibaudo helped plenty to get him away.

Winchester couldn't go anywhere and West got off a soaring spiral from midfield to the Stoneham 5 where the safety man attempted to make the catch over his shoulder. He muffed the ball which was pounced on by Ken Harvey for Winchester at the 1 yard stripe. On first down West drove over inside right tackle, but it was significant that he didn't break clear as usual, being driven back after he had crossed the line by a whole flock of blue jersies. Jackson's well-kicked placement was squarely blocked by the raging Stoneham linemen.

Soon after the second quarter opened Stoneham blocked a West kick at the 25 and threatened, but big "Monk" broke up the threat by intercepting a Knight aerial on his 5 and getting back to the 18. A bit later Buzzotta intercepted a Knight pass at his 20, reaching the 30. Stoneham took West's kick at its 49 where Harvey broke through to spill a visiting sweep for a seven yard loss.

There Knight dropped back and passed out in the left flat getting himself a first down when Linesman Bussell ruled interference on the play at Winchester's 46. Coach Knowlton didn't like that one and it surely looked sour from the Winchester bench, but it started Stoneham goalward and a moment later Knight passed again, to Jordan for a first down at Winchester's 23.

Freddie Hicks batted down one pass attempt, but on second down E. Angelo shot one out into Winchester's right defensive zone which Bob Treacy, in trying to bat down, deflected enough to permit Frank Howard to make a great twisting catch, keeping on down the sidelines for some 15 yards to score standing up. E. Knight kicked the goal and Winchester trailed for the first time this season, 7-6. It is dollars to the proverbial doughnuts that had Treacy not partially stopped the whizzing pass, Howard never could have reached it. Count this in when you are figuring up the luck of the ball game.

The locals got a tough break on the kickoff starting the new half. West was hit hard by the 200 pound J. Knight as he ran out to his 25, the ball being knocked from his hands and recovered by Stoneham. A Knight to E. Angelo pass reached the 12 but the locals stopped the threat on the 10 and took the ball on downs.

Soon afterward a penalty gave Winchester a first down at the Stoneham 20, but here an attempted reverse resulted in a fumble, Stoneham recovering exactly at the 20. Three plays got only 5 yards and on fourth down Emery Knight dropped back to the 25 and kicked a field goal from placement.

Just before the teams changed goals for the final quarter West got off a corking kick that traveled 60 yards from scrimmage to the Stoneham 4. Stoneham surprisingly rushed out to its 40 and J. Knight kicked outside at the Winchester 12. West broke through for 8, Winchester's longest gain by rushing, and then passed to Buzzotta for a first down at the 22.

Forced to kick, West's boot reached the Stoneham 40, where Stoneham foolishly tried to pass on fourth down and lost the ball instead of kicking Winchester into a real hole.

Stoneham broke through to drop West for a 5 yard loss and with Monk on the ground several Stoneham boys piled onto him in no uncertain fashion, drawing a 15 yard penalty for unnecessary roughness.

With the ball at its 35, Stoneham again piled onto West, drawing another 15 yarder that placed the ball on the 20.

Here Poirier, who had replaced Milliacci, faded and took a double pass to toss a forward out in the left flat. West was out there all alone, but Fran over-threw him. A second pass was knocked down by Center Connors.

On third down Poirier again took a double pass and fading, waited for West to get out into the clear. Then he tossed off a high wobbly pass that floated out in the left flat over the heads of two Stoneham boys to where West and Center Connors were waiting for it.

Connors was between Bill and the ball but big Monk tricked him by snagging the pass from the side, his only possible chance, and whirling about, dashed straight for the Stoneham goal, some 10 yards away.

He made it, but he could not have gone much further, though he probably would have had it been necessary. Jackson limped out on a sore ankle to try for the extra point and missed.

E. Angelo ran the kickoff back madly to his 30 and Knight passed to a first down at midfield as the final whistle blew.

Stoneham made six first downs to four for Winchester, rushing a net 65 yards to the locals' 22. The visitors got one first down on a penalty and Winchester, three. Stoneham completed five of 19 passes for 87 yards, having three intercepted. Winchester made two of 10 good for 22 yards. Winchester fumbled twice to once for Stoneham, and drew no penalties. Stoneham lost 35 yards to the officials and those two 15 yarders really hurt. The summary:

BELMONT GIRLS BEAT WINCHESTER

Drop Last Game, 4-2—Seconds Win

Winchester High School girls' field hockey team lost their final game of the season Tuesday afternoon to Belmont, 4-2, on Ginn Field. Between the halves of the varsity game the Winchester seconds blanked the Belmont seconds, 2-0.

J. Greene, Belmont's center forward was the star of the varsity game, scoring three goals, all in the first half. Two were scored from scrimmage in front of the Winchester goal, but the third was the result of a spectacular carry all the way down from a middle bully. P. Glazier, right inner scored Belmont's fourth goal in the second half.

The local girls outscored the winners after intermission Capt. Esther Capone banging in two goals from scrimmage. Their spurt, however, came too late.

Virginia Wallace and Natalie Dickson scored the second team goals in the second half after the teams had battled on even terms during the entire first period.

McLAUGHLIN AND THE SECRETARY

On the games won and lost basis "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe, and the usually unfortunate secretary, were the champs of last week-end's matches in the regular series of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association. Willie and the Scrivener won 5 and lost 1, taking two matches and splitting even in another which couldn't go to a positive decision because of the lateness of the hour.

That last match found the champs opposed by the president of the association, Royal P. Teele and Roy Winchester of the double figure Winchesters, currently engaged in developing a revolutionary pitch which turns not at all and lands right on the stake provided the aim is good.

Last week-end found the Winchester aim well over par for past performance and he it was that pulled the second game out of the fire for himself and the doughty president. Mr. Teele and Mr. McLaughlin ran very nearly neck and neck, with the president's ability to talk while pitching giving him any edge there was. At the other end Mr. Winchester outclassed the secretary, after first unnerving him by covering half of a double ringer that had been long in coming.

The secretary never recovered from that one and with the score 24-24, after he and "Wild Willie" had blown a 21-10 lead, was able only to match Mr. Winchester's close pitch for a no-count.

Mr. McLaughlin protested vigorously, claiming the secretary's shoe was a shade the nearer, but "Thin Finger" Pridham decided his hot argument with Mr. Teele by ruling the pitch a draw. The fact that "Thin Finger" used his thumb as an index and slid it in sideways on one shoe with the broadside used on the other did not escape Mr. McLaughlin's notice, but he was howled down by Mr. Teele and the score still stood at 24 all.

Mr. Teele threw up a sour one, but his second one went on sideways, to his well concealed delight. Mr. McLaughlin's first shoe was wild, but his second looked like a sure ringer, and would have been had it not been for a pesky prong that flicked it from the nearby stake for a no count. Mr. Teele's whoops of joy started the wild fowl from the nearby trees.

Royal had a pretty good morning all told, previously having won a tight-lipped match with Mr. Winchester from Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine champ and Howard "Foul Line" Wittet. A Butters double-header gave him and "Foul Line" the first game going away, the Maine State champ being red hot.

The second game went to 24-23 before Mr. Winchester put in two close ones to pull out the victory. Four consecutive ringers, all covered with four-leaf clovers and thrown as you might guess by Mr. Teele, decided the final game, Mr. Butters wilting under the shock. He too was unnerved by a close decision called against him with old "Thin Finger" again deciding the issue. Arthur hung on doggedly for justice, but lost out and really never regained his poise. His last word as he left early was to "Watch Teele in the clinches" and we thought we heard a muttered "dirty pool" as he got into his car.

Mr. Teele's rampant joy was only diluted by his great sorrow at the apparent lack of sportsmanship shown by the vanquished in the matches in which he participated. We have his word for it that neither Mr. Butters, Mr. McLaughlin nor the Secretary offered congratulations, despite the league mandate directing such felicitations, and he even claims that McLaughlin positively refused to "put it there" when the final match was over.

HIGHLANDS MEN'S CLUB TO HAVE HARVEST SOCIAL

Last Thursday evening, Nov. 5 the members of the Winchester Highlands Men's Club had the unusual pleasure of listening to a double feature of speakers. Mr. Joseph Campana, well known pioneer and builder of credit unions, gave a history of such unions and explained the valuable part they are now taking in the field of small, but profitable savings for the lower income groups. The material he presented was most revealing and interesting.

Th Federal Bureau of Investigation kindly offered the valuable time and service of their Special Agent George V. Doherty. Mr. Doherty's subject was The FBI and National Defense and he assuredly proved the inestimable worth of his department to our nation, particularly during wartime days.

Completed arrangements of the club's harvest social were explained by Richard J. Sullivan, chairman of the Activities Committee. The event promises to be an evening of prizes and surprises and all members are asked to bring their wives. There will be dancing, group games, prizes and refreshments.

Miss Gertrude McNally is a member of the alumnae council of the Fisher School, whien is holding its fall meeting next Wednesday evening at Winter Hill.

One of the few commentators we read in these days of New Deal propaganda, with its myriad of radio, magazine and news spokesmen, is Edson Smith, financial editor of the Boston Herald. His comment and analysis of world and political events we consider good. Hence we are impelled to quote a recent paragraph from his column which we feel every man in America who is in business will give hearty agreement to.

"No one who has not been close to the business world and its executives will ever have any real idea of the despair and gloom generated year after year from 1933 on as the New Deal shifted from one erractic course to another. It may be a tribute to American enterprise and initiative that it withstood a barrage of social and economic flapdoodle that at times seemed to threaten the whole fabric of American business."

We have been somewhat provoked during the past fortnight over stories which are being circulated to the effect that "the Star" is going out of business." It seems hardly necessary to deny such untruth, but since some persons innocent to the story and unfamiliar with the present-day ethics in New Deal methods of business may be deceived, we emphatically state that such is not the case. Do not hesitate to give the Star your advertising—it will be printed each week as during the past 62 years, and will receive our usual careful attention. There may be other publications which cannot continue to circulate. The Star will—and it will not be found blowing around the center streets nor filling dumps or railroad rubbish heaps. The Star gives you all the news of Winchester while it is news, and the same firm that started it will still continue to publish it. We trust this answers those who have been told otherwise.

Those who witnessed last Saturday's exciting football game between Winchester and Stoneham High Schools had good reason to be proud of the local boys and enthusiastic about the way in which they played the game. Technically they made mistakes as schoolboys, and even professionals, will, but disappointing as their showing undoubtedly was in this respect, in the larger and more important aspects their playing was all that anyone could ask. At no time did the Winchester boys lose their courage. Only a courageous team could have come from behind to turn what looked like a sure defeat into a glorious victory—and only a well drilled team with plenty of spirit could have avoided cracking in the face of the physical beating and bad breaks that were Winchester's portion during most of the afternoon. Above and beyond both of these admirable characteristics, however, was the exemplary sportsmanship which the local boys displayed throughout a game that was rough in the extreme. Their fine attitude and exceptional poise reflects the example and teaching of their coach, Henry Knowlton, who has done a great job since taking over at Winchester High two years ago. A great competitor and fine sportsman himself, he has insisted upon hard, clean play and the boys have reacted splendidly to his teaching. It would be hard to say whether they think more of him or he or them. The greeting given him at the pre-game rally last Friday went away beyond the usual ovation accorded a winning coach, being in addition a personal tribute from the student body to an instructor whom they not only like but respect. All of which adds up to a distinct asset for the school and town, and is a great thing for the kds themselves.

MUST CONVERT TO COAL!

Due to the critical shortage of fuel oil of all grades in the New England area, representatives of the O. P. A., O. P. C., W. P. B., and the Army Ordnance Department are planning a program in which actual insistence on conversion from fuel oil to coal will be made to apartment house owners, commercial establishments, and industrial plants, except where virtually impossible to do so.

These users, when obtaining rations from local boards, will receive a survey form to be completed in 15 days and returned to boards for careful check by local board engineers and architects, collaborating with W. P. B. and O. P. C. engineers.

TO THE EDITOR

I received a Thanksgiving and Christmas package from the First Congregational Church today and never did I receive anything quite so wonderful in all my life. We who follow the sea in an attempt to do our bit in this world conflict are in strange lands surrounded by strange peoples; or on the lonely seas out of all contact with our homeland for months at a time. When we receive a package such as I did today the urge to go out there and keep plugging away grows greater and greater. When the home folks go to bat for you the way they did for me when they sent that package you don't mind the hardships, in fact you welcome them: anything to show them that you are working hand in hand toward the ultimate goal, Victory.

I find it difficult to express my appreciation but I am sure that I speak for the thousands of my fellow seamen and officers when I say thank you.

Russell W. Joy,
Staff Officer U. S. Merchant Marine
American Hawaiian S. S. Co.,

I wish that you would print the above on the front page of the Star in order to show the man in the street just what the homefolks are doing for the servicemen.

Thank you

FREEZING OF TIRES

The attention of Winchester is again called to the fact that no sales of used tires may be made. This applies to the used tires in the hands of individuals as well as dealers.

The order freezing the sale of used tires and tubes became effective Oct. 1 and remains in force pending completion of the rationing program which will govern the use of these casings.

The freeze was put in effect to keep intact the present supply of used tires which will be needed in carrying out the Barush Commttee recommendations. It is important to have available for rationing not only the mileage that is represented by used tires with good tread thickness, but also the supply of recappable carcasses.

By this freeze order, the sale of unmounted used tires and tubes by consumers and dealers is forbidden, but the transfer necessary between a reapper and a consumer in getting a tire recapped, or between a dealer and a consumer in getting it repaired is permitted.

The order does not prevent the sale to a consumer of an automobile equipped with used tires. Moreover an automobile dealer is permitted to shift mounted used tires among his cars. However, used tires that are part of dealers' unmounted stock as of Sept. 30, 1942, may not be mounted on the dealers' cars during the freeze period.

FUEL OIL NEWS

Plans are now being made for the distribution of coupons which will be made at the Town Hall on Nov. 17, 18 and 19 from 4 p. m. to 8 p. m.

Any applicant who for any reason wishes to file an objection to the Board's decision is requested to do so by addressing a written statement of the facts to the Fuel Rationing Board at 7 Common street and requesting an appointment, if necessary, for a discussion of the case. These cases will be disposed of as expeditiously as possible, since the Board wishes to render immediate and adequate service to the residents of the town. Applicants are urgently requested not to try to interview members of the Board on Nov. 17, 18 and 19, the dates set for the distriution of coupons.

Attention is directed to the regulations of the Office of Price Administration which require that the recipient of the fuel oil certificate and coupons must sign the certificate in the presence of an agent of the Board. Therefore, residents are urged not to send other members of their families or messengers to the Board for the delivery of certificates and coupons, but in all cases to appear themselves.

WINCHESTER AT BELMONT

Tough Battle Looms with Husky Foe

Another tough battle looms for Winchester High School's unbeaten, untied football warriors tomorrow afternoon as the Red and Black rides over to Belmont to tangle with the Red and Blue of Belmont. The local boys may not be in too good shape after their bruising battle with Stoneham last Saturday and it goes very murh without saying that they will have no part of a cinch to keep their un-un record inviolate against Belmont.

Belmont will probably be the biggest club Winchester will face all season, but size doesn't mean too much to the local warriors who have already met some sizeable teams and generally expect to find Belmont on the hefty side.

Belmont broke into the limelight last Saturday with a stunning 27-6 victory over favored Brookline High. Assistant Coach Mannie Palmer, who scouted the game, while admitting the winners got the breaks, reports that the Red and Blue will be tough. They have come up with a 15 year old fullback, Johnny Kelley, who is rated very high and who scored three touchdowns against Brookline last Saturday. Winchester has a pretty, fair country fdllback in Capt. Bill West and the battle between these two should be something to watch.

Belmont's won and lost record is not too impressive. It beat Fitchburg, 13-12, and Brookline, 27-6. Weymouth shellacked the Red and Blue, 32-0, Arlington 28-0, and Framingham 19-6. Belmont has also lost to Norwood, but it should be remembered that these are strong teams, much stronger than those Winchester has faced, with the exception of Swampscott. The only real basis for comparison is Framingham, which Winchester beat 13-0 and to which Belmont lost, 19-6.

Coach Knowlton expects two changes in his lineup for Saturday. Either Poirier or Jack Errico will probably start at tailback instead of Jim Milliaeci, and big Shiny Amico will be at left guard spot for the injured Dave Holmes. Amico's 209 pounds should better the local front, which, however, hasn't been any part of porous through the season, no opponent having been able to score against it on the ground.

Aside from these changes the team will be as usual, with Bob Jackson and Jim Tibaudo at ends; Ken Harvey and Doug Cromwell at tackles; Harry Bouklas at guard and Gaspie Lentine, he of the deadly tackles at center. Old reliable Fatty Buzzotta will be at quarterback; Bob Treacy at right half and Capt. Bill West at full. Kickoff at 2:30 o'clock.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS WEDNESDAY

The Better Homes Garden Club is again fortunate to secure Mrs. Chester S. Cook, of Lexington, as the speaker at their November meeting, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the 18th, when she will give another of her series of instructive and interesting talks. The subject will be "Decorative Value of Christmas Wreaths and Garlands in 1942."

The meeting will be held in the Art Gallery of the library. Mrs. Cook will bring samples of finished pieces made from greens, which it is hoped will be available to all and she will also illustrate her talk by making others.

W. H. S. NEWS

Assembled in the high school auditorium last Friday for the purpose of rallying support for the cheering section at the Stoneham-Winchester football game, W. H. S. students were surprised and thrilled to discover the newly formed band playing a stirring march. Directed by Mr. George Brown, the young musicians set the pace for one of the most satisfactory pregame celebrations of all time. Cheered and applauded to the echo, the acclaim received by the band was rivalled only by that which arose spontaneously when Coach Knowlton was introduced.

With the audience incited to further frenzy by the well drilled cheerleaders led by Carol Crandall, President Charles Murphy of the Athletic Association introduced the speakers, all members of the squad, who were greeted with enthusiasm. Francis Poirier didn't know that he would be an accessory to the fact that Winchester would continue on its undefeated way when he spoke carefully about his team mates. Other team members who spoke well, if modestly, were Frank Buzzotta and Harry Boodakian. Alan Bugbee, manager of the Red and Black, gave the principal address, mentioning incidents in the football careers of Capt. Bill West and Coach Henry Knowlton. A look at the 15 year record of wins and ties showed the locals to be leading the parade. It seemed that a win over Stoneham was definitely needed to even accounts. The suggestion that a procession be formed at the high school to march to the game was favorably received and plans were made for the procedure to be followed.

The applause which greeted Coach Knowlton left no doubt of his popularity with team supporters and his well-chosen remarks were calculated to allay fears of over confidence and to give credit to a hard working, loyal group of boys.

The assembly ended with the band again evoking cheers as they played a march as the students returned to their home rooms. Those composing the band at present are Alice Parker, Robert Dickson, Harold Blenkhorn, and Richard Gallagher, clarinets; Larry Parker, Barbara A. Smith, Frank McEwen and Robert Cowie, trumpets; Robert Ramsdell and Charles Lovejoy, trombones; Anne Thompson, oboe; Judson Curtis, saxophone; Herbert Clement, Eugene Clennon, Dorothy Carr and William Eaton, drums.

Children's Book Week

Children's Book Week will be observed nationally next week, Nov. 15-22. This will be a gala time in the Boys and Girls Department of the Winchester Public Library.

Beginning this week Saturday and continuing during Children's Book Week there will be a large collection of new books for boys and girls on display in the boys' and girls' library. This will afford an unusual opportunity to see and examine many of the new fall books for children. These books will be put into general circulation the following week.

Mrs. Lloyd, Children's Librarian, will be pleased to talk with interested people about the books and to assist in making up lists of books for Christmas gifts for the younger members of the family.

Book Explorer's Schedule

The Book Explorer, Thomas C. Curtis of Kinderhook, New York, who will be remembered from last year, will be at the library Tuesday, Nov. 17, in Children's Book Week. Mr. Curtis will explore books for the Junior High School ages at 12 noon. At 1:30 he will speak about books suitable for boys and girls in the 5th and 6th grades and at 2.15 for the 3rd and 4th grades. At 4 o'clock there will be stories from many of the new books for the various ages.

In the evening at 8 o'clock Mr. Curtis will review some of the new children's books and have them at hand to show to parents and others who are interested in aiding children to select good reading.

There will be recorded music in the Boys' and Girls' Library every afternoon during Book Week from 3:30 to 4:30.

M. C. W. G. NOTES

The annual Guild Day concert at the Holy Ghost Hospital will be given next Sunday afternoon. Talent will be furnished by the many branches.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Mrs. John Jennings, chairman of the State Federation Division of War Relief, has received a request from an army field in this section of the country, for 3000 pairs of socks, 3000 helmets and 3000 sweaters. Volunteer knitters are urged to help fill this quota. If you do not knit, why not send a check or money order for there is a number of women who are good knitters but at present cannot buy the yarn. It would be extremely interesting if space and time permitted the telling of stories back of some of the requests.

Mrs. William Priest, chairman of War Relief, has been requested by the State Chairman to report the number of club members engaged in Red Cross work, in Civilian Defense activities, in British War Relief and other defense activities.

A tentative survey was taken and the result to date was: Red Cross sewing 58; Red Cross knitting 45, surgical dressings 24, Red Cross office work 1, Red Cross publicity 1, first aid 17, nurses aides 4, canteen 2, nutrition 5, emergency feeding 1, home nursing 6, camp welfare 1, evacuation committee 1, disaster committee 2, veteran's committee and seamen's club 1, salvage committee 7, telephone report center 5, air raid wardens 10, spotters 5, blood donors 2, British, Dutch or Russian War Relief, (knitting and sewing) 12, Mass. Women's Defense Corps and public speaking for the war effort 1.

A holly dessert bridge for the purpose of raising money to aid the Philanthropy Fund will be held Tuesday, Dec. 8, at 1:30 in Fortnightly Hall. Mrs. Roger Burgoyne is general chairman and she has aiding her in this philanthropic work Mrs. Geo. W. French and Mrs. Kingman Cass, tickets; Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes, decorations and Mrs. Benjamin W. Hills, refreshments. Do not miss the notices appearing from time to time about this party.

POSSIBLE SERIOUS FIRE AVERTED

An employee of the Arlington Gas Light Company discovered a fire in the basement of the home of Mr. E. Craig Greiner, 3 Myopia Hill road, last Friday morning, and sounded an alarm from Box 573, calling the Fire Department to the scene in time to prevent possible serious consequences.

Called to make some adjustments to a thermostat, the workman smelled smoke in the cellar and then called the firemen, who found that an overheated heater had set fire to some wood partitions and that a bad fire was in the making. The blaze was starting up and further delay in discovering it would have given it a chance to develop nicely.

As it was the damage was almost entirely confined to the basement, but the firemen had to rip out the partitions to get at and permanently put out the fire. The basement was badly damaged and there was additional damage from smoke.

We have the new Total War Battle Map in colors by Ernest Dudley Chase, authentic and practical. 50 cents at the Stationers.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church met on Tuesday, Nov. 10 at 2:30 o'clock. The president, Mrs. Theodore C Brown, presiding. The devotional service was conducted by Mrs Arthur G. Robbins and included a portion of Channing's essay on War.

Following the business meeting, Rev. Charles M. Crooks spoke for the Community Fund and emphasized our duty in supporting the regular philanthropies in war time.

The subject for the afternoon, Putting Religion to Work in this Community, was enlarged to include all communities and the speaker, Mr. John M. Kingman gave a most interesting talk. Our first objective he maintained was guiding youth in the right direction and stated that while we in the United States have the largest degree of democracy in the world, we can never reach the essence of democracy while there is race, political and religious prejudice. Our Recreational Center he said was filling a great need, was doing a good work which could be made more constructive and spoke in high praise of Mr. Davidson's endeavor in this project.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST WINCHESTER

Sunday Services and Sunday School, 10:45 A M
Wednesday testimonial meeting, 7:45 P. M.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson Street). Open daily from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Saturdays from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.; Sundays and legal holidays from 3 to 5 p. m.

"The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God." These words from Romans 8:19 comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, Nov. 15, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be: "Mortals and Immortals." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day . . . While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal" (II Corinthians 4:16, 18).
The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "In the illusion of life that is here costly and gone tomorrow, man would be wholly mortal, were it not that Love, the divine Principle that obtains in divine Science, destroys all error and brings immortality to light. Because man is the reflection of his Maker, he is not subject to birth, growth, maturity, decay. These mortal dreams are of human origin, not divine" (p. 305).

...and GAS is BEST!
Vegetables can be tempting delicacies, brimful of health-building vitamins and minerals. Steamed the "waterless" way on your gas range, they retain their natural flavors and precious food values. Meats, too, roasted at low temperatures in your automatic gas oven, retain healthful minerals and nutritional juices, while shrinkage is minimized. And when you cook this better way, you also save gas . . . a war production essential in America's Victory Program.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The first meeting of the Girl Scout Mariner Troop will be held Wednesday, the 18th of November at 7 p. m. at 3 Central green. All girls of high school age are invited to attend. Mrs. Marion Morse Hoover will be the skipper.

* * *

A double play to the advantage of the war effort and the world's children is being made by Girl Scouts throughout the country with their Victory Fund drive. War Saving Stamps contributed by the Scouts in the drive are a loan to the nation now when the money is needed and will be used later to provide relief for child war sufferers. The drive closes Thanksgiving Day and the national result will be announced on Dec. 7, the anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

On the basis of just one 25 cent war saving stamp, the Girl Scout national organization, which now has more han 725,000 members, will realize nearly $200,000 for the fund. The Winchester Council numbers 450 girl and adult members and on the 25 cent stamp basis, its contribution to the national fund will be about $112.

Large Spiral notebooks to jot down your Defense notes in, at Wilson the Stationers, Star Building.

WILL YOU CONTRIBUTE?

The annual Thanksgiving fruit, jelly and flower baskets which the Fruit and Flower Mission have distributed in connection with the Boston Welfare Committee, among the needy and shut-ins of Boston, have spread cheer and happiness for many who would otherwise have gone without.

The call has come for more contributions, of filled baskets than ever before and the friends of the Mission in Winchester are invited to give. Many have given regularly and it is hoped that others will make, as part of their Thanksgiving giving, a contribution of a basket, be it small or large.

The collection of baskets, or bags of fruit will be made on Friday morning the 20th. There are to be several places where the baskets can be left. One at the Jenney Filling Station on upper Main street, another with Mrs. Robert Baylies on Harrison street and with Mrs. Raymond Strawbridge on Washington street. These baskets will be carried directly to Horticultural Hall for sorting and delivery.

DISTRICT DIRECTORS APPOINTED

For Winchester United War Fund Drive

Behind the scenes Winchester's working organization for the coming drive in connection with the Greater Boston United War Fund is rapidly taking shape. Harlow Russell, co-chairman in charge of districts has announced the following appointments of District Directors:

District No. 1: Mrs. James Woolley, 5 Fells road.
District No. 2: Mrs. Stanley N. McNeilly, 8 Hancock street.
District No. 3: Mrs. Edwin C. Whittemore, 19 Hillside avenue.
District No. 4: Mr. Philip P. Wadsworth, 66 Oxford street.
District No. 5: Mr. W. Irving Plitt, 7 Rangely road.
District No. 6: Mr. Peter P. Albani, 20 Loring avenue.

Under the leadership of these District Directors the various team captains and solicitors are now being organized.

Though no one minimizes the importance of the work done by the 235 local social agencies included in the fund, there is certainly a greater stimulus to work and to give with the realization that this year's drive will also include such organizations as the United Nations Relief. The United War Fund drive for 1943 will include Greater Boston's share of national goals to aid the Chinese, Russians, British, Dutch, Greeks and Polish. Many residents of Winchester have been active in the support of many of these national relief movements whose interests are now combined in a truly United War Fund drive.

Even more close to the hearts of the many Winchester families with boys in service will be the fact that this year not only does the fund include the USO, but also the Soldiers and Sailors Committee. Now working closely with the USO, this committee is making Greater Boston a hospitable place for men on leave, serving approximately 200,000 men each month.

The 1943 Greater Boston United War fund campaign, which will take place in January, has as its slogan, "Give Enough — Soon Enough," and plans to maintain Winchester's fine record of participation in previous drives are actively under way, with the month of November set aside as the enrollment month, in which the 600 or more active workers required for the Winchester campaign will be actively organized.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB

The meeting of the Dartmouth Women's Club will be held at the Hotel Vendome on Wednesday, Nov. 18 at 2 p. m. Miss Emma Crocker Smith will give an interesting talk on "Facts and Fashions in Rugs." President Mrs. Parker F. Soule will preside.

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

The Building Commissioner has issued permits to erect or alter buildings on the property of the following for week ending Thursday, Nov. 5:

Reshingle jobs: 15 Grove street, 31 Dix street, 10a Winthrop street.

Repairing piazza at 6 Kenilworth road and 149 Highland avenue.

RED CROSS

Five Other Chapters Entertained

The Winchester Chapter of the Red Cross has had the great privilege of being host to representatives from five other Chapters. The occasion was an Institute for Home Service Workers conducted by Miss Adrina Barber from National Headquarters in Washington. The meetings lasted two days, and were held in the Art Gallery of the Public Library.

These Home Service Workers are the ones who handle all cases between a boy in the service and his family. The conference in which they compared problems, methods and accomplishments was extremeley interesting and of real help to all who participated.

Regional Conference at Hotel Statler

Fourteen representatives from the Winchester Chapter attended the big Regional Conference at the Hotel Statler, the last of October.

This was a conference for the reporting and planning of all sorts of Red Cross work, and several of the speakers had very unusual and interesting experiences to relate.

Speaker from Solomon Islands

One of the speakers was a Red Cross Field Director who had landed in the Solomon Islands with the first Marines who went there.

The chairman of the conference, Mr. Richard Allen, is in charge of all foreign and insular relief. He returned only three weeks ago from England, after two years spent there and in Unoccupied France.

Such men as these make one realize a little more the almost unlimited scope of Red Cross work.

Very Large Shipment Last Week

Every Monday a shipment of goods goes out from the Winchester Chapter, It is always large, but last week was even greater than usual. It comprised: 81,900 surgical dressings for the Army; five cases of sewing and knitting, all finished garments.

Quota More Than Doubled

Formerly we were asked to supply 40,000 surgical dressings a month. Now our quota has been raised to 86,000. Needless to say, we need more help. Can you join us? Please do!

ANOTHER BREAK AT SYMMES CORNER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Moffatt at 17 Ridgefield road was entered sometime between last Friday and Saturday evenings, the break being discoverd when the Moffatt's returned after a brief absence from home.

Access was gained by splitting the screen of a back vestibule door and lifting the hook then breaking the glass over a catch and jimmying a window. Articles of considerable value were reported as missing. The Police are investigating.

As examples of ways and means of encouraging interest in War Bond and Stamp sales, such suggestions were given as having church bazaars sell stamps. The George Washington School sold chances on a $50 bond for its scholarship funds. Many womens clubs such as Fortnightly sell stamps at every regular meeting.

Various organizations volunteered to take tables in the stores for stamp and bond sales during Nov. 22-29. Individuals volunteered to sell in Woolworths during the month of November.

Any groups who have not yet been reached are asked to telephone Mrs. Hatch, Win. 0836-W. The committee hopes to have every women's organization in town join in the effort to keep America going by aiding War Bond sales.

Men are dying for the Four Freedoms. The least we can do here at home is to buy War Bonds — 10% for War Bonds, every pay day.

We're Average People

"Our income hasn't jumped and it costs more to live.

"We know that we must buy more carefully to save more steadily, so that we will have something to depend on during the period of readjustment after the war. So we buy on a budget and save on a budget—the Co-operative Bank insured way. It's the sure way."

When Present Stocks of New Cars Are Sold, THERE WON'T BE ANY MORE! If You're Going to Need a New Car for Essential Work—BETTER APPLY FOR ONE NOW.

RIGHT now, Buick dealers can offer you selection from complete stocks of unused 1942 Buicks built before automobile production halted.

But every week that goes by increases the number of cars now in use that simply must be replaced in the very near future.

These cars can be replaced only from existing stocks. If you regularly drive a car in really essential service, don't take a chance on finding present stocks exhausted by trying to get the very last mile out of it.

Turn it in, for use by some other essential user who doesn't drive as much as you do.

New-car buying regulations are aimed at conserving both new cars and cars now in use. They also seek to put new cars in the hands of those who need them most.

Thus if you can show real need – now, while cars are available – you can get a permit to buy now, while cars can be bought.

Permits to buy won't do any good when there are no cars to be had!

Your Buick dealer will be glad to give you all information on new-car buying regulations and procedure. At the moment, he can make immediate delivery to qualified buyers on almost any 1942 Buick model.

But because Buick factories have been all-out on war production for many months, your dealer won't be able to help you when cars now available are sold.

Better see him NOW about applying for that car you're going to need.

IF YOU ARE INCLUDED IN THIS LIST YOU'RE ELIGIBLE

There are seven major classifications for persons eligible to buy new cars under basic rationing rules.

These include: (1) persons engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly; (2) physicians, nurses, clergymen, veterinarians; (3) car-owners engaged in public service, such as fire departments, public health, highway maintenance, etc.; (4) owners of toxicabs and other means of transportation; (5) farmers; (6) newspaper wholesalers; and (7) traveling salesmen in certain fields.

Your Buick dealer will be very glad to help you determine whether you come under the rules of eligibility. He will also be glad to help you fill out the proper applications.

Don't guess about your eligibility — see your Buick dealer now and make sure.

If you really NEED a new car—

When an amateur organization elects to do that riotous Kaufman-Hart lampoon of Alexander Woollcott called "The Man Who Came to Dinner" they have, even in normal times, their work cut out for them. The production this piece received at the hands of the Parish Players compels this critic to dust off a rarely used adjective and ejaculate superb!

The part of Sheridan Whiteside might be termed an actor's holiday, for it enables the actor (if he has the skill) to employ the entire bag of theatrical tricks and run the gamut of the lighter human emotions. It is no small compliment to Mr. Hart to say that his talents were equal to the feat. He turned in a splendid impersonation which made the audience feel that they were aitually in the presence of eccentric genius. In such a comedy of invective the timing must be perfect, and words shot out with unerring and machine-like rapidity and precision. For over two hours Mr. Hart achieved this, without visible slip. Surely a remarkable feat, of memory as well as versatility; one that must be seen to be appreciated.

As Maggie Cutler, his secretary, Lynda Nelson admirably suggested the efficiency, adaptability, firmness, yet rare sense of humor which a secretary of Sheridan Whiteside would most certainly require. A difficult part, played in a human and natural manner.

Mary Worthen as the actress intruder gave a smooth and polished performance, cleverly portraying the petulance and glamour of a spoiled darling of the theatre, to say nothing of the vagaries of artistic temperament.

Ivar Hakanson was an engaging and enterprising Bert Jefferson, and Dennis Playfair made a convincing Beverly Carlton, with a delicious bit of mimicry in his impersonation of Lord Bottomley.

Harold French was a persuasive Dr. Bradley, winning sympathetic laugnter with his appealing portrayal of frustrated ambition.

One cannot forget the impressive performance of Janet Dalrymple as the pathetic and mentally bewildered Harriet Stanley, whose eerie, wraithlike but well-timed appearances punctuated the play, giving even the great Whiteside cause to marvel.

Edith Chamberlin and Clifford Cunningham as the afflicted host and hostess enlisted the sympathies of the audience in their gradual progress from early enthusiasm through steadily growing annoyance to a final sense of outrage.

Roy Harris and Priscilla Morrill were a normal and likeable pair of youngsters, while Frances Russell as Banjo lent the final act a fillip all his own.

Dorothy Wills made an amusing figure as the patient, persevering, but in the end thoroughly disgusted nurse. She is indeed the Maude Eburne of our local stage. The other incidental parts were in all cases competently played.

Altogether an inspired performance which seemed to gather impetus as it swept to a triumphant conclusion, piling climax upon climax until the audience was weak with laughter.

The Parish Players feel deeply indebted to the guest stars, Francis R. Hart, Jr., who directed the play and so splendidly played the leading part, and Miss Lynda Nelson of Hollywood, for so graciously lending their talents, to the great enrichment of the performance.

On Saturday evening they were honored to have as guests ten men from the Officers Training School at Harvard, for whom a party was given in the ladies' parlor immediately following the performance, at which ten Winchester girls entertained as hostesses. Another party was held in the coffee room for members of the cast, with about 50 present.

Etching Defined

Etching is the producing of original pictures by drawing on a copper plate covered with an acid-resisting ground; allowing the drawing, whose lines have bared the copper, to be eaten into the plate by immersion in an acid bath; rubbing a stiff ink into the sunken lines and then taking from this, by means of an etching press, a limited number of proofs.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Twelve memebrs were absent from the meeting of Nov. 12.

Dues bills have been duly distributed and the response has been gratifying. Services connected with the war and with moiblization have made club expenses higher than usual. These efforts are made ungrudgingly and are viewed as a privilege rather than a burden. Such an attitude is reflected by the promptness with which our treasury is being reinforced.

More good news from Harry Winn whose condition continues to improve satisfaetorily. And none are more pleased about it than his fellow members of the Rotary club.

There was a meeting of the Board of Directors at the close of the regular meeting today, every member of the board being in attendance.

Circulars have been received and placed in the hands of club members, giving further details of the Inter-District meeting of Wednesday Dec. 9 at the Hotel Statler in Boston. This meeting is considered to be of such importance that it will take the place of the regular mid-winter assembly. Reservations will be necessary for those who wish to attend and they must be made soon. Wives and friends of Rotarians will be welcomed as guests. Dress informal. The purpose of this meeting is to welcome our distinguished visitor, Fernando Carbajal, President of Rotary International. Dr. John B. Ray of the Department of English and History at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was guest speaker at our meeting today. Dr. Ray's topic was Hitler's Second Defeat. He considered Hitler's first defeat to be his failure to invade England after the successful thrust at Dunkirk which resulted in driving the British from French soil. The German leaders second defeat, according to Dr. Ray, consisted in his inability to prevent the war from developing a second (Russian) front, thereby necessitating a major division of the German fighting forces. Dr. Ray is an easy speaker and a well informed authority. His address was received with evident pleasure and he courteously replied to questions from the floor.

Mr. Harry Pearson of Boston will address the club next week, Nov. 19.

Percentage of attendance Nov. 5, 1942, 80.56 per cent.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

All hands turned out on last Tuesday at Lyceum Hall when the Winchester Country Fair made its initial appearance. From every indication it has met with great success and it was given such a warm welcome by our many loyal friends that we plan to make it an annual event.

The tables flanking either side of the hall were most attractive in their array of beautiful articles. The stage was banked with potted plants, flowers and ornate bowls of ivy. These were on sale all day in charge of Mrs. John Doherty.

The food table or Woburn table was a thing of beauty with its various colored jellies, preserves and luscious looking cakes and pies. Mrs. Owen J. Logue, Mrs. Thomas Feeney and Mrs. John Shay report great success at this table.

The Medford table with a staff of capable workers under Mrs. Milton Sinclair had many beautiful articles which were sold out before night.

Mrs. James Carr, Mrs. John O'Leary and Mrs. James Heaton at the Winchester table were much gratified with their returns. They specialized in beautiful blankets and the selling of Christmas cards and wrappings. These were made by patients at Holy Ghost Hospital.

Kitchen cupboard table (Belmont-Arlington) in charge of Mrs. Alfred Viano and Mrs. Coren Hintlian, specialized in practical and useful things for the kitchen. These articles were in great demand all day.

Mrs. William A. Dolan, Mrs. Ortiano and Mrs. Hugh McPartland report grand success at the White Elephant table. An added attraction at this table was a fortune telling booth.

The junior members took charge of the doll table.

Jean Logue, Adeline Hintlian, Virginia McPartland and Margaret Mary Hanright proved capable alesgirls.

Luncheon, afternoon tea and supper were served throughout the day by Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. John Gorman, Mrs. Clarence Dunbury, Mrs. Harry McGrath, Mrs. Kathryn Doyle and Mrs. E. A. McDonough.

On Dec. 3 we are happy to announce that Rev. Michael Ahearn will give a lecture sponsored by the Guild at the high school auditorium. His subject will be Thank God for a Garden. Tickets are on sale by Guild members.

Do not forget the bazaar at Copley Plaza Hotel on next Tuesday, Nov. 17. Mrs. Michael Hintlian and members of the board will welcome any of our Winchester friends who care to attend. Many of our larger articles which are on chance books will be awarded at our own booth on next Tuesday.

FREDERICK L. CHAMBERLAND

SELECTMEN TO ERECT HONOR ROLL

The Board of Selectmen has voted to erect a temporary honor roll for Winchester men and women serving in the Nation's armed forces, and upon the suggestion of Chairman Ben R. Schneider has appointed a committee, the members of which will serve until the work is completed.

Mr. Schneider is heading the committee, the other members being Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, president of the Fortnightly Woman's Club; Arthur W. Dean of the Town Planning Board; James W. Blackham, commander of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion; and Edward D. Fitzgerald, past commander of Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The committee, after securing various sketches and prices, awarded the contract to the Rogers Advertising Service of this town, headed by Stafford Rogers, veteran of World War 1 and former commander of the Winchester Legion. In design the honor roll is attractive and serviceable as well as being entirely appropriate. It has a capacity of 1500 names and will contain about 700 names at present. These names will be protected by plate glass doors.

The honor roll will be placed in front of the town hall where the Precinct 2 bulletin is now located. In deciding to erect the honor roll the Selectmen feel that they will be satisfying a general desire to pay tribute now to the men and women who are representing Winchester in the armed forces of the Nation.

JOSEPH ALFRED DOLBEN

Joseph Alfred Dolben of 15 Lakeview road, a member of the Board of Cemetery Commissioners and former Selectman, died Thursday morning, Nov. 19, at the Winchester Hospital after a brief illness.

Mr. Dolben was the son of Joseph and Mary E. (Hughes) Dolben. He was born Oct. 15, 1879, in East Boston, and was for many years a leader in the building industry in that city. He headed the firm of Dolben and Company, distributors of building materials, which he founded in 1908 and which had offices at 209 Washington street in Boston. He was long a director of the American Face Brick Association and active in other trade organizations.

Mr. Dolben came to Winchester 30 years ago. He served the town as Selectman in 1920 and 1921, heading the Board as chairman in the latter year, and had served as Cemetery Commissioner since Sept. 22, 1941. He was past commander of St. Bernard Commandery, Knights Templar, of Boston, was a member of William Parkman Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and of Winchester Royal Arch Chapter. PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE TO ENTER THE SERVICE

Miss Hilda G. Hope, Board of Health Nurse for the Town of Winchester, has been granted a leave of absence for the duration and will enter the Army Nurse Corps of the United States Army with the commission of Second Lieutenant. She will report for active duty at the Lovell General Hospital, Fort Devens, Massachusetts on or about December first to await orders for foreign service.

Miss Hope, a Red Cross Nurse, is a native of Halifax, Nova Scotia. She is a graduate of the Winchester Hospital and the Simmons School of Public Health Nursing and has during the past few years held Public Health positions in Waltham and Sudbury.

While making her home in Winchester, she has been vitally interested in the civic and community activities of the town. At the time of her enlistment, she was teaching a course in Red Cross Home Nursing and was president of the Winchester Hospital Alumnae Association. Last week she was given a farewell party by the members of her Alumnae and friends at which time she was presented with a beautiful Waltham wrist watch.

J. H. WINN'S SONS RECEIVES NOTIFICATION OF ARMY AND NAVY PRODUCTION "E" AWARD

The coveted "E" pennant will soon be flown over the factory of J. H. Winn's Sons at Winchester Highlands.

The announcement of the award was made in the following letter received early this week from the War Department, Washington, D.C., to the men and women of J. H. Winn's Sons:

"This is to inform you that the Army and Navy are conferring upon you the Army-Navy Production Award for your fine achievement in the production of war equipment.

This award consists of a flag to be flown above your plant, and a lapel pin, significant of major contribution to victory, for every individual in your plant.

The high and practical patriotism of you men and women of J. H. Winn's Sons is inspiring. Your record will be difficult to surpass, yet the Army and Navy have every confidence that it was made only to be broken."

In 1906 the Navy instituted in the Fleet an award for excellence, which has been known ever since as the Navy "E". First awarded for excellence in gunnery, this was later extended to include outstanding performance in engineering and communications. An honor not easily won nor lightly bestowed, it became and has remained a matter of deep pride to the men of the service who receive it.

When the rising tide of war in Europe placed a premium on the production of war equipment, the Navy "E" award was extended to embrace those plants and organizations which showed excellence in producing ships, weapons and equipment for the Navy.

Then came Pearl Harbor—and with it a demand for war production such as the world has never known, and awareness that our fighting forces and the men and women of American industry are partners in the great struggle for human freedom . . . and on the part of all Americans a grim and enduring resolve to work and fight together until victory in that struggle is final and complete.

From that high resolve was born the Army-Navy Production award—which stands today as our fighting forces join recognition of exceptional performance on the production front. . . . of the determined persevering, unbeatable spirit which can be satisfied only by achieving today what yesterday seemed impossible.

High quality, a quantity of production in the light of available facilities are one of the prime factors in selecting awardees, and great care is taken that this award shall go only to those who have earned it.

BARTLETT PROMOTED

Edward A. Bartlett, popular-teacher coach at Winchester High School, who enlisted in the Army Air Corps last May, has been promoted from Lieutenant to Captain, and transferred to the Headquarters of the Second Air Force at Fort George Wright, Spokanne, Wash.

BOLTER — WILSON

At a candlelight ceremony in Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church on Saturday afternoon, November 14, Miss Jane Ann Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Price Wilson, of Rangely, became the bride of Carl Harold Bolter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Bolter of North Street, Lexington, formerly of Winchester. The chapel altar was banked with white chrysanthemums for the service which was read at 4.00 o'clock by the minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman. The church organist, Judson Cooke, played the bridal music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the wedding gown of ivory surra silk worn by her grandmother on November 15, 1882, having a fitted bodice, three-quarter sleeves and a draped skirt extending into a short train. Her full-length veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms and she carried white roses, bouvardia and two white lilies attached to a fan of rose point lace and mother of pearl carried by Mrs. James Putnam, grandmother of Mrs. Erskine White of Rangely, at the Belgian Court in Brussels in 1882.

Miss Bonney Wilson of Winchester was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a dress of pale green brocade with a sweetheart neck, three-quarter sleeves and a full skirt. Her bouquet of violets and pink sweet peas was cleverly shaped like the fan carried by the bride and she wore a tiara of the same flowers.

The three bridesmaids Miss Grace Creighwell and Miss Helen Davis of Winchester and Miss Barbara Fowler of Glen Ridge, N.J., wore dresses similar to that of the honor maid. Their bouquets were also fan-shaped but were of violets only and they wore violet tiaras.

George Wagoner of Hyannis was Mr. Bolter's best man, and the ushers were, Eric Weren of Pleasantville, N. Y., Richard Chase of Boston, Stuart Grover of Auburndale and Richard Bughee of Winchester.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the Ladies' Parlor of the church, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the bridal attendants.

After a wedding journey Mr. Bolter and his bride will make their home at 14 Russell Road in Arlington. The bride is a graduate of Abbot Academy in Andover and attended the Pierce School in Boston. Mr. Bolter prepared for college at Phillips Andover Academy and was a sophomore at Harvard when he left college to enlist in the United States Army Signal Corps.

Leads Team Last Time Against Woburn Thanksgiving

WINCHESTER AT WOBURN

Old Rivals Meet Again in Thanksgiving Football Classic

Winchester and Woburn High Schools, traditional rivals, will play their annual football game at the Woburn High School stadium at the rear of the high school building on Montvale avenue Thanksgiving Day morning at 10:15.

The tanners haven't much in the way of victories this year, having won one game (Wakefield, 14-0) out of eight. Woburn lost to Fitchburg, 12-0, Winthrop 13-0, Dedham 19-0, Melrose, 45-0, Saugus 20-6, Watertown 12-0, and Revere 39-0.

Ordinarily a win over Wakefield would be something, but the Scarlet hasn't been too potent this fall and only last Saturday barely squeaked by Reading, 6-2, a team Winchester beat 27-0 with the seconds playing a good part of the game.

Close followers of Woburn, however, feel that the Orange and Black really played good ball against Wakefield and made good showings against potent Saugus and rugged Watertown.

Both these latter are strong teams and as a matter of fact, Woburn has played a much harder schedule than Winchester all the way.

This fact should not be lost sight of in attempting to appraise the tanners' chances against the admittedly good team Coach Knowlton has developed at Winchester. Hennie, himself, isn't discounting Woburn two cents on a dollar. He'll settle for a win and figures his boys have got to play ball to get one.

Winchester has in this year's squad seven boys who have played in previous Woburn games. Capt.

OIL COUPONS GOING SLOWLY

While those who have been to the town hall for their oil ration coupons have come away with the idea that practically everyone in town was there during their visit, the Oil Panel has expressed concern because so few have been for their alotment sheets. At the town hall yesterday it was estimated that about 500 a day would be given out during the three day period, which closed yesterday, with nearly 3000 applications on file.

The town hall has been a busy place each afternoon, despite the fact that so small a porportion have called for their stamps, long lines forming outside the doors before they were opened.

The thive members of the panel, Frank Tuttle, Melville Kishler and Howell Stillman, were in charge with Mrs. Geraldine Waite and George W. Franklin as liaison officers. Superintendent James J. Quinn and High School Principal Samuel M. Graves supervised the work of the teachers and volunteers who gave out the coupons and there was a large and efficient corps of high school girls who also helped.

The coupons were filed alphabetically and distributed at six tables, the alphabet being divided into six parts to accommodate this system.

LIEUT. CLARK MISSING

Word has been received by Mrs. Robert S. Clark of Stevens street that her son Lieut. (j. g.) Rufus Campion Clark is "missing following action in the performance of his duty and in the service of his country."

Lieut. Clark enlisted in the Naval Air Corps in April 1941. He was trained at Squantum, and at Jacksonville, and Miami, Fla., graduating March 1, when he was awarded his wings and was commissioned an ensign. He was on duty for a short time at Norfolk Va. and last May was assigned to an aircraft carrier, where he has since been on active duty in the Pacific. On Oct 1, he was promoted to a Lieutenant (junior grade). He is 21 years of age.

Vern Miller, huge Harvard tackle of last year, now writing a sports column for the Boston Globe, visited Winchester Tuesday afternoon to see the local high school boys work out for their game with Woburn on Thanksgiving Day. He didn't see the team for Coach Knowlton didn't resume practice after Belmont until Wednesday.

WINCHESTER WOMEN AID WAR EFFORT

Women's War Bond Week begins on Nov. 22. This is a state wide drive to enlist women in the all important work of selling bonds and stamps to help the war effort. The retail stores throughout Massachusetts are cooperating and in Winchester the merchants have responded generously.

Women representatives of Winchester organizations have made themselves responsible for the various stores and will be seen dressed in a uniform of white capes with blue halo hats behind red, white and blue tables throughout the week. More than 75 Winchester women will take time out during this busy week to sell bonds and stamps. During December many more have signed up to sell in Woolworth's.

The organizations co-operating in the stores are:

Richardson's Market, Women's Guild of the Congregational Church, Chas. Tozier.

Woolworth's, [illegible] League, Mrs. F. B. [illegible]

Christie McDonald's, [illegible] Mrs. Roy Elliott and Unitarian Church, Mrs. Theodore Brown.

Mary Spauldings, Wellesley Club, Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard

Economy Grocery, Church of the Epiphany, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker

Little Shaker Glen, Winchester Garden Club, Mrs. Ghirardini

Winchester Theatre, C. D. of A., Mrs. M. G. Moffett.

Filenes, Christian Science Church, Mrs. Leon Hughes.

Anyone who has the time to help sell is urged to call either the representative of her organization or Mrs. Frederick Hatch, chairman of the Women's War Bond Committee at Win. 0836-W. Mrs. Hatch reminded her committee this week that now is the time to turn in filled stamp books for bonds. Three $5 books and $3.75 in cash will buy a bond now worth $25 on its maturity date 10 year from now. A war bond is a useful and a patriotic present for Christmas or for any anniversary. If the recipient wishes to exchange it for cash, he may do so within 60 days after the sale of the bond. If the donor wishes to buy a bond paying interest semi-annually, he may buy that type rather than one where the interest is added to the redemption value. War bonds are safe and sure investments. Buy them now. And instead of sending Christmas cards, send a stamp album with a stamp inside to start the habit. We can do our part here at home by buying the tools and weapons for our army to use.

COMMITTEE OF SAFETY CHAPTER D. A. R.

Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R., held its November meeting last Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William H. Cole, 54 Swan Road.

Miss Clara R. Russell, the Regent, presided and after a short business meeting introduced the speakers of the afternoon, Mrs. Herbert E. McQuesten, of North Andover, the State Vice Regent, and Mrs. George M. Moore, of Marlborough, the State Registrar.

Mrs. McQuesten gave an interesting talk on the subject of Genealogy, stressing the desirability of gathering together much unpublished information and putting it into proper shape for future reference. Many records of value have often been found scattered about in town halls and other places; tombstone and Bible records have also been useful in completing family histories.

Mrs. Moore, speaking on "The Second Chapter in the Life of an Application Paper," traced the course of an application paper after establishment of the applicant's eligibility.

A letter from Mr. Elliott F. Cameron, Chairman of the Winchester Chapter, The American Red Cross, was read thanking the Committee of Safety Chapter for its gift of money to help defray the expenses of filling the kit bags for the boys in the service.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. William E. Bottger, Mrs. Nestor W. Davis, Mrs. Frank J. Ebens and Mrs. Charles B. York.

WINCHESTER 18—BELMONT 14

Locals Come from Behind in Another Thriller

Winchester High beat Belmont High, 18-14 in an Arctic gale at Belmont last Saturday afternoon, coming from behind for the second straight week to snatch victory from defeat and keep its unbeaten-untied record intact.

The game was in some respects a repetition of the Stoneham battle, except that Winchester's game-winning surge was much more convincing and left you the impression that the locals have a world of latent power that you can't discount until the final whistle blows. They were red hot over those last thrilling seven minutes of the game and the statistics show that they more than held their own all the way.

Winchester made 9 first downs and 142 net yards by rushing to 6 first down for Belmont and 134 yards. In the air Winchester completed the impressive total of 7 out of 9 passes for 62 yards, while Belmont made one of three passes good for 20. Winchester lost 20 yards to the official and Belmont 30. Each team fumbled once, Belmont's paving the way to Winchester's game-winning touchdown.

The locals played without three of their regulars, big Bob Jackson, nursing a sore ankle, Dave Holmes, out with a Shore road knee, and Jim Milliacci, who is in temporary trouble with his schoolbooks.

Capt. Bill West was once again the game's outstanding player both offensively and defensively, his last brilliant touchdown dash being a gem of individual effort. Sharing honors with him was Bob Treacy, wingback, who played the best game of his career, making a great catch of West's beautiful pass in the end zone for the locals' second touchdown. Gaspie Lentine played his usual fine defensive game and Amico looked good in his new guard slot. For Belmont, Maginnis, Giblin, Holden and Palm were outstanding.

The locals scored first right after the opening kickoff which Buzzotta ran back 5 yards to Winchester's 30. After two short gains through the line West punted and Belmont lost 15 yards for roughing the kicker, giving Winchester a first down at its 40. Belmont was offside on the next play to lose another five yards, and West added 4 in two bucks at center. On fourth down West ran from kick formation to the Belmont 32 for another first down.

Here Treacy got away on a slick reverse to the Belmont 10. West drove through to the 5 inside tackle and then in two more smashes at the stiffening Belmont line, reached the 1. On 4th down the Belmont forwards converged to meet West again only to have Poirier slide off right tackle for the score. Lambiase failed to kick the goal at placement.

Belmont scored just before the end of the first quarter. An exchange of kicks with the gale behind Belmont drove the locals back to their 28, from where Poirier and West carried to the 34. On 4th down West dropped back to kick and his boot was blocked by Carroll. Holden was also through fast and scooping up the ball at the Winchester 6, stumbled and fell over the goal line for the touchdown. Mead kicked the point after into the score, giving Belmont a 7-6 lead as the teams changed goals for the quarter.

Belmont went ahead in the final quarter when it simply over-powered Winchester on an offensive drive that started in the end of the third period at its 29 and drove for five successive first downs to the Winchester 8. The Winchester linemen tried to dig in but their cleats wouldn't hold in the frozen ground and they were driven back by two bucks to their one, where they held once, but couldn't stop Kelly on 4th down for the touchdown. Holden added the extra point and Belmont led 14-6.

The touchdown was made at the beginning of the final quarter and West ran the ensuing kickoff back from his 25 to the 43. Treacy reversed for 7 and a pretty shovel pass from West to Treacy made it first down at the Belmont 40. Winchester lost 5 for too many times out, but West passed to Buzzotta at the Belmont 37, and then broke through the line for a bull-like run to the Belmont 13.

West passed to Jim Tibaudo for a first down at the 8, and then threw a picture-book pass down the middle to Treacy who took the ball in stride over his shoulder in the end zone for the touchdown. Jackson went in to try for the goal, but the wind blew his well kicked boot just wide of the upright.

Belmont downed Lambiase's kickoff at its 21. Three rushes reached the 30, but on 4th down a fake kick was fumbled and recovered by Fatty Buzzotta for Winchester at the Belmont 28.

On first down West drove toward center and then cut sharply around Belmont's left end. Buzzotta and Tibaudo teamed the fooled Belmont end and tackle in and West did the rest. Flattening one tackler with a terrific straightarm he ran right over another, driving with tacklers bouncing from his churning thighs until he finally went across into pay dirt for as fine a clutch run as you could see anywhere. Winchester tried to rush for the extra point, but didn't make it, being offside the first time when Buzzotta went over easily.

That ended the scoring, though with seconds left, West on 4th down, fumbled on a fake kick play and Belmont recovered at its 40. A long pass might have upset the locals' applecart for fair, but the attempted aerial failed of completion. The summary:

Bill West, pile-driving fullback, Fatty Buzzotta, rugged blocking back, and big Bob Jackson, burly left end, started against the tanners a year ago and will be starting Thanksgiving Day. Fran Poirier, starting left halfback, played in 1940 and '41, as an end, and Jack Errico, his replacement, also got in both those years. Gaspar Lentine, hard-hitting center, faced the tanners in 1940, but didn't get in last year, while Bob Treacy, got in last year but not the year before Jackson played as a tackle in 1940, and three mainstays of the team over the past three seasons will be all through when he, Buzzotta and West hang up their cleats around noon time the holiday.

Woburn's outstanding players this season are "Butter" Abreau, stocky fullback, who calls the plays, kicks and passes; Mike Shaughnessy, 175 pound left tackle; and Al Curran, 165 pound left end. Comes the holiday, however, and all the Orange players can be tough. Woburn is like that against Winchester.

On the record, however Winchester should be the favorite. The locals have won nine straight games, rolling up 166 points to 30 for the opposition, which it must be admitted hasn't been so hot in some instances. Still Coach Knowlton's charges have scored six shutouts and have yielded but one touchdown by rushing, that scored by Belmont last Saturday. Of the other three touchdowns, two were by the pass route and the other through a blocked kick. The remaining three points were registered by a placement goal. If Winchester could beat Woburn last year with Bob Roche, it should be no worse than an even bet to repeat without him in the Orange lineup.

CHILBLAINES AT PALMER STREET

Four frost-bitten members of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association turned out in last week-end's subarctic temperature to keep the regular series alive at the beach courts. Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine champ; Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham, the Association's secretary, and "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe and champion of all Nahnassett, were the warriors who braved the elements and contributed some of the best pitching of the fall until the icy chill worked into their marrow bones and slowed them up.

Royal P. Teele, doughty president of the Association, was unable to report, but a satisfactory explanation for his absence was received and no punitive action is envisaged. It was Mr. Butters who moved that the Teele defection be accepted in a spirit of tolerance and though McLaughlin's vote was without enthusiasm, the suggestion was unanimously accepted. Mr. Butters and the Secretary had looked forward to another crack at Mr. Teele and Mr. McLaughlin, but failed to accept the latter's challenge to pitch them single-handed, feeling no doubt that such a series would be too easy for Bill. With Teele pitching Arthur and the secretary believe they have a good sporting chance.

No champs could be crowned last week-end because a round-robin tournament was played. The only consistent loser was the secretary which shows that the matches ran very true to form. McLaughlin was red hot and Mr. Butters pretty fairly torrid. For a minute it looked like he had covered a doubleheader, thrown by Mr. McLaughlin. Arthur's second shoe however pulled "Willie's" second ringer off the stake to spoil the Butters chances for the hall of fame.

FIRST INDOOR BASEBALL

The indoor baseball team of Waterfield Lodge of Odd Fellows will get its first competition next Monday evening, following the regular business meeting of the lodge. Another feature of that evening will be the awarding of the prizes for the Thanksgiving turkey subscription. If you have not already subscribed there is still plenty of time. Following all this business and pleasure, V. G. Hakanson will supervise the serving of a collation. If you belong to any lodge of Odd Fellows, you are cordially invited to attend this, or any other meeting of our lodge.

Winchester's Tony DeTeso, lightweight center of the Tufts varsity football team, was the outstanding defensive player for the Jumbos in their winning game against their traditional rivals, Massachusetts State College last Saturday at Medford. Tony was in the thick of every play, making tackles all over the field, and once recovered one of the statemen's fumbles just as they were threatening to get going.

EPIPHANY MEN TO HEAR WISWELL

The Epiphany Men's Club will meet on Tuesday evening, Nov, 24, in the library of the parish house at 8 o'clock for what promises to be a session of unusual interest.

Mr. George C. Wiswell of Fletcher street, director of the Boston Rumor Clinic, an organization doing yoeman service in running down stories harmful to the war effort, will be the speaker. Formerly for several years commander of the famous Crosscup-Pishon Post of the American Legion, Mr. Wiswell is widely known in Boston veterans' and sporting circles. He has the reputation of being a forceful speaker. Refreshments will be served.

WINCHESTER MAN WON NAVY AWARD

The Star had a banner period over last week-end, adding no less than 27 new subscribers to its list from Friday to Monday.

Well—Thanksgiving Day has been given back to us again. The New Deal has finished playing with it. If this blessing in restoring the old New England day of observance may be attributed to the War effort, let us hope that the fuddle-duddle will be of some aid. We have our doubts —they haven't learned such-a-much in the last ten years. . .

Good fireplace wood at $30 a cord! Well, why not? As we said before, if a high school kid can pull down fifty bucks a week sitting around somewhere for forty hours, why should not any industrious boy or man get his out of the wood pile? He works harder for less money, and this is a money war

The Star's auto is not used much, as some of you who have seen us pushing the famous wheelbarrow over to the Post Office can testify, but we are just selfish enough to feel that if all non-essential autos were taken off the road and the transportation necessary to supply such gas was turned into carrying fuel oil, it might be better for health and comfort this winter. But it would cost a lot of votes, and votes are what put Germany and Italy in the War. Hold to our Social gains. If a little gas will bring a vote, what could be nicer? Maybe a little heat before the winter's over!

We quote a paragraph from a nationally distributed magazine: "To do that, OWI is putting what the Government wants the people to think into every newspaper (not all), radio and magazine; on every public platform, into every public school; into every movie theatre. The vast opinion-making machinery of our democracy was never before so totally mobilized. Yet this has not put 'ankle deep' Americans heart and soul into the War, and it is not likely to. It is unlikely because what the OWI has to offer is only a bigger dose—more movies, more radio, more literature, more speeches — of what has already failed."

A former well known Winchester man was in town last week on his way to take up a position with a firm manufacturing airplane parts. He was quite elated over his ability to aid America in its war effort. There was one fly in the ointment however, which caused him to froth at the mouth. The same thing which has gripped us in this war effort. He had to buy his position from a labor Union! Acording to his report it cost him $75 and he must continue to pay tribute to the Union as long as he is engaged in work! He did not like it at all. He was willing to help his Government, but he couldn't see why he had to pay tribute to a labor Union to do so. Neither do we. Furthermore we do not see why his employer should be compelled to pay another tribute to our New Deal's social gains of a substantial percentage of every dollar which it pays him. Both features run into a lot of money. How much does either help the war effort? To be sure he has the privilege of going on a strike if the ice cream vendor does not arrive on time, or if he does not like to work next to anybody objectionable to him, but he had not been indoctrinated into this New Deal democracy, whatever that is, and he does not expect ice cream on his job or care who he works with if he lets him alone and tends to his own work. We hear a lot about the results of the recent election being due to dissatisfaction with the New Deal war effort. That may be, but personally we believe it to be an expression of antagonism over flagpole politcis instigated to secure votes and hold to so-called social gains which are a gain for everybody except the fellow paying the bill. Hold to our social gains.

A DEMOCRACY'S THANKSGIVING

It is especially fitting that Women's War Bond Week should fall upon the same week as Thanksgiving. Nowhere in the world have women as much to be thankful for as in America. They have political, social, and economic opportunities open to them that are unknown to women of other lands. They enjoy a higher standard of living and a higher standard of education than any other women, and in ordinary times these standards have been constantly raised. Certainly in normal times women owe a debt of gratitude to the democracy that makes these things possible.

But these are not normal times. This is our first Thanksgiving at war in 25 years. Many women have sent their sons and husbands already; many more know that their men will go during the coming year. Yet this year especially women should be devoutly thankful. Unlike the millions in conquered Europe, we have an abundance to eat. Unlike the millions in war-torn China we have not been uprooted from our homes. Unlike the mothers in Russia, in England, and in Poland, we have not had our houses and our children blown to pieces with bombs. Unlike the pitiful residents of the Axis Nations, we have kept our faith in the dignity of man and in the freedom of the individual.

For these reasons and for many more women and men can be thankful. To show their faith in and their gratitude to our democracy, we urge them to stop at the Women's War and Stamp tables in the stores and purchase all they can, that they, too, may be stockholders in their own Victory corporation.

Your Lodge is doing everything possible to help in the war effort. Among other things, it has to date purchased over $800 in War Savings Bonds, and each month an additional $25 bond is purchased.

Those of you who are overseas may not have heard the news, and you may be interested in knowing that through the untiring efforts of our Grand Venerable, Joseph Gorrasi, the stigma of "enemy alien" has been lifted from those of our extraction who are not yet citizens of the United States. This action on the part of Washington in removing that stigma from the mothers and fathers of some of us, was one of the most uplifting bits of news—not only to us, but to all people in the United States—and such confidence on the part of Washington is truly appreciated. As you and I know, our parents were just a little too busy bringing up their families of splendid young men and women, and they—particularly our mothers—did not have time to think about naturalization papers. Today they are very, very happy to know that they are no longer restricted in their travels, and that they are not looked upon with suspicion. At the moment a very large group of them attend the Lincoln School evening classes, and before the war is over it is safe to say that we will have very few non-citizens of Italian extraction in Winchester. In the meantime, it is very gratifying to feel that their lack of citizenship papers does not mean that they are not loyal, upright Americans in every respect.

We who are still here at home, awaiting with impatience our opportunity to help you in this fight against world domination by the Axis, are sincerely proud of you and the important part you are playing in this crisis. Your name on our Honor Roll at the club house is one of which we shall forever be proud.

With our best wishes for all the good things that God sees fit to bestow upon you, we are

Fraternally yours,

TRUSTEES EXTEND WELCOME TO NEWCOMERS

"This is your home, welcome," might well have been the theme of the reception and open house given by the Winchester Public Library Trustees and the Library Staff for the newcomers to Winchester at the library on Saturday afternoon. A short program at 3 o'clock in the Art Gallery was a privilege to hear as prominent citizens and members of Town Boards and Committees gave short resumes of the work and obligation necessary to make Winchester the outstandi g delightful place in which to live.

Presiding over the program was Mr. J. Edgar Rich, chairman of the Library Trustees. His great wealth of Winchester information and many stories of years of the community background were drawn upon to give sparkle and interest to his introductions. And the speakers gave to the many newcomers present, a picture of a town rich in historic legend which has met the changing times with spirit and is now alert to a war geared program.

The question, Mr. Rich said, which is always uppermost in the minds of older residents, is why persons, of all interests, come to make Winchester their home. He told of his own introduction to the town some 50 years ago, and expressed the happiness which had been his family's in sharing and working for its betterment.

The first speaker introduced was Mr. Ben Schneider, who as chairman of the Board of Selectmen brought greetings from the town to all the recent new residents of Winchester. He said that his own experience as a newcomer was made pleasant by the ready friendliness offered his family and that he soon learned, that, in return, there were many ways one could serve to help keep this community a "fine place in which to live." Mr. Elliott F. Cameron, chairman of the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross, was the next to bring a message of cordial greeting and to tell in what way the Red Cross group meetings were bringing together the residents of the town into working units which had as their purpose the common good . That all were most welcome and urged to come and join in the huge task ahead of this chapter. At present the surgical dressing quota was the largest assignment. His figures of the raise in the demand for production were interesting to all. Twelve weeks ago the total of 25,000 dressings per month was asked and they did it. This was stepped up to 40,000 and this figure, too, was met by the help of all. And at present, he said, that 80,000 dressings are to be delivered this month. The invitation for newcomers to come and join in the work has been accepted by many and he expressed his appreciation to all.

Turning to the chairman of Civilian Defense, Mr. Rich asked Mr. Harold S. Fuller to tell of the increasing scope of civilian activities, wherein all residents are asked and expected to do their part. The new neighborhood units have brought about an interest in the "near by family" and promoted much good will. When 2,551 persons in a community like Winchester, are all organized for the good of all, there can but be more friendly feeling and co-operative action. This figure was interesting as Mr. Fuller said, it was 17 per cent of the population based upon the total of 3500 homes. These homes are protected by the plan, in operation working out of 354 posts. There come reports back to headquarters which is set up in the Police Station where all is ready for action—which it is hoped may never have to be put into effect.

Due to the absence from Winchester of the School Committee Chairman, Mr. Geoffrey C. Neiley and the School Superintendent, Mr. James J. Quinn, Mr. Rich introduced Mr. Robert F. Lybeck, former chairman, to speak in the interest of the schools and to extend the welcome of the committee. Mr. Lybeck gave an interesting summary of the physical appointments of the many fine school buildings and told of the constant striving to make the teaching and the program of the studies keep abreast of the most accepted methods. He assured the newcomers that their children would receive the necessary attention to properly locate them in their classes and asked all to visit and become acquainted with the teachers and the school program.

In Mr. Rich's introduction of Mrs. Robert M. Keeney, president of the Executive Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association, he expressed what all parents realize, that a happy relationship between the schools and the home goes far in making a wholesome community. And he asked Mrs. Keeney to tell of the value of the organization since it started as a Mothers' Club in 1894 in the Congregational Church. She told of its three important objectives, of its neighborhood school organization and its annual scholarship given to high school graduates, qualifying for the award, which assists in tuition payment in some school of higher earning. That all mothers of children of school age are automatically members of the Association in the Chapter of the school where the children attend And Mrs. Keeney was very urgent that the new mothers offer their services and take part in the social and co-operative work of the Association.

Also speaking for groups which are a part of the fine and cultural background of Winchester activities were Mr. Lyle K. Bush, president of the Winchester Art Association and Miss Clara Russell, president of the Winchester Historical Society. Mr. Bush said that the membership of the Art Association was open to all residents and that the monthly tea and opening of a fresh exhibit in the Library Art Gallery was a delightful hour of color and beauty needed by all in the busy war work day. Miss Russell outlined the many interesting programs presented in State organizations and at meetings of the Winchester Historical Society. That the enjoyment of the town is greatly increased by the knowledge of its background and the current history of Winchester was recommended to all to read and learn of the "Patron Saint" of Winchester, of which Mr. Rich had referred to, in his remarks of the early days. The Society became active with a historical room in the library in 1933 and an invitation to visit the room and join the Society was cordially extended.

Mr. Rich said he was introducing the next speaker as a long felt wish, to present him to the community as the "Man of Town Meeting". All citizens know the contribution made, over a long period, in introducing and planning Town Meeting action for town betterment by Mr. William Lewis Parsons. He told these newcomers of town meeting procedure and the value of the old simple way of conducting a community's business. He said that from 1850 until 1928 the full meeting was possible and not too crowded to conduct Winchester's annual affairs. But following the vote for the women the hall was far too small to admit all voters and the Representative system, still in use, was adopted. To plan a fair distribution of representatives the ideal number of 240, was considered to be the number which should be in a deliberative body that we could have. The number from all six precincts is 233. He urged the new residents to attend the Spring Town Meeting and realize that as residents of the town their privilege was to take their place, in time, among those who worked for the best town government Representing the organization of the town which is interested in the welfare of the people and its institutions was the Commander of the American Legion Post., 97, Mr. James A. Blackham. Of interest to all present was his facts of the operation of the most recent obligation of the Legion, brought on by the war and civilian defense, which is the Observation Post on high land west of Winchester. This post is one of the most important ones on the near coast and since the hour of the announcement of the horror of Pearl Harbor it has been manned each 24 hours a day, by men or women. All organizations are giving definite time to this most important work and due to the earnest work of Chief Observer, Stafford Rogers, there has been constant watch. Throughout the nation the American Legion has taken this responsibility and man the posts. Veterans among the newcomers are most welcome at the Legion House and to take part in all its activities.

The last introduction made by Mr. Rich was a pleasant one as he took great pleasure in presenting Miss Corinne Mead, the Librarian. Her work, in the short time she has been here, to make of the Public Library the center of cultural programs and an information center of many interests has greatly increased the attendance at the library. Miss Meade, also invited the guests to use the library freely and to come to the staff for any special information they were in search of. She closed the program by asking all to linger, visit the Children's Room, the Stack Balcony and to sign the Library Guest Book. She said that the newcomers open house had been an afternoon so delightful that an annual date was to be established, but in the meantime all residents were urged to discover their library and come often.

LOCAL TALENT TO PRODUCE "NICE GOING"

Monday evening will find over 100 Winton Club members and their friends at the high school auditorium to vie with one another in the tryouts for places in "Nice Going," the Winton Club annual hospital benefit performance, the evenings of Dec. 11 and 12.

Snappy songs, clever dances and laughing skits make up "Nice Going" one of the smartest productions for local talent, yet presented here. Produced by the John B. Rogers Co. of Ohio under the direction of Mr. Alfred Burke, this year's offering will be given as a straight stage show rather than the usual Town Hall Cabaret. Wishing to co-operate on transportation difficulties and heating curtailment, the date has been advanced. Mrs. E. George Pierce, chairman has announced the committes as follows:

-Advertising program by Mrs. Raymond C. Dexter, assisted by Mrs. E. Craig Greiner.

Distribution of tickets in the capable hands of Mrs. Stephen B. Neiley, assisted by Mrs. W. Campbell Ross and Mrs. Burton J. Gove.

The make-up for the show under the direction of Mrs. Robert S. Clark.

The stage properties under the management of Mrs. Wayne B. Thompson.

Interesting plans will be announced concerning the intermission in the gymnasium, Mrs. Frederick E. Ritchie has charge of decorations and refreshments will be served by Mrs. A. A. Kimball's committee. The members of Mrs. Pierce's committee who are inviting all local talent, who would enjoy taking part in this important hospital benefit, are Mrs. Percy Bugbee, and Mrs. Chandler W. Symmes. The costumes are in charge of Mrs. Kenneth P. Pond, assisted by Mrs. E. B. Badger.

Previous to the announcement of a box office, to be opened in the square, Mrs Ross and Mrs. Gove will be glad to give further information concerning tickets for the show. There is considerable talent in Winchester and never has the opportunity been offered for such a large audience to witness the finished production of color and rhythm presented each year by the Winton Club. In spite of the greater number of seats in the auditorium the attendance at this popular entertainment is expected to tax the hall.

WINCHESTER CONGREGATIONALISTS ASSISTING

Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor Organist and Choirmaster J. Albert Wilson and the Chancel Choir of the First Congregational Church are assisting in the observance of the 300th Anniversary of the founding of the First Congregational Church of Woburn.

The celebration has been in progress all this week and is of general interest because Congregational churches in this and other towns and cities hereabouts stemmed from the Woburn church.

Concuding the observance is an anniversary musical service to be held on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 22 at the First Congregational Church in Woburn at 4:30. Mr. Wilson will play the organ and lead the combined choirs of the Woburn and Winchester churches. As director of both he has arranged a program of old fashioned anthems which were favorites in colonial days.

Dr. Chidley will be in charge of the service, being assisted by the pastor of the Woburn church, Rev. Robert Monson Grey. The preacher will be Dr. Raymond Calkins, retired Congregational clergyman who is known as one of the outstanding speakers in that denomination. The public is cordially invited and it is expected that many from this town will attend.

ALICE DIXON BOND'S BOOK TALK

Alice Dixon Bond, fresh from lunching and dining with literary personages such as Louis Bromfield and Lloyd Douglas, came with an armload of books to the Winchester Public Library Hall on Tuesday morning, Nov. 18, to share her interesting contacts and her wide reading with the subscribers to her series of book talks. She urged members to patronize the sale of books for Christmas giving which would take place, through the co-operation of Mary Spaulding's Book Shop at the Dec. 8 meeting and which will benefit the same Winchester Mt. Holyoke Scholarship as does the series of book talks.

Miss Corinne Meade, Winchester librarian, invited those present to visit the display of children's books arranged in the children's library for Book Week and to attend Family Night movies on Friday nights at the library.

Mrs. Bonds reviewed briefly William Dana Orcutt's Escape to Laughter, James Thurber's My World and Welcome To It and, in greater detail, Our Hearts Were Young and Gay by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, the story of the authors light-hearted trip to Europe in the 20's.

In more serious vein were the rest reviewed. Lloyd Douglas' The Robe, tells the story of what became of the seamless robe of Jesus after his crucifixion. Susan Glaspell's new novel, Norma Ashe is considered by the author as the epitome of her own life. Two books by newspaper correspondents are Cecil Browns Suez to Singapore, the story of his own experiences in the East, full of horror and at the same time, human courage, and Howard K. Smith's Last Train from Berlin an inside reporting of the gradual cracking of German morale.

Single tickets for the December 8 talk and book sale may be bought at the door that morning.

Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."
One of the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included in the Lesson-Sermon, reads as follows: "To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear, this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true. Thus we may establish in truth the temple, or body, 'whose builder and maker is God'" (p. 428).

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Thirteen members were absent from the meeting of Nov. 19.

Attention has been called to the attendance report of our District 196 for the month of October, 1942 as submitted in Governor Walter's recent letter to the clubs under his jurisdiction. It is of interest to us because it makes us aware of the distressingly poor record of the Winchester club. There are several reasons for this and it is not the intention of the writer to castigate absentees for conditions which are unavoidable, but there is evident need for greater effort to make up for attendance missed at meetings of the home club.

Our guest speaker at the current meeting was Mr. Harry J. Pearson, director of the Seamens' Club of Boston, whose subject was The Waterfront in Time of War. The Seamens' Club, an outgrowth of the former Sailors' Haven, began its modern career when it took over, some six or seven years since, the building which formerly housed the Boston Exchange Club. We were thereby enabled to realize something of the tremendous assistance which the Seamens' Club renders to the men who follow the sea.

In accordance with our custom it has been decided to omit the meeting which would regularly fall on the Thanksgiving holiday. And so we anticipate our next meeting on Thursday, Dec. 3 with especial pleasure.

Percentage of attendance, Nov. 12, 66.67 per cent.

REV. BENJAMIN ANDERSON TO LEAD NEGRO SPIRITUALS

At Senior Forum Sunday Night

On Sunday evening at 5:30 the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will hold their monthly supper and service group meetings.

At 5:30 the Forum members go into one of the activity groups which concentrate on war service in one form or another. The Settlement House group plans their work for the following month, for the young people of this group go into Boston every Saturday to carry on the club activities for the children of the West End Community House.

The Relocation Group is making toys for the children in the Japanese Relocation Camp for Christmas. These children are Congregational American citizens and the work is carried on by the Congregational Denomination.

The chorus group is preparing to put on a vesper service at Camp Devens on Sunday, Dec. 13. The Parish Bellringers of this church will ring for this service.

The Post War World group is a discussion group based on urgent attempt to think about the basis of a just and durable peace.

Surgical dressings are made for the Red Cross.

The War Service Group will send out Christmas greetings from the Forum to the men in our church who are in the service.

The Race Relations Group is entertaining some negro young people from the Gloucester Memorial Church of Boston. The young people from Boston will arrive in time for supper and will be guests of the Forum during the evening.

Negro Spirituals

Their minister, the Rev. Benjamin Anderson, will tell the stories of some of the spirituals, and will lead our Forum in the singing of them. He and his group will sing several special numbers from among the Negro Song Lore.

Bill West, president of the Forum, will preside at the evening's meeting.

POSTMASTER ASKS COOPERATION

If thousands of our soldiers, sailors, marines and civilian friends are not to be disappointed at Christmas time this year, the public must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly. The best efforts of the Post Office Department alone cannot be enough, in view of wartime difficulties faced by the postal system. The public must assist.

About 25,000 experienced postal workers already have been taken by the war services. Arrangements are under way to add thousands of temporary personnel to postal staffs, but this man power is hard to find and is inexperienced. Facilities of railroads and air lines are heavily taxed by movements of huge quantities of war materials and personnel. Extra trucks are almost impossible to obtain. Winter weather, hampering transportation, is beginning.

The deadline already is past for mailing gifts to Army and Navy personnel overseas with assurance that the parcels will arrive by Christmas. The New York post office reports that in late October, 350,000 such parcels were handled daily in that office alone.

The Post Office Department is making strenuous efforts to avoid such a terrific jam as it faced in 1918 under similar conditions, during the First World War. It can succeed in those efforts—and avoid many heartaches for its patrons—if the public will cooperate by mailing early.

THANKSGIVING NIGHT AT THE TOWN HALL

If the activity of Winchester Legion Post members is any criterion, the audience will tax the capacity of the Town Hall on Thanksgiving night to hear Dr. Tozier and see the colored movies and slides illustrating his lecture, The Americas-Our Heritage.

The sale of tickets is going well but is not up to Winchester's reported interest in our fighting men. The distribution of service flags and other activities of the Legion War Service Committee cannot be continued without support of the townspeople. Here is full value for your contribution to these worthwhile activities with the added knowledge that you will have a definite part in carrying them on.

Tickets at 50 cents each, including tax, are on sale at the following stores: Hevey's Pharmacy, Winchester Star, P. T. Foley and Co., Purtle's Drug Store, McCormack's Drug Store, Vernon Shoe Clinic, Winslow Press, Winchester News.

Legion members are counting on parents, relatives and friends of men in the armed services and all others in backing this effort to the limit by the purchase of tickets.

Spurred by the formal opening of Campaign Headquarters at 70 Federal street, Boston on Wednesday of this week, local leaders of the 1943 United War Fund Campaign intensified their recruiting for workers and now announce that over 150 Winchester residents have already signed up to help in one capacity or other during the coming campaign in January.

At the opening of the campaign headquarters in Boston, which was attended by Governor Saltonstall, Mayor Tobin and other dignitaries, Winchester was represented by J. Henry Smith, Jr., Winchester chairman, and Harlow Russell, Winchester associate chairman in charge of districts.

Mr. Smith, Winchester chairman, has just announced the appointment of Mr. John Stevens as associate chairman for Winchester in charge of worker training. Mr. Stevens, who makes his home at 6 Oneida road is a teacher at the Winchester High School and his educational training well fits him for this position.

FIRE AT WENDELL STREET HOME

The home of Mr. Peter McNulty at 48 Wendell street was threatened by fire Wednesday afternoon, the prompt arrival of the Fire Department preventing the blaze from assuming serious proportions.

The fire started in the cellar and was burning briskly, when the firemen arrived, in response to an alarm from Box 47 at 2:28. Several lines of hose were laid and after a sharp fight the fire was brought under control with damage being confined to the cellar, except for one small area where the flames ate through the sill of the house. Smoke from the fire was very heavy and contributed largely to the damage done.

GARDEN CLUB TALKS OF CHRISTMAS GREENS

The workshop program when presented by Mrs. Chester S. Cook of Lexington, is one of the most popular which the Better Homes Garden Club offers the members. The second in her series of talks, The Decorative Value of Christmas Wreaths and Garlands in 1942, given with a very generous display of beautiful samples of Christmasy decorations was the program at the November meeting in the Art Gallery of the library, on Wednesday.

Mrs. James A. Newman, president presided and asked for several interesting reports. Mrs. Harold Twombly reported a meeting which she had attended and told of the deep appreciation of the officials at the Lovell Hospital at Camp Devens, for the summer flowers brought to the camp, regularly by garden club groups. This Christmas they are again anticipating the many wreaths and garlands to decorate the wards and rooms of the men. Contributions of money will be accepted by the Garden Club, to assist in this work. There will be two wards cared for by the Better Homes Garden Club. Mrs. Gilbert, treasurer, told of the club cooperating with the Women's War Bond Committee in the sale of stamps. The club representatives will sell stamps on Dec. 24 in one of the local stores.

The December meeting will be on the 16th when Mrs. Harold H. Given will talk on Christmas in Norway.

There will be a very important meeting in Waterfield Hall, Common street on Monday evening, Nov. 30, for Observers of Post D-45, Ground Observation Corps, Aircraft Warning Service, U. S. Army Air Force.

St. Mary's Band will give a concert from 7:30 to 8 o'clock.

The principal speaker will be Major H. M. Baldridge, U. S. Army Air Force, commanding Boston Air Defense Wing. U. S. Army official motion pictures of the service will be shown. Questions as to procedure will be gladly answered. This is an opportunity for every observer to learn more of the service and what it is accomplishing.

COLLECTION CONTINUES

While the collection work continues in The Salvation Army's 1942 appeal in Winchester, there is a continued request to the effect, former friends and new donors of that organization mail or hand their contribution to the campaign treasurer. He is G. Dwight Cabot, an official of the Winchester Trust Company. This plan has the approval of William N. Beggs, attorney and chairman of the sponsoring group. Brother Thomas Woodruff is the collector.

The sponsoring group interested in the work of the Winchester Emergency Fund of The Salvation Army is hopeful for a record goal so that more money shall be available in caring for those who meet temporary setbacks.

M. S. P. C. A. AUXILIARY NOTES

A beautiful November day called together a large group of interested townspeople for our annual food sale. Among our guests were the wife and daughter of the late Peter Justine Pasche for 14 years Norwegian Consul at Boston. Mrs. Marie Figvid Pasche, and Mrs. Charles Farnsworth.

The tables were attractive with fall flowers and a note of warmth and hospitality was apparent to all as they entered the home.

The gifts of friends and the proceeds from our sale make us realize that our charity is fitting in to the town's program of worth while work. Many thanks to all who assisted.

Vegetables can be tempting delicacies, brimful of health-building vitamins and minerals. Steamed the "waterless" way on your gas range, they retain their natural flavors and precious food values. Meats, too, roasted at low temperatures in your automatic gas oven, retain healthful minerals and nutritional juices, while shrinkage is minimized. HOW TOUGH ARE THE JAPANESE

"How Tough Are the Japanese," was the subject discussed by Miss Eunice Harriet Avery in her second lecture of the Today as History series given last Wednesday at the Wyman School Hall under the sponsorship of the Winchester Smith College Club to support its scholarship fund.

The speaker stated that the Japs have gained control of 4,000,000 people and 3,800,000 square miles during this war, because of their long careful preparation and our snobbish attitude of belittling the dirty little yellow things. The Japanese have long observed in foreign countries and are naturally adaptive and have in many cases improved upon the patents they have copied. They are dangerous fighters because of their total disregard of life and suffering. They are happy to die for the Emperor, and because of their training in hardship, and lack of creature comforts, they scorn our western standard of living and our many taken-for-granted luxuries.

The third lecture in the series will be given at 2:30 p. m. on Dec. 9 when the subject, Britain in the Fourth Year of War; Can the Empire Take It? will be the subject.

SCIENCE LECTURE AT MEDFORD

This lecture will be delivered by Mrs. Louise Knight Wheatley Cook, C.S.B., member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

WINCHESTER 13—WOBURN 3

West and Jackson Score in Great Second Half Drive Abreau Kicked Placement

For the third time in as many starts, Winchester High School's opportunist football team came from behind in the ooze and mud of the Woburn Stadium to defeat their traditional rival, Woburn High, 13-3, Thanksgiving morning before a holiday crowd that was exceptional considering the miserable weather conditions.

The game got underway in a drizzle of rain which fell during much of the first half and the gridiron, water-soaked by two days and nights of steady rain, was very treacherous. In view of conditions both teams played good ball, Woburn being red hot in the first half while Winchester came back strongly in the second.

Winchester threatened to get going only twice in the first half, a fumble stopping the first drive after the locals had reached the 17 from the Woburn 39 and the second halting as a pass was knocked down on fourth down with a scant two yards to go following an advance from the Winchester 49 to the Woburn 25.

Except for these hints of offensive strength Woburn was in the driver's seat up to half time and in the waning minutes of the second quarter went out in front. Stopped dead on the Winchester 38, Pavao, who did some nice punting, kicked across the local goal line, and West returned the kick from his 25 to the Woburn 34.

Jim Tibaudo was down fast and the Woburn safety man got back only 5 yards before the charging end downed him. Tibaudo was clearly clipped on the play by a Woburn boy and as he threw up his arms to try to keep his balance he drove into the Woburn runner. Umpire Halloran missed the clip entirely but called a pushing penalty against Tibaudo, giving Woburn 15 yards and the ball at Winchester's 46.

The Orange suddenly came to life. Abreau cut back over center for 6, and Smith reversed nicely for a first down at the 30. Gaspie Lentine just failed to hold a pass attempt for an interception and Abreau once again cut over center for 7, repeating the play for a first down at the 20.

Smith added 3 on a reverse, but time was running out and on second down Abreau dropped back to his 30 and kicked a placement goal, low and hard, the ball just clearing the left hand corner of the goal posts 10 yards behind the goal line.

The half ended five plays later with those three points looking pretty big to all but those who remembered Winchester against Stoneham and Belmont.

The new half started with both teams having to punt after the kick-off and Abreau bringing the crowd to its feet by running back West's nice quiek kiek from his own 20 to his 42. The Tanners couldn't go and Pavao booted a low spiral that bounced past West and finally rolled dead on the Winchester 9. Here the locals galvanized into red hot offensive action.

West picked up 2 on a fake kick and then on what looked like the same play, Buzzotta sneaked around his own left end for a first down at the 27. West faded and shot off a whizzing pass down the middle that Tibaudo hauled down with a great leaping catch in the midst of several Woburn players on the 43.

On a half-spinner West drove through to the Woburn 42 for a first down and Milliacci added a yard at tackle. A long touchdown pass down the middle to Treacy was thrown too far, but West drove through center for 8 and there was a yard to go for first down with the ball at the 33.

West took the ball and drove into the line just inside right tackle. A huge hole opened and Bill got into the clear. Straight-arming one Woburn tackler almost out of the park the big fullback lengthened out and drove straight down the field, 33 long yards for a touchdown, going over standing up. Jackson's try to convert was blocked.

Pavao ran the kickoff back to his 25, but on first down a reverse went

MRS. ANNIE A. PAGE

Mrs. Annie A. Page, widow of Eben Blake Page, died Wednesday morning, Nov. 25, at her home, 84 Bacon street, after a short illness.

Mrs. Page came from an old Maine seafaring family, her father having been Capt. Moses Gay, skipper of a clipper ship, and her mother, Lucy M. (Adams) Gay. She was born in Castine, Me., Aug. 6, 1855, was educated in the public schools and at the Castine Normal School, and later taught in Deering, Me.

In 1886 she was married and more than 40 years ago came to Winchester, living ever since at her Bacon street home.

Mrs. Page's husband died Oct. 17, 1913. She leaves a son, John E. Page of Winchester, two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Harry D. Hooke of Winchester and Mrs. William F. Hooke of Castine, Me., two nieces and a nephew.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late residence with Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, and Rev. George Hale Reed, of this town, officiating. Interment will be at Forest Hills Cemetery.

GEORGE A. RIVINIUS DEAD

Mr. George A. Rivinius of Main street, for many weeks seriously ill, died early this morning. He was operated upon five weeks ago at the Deaconess Hospital, Boston, for a brain tumor, and although his condition showed some improvement during the ensuing period, his death was not unexpected.

George Ambrose Rivinius was born in Omaha, Neb., his parents being Forest C. and Mary Emma (Ambrose) Rivinius. He was 57 years of age and a graduate of Harvard University. For many years he was engaged in the cotton business in Boston, and during more recent years he had carried on the insurance business formerly conducted by his father under the firm name of F. C. Rivinius Co.

Mr. Rivinius was married to Miss Bertha Russell of this town some 30 years ago. She survives him, together with three daughters, Mrs. William P. Coady and Miss Anne Rivinius, both of this town, and Mrs. John Chandler Hill of Annapolis. He also leaves one son, Ensign George A. Rivinius, Jr., now with the armed forces.

At the present time arrangements for the funeral services have not been completed.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE

An Open House for parents will be held at the Junior High School next Monday night, Dec. 7 from 7:30 to 9:30. All parents are cordially invited to attend and to meet the principal and teachers.

Many members of the Executive Board of the Junior High Schol Associates will be present to greet parents and to assist them in meeting the teachers. Parents will be interested in obtaining in advance from their children the names of the teachers who are now instructing their children in particular subjects.

These open house meetings are intended primarily as social gatherings and a great many parents take advantage of these opportunities to meet the teachers. For these reasons, it is expected that parents having particular matters to discuss will find it to their advantage to arrange for such discussions at a time other than open house evening.

Mrs. Charles Gould of Norwood street is at White Plains, N. Y., visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Parker.

MRS. ALICE LOWELL SKILLINGS

Alice Lowell (Mrs. D. N.) Skillings died at her home in Winchester, Friday, Nov. 20. She was born in Calais, Me., Dec. 9, 1848, and so, had almost reached her 94th birthday. She came to Winchester as a bride, and had lived in the same house until her life closed. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. James W. Russell and grandson, Sherman W. Russell of Winchester; her daughter-in-law and grandson, Mrs. Nelson Skillings and Cadet Hills Skillings, of Amherst; and her granddaughter, Mrs. John F. Jewett of Arlington, Va.

Mr. Skillings was for many years a leader in the civic and the social life of Winchester; and Mrs. Skillings was an active partner in the varied interests. They were loyal members of the Unitarian Church. Winchester residents, of middle age and beyond, remember the home on the hill as a center of happy social life. After the death of her husband in 1923, Mrs. Skillings led a more restricted life; but years brought no lessening of her zest for living, and her home remained a place to which those who knew her best liked to climb.

Active in body, and alert in spirit, she enjoyed rides through the familiar countryside, and companionship with the friends she knew well. The almost forgotten word "neighbor" was to her full of meaning; and as her world grew smaller her neighbors were prized the more. When the years removed her contemporaries, she grew closer to those much younger than herself. She saw a great wind sweep away many of the trees for which she had cared, and the winds of change take many of the people she had loved; but, in the familiar place, her spirit went out eagerly to meet each new day.

At the service for her, in her home Sunday, Nov. 22, Mr. George Hale Reed read these lines which seemed written for her:

"If from life I take the best
And if in life I keep my zest
If love I hold—
No matter how the years go by,
No matter how the birthdays fly
I am not old."

MONEY TALKS

The Town Treasurer has advised the Star that this week he is paying off the last of the Town Revenue Notes that were given to the banks early this year in anticipation of revenue from fall collections.

The payment this week is $150,000. The town will therefore be in the same position that it was at the end of 1940 and 1941, that is, with no tax loans outstanding on the books. The Treasurer also states that there will be a substantial balance in the Treasury on Dec. 31, for beginning the critical year of 1943. He makes no statement as to just how much this might be, Winchester does not figure on guesses, but the balance will be quite substantial.

The major credit for this condition he says belongs to our kindly, determined and aggressive Tax Collector who it seems has already collected 87.06 per cent of all 1942 Real Estate Taxes and furthermore has collected 99.4 per cent of the 1942 Personal Taxes. Evidently we are not letting any grass grow under our feet in the highly important matter of getting in the money with which to pay the Town's expenses.

The marriage of Miss Leona Olive Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Roberts of Richardson street, and Frank Everett Mathews of Brookline, took place Sunday afternoon, Nov. 22 in the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. Soloist for the service was Gladys Mathews, who sang "Because."

Miss Roberts was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin and tulle, having a sweetheart neckline and full skirt with a large white satin bow. Her tulle veil was arranged with a tiara and she carried a bridal bouquet.

Miss Doris Roberts of this town was her sister's only attendant. She wore a blue satin and tulle gown like that of the bride with a tiara of ostrich feathers and long blue streamers.

Donald Mathews of Brookline was best man for his brother and the ushers were Earle P. Roberts and Ercell Roberts, both of Winchester.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, the receiving line standing beneath an arch of pink and white streamers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a portrait gown of ivory taffeta, styled with bouffant skirt and high-necked bodice trimmed with seed pearls. Her knee-length veil of illusion was draped from a juliet cap of seed pearls and she carried an orchid-adorned white prayer book.

A cousin of the bride, Angelo Ghirardini of Winchester, served as best man, and another cousin, John Ghiradini also of Winchester, was one of the usher corps, the others being John Longeray, Hugh McNally, and Dr. George Dinan.

At the reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Ghirardini received in a gown of wood violet crepe, sequin-trimmed, with orchids in her hair.

THE VILLAGE STREET

Methodist Church Fair

All the village folk will follow the well-worn path to the Methodist Meeting House at the corner of Church and Dix streets on Friday, Dec. 4, to see what the shops on both sides of the Village Street have to offer for Christmas buying. Friendly rivalry among the shopkeepers of the Fay-Moore and Tribeaten Groups have resulted in gaily decorated flower shop, bakery, sweet shop and attractive gift and general merchandise stores. The exchange of village gossip at the post office, the barter and trade at the Thrift Shop will enliven the days' activity. At noon all will stop for a chicken noodle luncheon and at night for an old-fashioned American home-cooked meal which will satisfy all customers. Village folk in costume will add color to the scene.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The business of the day disposed of the meeting on Tuesday afternoon was devoted to books and more books. The Rev. George F. Wiseman, who with Rev. Joseph Cuenot is co-author of Kwangsi or Land of the Black Banners which is just off the press, graciously gave of his time and talent to tell something of the background of this interesting story. Fr. Wiseman spoke very feelingly of the lure which China holds for the missioner despite the toll which she exacts in labor and sacrifice for the prize so dearly won. To wish to own this book one does not need to know that all the royalties derived from its sale will be used on mission work in China, for the narrative itself is one of absorbing interest and a must have for anyone's list of books.

Mrs. George Kealy of Cambridge reviewed in her delightful and illuminating way our 20 books, covering a wide scope of subjects by the best writers. The list of these will be available at future meetings for those members who could not be present yesterday and any or all of the volumes should be found most welcome for one's own enjoyment or as Christmas shopping suggestions.

President Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian announced that the program chairman has completed arrangements for the illustrated lecture Thank God for a Garden which will be given by the Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S.J., in the high school auditorium on the evening of Dec. 3.

Thank God for a Garden covers the flower cycle of the year, in all its beautiful display of bud and blossom. Interspersed are striking pictures of sunrises and clouds, with views too of typical New England gardens and autumn landsacpes.

There is a series of scenes of Gardens on Parade of the late World's Fair and a new feature for this year is a showing of color photos of butterflies in a rhododendron forest. This lecture is open to the public.

Specialty numbers by several well known dancers will be sure to please.

WINCHESTER LIONS CLUB NEWS

Although there has been plenty to write about, this column has been neglected for the last three weeks. The main reason was, that Bill Bowne our expert and fluent writer has enlisted in the radio department of the Navy and has been called to the Naval Training Station at Cornell University.

At the regular meeting of Nov. 9, Chas. Donahue our president, was given a farewell party and at that time presented with a duffel bag and a Lions ring by the club and its auxiliary. Charlie is now stationed at Camp Rodman, N. B., and is tied up with the medical service.

At the last meeting many plans were brought forth for making a great success of the coming Rubin-off concert, which will be held at the Winchester High School Auditorium, on Jan. 3, 1943. It should be a gala day for Winchester as the world renowned violinist will give a recital at the Home for Aged around noon. At 3 o'clock there will be a concert for school children in the auditorium and at 8:15 p. m. a concert of about two hours duration for adults in the auditorium. Tickets will be on sale during the coming week and can be procured from many sources, but especially from Lion Club members. Even before the tickets are printed, there has been a large sale. ,

RED CROSS SUNDAY

Popular Service

At the Unitarian Church on last Sunday the exhibits of War Rations and Red Cross Articles attracted a great deal of interest. The American Red Cross War Prisoners Food Package containing 128¾ ounces of food was displayed so that the congregation could see each article. On the same table the rations for a family of four in the occupied countries was exhibited.

Red Cross ladies in charge of Mrs. George Dutting displayed articles made and distributed by the Red Cross and answered questions concerning their work in war time. Mr. William Wood who arranged the exhibits also distributed a mimeographed sheet listing the rations and among other things stating that the Red Cross aid to Foreign War Victims increased from $2,662,333 in 1940 to $47,087,052 in 1941. A large congregation gathered to hear the minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman preach at the morning service a sermon entitled, Now Thank We All Our God. In the evening the Community Thanksgiving service was well attended when the sermon was preached by the Rev. Howard J. Chidley, D.D., of the First Congregational Church.

Next Sunday afternoon 25 young women of the Girls' Service Organization of the Unitarian Church will act as hostesses at the Soldiers and Sailors Recreation Center at the South Station. At the next meeting of the organization on Dec. 7 the young women will have as their guest speaker a leading Boston social worker, who will tell them of the development and needs in the field of social work.

McLAUGHLIN AND WITTET

"Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and champion of Nabnasset, teamed with Howard "Foul Line" Wittet to win the championship togas at the regular matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association last week-end.

The weather was exceedingly chilly and when President Royal P. Teele arrived at the beach only one frost-bitten warrior, Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham, had reported for play. Some vigorous telephoning by President Teele resulted in the belated appearance of McLaughlin, the Secretary and Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine champ. Mr. Wittet put in his appearance without summonse, receiving a natty merit badge to wear with his tennis shorts next summer.

The McLaughlin-Wittet team defeated the President and "Thin Finger" Pridham in two straight matches, taking the first two out of three and the next, two straight. Mr. Pridham was having one of those infrequent days when his sky-scraping shoe would not behave and the assistance he afforded his partner was not of much account. Mr. Teele's opinion of the Pridham pitching reflected first surprise, then alarm and finally profound disgust.

Mr. Teele himself was going very well indeed, nearly paralleling Mr. McLaughlin's torrid pitching. Unfortunately, however, the lameness of the Pridham pitching found no counterpact in Mr. Wittet's work at the stake. Old "Foul Line" fairly surpassed himself, throwing ringers and even double ringers just when they hurt the opposition most.

He continued his effective work against Mr. Butters and the Secretary, giving the latter "the works" in such large measure that the State of Maine Champ's excellent pitching went for naught and his team went down, two out of three.

Arthur and the Scrivener fretted on the sidelines while "Willie" and "Foul Line" polished off the President and "Thin Finger" the second time and then removed what few wraps they dared to discard to take on the champs again.

This time proved a different story, Mr. Butters at long last, getting a bit of support at odd moments from his partner. That was all Arthur needed and he powered his team to a 25-8 victory in he first game.

The second game was all Butters and the Secretary at first, their margin standing 15-3, when the Secretary commenced to throw doubleheaders. In no time at all, to Mr. Teele's loudly expressed delight, McLaughlin and Wittet evened the match and it was nip and tuck from then until the score stood 22-21 in favor of Butters and the Secetary.

A Butters ringer had raised the ante for his side from 19-21 to 22-21 and he exhorted the secretary to take plenty of time. The latter shut his eyes and threw, getting a double ringer, to his own amazement, his partner's surprised delight and Mr. Teele's intense disappointment.

Mr. Wittet tried hard to match the double but this time his lofty pitches bounced from the stake and the champs had lost.

A practice game was played after this outstanding match, Mr. Teele and Mr. Pridham finally beating some one when Mr. Butters and the Secretary permitted them to win, being satisfied with their own victory over the champs.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL CANDIDATES AT WORK

Candidates for the Winchester High School girls' basketball team have already reported to Coach Deborah Fenton who has reduced the huge squad of 100 to a group of workable proportions and is now on the lookout for candidates of possible varsity grade.

HIGH SCHOOL POSTERS AT LIBRARY

Ever since our country entered the war, we have been reminded of our part on the home front by a countless array of war posters in all sections of the nation. Billboards and art galleries everywhere are dotted with these multicolored posters and their vivid slogans. The painters of these true-to-life pictures are often obsecured behind the luster of their work and do not receive worthy praise.

During the next few weeks a group of these inspirational posters will be on display in the town library. In order that no person will leave the hall without giving credit where credit is due, we tell you now that these posters have been conceived and drawn by the students of the Winchester High School. This relatively unknown department, under the competent direction of Miss Pauline Goodrich, is at last coming into the limelight and to receive due acclaim.

For two weeks the high school library has been decorated with these finished products of the first semester's art program. At the request of the public library, the posters will be exhibited there.

Among the pictures you will see are four drawings inscribed with the name of Robert Fynn and two by Frank Melargni. Other contributors to the display are John Ottiano, Dorothy Byford, Roger Olsson, June Moffette, Bradley Batson, Jennie Lou Elliott, Crosby Grindle, Pete Teel and Marilyn Cambpell.

HIGHLANDS MEN'S CLUB TO HEAR JUDGE FRANKLAND W. L. MILES

Judge Miles, presiding judge of the Roxbury District Court will speak to the members of the Winchester Highlands Men's Club this coming Thursday evening, Dec. 3. His subject, A King's Worry, offers considerable speculation but a profitable and interesting evening is assured as the Judge can capably turn worry into wisdom.

Supper will be served at 7 o'clock by Mrs. Susan Foster and her associates and all members are asked to make their reservations early.

WINCHESTER HIGH AIDS WAR EFFORT

The role of Winchester High School in war time is well attested to by the activities to date which have been in step with the war effort. Looking back over the record one finds that the activities have been many and varied. Starting before Pearl Harbor, students have co-operated with local civilian defense groups and have deported themselves creditably.

Earliest of all came the door-to-door canvass to promote the sale of defense stamps and bonds. Every student in the high school was given an opportunity to assist in this important activity and the results were most gratifying.

Early in the spring 13 senior boys and 16 senior girls received certificates testifying to their ability as First Aiders. The regular Red Cross course was given after school by three instructors from the local defense school.

Twenty-eight boys became active as members of the Junior Auxiliary Police under the command of Mr. Louis Goddu. Twenty boys registered and served as airplane spotters during the early days of the Winchester Aircraft Warning Service. Well over 100 boys volunteered to act as couriers for the civilian defense committee and were under the direct leadership of Coach Knowlton.

Besides bringing in tons and tons of paper during the early spring, many of the students co-operated with the salvage committee and assisted in manning the local sarvage center.

Defense stamps have been on sale every banking day and student purchases have amounted to several hundreds of dollars.

Last spring Ensign Cobb talked with interested senior boys about the advantages and opportunities in Naval Aviation.

This fall the whole school heard an address by Lieut. Doherty and witnessed a film released by the Navy Department.

During the summer vacation period boys were employed in positions vacated by men who had gone into the service, worked in defense industries, and several were employed on farms, contact having been made through the school.

One of the more direct services of the school, although frequently overlooked, is the increased emphasis on mathematics and science. Acceeding to the suggestions of both the Army and the Navy, as well as to the requests from the students themselves, department heads and the principal worked out a program which aims to prepare students for later participation in the armed forces.

In the physical education department there has been an increased emphasis on rigorous training which has been supplied to the commandos, a tough obstacle course and regular football calisthenics having been mandatory. The voluntary response to this activity has been heartening.

In other articles mention has been made of the teacher participation in civilian defense anl of student salvage work under the direction of Chairman Leary.

Currently, over 40 teachers are actively engaged in Red Cross work, preparing surgical dressings and in other ways lending their time and ability. The School Junior Red Cross, under the direction of Miss Mackedon has become a very effective unit, having enlisted practically the entire student body as members. Their most recent job has been in connection with the Christmas seals.

Finally, mention should be made of the voluntary work of teachers and students in assisting the rationing board during the rationing of sugar, gasoline and fuel oil.

Lost and found columns of Tokio newspapers are crowded these days. Every time an American buys a War Bond, the Japs lose face. Buy your 10% every pay day.

The great New Deal caught up with Winchester this week, when ten of the army of two and a half million of its employees visited the merchants and storekeepers. The purpose of the visit was to enforce ceiling prices, it was stated. Store keepers were ordered to list all articles sold, post ceiling prices and furnish similar monthly lists hereafter. Just what this means to the little fellow, now struggling along to keep his store open with a minimum of sales and help, can better be visualized by conversation with any one of them. We would hate, however, to be in Joe Donahue's or Harry Winton's shoes. To us, the effort of counting and posting prices on all their bolts, screws, tacks and what not, appears an insurmountable job. So far as we have ascertained our own store has but two articles for sale requiring posted ceiling prices, but we are required to list every article offered for sale, ceiling prices or not and do it in a week —or else. When the enormous amount of work required in simply counting and listing such articles as pencils, pen points, erasers, ink, etc., was mentioned, the snappy retort came back "how would you like to be in the Solomons." We failed to learn why the New Deal man was not there, but that's all right with us. We realize someone must be left behind to watch over us. Personally we think the comparison might well have been made along other New Deal lines, although we realize that every effort is being made by our great rulers to make us thoroughly war conscious. It is our opinion that if these restrictions and curtailments continue, the business life of the country will be right in the same groove with the food situation. We don't believe that the American people, in this section at least, need any prodding by adding unnecessary hardships to make them realize they are in a war, but if that is the New Deal idea, it is working—and not in the manner which we would like to see it take. It may be that requiring us, for instance, to list all the thousand and one little articles offered for sale, even though not requiring "ceiling prices," and doing this each month far into the distant future, aids America's war effort. To us it simply adds further aggravation to the already long list of resented grievances thrust upon us. We think these things unnecessary. We are immediately told that it is not for us to decide; others (the New Deal) know much more about what is necessary than we do. Well—we have as near a thing to dictatorship as any other nation from our observance. Ceiling prices are all right if necessary—even though the pencils we sold for a cent in March may be sold by someone else for a nickle now, but to make all these little store-keepers carry on this paper work to what end nobody knows, will aid greatly in closing up that ten thousand small firms as predicted. We realize there is nothing constructive in this summary. The only constructive thought we can offer is to kick out this New Deal and its now famous slogan "hold to our social gains."

WARBLES

The attached editorial was taken from the Boston Post.

Confusion Ahead

Because the 26 letters of the alphabet lend themselves to an almost inexhaustible number of combinations we'll probably go right on getting new names for various organizations and units connected with the war effort. As long as they are limited to four or five letters, in one-syllable arrangements, they won't become too formidable, but the trend isn't toward simplification.

Take, for instance, the name chosen by New Jersey women helping rationing officials with their gigantic paper work tasks. They call themselves the WARBLES. Translated, it means Womens Auxiliary Rationing Board Lending Emergency Service. As time goes on, the public can't be blamed for finding itself a bit perplexed about many of them.

Winchester has quite a few "Warbles" on whom the local Rationing Board depends when the load becomes too heavy.

Mrs. Aline Poirier 30 Stevens street, is one who never fails to show up, and is never too busy to lend assistance. Mrs. F. W. Redding of 91 Pond street, Mrs. Luther W. Puffer, 3rd, 78 Middlesex street, Mrs. Carl O. Nielsen, 98 Middlesex street, Mrs. Frederick L. Hicks of 2 Penn road and Mrs. Adolph Hermann of 20 Wildwood street. All unselfishly respond to the call of help.

The Winchester War Price and Rationing Board wishes to go on record as being fully aware of the spirit of co-operation as evidenced by this helpful attitude and at this time to thank the people of Winchester for its patient understanding of the many problems confronting this office.

THE TOWN OF WINCHESTER'S THANKSGIVING

The Aberjona swamps are now either water or solid land.

Few of the many welcome citizens who in these later years have settled here, realize that so many of these beauty spots were once ugly swamps, the breeding places of the infectious mosquitoes, which infested them. All north of Manchester Field was improved substantially in accordance with the plans and suggestions of Herbert J. Kallaway, Landscape Architect of Boston. The last one at the foot of Summer street has just been filled in this Thanksgiving week.

Below is the list of them all:

AN APPRECIATION

To the Editor of the Star:

We wonder if the citizens of Winchester appreciate the teachers in our schools?

In working out the fuel rationing it became necessary to call on the teachers for help and also in the distribution of the coupon sheets. Their response was so generous that we want to publicly express our appreciation of their excellent work and assistance.

We also want to thank Mr. Quinn for his valuable aid and the many men and women who also assisted us,—other than the teachers,—especially Mr. Charles F. Dutch and Robert B. Metcalf, who devoted much of their days, as well as evenings to this work.

MacAFEE 40-40 SPEAKER

The 40-40 Club of Young Married Couples of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will gather at the parsonage, Tuesday evening, Dec. 1, at 8 o'clock to hear Mr. Donald R. MacAfee recently arrived in this country from France.

Mr. MacAfee, formerly of this state and a graduate of Harvard University, served overseas in the first World War with the Yankee Division. Following the armistice, he remained in Paris in the travel business although returning home to this country almost every year, during the 22 year period.

Immediately after the outbreak of World War 2, he volunteered his services to France, and was subsequently commissioned a lieutenant in the French Foreign Legion, taking part in the fight against the Nazi Panzer Division in the last defensive actions that preceded the French-German Armistice of June, 1940. Between the time of the Armistice and his return to the United States, Mr. MacAfee spent most of his time on the Brittany and Normandy coasts, among the German armies of occupation.

In the course of the presentation Mr. MacAfee will describe a night which he spent as a civilian on the ill-fated Maginot Line, with loud speakers taking the place of shells, of his 300 mile retreat on foot from Paris Limoges, with dive bombing by Stukas and machine gunning by the Italians at the burning of Orleans, of the post-armistice efforts of the Goebbels propaganda mill to soften the French people to "Collaboration", and an eye-witness account of the events during and after the Battle of England, with the birth and evelopment of the determined and bitter underground resistance of the Fighting Free French, under the leadership of General DeGaulle.

Serving as hosts and hostesses for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Reese.

SONS OF ITALY LODGE NOTES

Interesting letters come to us each day from our members in the services, and the following excerpts are taken from some of them:

From A. J. "Bebe" Russo, Goldsboro, N. C.—"I'm sorry I have been unable to drop you a line sooner, but you know how it is when one gets moved around so much . . . It makes a fellow feel swell to know that you are all thinking of him. I can't express my appreciation for all the Sons of Italy is doing for us. I received a swell sweater from the Grand Lodge, and now that you are sending me the Star I have nothing more to wish for."

From Gaspar "Rugged" Muraca, Douglas, Arizona, "Having finished my airplane mechanic school, I was sent here from California. Boy, I am certainly seeing a lot of this country . . . I received my Christmas gift from the Sons of Italy and I sure appreciated it. There wasn't a thing in it I couldn't use, a carton of cigarettes, writing paper, tooth paste and brush, razor blades, soap, shaving cream, sewing kit, ink, and shoe polish . . . It certainly makes me feel good to know that I am not a forgotten man . . I am only one mile from the Mexican border, and Arizona, is beautiful.

From William "Wally" Penna, Ft. Monmouth, N. J., "You must realize that new places and new faces (especially pretty faces) take up so much time that a soldier has little time left to write. But, after receiving the Lodge's letter telling me about receiving the Star each week I just had to sit down and write you. It will be great to be kept posted on the home town's scandals. The sweater I received from the lodge today was a little tight but good and warm. I have now two reasons for losing weight, one so the sweater will fit, and second so that I can get into officers candidnae school."

From Joseph Ciarcia, Camp Davis, N. C., "Army life here at Officers' Candidate School is a lot faster and tougher than at Eustis. They treat us like future officers and we're supposed to act like one . . . we have very little time for ourselves and are on the go from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m., six days a week. So many things have happened that I could write about, but I just can't find the time . . . Thanks a lot for the present, which was deeply appreciated."

From Frank "Willie" DeMinico, Quanset Pt., R. I., ". . the idea of sending the Star to each member is very good because there is nothing better than reading about your own home town . . . I am waiting for the time when I get shipped out so that I can take a crack at those Japs . . Remember me to all the brothers."

From Lieut. William D. Barone, Miami Beach, Fla., . . . Drilling and attending officers' training classes from 5:30 a. m. to 6 p. m., and then study until 11. Some life! Mrs. Barone and I had John Vespucci, who is stationed here, to dinner last night. This is a beautiful place, and it seems funny to be writing November when it feels like July.

And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ" (Revelation 12:9, 10 to:).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "That false claim -ancient belief, that old serpent whose name is devil (evil), claiming that there is intelligence in matter either to benefit or to injure men—is pure delusion, the red dragon; and it is cast out by Christ, Truth, the spiritual idea, and so proved to be powerless" (p. 567).

ONE DAY IN SOVIET RUSSIA

One Day in Soviet Russia will be the feature picture in the second of the series of free motion pictures presented in co-opertation of the Winchester Public Library and the Russian War Relief programs and will be on Wednesday evening, Dec. 2 at 8 o'clock in the library gallery.
Quentin Reynolds, famous war correspondent made and narrates vividly this famous feature film which shows the men, women and children, the machines and fighting spirit that are smashing Hitlers crimes in Russia today. See these courageous people from the Arctic to the Caucasus in a graphic picture of Russia's way of life.
Of particular interest to Red Cross workers is front line hospital, which shows the actual work of the first aid and emergency operations of nurses and doctors at the front and their work with dog sleds and heated horse-drawn sleighs. It is this prompt work which has returned 75 per cent of Russia's casualties to action.

wrong and Freddy Hicks trapped Abreau away back on his 10. Pavao got off a corking kick across midfield but West, aided by a great block by Tibuado, ran the ball back to the Woburn 35 as the third quarter ended.
West hit the line for 5, Treacy lost 2 on a reverse and West got back 3, before finding a hole in the Orange wall to crash through for a first down at the 25. Once again big Monk spun into the line and broke through to the 10, and then Fatty Buzzotta sent Bob Jackson on an end around. The big "Chattenooga Choo Choo" really rolled on the play, which fooled Woburn bdly, going over without a hand being laid upon him until he was in the end zone.
Jackson took up his position for a placement, but as the Woburn boys charged in Buzzotta jumped up and tossed off a pass to Bill West, out with a mate in the end zone, with no Woburn player near.
Coach Knowlton started sending in the jay-vees at this point and soon had a team of second and third stringers on the field. Neither team could gain and Peirier finally kicked outside at the Woburn 15.
Woburn, still battling, drove out toward midfield, Smith reversing to a first down at the 28 and Doherty cutting back for another at the 40. Coach Knowlton sent back his first team and was penalized 5 yards for too many times out. West however, intercepted a pass at his 35 and drove back to the Woburn 48, nearly getting away.
On first down Bob Treacy, behind nice blocking on a reverse, got into the clear and had he been able to maintain his balance on the treacherous field would have gone all the way, finally being pulled down on the 23.
Jack Errico picked up 5 and West drove through for a first down at the 10. Big Monk might have crashed through for another touchdown, but the ball was given first to Errico and then a double pass was called, the second play with Errico carrying falling just short of the score as the whistle blew.
Winchester made 10 first downs to 6 for Woburn, rushing for a net 206 yards to 77 for the Tanners. The locals completed 3 of 8 passes for 30 yards while no one of the 4 Woburn aerials was good. Winchester lost 20 yards and Woburn, 30 in penalties.
For the locals Capt. Bill West in his last game was especially outstanding and easily the best player on the field as he has been in every game he has played this fall. Jackson, too bowed out in blaze of glory, though he had little to do defensively, the palm in this department going to Gaspie Lentine and Fatty Buzzotta. Tibaudo too played a great game at end for a sophomore and his pass completion on Winchester's first touchdown march meant plenty.
For Woburn "Butter" Abreau was immense, playing his heart out both on offense and defense. Pavao did some great kicking and both Cullen and Curran, especially Cullen, played well on the Woburn line.

Notes

Between the halves, talking to newspaper men and a group of delighted Woburn rooters, Ray "V for Victory" Hayward, predicted quietly as he took his well-chewed cigar from his lips, that three points were NOT going to win the ball game. He was right and how!

Jerry Nason, sports editor of the Boston Globe, covered the game in person and got a good eye full of West. Jerry thought the Woburn line was pretty hot, especially the first half.

As far as your Star reporter is concerned, the season was a complete success when big Bob Jackson scored on that end around. We have been waiting for that one all year, and wasn't Woburn a nice team to have it go on.

Coach Jim Brennan of Woburn is a good sportsman. He brought the football down to Winchester Thanksgiving night and presented it to Capt. Bill West, a nice gesture. Big Monk was voted as the outstanding player on the field by a group of newspaper men and received the trophy donated by Pharmacist Henry McCormack.

Lou Goddu had on the ol' duck parka again but something new had been added, really! Natty corduroy britches and moccasin rubbers.

Winchester changed its defensive formation the second half and up to the time the seconds went in, Woburn had made but 6 yards. They made only 29 as it was.

"Mack", Winchester reporter for the Woburn Times, took plenty of razzing going off the field between the halves, but there didn't seem to be any of his Woburn pals around after the game. When West scored he left the bench to extend his compliments to Tom Duran of the famous"oilers" who had given Mack the Bronx cheer at the half.

The win gave Winchester the Schoolboy Class C title, an honor richly deserved. The locals have been very consistent and have shown above everything that quality that always marks a true champion, the ability to come from behind—to get off the canvas when you're groggy and K. O. the opposition.

Our friend Joe Halloran, janitor of Woburn High School, handed out nice dry planks for the newspaper boys to sit on and generally took care of the fourth estate.

KWANGSI, LAND OF THE BLACK BANNERS

By Rev. Joseph Cuenot, translated by Rev. George F. Wiseman. (B. Herder Book Co. St. Louis).

Business men lately returned from the Far East and letters from soldiers now on the battlefields of the Orient speak in glowing terms of the missioner in pagan lands. Their praise had aroused keen interest in the heretofore "forgotten man", the missioner.
What methods does the missioner use to spread the Gospel of Christ? How is a new mission station established in a thoroughly pagan district? What problems does the missioner face in time of civil war, of bandit raids? What are his challenges, his sufferings, his encouragements?
These questions are answered in Kwangsi. Land of the Black Banners. The Black Banners were the soldier-bandits in southern China, who were the formidable enemies of the French in the conquest of Tonkin. Their descendants and successors fought in the Civil War between the provinces of Kwangsi and Kwangtung from 1920-22. The description of these years gives an interesting background to the present situation in the Far East.
The main part of the book is a translation of "Au Pays des Pavillons-Noirs" by the Rev. Joseph Cuenot of the Paris Foreign Mission Society and a missioner in Kwangsi for 30 years. The translator, Rev. George F. Wiseman of the Archdiocese of Winchester, who spent five years in the same province, has added three chapters describing the work of the pioneer American priests in Kwangsi and their association with the saintly Bishop Ducoeur. The final chapter consists chiefly of a letter from Bishop Allbouy, the present Bishop of Nanning, Kwangsi, relating some details of the Japanese invasion and occupation of Nanning in 1939-40.
The translator's preface requests the readers who find accounts of lawlessness in the book to bear in mind the task of China's new leaders in uniting a vast country under a republican form of government. "In 1928 the present leaders came into power and, out of a chaos of almost three decades, they have succeeded in creating a new China under a strong central government. Today freedom-loving nations stand in admiration of China in her heroic battle against a ruthless invader.
Unlike recent works of fiction on mission-life in China, Kwangsi, relates actual experiences of gallant lovers of souls, adventurers of Christ, who have gone into remote and unknown sections of the world to teach the doctrine of love that is Christ's. To follow in their footsteps is to meet all the misunderstandings of human nature, varied racial customs, and other ways of life.
The book makes interesting and instructive reading. It has an excellent index. The set-up is very attractive.
Many Winchester people will undoubtedly be much interested in it through Rev. Fr. George F. Wiseman's connections with the town.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE WAR ACTIVITIES

The Christian Science War Relief Committee of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., which was established in September, 1940, has recently released its second annual report. This shows that it now has more than 1500 branch units active in the United States of America besides many more in Great Britain, Canada, Australia and the Union of South Africa.

The Committee has assembled since Pearl Harbor over 66,000 pounds of durable clothing and bedding, in water proof, mothproof, wooden cases, at convenient locations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, ready for instant use should emergencies arise because of local enemy action.

More than 32,800 garments have been distributed, through military distribution centers, to men in the United States forces. A large British transport vessel which had arrived from tropical waters and was being repaired at Boston received 100 overcoats for officers. Folding cots have been given to overcrowded seamen's clubs. Civilians arriving in the United States suffering because of war conditions or action have been provided with clothing and other forms of relief. Among them are refugees from the Far East, who landed in California; and merchant seamen rescued from ships torpedoed along the Atlantic coast have been similarly cared for. This work is carried on by the Committee without regard to creed or race.

One of the most impressive branches of the work from the start, before America entered the war, has been the distribution of clothing and comforts to bombed-out people in Great Britain and to refugees from Holland, Norway, Russia, Poland, Belgium, and other European countries. Clothing has gone direct from Boston to Russia, and knitted goods have been sent there from branches of the Committee in England. One example is the preparation, within six weeks, of 1820 knitted garments for the Russians. Overseas workers have won the commendation and co-operation of local authorities by their prompt arrival on the scene of trouble.

In cities heavily bombed, such as Plymouth, Coventry, Bristol, and Southampton, they have got there with food and clothing, ready to go to work, even before the "All Clear" sounded.

Throughout the entire Christian Science movement workers are making and collecting clothing of all kinds and sending it to the depots, where it is carefully inspected.

Figures presented for the two-year period ending the first of October, this year, include over 1,600,000 pounds of clothing and bedding sent to the British Isles, more than 8700 pounds to Russia, and more than 10,500 pounds to Finland, previous to that country's alliance with the Axis.

The Scholarship Committee of the Winchester Mothers' Association, of which Ruth Gates Smith is chairman, presented "The Pirates of Penzance," a comic opera in two acts by Gilbert and Sullivan, last Friday and Saturday evenings in the high school auditorium for the benefit of its scholarship fund. A good sized audience saw the opening performance and a near-capacity crowd turned out Saturday. Both audiences were most appreciative and gave ample evidence of thoroughly enjoying the show.

The plot tells of Frederick, mistakenly apprenticed to pirates, who at 21 renounces and leaves them. Meeting Mabel, one of the many daughters of Major General Stanley, he falls in love, but the Pirate King interrups his courtship to inform him that he was apprenticed until his 21st birthday, and he has had but five, being born on leapyear day.

As Frederick prepares to return to the pirates they appear to capture the General. Police attempt a rescue but are overcome. The pirates are finally induced to yield in Queen Victoria's name, and everything ends happily, Frederick being united with Mabel and the reformed pirates joining hands with the happy General's other daughters.

Judged by any yardstick, the local production was a creditable one and by comparison with most amateur Gilbert and Sullivan efforts was exceptionally well done. The two sets were attractive, the costumes and makeup, really excellent; lighting effective, and properties and business generally good. The show was well cast and both principals and chorus gave a very spirited performance under Mr. Center's able baton, singing the lilting Sullivan music well and generally acting in praiseworthy fashion in the narrow confines of the high school stage.

Miss Renehan gave a very finished performance of the role of Mabel, combining an engaging stage presence with a pleasing voice of wide range and great flexibility. Her soft high tones had an unusual flute-like quality and her acting, an ingenuousness that was highly effective.

While quite at home in the featured waltz song, Miss Renehan did an especially fine bit of both singing and acting in her farewell scene with Mr. Downer, the simplicity of her manner and clarity of her voice winning her audience completely. Both she and Mr. Downer handled the scene with a sincerity that was very convincing and their rendition of the beautiful duet, "Ah Leave Me Not," that featured it, was easily the musical highlight of the show.

Mr. Downer's high tenor proved entirely equal to the demands of the music written for Frederick and was also of great value in the ensemble numbers. He sang his duets with Miss Renehan with nice restraint, combining his voice with hers in most pleasing fashion.

Mr. Kelly's portrayal of the Pirate King was in every way outstanding, his deep rich baritone lending itself admirably to the music written for his role while his acting, with its well assumed mock dignity, was all that could be desired. His contribution to the show can not be overestimated.

Mrs Edwards played the colorful Ruth with complete assurance and plenty of verve. Her fine contralto achieved both low and high notes in her role with effortless ease and her singing, both solo and with the pirates, was among the best in the show.

Mrs. MacLeod, Mrs. Beaman and Mrs Burbank played Edith, Kate and Isabel with the necessary light touch being both good to look at and listen to. Praise too must go to Mrs. Hultgren for her well done pantomime as the nurse She was very much in character.

Mr. Mouradian sang and acted Samuel most acceptably and Mr. Symmes gave a very finished performance as Major General Stanley, singing the difficult patter song with ease and handling the abundant humor of the role with a quiet touch that was very effective. It is of interest that Mr. Symmes played the Major General when the Pirates was last given in Winchester by the Parish of the Epiphany in 1923, Mrs. Idabel Winship, who was in the chorus of this year's show, also singing in the previous production.

Dr. Blanchard's acting of the unhappy police sergeant's role was the humorous hit of the show, a bit of high grade clowning so good you forgot he was trying to sing music written for a bass with a voice nature decreed to be a tenor.

The work of the chorus was very praiseworthy throughout and contributed in large measure to the success of the production. Their entrances and exits were especially well handled in view of the stage limitations. The girls did their spritely patter song well while the men sang particularly effectively in support of Mr. Symmes during the beautiful reverie before the stirring finale.

No review of the performance would be at all complete without calling attention to the important contribution made by the orchestra. They were very helpful, playing surely but unobtrusively to add just the touch needed for a finished performance.

Mr. Center conducted admirably, maintaining complete control of his singers and instrumentalists in a way that got the very most out of each group. Not once did he permit the action or music to drag and if his early choice of tempo seemed a bit fast for the opening chorus and especially for the song of the Pirate King, the general pace of the showwas excellent. Avoiding encores, he maintained an admirable continuity of action permitting repeats only after the waltz, song, "Poor Wandering One," the great finale to Act 1, "Hail Poetry"; and the "Reverie" for men's voices before the finale. His popularity with the cast and chorus was attested by the fact that they refused to leave the stage until he rather reluctantly appeared to take a bow, the actors joining heartily in the general applause.

Preceding the show on both evenings, Mrs. Robert M. Keeney, president of the Mothers' Association, welcomed the audience and expressed her organization's appreciation of the support accorded them in the presentation of the show.

SALVATION ARMY STRESSES NEED

As the official collector, Brother Thomas Woodruff, continues to call on men and women in the Winchester Salvation Army annual appeal for $2000, William A. Nicol, public relations secretary of that organization, points out that the need for larger participation and new donors is great.

Mr. Nicols points out that the sharp rise in the cost of maintaining the many units of service that go on serving the needy in peace or in war days plus the well rounded war program, which has its center at the Red Shield Service Men's Club and sleeping accommodations at the Avonne Lodge, in Bulfinch street near Scollay Square, Boston, are some of the reasons for need of more funds.

With the knowledge that this work is going on and that cheer is being taken to isolated posts in mobile canteen program and that Salvation Army women are again sending woolen helmets and other warm garments to men assigned to guarding our coast lines, William N. Beggs, chairman of the sponsors is hopeful for a new high.

All donations, according to Mr. Beggs, may be given or mailed to the campaign treasurer, G. Dwight Cabot, an official of the Winchester Trust Company.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

. . . . Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis

TAKE ANOTHER LOOK

Take another look at the Christmas Seals this year. They have a new meaning now, a martial meaning. Little though they are, they have a place among ships, planes, tanks and jeeps.

In all past wars tuberculosis has increased. History has begun to repeat itself. Already tuberculosis is increasing in a number of overcrowded areas throughout the country. Unless history can be rewritten this time, tuberculosis will kill more Americans throughout the duration than will be killed in action or die from wounds received in action. In the last four years, tuberculosis has killed 10,000 more persons in this country than were killed in action or died from wounds received in action in all the wars combined that this country has engaged in from the Revolutionary War up to Dec. 7, 1941.

The combined efforts of the tuberculosis associations, public health officals and the medical profession cannot control tuberculosis. The people must take an active part. We must buy Christmas Seals, the sole support of the tuberculosis association, as never before. But buying is not enough. We must recognize the graveness of the situation. The very disease that kills more persons between 15 and 45 than any other disease is spreading in this country.

We must learn what to do to protect ourselves against tuberculosis. We must heed the warnings of the associations that long hours of work, poor nutrition, insufficient rest and relaxation may lower the body's resistance to the tubercle bacillus, thus allowing active tuberculosis to develop. We must recognize tuberculosis for what it is, a highly infectious disease with a long insidious onset. Tuberculosis can be in an advanced stage before symptoms appear. We must know and apply the knowledge that a periodic chest X-ray is our best defense against serious tuberculosis. The X-ray will detect the disease in its earliest stages, even before symptoms appear. Early tuberculosis is readily amenable to cure.

Take another look at the Seals this year. They mean more to us this year than any years since 1917.

TIRES AND TUBES

All holders of gasoline books A, A and B and A and C must report the serial number of their tires. This must be done on Form 534 which may be obtained at the local Rationing Board or at any of the local gasoline stations.

If an applicant has more than five tires, he must dispose of them, either by turning them into the American Railway Express or he may turn them over for salvage. In any event if he lists more than five tires, the application (534) will be held up until the excess amount of tires have been disposed of.

All commercial vehicles must apply on form 536 on which form the applicant will have to supply information from his Certificate of War Necessity. This certificate must accompany the application. Both should be on file at the Rationing Board on or before Dec. 1 preferably sooner if they already have received their Certificate from the ODT.

The present holders of S books must return these books to the Rationing Board on or before Dec. 1 regardless whether or not any coupons are left on the book.

A ration holders must have tires inspected every four months; B and C holders every 60 days; the first inspection must take place on or before Jan. 31, 1943. Tire inspection recommendations must be followed by the applicant and necessary repairs made when recommended and recapping services applied for at the proper time.

Gasoline or Tire Ration for Trucks

Effective Nov. 22, all gasoline or tire applications for trucks and commercial vehicles, taxis, and for vehicles available for public rental, must be accompanied by a Certificate of War Necessity, issued by the Office of Defense Transportation. Provision will be made, however, for temporary rations to those applicants who have applied for but failed to receive their certificates by the renewal date. Eligibility for true tires is practically unchanged. Mileage and gas allowances for trucks and other commercial vehicles will be stated plainly on Office of Defense Transportation certificates. All commercial vehicles as above named, must have tires inspected between Nov. 15 and Jan. 15, 1943.

INFLATION

Inflation must be stopped and to do so everything must be frozen, even the New Deal, and we do not mean stabilized.

The New Deal Government should immediately stop the spending of billions, at least $5,000,000,000, they are yearly spending on theories, projects, and office-holders who have little to do with direct war effort.

The people of the nation will buy bonds and stamps, pay tremendous taxes, and lower their standards of living to win this war; but they just do not understand the almost entire lack of economy in non-essentials that the New Deal is still playing with. It simply is not fair, right or understandable.

Committees and organizations have presented factual surveys showing specifically the definite savings of billions that can easily be made in non-war spending. What is back of this thing? What is going on?

Hundreds of thousands of government office-holders and clerks, not connected with direct war effort, can be released for war work, yet they talk about shortages in man-power! It is about time that this New Deal cut out this waste of billions and man-power, while everyone else is determined to go all out for total war.

During the depression it might have been all right, as a relief measure, but not now. The urge for every citizen to do his part would have more weight and accomplish more, if the government itself set the example.

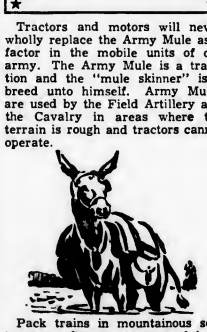
WAR BONDS

Tractors and motors will never wholly replace the Army Mule as a factor in the mobile units of our army. The Army Mule is a tradition and the "mule skinner" is a breed unto himself. Army Mules are used by the Field Artillery and the Cavalry in areas where the terrain is rough and tractors cannot operate.



Pack trains in mountainous sectors are often necessary and here the mule, slow but sure-footed, plays an important role. Our Army buys thousands of mules paying from $175 to $190 for each. The mule eats less, carries more, and some declare is smarter than the horse. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps helps pay for these Army Mules. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day.

WOMEN SELL BONDS IN WINCHESTER STORES

The blue halo hats and white capes of the Women's War Bond Committee have been in evidence all over Winchester during the past week. Members of the committee report a steady sale of stamps and a good number of bonds as well. The sale in the Winchester stores will continue through Saturday. Anyone who wishes to purchase a bond through a representative of a special organization so as to increase the total sales of that organization still has an opportunity to do so.

The Winchester Garden Club sold in Little Shaker on Tuesday and the Better Homes and Gardens Club will sell in the library on Friday and Saturday.

Other organizations selling are the Catholic Daughters at the Winchester Theater, Women's Guild of the Congregational Church at Richardson's, the Junior Florence Crittenton at Woolworth's, the Baptist and Unitarian Women's Clubs at Christy McDonalds, the Wellesley Club at Mary Spauldings, Church of the Epiphany Women's Guild at the Economy, Christian Science Church workers at Filene's.

A great deal of attention has been given to the window displays arranged by Mrs. Theodore Elliott. In Hevey's Drugstore window is a very realistic railroad train with War Bond posters as a background. In the Locatelli Building is a fort and a miniature army, some of them camouflaged by autumn leaves. Another window shows George and Martha Washington in two lovely old portraits. The displays will remain throughout the week.

Mrs. Frederick Hatch, Winchester chairman, stated this week that the success of the drive will be due in a great degree to the splendid co-operation of the local merchants, who have given valuable selling and display space in their stores for the drive.

Total up to Friday, Bonds, $5650. Stamps, $550.

FEARFUL TRAGEDY VISITS WINCHESTER

Nine From This Town Perished and Several Injured in Fire at Cocoanut Grove, Boston

All Winchester was stunned on Sunday morning when the terrible fire at the Cocoanut Grove revealed the list of those numbers of this town, including several widely known and universally popular young people, who fell victim to the flames that wrought such terrible destruction in the Boston night club last Saturday evening. Besides those who died from Winchester were among the injured and it was a very grave group of Sunday at the radio listening for news of acquaintances and friends.

Winchester's dead included Miss Marion Ambrose of 42 Vine street, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Charle of 247 Washington street, Joseph Dineen of 5 Watson place, Wilbur Meserve, formerly of 4 Cutting street, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McIntosh Saunders of 4 Churchill road, Miss Helen Welch of 25 Lebanon street, and Miss Katherine Woods of 8 Everett avenue. Among the injured were Miss Jeannette Mallin of Stevens street, formerly of 356 Main street, Douglas Graham of 72 Bacon street, and Lieut. William P. Langhammer of 16 Prospect street. It was subsequently learned that Miss Ruth MacDonald, a native and former resident of Winchester, died in the horror, as did Miss Katherine Swett whose brother, Nathaniel F. Swett makes his home on Washington street.

Hundreds lost their lives in the blaze which started shortly after 10 o'clock in the Melody Lounge, in the basement, where a patron was said to have unscrewed an electric light bulb. A 16 year old bus boy climbed onto a chair with a match in his hand to replace the bulb and somehow the match ignited some of the club decorations.

The flames spread quickly, probably through partitions, and made their way upstairs where most of the patrons were dining and dancing. Nearly 1000 persons were estimated to have been at the club and as they jammed toward exits in an hysterical attempt to get out of the building scores were trampled as others were suffocated or burned in the crackling flames.

At local police headquarters many calls were received and the force was kept busy tracing families of victims thought to come from Winchester. Some of the local force went in town to assist in any way possible.

Long time residents of Winchester can remember nothing associated with the town that has had such tragic consequences. The sudden death of nine members of the community veritably stunned everyone, especially those who knew intimately the young people who lost their lives in so grim a fashion. Two of the dead were Winchester teachers, local girls appointed to positions here only this fall. Another was a widely known athlete in school and college. A young father and mother perished together, leaving a six year old child. Another local teacher was badly burned and among those injured was a former high school football captain and Harvard freshman athlete.

Miss Marion Lucey Ambrose

Miss Marion Lucey Ambrose, daughter of Mrs. Nora A. (Lucey) and the late Michael C. Ambrose of 42 Vine street, went to the Cocoanut Grove with a sister Winchester teacher, Miss Helen M. Welch, their escorts being two Army Air Corps officers, Capt. Charles G. Whitmire of Greenville, S. C., and Lieut. John G. Stapleton of Foley, Ala., graduates of Citadel College, S. C. Only Capt. Whitmire survived the fire and he was badly burned, being removed to the Boston City Hospital. Miss Ambrose was identified by her brother, Postmaster Vincent C. Ambrose, who was accompanied by another brother, Major Harold F. Ambrose, Army Ordnance Corps officer, who arrived home from Washington to visit his mother and was met at the train with the news of his sister's death.

Miss Ambrose was born in Winchester Jan. 23, 1921. She was graduated from St. Mary's Grammar School and from Winchester High School in the class of 1938, playing on the field hockey team and being manager of the unbeaten girls' varsity basketball team.

She attended Lowell State Teachers' College, from which she was graduated in the class of 1942. She participated in student activities at Lowell as a member of the Army honor hockey team, of the Army and Alumnae basketball teams and as a member of several important commit-

SPECIAL SERMON BY DR. CHIDLEY

Next Sunday morning at the First Congregational Church, Dr. Chidley will preach upon, The Healing of the Nations, giving a comprehensive view of the influence of Christianity on personal morals, family life, national affairs and international relations.

It is a thrilling story of religion in the affairs of men and of nations, a much needed perspective in these days when the whole philosophy of Christianity is under attack by the Axis powers, an illustration of William Penn's statment, 200 years ago, that "men will either be ruled by God or by tyrants."

Miss Claudia Renehan will be the guest soloist at this service.

The public is invited.

LIEUT. TANSEY HEADING DEPARTMENT AT MIAMI BEACH

Lieut. J. [illegible] Tansey [illegible] Winchester [illegible] A [illegible] Miami Beach, Officers Training School, graduating 1250 every two weeks; Officers Candidate School, graduating 1000 every three months and a basic replacement school. The average age of the officers candidates is 24, that of the officers trainees, 18.

Lieut. Tansey's wife, the former Ruth Poland, their three children and Lieut. Tansey's father have joined him at Miami and they are living in the Shadow Lawn section of the city. He has met Dr. and Mrs. William Barone who is taking a six weeks' training course for duty with the Aviation Medical Corps; and Lieut. Cedric Seager, who was at Miami Beach, en route to Harrisburg, Pa. Always interested in football, Lieut. Tansey has seen Miami High play and rates it one of the best he has seen in years.

He finds many of the candidates who come to the camp from civilian life very poorly co-ordinated physically and believes there is something decidedly wrong with physical education programs which turn out super-athletes but do so little for the average youth.

A week from tonight and tomorrow night the Winton Club presents its annual benefit show for the Winchester Hospital.

This has been done before but never at a more timely date as now when the general public have witnessed the emergency response of the hospitals and relief organizations in the shocking tragedy in Boston. It has brought into focus the great and valuable need of the many volunteer organizations and societies who work, untiringly for some particular department or equipment of the hospitals.

And so it is a privilege for the Winton Club to bring to the community, at this time, when all are expressing their gratitude for the work of these institutions to meet the need of hundreds of the fire victims, an opportunity to assist them in doing their funds to give our Winchester Hospital its complete linen supply. This has been the work of the Winton Club since it was organized some 30 years ago.

PATRICK T. WALSH WILL UPHELD

After considerable litigation, the will of the late Patrick T. Walsh of 9 Oxford street has been upheld by Judge Polland after a nine day session during this week.

The will, which left his stock in the Eastern Lith Co. to Edward Donnelly of that town and the residue of his estate, consisting of stock and cash to Lieutenant Rene Rotallard, was contested by a nephew and five nieces, who claimed Mr. Donnelly and Mr. Rotallard used undue influence on Mr. Walsh.

The amount of the estate is estimated at around $100,000.

The will was contested and was denied by Judge Leopold and then was brought up again before Judge Polland.

The will of Mrs. Patrick T. Walsh, who died before her husband, is being contested by two relatives, and if this is denied, it will add to the estate of her husband. Her estate consists of real estate and house furnishings amounting to $15,000 or $20,000.

POINTING THE WAY TO VICTORY

Our country is engaged in a war which necessitates the speedy and accurate moving of men, equipment and materials over great distances. Aeroplanes and ships are important factors in accomplishing this gigantic problem, and vast quantities of instruments are needed for their guidance under changing temperatures and varying altitudes. These instruments require accurate and balanced pointers to insure correct calabration and reading. Supplying these highly delicate pointers is a part of our war effort.

Since 1868 we have specialized in the manufacture of watch and clock hands. Today our production has been converted to the manufacture of all types of instrument pointers, and many other parts for our war industries.

We are most grateful that our efforts have resulted in our receiving the Army-Navy "E" Production Award for high achievement.

We pledge the continuance of this achievement with high quality products that "point the way to victory."

J. H. Winn & Sons

The official presentation of the award will be made at the Winchester Town Hall, Friday, Dec. 11, at 8 P. M. Friends and neighbors of the Company are invited to attend.

Word was received in Winchester this week of the death of Miss Ethel Woodward, a former resident, who died Nov. 25, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Douglas Gilchrist in Lansdowne, Pa.

Miss Woodward, a native of Richmond, Va., was 87 years old. For some years she spent her summers in Winchester with her sister, the late Mrs. Raymond Breed of 28 Woodside road, spending the winters in Boston. She had many friends in that city as well as in this town. Her hobby was Botany and she had a great love for flowers. Since Mrs. Breed's death, Miss Woodward had been making her home in Lansdowne. Besides her sister there she leaves another sister, Mrs. A. P. Kautsler of Chicago, and two brothers, in Virginia.

Mr. Horn was the son of Peter Thompson and Sarah F. (Hamilton) Horn. He was born Aug. 8, 1880, in Charlestown, but came to Winchester as a child and was educated in the Winchester schools, graduating from Winchester High School and from Bryant and Stratton Commercial College in Boston. As a young man he was employed as a bookkeeper by the Carson Kid Company on South street in Boston and later conducted his own printing business in that city. He studied music as a young man and for some time gave piano lessons, also conducting an orchestra. Latterly he had been employed in the office of the Park Department at the town hall, being well and favorably known.

THE WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Charles J. Connick, greatest living American master in stained glass will talk before the members of the Winchester Art Association Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6 at 4 o'clock. Mr. Connick's subject will be, "The Art and Technique of Stained Glass."

No Bostonian needs to be introduced to this superb craftsman who has lifted this significant art from the depths of the 19th century, and who alone, it has been suggested might approximate such glass as that of Chartres.

Mr. Connick is the author of Adventures in Light and Color (Random House) picturing the craft from the Middle Ages to date, containing 48 lovely color plates, written with humor and sagacity, including a chapter Glassman's Holiday in Europe. It is considered by the resident Architect at Chartres Cathedral the masterpiece of its field and has been acclaimed by Museums, and Architects throughout this country, in Canada and in England.

From Brother Sun's workshop comes glass making Boston glass as famous as the Boston clippers in another age. Examples will make up the December exhibit at the library open to the public from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. week days, Dec. 7 through Dec. 30.

EN KA STARTS MANOEUVERS FOR SPRING CAMPAIGN

It may be early to think of the fair
But the girls on the attic sure have a flair
They are getting off to a great big start
In begging people with their goods to part
The committee itself hasn't even been chosen
But the things they sell cannot be "frozen"
They will sell what you have, with your permission
But they must have an En Ka commission
Give us old clothes or vases or shoes
We want a lot from which to choose
We're now selling houses and even a cat
With four good tires to travel far
Harriett Wolfe has charge over all
So if you have something, just give her a call
And if you want something, please don't get blue
Just pick up your phone and say 0172

THE FORTNIGHTLY

President's Day of the Fortnightly, recently held in Fortnightly Hall, will be a day long remembered by the members and guests. After a very pleasant dessert hour and reception of the visiting officers, Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, president, opened the regular meeting and expressed the feeling of welcome.

When the business of the meeting had about come to a close and Mrs. Hall asked if there was any new business, Mrs. Ida Ripley, very graciously stepped forward and presented the club with a State Flag as a gift from the Past Presidents and President. Mrs. Ripley is one of the pioneer women of the Fortnightly and the senior living past president. She served the club as president in the years 1901-1903. Mrs. Ripley spoke very touchingly and eloquently of the many fine men and traditions of Massachusetts. Mrs. Hall, in accepting this gift by the club, thanked Mrs. Ripley and said that it would be a constant expression of the spirit of loyalty that has always been shown.

The honored guests of the day were Mrs. Edwin Ledyard, ... Mrs. Raymond ... of the State Federation, and Mrs. Robert Johnson ... in ... Mrs. ... Kenneth ... on the ... the ... Federation, ... Mrs. Ledyard set forth ... research, the position of club women in the war and after the war.

Many reservations for tables have been received from members and friends of the Fortnightly for the holly dessert bridge and white elephant auction to be held in Fortnightly Hall, Tuesday, Dec. 8, under the auspices of the Philanthropy Committee. Mrs. Roger Burgoyne is general chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. George French, tickets; Mrs. Marshall Symmes, decorations; Mrs. Benjamin Hills, refreshments, and Mrs. Kingman Cass, white elephants. The philanthropies of the Fortnightly have exceeded $17,000 over a period of years.

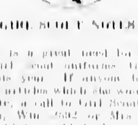
The Literature Group of the Fortnightly will continue studies of China on Monday, Dec. 7, at 2 p. m. in Fortnightly Hall. Mrs. Blanche Barnard will consider the Important Eras in the History of Chinese Literature and Mrs. Azalia Higgins will talk on Chinese Poetry.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

There will be a meeting of the Guild of the Infant Saviour on next Tuesday at 2:30 in Lyceum Hall. The afternoon will be devoted to sewing and all are urged to be present so that much can be done toward filling the quota planned for Christmas delivery. The sewing chairman has asked all who are working on garments at home to try to have them ready next week. The needs of those who are helped through the work of the Guild cannot be overlooked even in the stress of emergencies such as the present. Because of this it is necessary that the interest and efforts of all the members be directed toward maintaining the high standard of accomplishment gained by Winchester Chapter. Mrs. William H. Murray, acting chairman of hospitality plans to serve tea on next Tuesday, so do drop in to work with your friends on filling that sewing basket and enjoy the tea and chat for afterward.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

On Tuesday, Dec. 8, at 2:30 o'clock the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church will meet. A treat is in store for those who attend as Mrs. Robert Norton Ganz, a graduate of Emerson College and a member of Mr. Pennington's church at Harvard Square will read the play, Family Portrait by Lenore Coffee and William Joyce Cowen. This is a most unusual and interesting play portraying the family of Jesus and especially appropriate at this Christmas season. The Bell Ringers of the Congregational Church composed of young girls will furnish the musical program and to hear them once makes one want to hear them again. There will be a sale of aprons and useful articles suitable for Christmas gifts. Tea will be served and everyone will be welcome.



GIRL SCOUT NOTES

There is a great need for second hand Girl Scout uniforms, ties and belts this year. If anyone has any of these articles which she would care to donate, a call to Girl Scout headquarters, Win. 2052 or Mrs. G. A. Tapley, 0670 would find a way for them to get to the proper troops.

WINCHESTER GIRL IN COLLEGE WHO'S WHO

Miss Peggy Shaughnessey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Shaughnessey of 7 Webster street, who will receive her B. S. degree from Boston University in May, is among those students who will be listed in the 1942-43 issue of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

The book will be released in January or February.

This publication is published through the co-operation of over 600 American universities and colleges. It is the only means of national recognition for graduates which is devoid of politics, fees and dues. Several students from accredited colleges are selected each year, by an unprejudiced committee, for their biographies to appear in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. These books are placed in the hands of hundreds of companies and others who annually recruit outstanding students for employment.

Miss Shaughnessey is a member of Theta Psi sorority at Boston University and served as its president during her junior year, when she was also a member of the All-University Junior Week Committee. She has served as secretary and treasurer of the Athletic Association, treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, and is at present the president of the Student Government Board at the College of Practical Arts and Letters. Recently Miss Shaughnessey was nominated to Scarlet Key, B. U. honorary society, and was named among the candidates for the Co-ed Colonel of B. U.'s annual military ball.

Miss Shaughnessey graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1938 and later attended the Erskine School.

PATRIOTIC FILM

Unitarian Youth

On Sunday evening, Dec. 6, the Metcalf Union will be the hosts to the Unitarian young people's group from the Melrose Unitarian Church. At this meeting the film, "The World We Want to Live In" will be shown for the first time in this area. This film is distributed by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

It is a documentary film made up from news reels and special films. What this war really is forcefully presents itself on the screen. The fine substantial things of peace time living for which we are fighting are not absent — in fact they put the ideals we hold so dear in a form which we cannot help but grasp at once.

One of the most spectacular scenes shows the destruction of the English cathedrals. Though there is a feeling of great sorrow, we come through this picture with a sense of dedication to principles and acts that will make this impossible in the future. We prepare the world we want to live in.

It is planned to have a March of Time film on the same program.

FRIDHAM AND THE SECRETARY

[illegible]

[illegible] the next two went to Fridham and the Secretary, the latter getting an occasional ringer for a change.

While this match was in progress Mr. Butters and Harry Pilkington, a new comer and avowed typro, took on Mr. Teele and Mr. Knowlton on the second court. It is a matter of record that the Butters-Pilkington team emerged on top in this one and that Mr. Pilkington gave Mr. Teele the well known "works" in so doing. Mr. Butters was very happy about it all.

The final match of the day brought together Mr. Teele and Mr. Knowlton against the secretary and Mr. Butters. The latter team took the first one rather easily, and had a 12-2 lead in the second game with Mr. Knowlton contributing both of the two points.

Then Mr. Teele got a ringer, and with the count 16-6 against him, commenced to go in real earnest. Turning in some superlative pitching, the President ran the count to 16 all, after which he and the secretary did not fail to get at least one shoe on the stake in each box.

Meanwhile Mr. Butters had blown. His shoe was turning beautifully but the direction was faulty and Mr. Knowlton, grimly laying his shoes in close, added point after point until the score stood 23-19 for him and Mr. Teele. The latter was nearly delirious with joy.

Every Teele shoe on the stake had been covered by the secretary, but Royal opined the last two would not be. They weren't, for they didn't have to be, what looked like ringers turning out to be just near ones. Shutting his eyes, the secretary threw a double-header, winning the game for himself and the delighted Mr. Butters, while Mr. Teele's incredulous amazement fast crystalized into utter despondency.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE

An Open House for parents will be held at the Junior High School next Monday night, Dec. 7 from 7:30 to 9:30. All parents are cordially invited to attend and to meet the principal and teachers.

Many members of the Executive Board of the Junior High Schol Associates will be present to greet parents and to assist them in meeting the teachers. Parents will be interested in obtaining in advance from their children the names of the teachers who are now instructing their children in particular subjects.

These open house meetings are intended primarily as social gatherings and a great many parents take advantage of these opportunities to meet the teachers. For these reasons, it is expected that parents having particular matters to discuss will find it to their advantage to arrange for such dscussions at a time other than open house evening.

AMERICAN HISTORY STUDENTS CITE DEMOCRATIC IDEALS

Students in the American History classes of Mrs. Ella Stacy presented an excellent program in assembly on Wednesday. Presiding as chairman, Ellen Jackson ably introduced each speaker with well prepared and well presented items which contributed to the continuity.

The curtain opened to disclose Old Glory, alone speaking The Message of the Flag through the audible voice of James Farrell.

In turn, Ellen Jackson, Betty Mullan, Frank Horne, Parker Symmes told of the history of American Independence, the importance of the Declaration of Independence, the militaristic tradition of the Nazis, and finally the ideals of the American people as opposed to those of the enemies of democracy.

The program which ran about one half hour included the reading of the school book poem Independence Bell and a less well known poem by Grace Pollard of Montreal entitled, Democracy. As these pieces were worked into the regular talks, completely memorized, the presentation was flawless. Final plea was for the power to uphold our way of life and to provide economic prosperity for the world.

WINTON CLUB SHOW

The annual show is a hospital benefit and deserves the support of all the citizens. This year it is to be staged in the high school auditorium and promises to be the most beautifully costumed and tuneful entertainment given here in some time. A fast moving stage show with clever dances and sparkling tap numbers by a group of the high school girls, who are taking part in a show program for the first time. Waltz numbers and solo parts by dancers including Virginia Black and Yvonne Clennon will be featured. Skits and song numbers throughout the program are full of entertainment and pleasure. Others dancing are Louise Kelly (Mrs. Dana), Mrs. Henry Delicker, Mrs. John Ghirardini, Mrs. Marni McNitt, Mrs. Luther Puffer, Mrs. William Mitchell and Mrs. Bouldin Burbank. Others are Ann Crowell, Kay Seaton, Louise Kelly, Janet Eaton, Viginia Straghan, Joan Somerby, Joan Wild, Natalie Tisdale, Marion Philbrook, Barbara Mitchell, Shirley Howland, and Joan Blanchard, with Dottie Richardson and Sully Shelburne.

The ever popular March Militaire has always been the hit of the show. This year those taking part are Muriel Handford, Marjorie Rice, Ruth Cole, Helen Grush, Jane Kimball, Lois Harmon, Nancy England, Jane Armstrong, Anna Stone, also Bonney Wilson, Nancy Newton, Joan Beebee, An Jo Woodward and Carol Crandall.

Mrs. E. George Pierce, Jr., chairman of the production committee is announcing plans for a short period of dancing following the show, in the high school gym, to the music of Jack Marshard. All are invited to stay and enjoy this social hour.

Many buffet and dinner parties are being given by groups going on to the show together. Among them are many new friends who are supporting the club in its community work and attending the show for the first time. The increased seating capacity of the auditorium over the town hall has met with response and the advance sale of tickets and the continual demand assures the funds for the linen budget this year.

Box office at 10 Thompson street is now open and further information of the show can be had there.

Miss Katharine Woods

Miss Katharine Woods, who passed away suddenly Saturday night, was the daughter of Carl E. and Katharine (Dugan) Woods of 8 Everett avenue. Miss Woods was born in Winchester on Jan. 10, 1920. She attended the Brimmer School in Boston and was graduated from Miss Hall's School in Pittsfield. After gradation she attended the Erskine School.

Miss Woods was a member of the Grey Ladies' Corps. For a year or more, she had been secretary of the Volunteer Red Cross Nurses' Aid Corps. Recently she had been assisting in the Field Director's Office at the Navy Recruiting Station in the Fargo Building.

She is survived by her parents and by her brother, James F. Woods, also of Winchester.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at her late residence with the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment was at the Wildwood Cemetery.

Injured

Douglas Graham, son of Mrs. Robert Graham of 72 Bacon street and former Winchester High three letter athlete, had a miraculous escape from death in the fire that swept the Cocoanut Grove last Saturday evening.

"Doug" went to the club with his fiancee, Miriam Johnson of Worcester who dances at the club and is known professionally as "Miriam." She had appeared in her act and had gone to her dressing room, "Doug" awaiting her at a table near the stairs that led to the quarters used by the entertainers.

When the flames broke into the floor of the club, Graham attempted to get to his fiancee's assistance, but the heavy smoke overcame him. He came to on the floor, having been revived by fresh air entering through an opening forced by firemen. He managed to drag himself through the opening into the street before collapsing again.

He was picked up and taken to the Boston City Hospital in a private car. He was bleeding badly from a head wound, which required five stitches to close, but had not been burned, though his lungs and eyes were affected by the heavy smoke which overcame him. He was unable to say when his head was injured.

Meanwhile Miss Johnson had escaped by jumping from her dressing room window, being caught by a group of sailors below. She was not injured and with friends drove to Winchester to the Graham home, returning to Boston with Mrs. Graham.

Through the assistance of the Boston Herald, on which "Doug's" brother, Corp. Robert Graham, was a reporter before entering the Army, the young man was located at the City Hospital where a joyful reunion took place.

"Doug" was held at the hospital until Monday afternoon when he was brought home in the Police ambulance. At home Tuesday he was reported as getting along nicely.

Miss Jeannette Mullin of 17 Stevens street, who was critically injured in the fire at the Cocoanut Grove, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary E., and the late Francis X. Mullin, former well known residents of Winchester. Miss Mullin is a kindergarten teacher at the George Washington School, having been appointed in 1938.

She is at the Boston City Hospital and is still on the danger list, having contracted pneumonia as well as being badly burned. A blood transfusion was given her Wednesday night and as the Star went to press her condition was reported as slightly improved by her sister, Mrs. Thomas P. Glynn, Jr., of Cambridge.

SONS OF ITALY LODGE NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of the Lodge was held on Tuesday evening, Dec 1. There are so many things taking up the time of our members nowadays, such as defense work, air raid warden school, armed services, etc., that the attendance at our past few meetings has been rather small when compared to pre-war days.

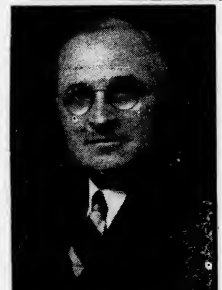
The Christmas party committee reported that the party for children will be held on Sunday, Dec. 20. This function has become one of the outstanding events of the lodge each year, and in view of the many difficulties which will confront the committee this year, it still hopes to be able to live up to the high standards set by previous Christmas parties.

Another member of the lodge has joined the armed forces, Anthony Chefalo, who is now in the Navy, stationed at Norfolk, Va., making a total of 31 members now serving.

Toward the close of the meeting the assembly was very agreeably surprised when Lieut. Angelo Maietta walked in. He looked fit as a fiddle having lost at least 10 pounds. Doc is home on a 10 day furlough from his duties at Camp Stewart, Ga.

Among the communications read at the meeting were letters from Lieut. William Barone, Pvt. Bebe Russo, Pvt. Gaspar Muraco, and Pvt. Mario Payson Marrone. Payson wrote a total of three cards, and in each one he strongly cautioned us not to forget to send him his subscription to the Star.

Men are dying for the Four Freedoms. The least we can do here at home is to buy War Bonds—10% for War Bonds, every pay day.



SENATOR HARRY S. TRUMAN of Missouri, chairman of Senate Committee on War Expenditures, speaker at Taxpayers Federation meeting at Hotel Statler, Dec. 12.

SALVATION ARMY CONTINUES WORK

In the final efforts to reach scores of men and owmen in Winchester, who have never assisted the Salvation Army and those who formerly aided, but have not made their 1942 donation, Brother Thomas Woodruff, an official collector, continues at work. Many have aided the sponsoring committee, whose chairman is William N. Beggs, by mailing or handing checks or money to the campaign treasurer. He is G. Dwight Cabot, treasurer of the Winchester Trust Company.

There is a keen desire on the part of the Winchester men and women interested in reaching the $2000 goal for a new high in donations, so that the best job ever done may be carried on through the Winchester Emergency Fund of the Salvation Army. This fund is operated for the relief of Winchester folk who meet temporary setbacks and is in charge of men and women of Winchester, headed by Mr. Beggs.

WYMAN SCHOOL NOTES

Grade 1, Miss Hackett's room, gave an interesting assembly on Friday, Nov. 20, which was the culminating activity of a Science Unit which acquainted the children with the trees in our school yard.

A study of the gray squirrel was made in conjunction with our learning about the trees, their leaves, seed pods and nuts.

Original stories were told by the children and illustrated with pictures and specimens gathered by them.

A Thanksgiving assembly was held Tuesday, Nov. 24. With paintings done by the children, Miss Pollansbie's fourth grade told us the story of the history of ships and the part they had played in civilization.

After telling about the Mayflower a Pilgrim play The First Thanksgiving, was presented by the children. In closing the Prayer of Thanksgiving was sung. The main theme of the assembly was Ships Have Made History."

WAR SERVICE TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

Every person today desires to make the greatest possible contribution toward the war effort. Some men and women have been deprived of employment because of war dislocations and would like to be trained for work in war industries. Others wish to prepare themselves better for the work they are now doing or for service in the armed forces. To aid individuals who are seeking training opportunities for war service, this information is provided.

The Engineering Science and Management War Training Courses are a part of a national project supported by the government for specialized training in fields essential to the war effort. This program, offered by Harvard University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Northeastern University, Tufts College, Boston College, and Boston University, includes full-time day courses for men and women, as well as evening studies for men and women who are employed. The courses are given without charge for tuition, but students are expected to meet other expenses.

All courses are of collegiate grade, but the requirements for admission vary for each course. These requirements extend from high school graduation only, to engineering or science degrees. Advanced Engineering, Elements of Applied Chemistry, Drawing, Chemistry of Plastics and Rubber, Electronic and Cathode Ray Tubes, Fundamentals of Radio, Industrial Management, Office Management for Women, and Production Control and Scheduling are but a few examples of the courses offered in the present program. A leaflet describing the entire program, as well as specific information regarding any course, may be secured from the War Training Bureau, Room 7-102, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass.

Training for production jobs in war industries is offered through several agencies. Short, intensive courses in specific occupations essential to the war program are being given by the public vocational schools under both day and evening schedules. This program is co-ordinated by the Division of Vocational Education in the State Department of Education.

Individuals who are seeking employment, as well as workers who are already employed, but who desire training for advanced positions or supervisory responsibilities, are eligible for these courses. Classes in machine shop, welding, electrical wiring, sheet metal work, and many other subjects are offered under this program. The United States Employment Service is the best source of information for individuals interested in training of this type. The Boston office, located at 9 Beacon street or the office of this district at Woburn are most conveniently located for residents of Winchester.

Out-of-school youth between the ages of 16 and 24 inclusive, and unemployed at the time of application, may secure training for war service through the National Youth Administration. This organization sponsors training projects in machine shop, radio, sheet metal, and welding through its Boston units. At the resident center in Quoddy Village, Me., there are shop units in drafting, foundry, machine shop, sheet metal, welding, aviation aircraft, aviation sheet metal, aviation engines, aviation instruments, and radio. Booklets describing the resident center and the work project units may be obtained by writing to the National Youth Administration, 101 Tremont street, Boston, Mass.

The Guidance Office of Winchester High School will gladly give aid in contacting any of these training organizations. This material is provided under its auspices.

CAR AND TRUCK COLLIDED

One person was injured and an Oldsmobile sedan was badly damaged about the front end in a collision with a Ford truck on Main street near the Medford line Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The operator of the sedan, Patrick J. Lynch of Harriet avenue, Burlington, told the Police he was headed north when his car collided with the truck which was parked facing north. The operator of the truck, James P. Harvey of Marion street, Wilmington, said the machine had broken down and he had left it to make a phone call for assistance. The front end of the Olds was badly damaged and the rear end of the truck slightly damaged. Gerald Conners, 18, of Edgemere avenue, Burlington, a passenger in the sedan, sustained a bruised forehead as a result of the accident. While the Police were checking the accident the Olds suddenly went on fire. Sergt. Joseph Derro put out the blaze with the extinguisher in Patrol 52.

SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD NOW AT WOBURN

Because of staff limitations and the nationwide policy of conserving gasoline and rubber, the weekly office hours of the Social Security Board which have been provided at the Post Office in Winchester will be discontinued for the duration of the wartime emergency, it was announced by James T. Phelan, manager of the Board's Cambridge office.

Residents of Winchester and vicinity are urged to write or visit the itinerant office in the Woburn Post Office which is open every Monday at 2:30 p. m., or to call at the area office at 10 Temple street in Cambridge.

With increased public understanding of the provisions of Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, Mr. Phelan explained that almost all inquiries now being received can be handled easily by mail.

District Leaders Plan Winchester's 1943 United War Fund Campaign

Mr. Sherman B. Russell, Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth Jr. and Mr. Harlow Russell. Mr. Harlow Russell is Associate Community Chairman in charge of Districts, with Mr. Sherman B. Russell, and Mrs. Farnsworth as his assistants.

$60,500 ANNOUNCED AS WINCHESTER'S 1943 UNITED WAR FUND QUOTA

After a series of conferences with leaders in the Greater Boston United War Fund Campaign for 1943, Mr. J. Henry Smith, Jr. general chairman for Winchester has announced that Winchester's quota is $60,500, an increase of $1900 or about three per cent over the sum of $58,600 raised here last year.

The increase is in line with the general increase of the total fund goal, now set as $7,800,000 for the campaign as a whole. In making the announcement, Mr. Smith pointed out once again that the "Peace Time" agencies served and financed through this campaign are geing granted no increases in their budgets, but that the unusual demands brought about by war conditions, made the increase necessary. This is particularly true in the case of the USO and the Soldiers and Sailors Committee whose activities and functions have expanded tremendously during the last 12 months. It is also influenced materially by including in this year's campaign Greater Boston's share of national goals for assistance to Chinese, Russians, British, Dutch, Greeks and Polish as under the United Nations Relief, there will be no separate campaigns this year for those organizations.

Also in the spirit of the true Community effort sums have been included for Emergency War Services such as the War Prisoners Aid Committee and the American Social Hygiene Association, plus an emergency fund to be set up to cover Greater Boston's share of now unforseen, but critical needs that might develop under present war conditions.

With everyone definitely conscious of the great need for the services represented in this associated, community effort, local campaign leaders are looking forward to the coming campaign from Jan. 21 to Feb. 10 with the knowledge that while $60,500 is a large sum of money, nevertheless it is one that with whole-hearted cooperation from the citizens of Winchester can be reached. Progress is being made daily in recruiting the working organization for the campaign and Winchester with 38 per cent of its workers enrolled at the last official tabulation is high among all communities in progress to date. A meeting of District directors next Monday, Dec. 7 will further stimulate the recruiting drive.

REPORT OF WOMEN'S BOND WEEK

The women of Winchester sold $10,475 in bonds and $943.80 in stamps during Women's War Bond Week, Mrs. Frederick Hatch, chairman, announced this week. Despite the fact that Thanksgiving Week is one of the busiest periods for most women, some 50 Winchester women worked a total of 260 hours, selling in retail stores.

Two Boys Scouts, Franklyn Pynn and Robert McGrail volunteered their services on Saturday and worked from 10 in the morning to 9 that evening running errands, making change, selling stamps, and helping in all sorts of ways.

Throughout the month of December her the Woman's Committee will sell in Woolworth's and plans are now being made to have a booth in Filene's during part of the month. Anyone who wishes to help by selling either for part of or a whole day is urged to telephone Mrs. Hatch at Win. 0836-W.

Ten per cent of your income in War Bonds will help to build the planes and tanks that will insure defeat of Hitler and his Axis partners.

MOTORIST ARRESTED AFTER ACCIDENT

Sunday morning at 2.45 Officers James Farrell and John Hanlon in Patrol 52 went to Grove street to investigate the radio report of an accident there.

They found a Cadillac sedan, owned by William C. Barry, Inc., of 127-131 Main street, Medford, wedged between an Edison Light pole and a stonewall just beyond the MacLynn home at 47 Grove street. Twenty feet or so of stonewall in front of the MacLynn residence had been knocked down.

The car was in charge of Herbert A. Davis of 20 Pearl street, Medford, who the Police say admitted having been the operator. With him were two Medford youths. No one of the three claimed injuries.

Davis was placed under arrest by officer Farrell, charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in court Monday morning when his case was continued until Dec. 9.

The automobile was badly damaged and had to be towed away by the Barry Company.

CUB PACK SPONSORS LECTURE

An exciting lecture by Mr. Charles Copp, teacher in a boys school in Japan for 20 years, a prisoner of war there for nine months, of which four months wre spent in solitary confinement, and recently returned as an exchange prisoner on the S. S. Gripsholm, is announced for Winchester for Monday evening, Dec. 14 at 8 o'clock in Metcalf Hall of the Unitarian Church. The lecture is under the sponsorship of the brand new Cub Pack 6 of the Fellsland Council, recently organized by Dr. Paul Harmon Chapman of this town and his Citizen's Cub Pack Committee.

Proceeds from the event will benefit Cub Pack 6 and will be used to purchase equipment and the defraying of organizational expenses.

Mr. Copp, the lecturer, is a famed teacher, a world traveler and a speaker of great experience and chrm. We are told that his talks are equalled in interest only by his question and answer periods which follow. Needless to say, Mr. Copp's experiences during the last year of his time in Japan, and particularly those concerning his arrest and imprisonment by the Japanese military at the time of Pearl Harbor, through to the time of his release by exchange are hair-raising.

The Cub Pack Committee working with Dr. Chapman in the organization of Cub Pack 6, and the promotion of the Copp lecture comprise Messrs. A. Smith, treasurer, S. P. [illegible], secretary, Clinton Mason, admission, [illegible] Zirpo, advance tickets, with Mr. Charles Pearce, the chairman.

Dr. Chapman as Cubmaster will have Robert Carruthers and Jim Coon as Assistant Cubmasters, and Robert Ramsdell, Andre Robbins, Charles Lovejoy, Bill Everett, Robert Goddu, Earle Spencer and Bill Bird, have been appointed Den Chiefs for Cub Pack 6. Some 30 boys have already been signed up for this fine new pack of cubs about which, undoubtedly, much more and greater things will be heard under the grand leadership and organization plan announced.

VICTORY FUND COMMITTEE

Joseph W. Worthen of 29 Wedgemere avenue is chairman of the Winchester Victory Fund Committee, directing the campaign in this town in the government's drive to sell $9,000,000,000 in Victory loan certificates to help finance the war.

A large group of volunteers, most of them from the investment banking fields, is working in the campaign. The Victory Fund drive is independent of the war savings campaign, which is continuing as heretofore.

Other members of the Winchester committee are: Frank E. Crawford, William Lewis Parsons, Maurice Cobb Bird, Thomas A. Kirwan, Earle F. Spencer, William F. Hickey, William F. Morton and H. Wadsworth Hight.

Christmas Supplement 1942

"The Season's Greetings"

1 Year of War in the Automobile Business

OUR PART IN THE WAR EFFORT

AUTOMOTIVE TRANSPORTATION is absolutely essential to the winning of the war.

GOODS must reach their destination and WORKERS must get to their jobs on time.

SERVICE MEN, in maintaining and conserving both vehicles and tires, are performing a most important function in the Nation's war effort.

Joseph S. Eastman,
Director
OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION

Our loss of personnel has been very serious, ten men to the Armed Forces and men to the War Production Industries.

If there is no mechanic to make your car operate, it doesn't make any difference how much gas you have or how good your tires are.

Service replacement parts are increasingly difficult to get, but we are assured by our factory that parts will be available, so no car need go off the road because of a functional part.

If you are eligible for a new car we have FORD, MERCURY and LINCOLN cars in stock.

We have a number of good used cars which will give you economical transportation.

We have been in business in Winchester for 17 years and we are going to see this thing through.

W. H. S. SENIORS MAY ENTER TUFTS JAN. 26

Principal Samuel M. Graves has been notified by Dean Nils Y Wessell, director of admissions, that Tufts College will consider applications from Winchester High School seniors desiring to enter college at the opening of the second semester Jan. 26, provided they meet specified requirements. Applications should be entered at once in order that students accepted will have ample time to draw up programs adapted to their special needs in war training courses. Applications must have the endorsement of Mr. Graves as possessing the required qualifications of scholastic standing.

A number of special scholarships are available for students accepted who need financial assistance, and under the new accelerated program at Tufts a full college course can be completed in two years and eight months. Tufts also offers a counselling service, whereby students may be assisted in selecting a college course most suited to their individual aptitudes. They may thus train for specialized war work, as well as post-war reconstruction work.

Freshmen may enter Tufts Naval R. O. T. C. upon passing a physical examination and other tests given by the Navy Department, and assigned to the college to complete undergraduate work while receiving special instruction in naval science and tactics. Those successfully completing instruction are recommended for commissions in the U. S. Naval Reserve and Marine Corps.

Winchester members of the Tufts Naval R. O. T. C. include, William M. Dowden, son of Mrs. Ruth R. Bradley of Park road, Frank S. Hersom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Hersom of Glen road, Richard A. Mancib, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin S Mancib of Yale street, Lewis K. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis K. Moore of Penn road, and Samuel S. Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Reynolds of Sargent road.

In co-operation with the Civil Aeronautics Authority, Tufts also offers special ground and flight instruction. The Tufts Engineering School is working in close relationship with training courses for both the Army and Navy, and also for many essential industries. Thus students may enroll in specialized courses keyed to defense, in fields of chemistry, electronics, radio communications, accounting and economic statistics where there is at present an acute shortage of trained specialists.

Scientific courses, including engineering subjects, physics and chemistry, are also open to students enrolling in Jackson, the department of women at Tufts. The program is de- l to meet woman-power needs ecialized fields, and Jackson stu- are counselled in regard to ng so to fill vacancies within in- as of the end of each semes ter, if needed. It is also possible for women students to combine scientific courses with liberal arts subjects in a plan adapted to the individual student's ability.

Cadet Duffett, son of S. L. Duffett, of 64 Oxford street, is majoring in chemistry, and was chosen for advanced R. O. T. C. training in the new Ordnance Department units at the Citadel. This unit, one of only four authorized to be established during 1942, includes cadets who have shown special aptitudes.

More than 1800 cadets are enrolled at the Citadel, approximately half of them being in the coast artillery unit there, which will receive training with the new antiaircraft weapon.

Cadet Duffett graduated from the Winchester High School in 1940. He is taking full part in the several activities at the Citadel. PRINCIPAL NEW YORK SPEAKER

Mr. Clinton W. Bennett, of 10 Everell road, has returned from the annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, held last week at the Hotel Astor in New York City. Mr. Bennett was one of the principal speakers before the convention. During a session devoted to problems of management, Mr. Bennett spoke on the subject of "Progress in Budgetary Control, 1932-1942."

Mr. Bennett showed in his address that during the last 10 years there had been more progress from the standpoint of management than in any previous decade. He pointed out, however, that the nation's tremendous activity in the war had brought an inevitable and substantial loosening of managerial controls. This he felt was only a temporary condition. Because of the firm foundation already laid, new achievements in good management would be attained after victory has been won.

Mr. Bennett is a certified public accountant and a member of the firm of Cooley and Marvin. In addition to his membership in the A. S. M. E., he is a member of the American Institute of Accountants, a past-president of the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants, and a member of the Massachusetts Society of C. P. A.'s.

WINCHESTER NURSES' AIDES

The Winchester Volunteer Nurses' Aide Corps has proven its worth in this first year of the war. By Dec. 14 when the present class of 14 women is graduated, there will be a total of 34 aides who have been trained in our hospital. These volunteers are giving their time in one of the most worthwhile branches of war work. By such service they have made it possible for the hospital to carry on when 14 of its staff nurses have left to join the Armed Forces.

Last March the first group of Aides was graduated and started their work at the hospital. Since that time 23 aides have served 2588 hours with efficiency and devotion. Most of them are married women with homes and children, who have arranged their busy schedules to include this means of unselfish service. All of them are enthusiastic and eager to do and to learn more.

The Winchester Red Cross and Civilian Defense Committee are co-operating in the running of these courses for Nurses' Aides. It is hoped that more courses can be given in the future. Information may be obtained at the headquarters of either organization. If enough women are interested in an evening course there may be one offered sometime after the first of the year.

Those who have completed their training and are now serving at the hospital are:

DONORS STILL DESIRED

The Salvation Army officials are happy over the way men and women of Winchester are co-operating in mailing and handing 1942 contributions to the campaign treasurer in keeping with the request of the sponsoring group headed by William N. Beggs. This plan goes on despite the fact that Brother Thomas Woodruff, the official collector continues to call on those who have not made this year's donation.

Men and women who make up the sponsoring group hope that many new donors will take time during the next ten days to hand or mail a contribution to G. Dwight Cabot, the campaign treasurer. A new high in total collections will mean a better service in the Local Emergency Fund of the Salvation Army.

Proving that the Salvation Army serves on all fronts, or on any front where the need arises, officials point to the yeoman service rendered by the crew of the fire truck, at the Boston night club fire that took nearly 500 lives. The truck has for years covered all multiple fires in a radius of 50 miles, serving refreshments to fire fighters.

As the Winchester campaign continues plans are made for taking Christmas cheer to shut-in to unfortunate families. In Boston the Yuletide Kettles, with uniformed Salvation Army attending, will be found on the street from now until Christmas Eve, gathering funds to help meet the job of taking good cheer to Boston folk. Winchester folk will not be forgotten.

MORE SHRAPNEL REMOVED FROM NAVY OFFICER

Comdr. W. Evans Mallan of Lloyd street has returned home again from the hospital where he underwent an operation for the removal of more shrapnel from his arm.

He sustained a broken leg and severe shrapnel wounds, from which he has been recovering at his Lloyd street home. His most recent operation was necessitated by a piece of shrapnel which was found nearly to have severed one of the large nerves in his arm. The operation was reported as very successful.

CURTAIN — LIGHTS — SHOW'S ON! — TONIGHT!

The curtain rises tonight on the first of two performances of the annual benefit show of the Winton Club, at 8.30 o'clock. Staged for the first season in the auditorium of the high school the stage show is to be one of the most finished performances given. Under the capable and professional coaching of Mr. "Billy" Holbrook, known nationally for his ability as a director, who came direct to Winchester from a six weeks run of the Tri-angle Show at Princeton University, the dances and songs of 15 scenes and the skits, of sure fire humor, are perfected by a cast of over 90 young people of Winchester.

The advancing of the usual date of this mid-winter show has but heightened the interest in the benefit which is for the Winton Club linen fund, their responsibility in the maintenance of the Winchester Hospital.

Friends who have never before attended this local talent musical are included in the many patrons for both Friday and Saturday evenings. A box office, opened in real theatre style office, at 10 Thompson street, has been busy. Mrs. Stephen B. Neiley, chairman of the committee for the sale of tickets announces that the office will be open until late Saturday afternoon. So if the reports of the Friday performance are such to change your mind about attending there is ample time to arrange to see the Saturday show, and of course by so doing assist in raising the large sum necessary this war year to meet the demands for linen by the local hospital.

Mrs. Frederick E. Ritchie and her committee are to transform the gym of the high school into a "Stage-door Canteen" and here, following the program will be dancing to Jack Marshard's Orchestra, who is playing for the show, and a chance for an hour of sociability for all.

A descriptive program has been in charge of Mrs. Raymond C. Dexter and through the generosity of many advertising friends will mean much in the financial success of the benefit. The programs will carry a lucky number and each night there will be a drawing for a prize.

Another innovation that is being anticipated is the Christmas nose-gays which will be sold. Each, too will be numbered and the holder of the number drawn, each evening will be the winner of a $25 War Bond.

Choosing this pre-holiday date the Winton Club wishes to give to the whole community an opportunity to come to its benefit show, enjoy the freshness of Winchester's unusually talented young people and relax from the fast moving war work schedule of other hours and have a part in supporting our Winchester Hospital.

Miss Evelyn Scott, director of Religious Education at the First Congregational Church, has been confined to her home in Swampscott this week with the Grippe.

NICKERSON—BLAISDELL

At a candle-light service in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church, on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6, Miss Constance Sprague Blaisdell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo W. Blaisdell of Wolcott terrace, became the bride of David Drake Nickerson, ensign, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Archer M. Nickerson of Quincy. The chapel altar was attractively decorated with white chrysanthemums and white gladiolas for the ceremony which was performed at 4 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, D. D. The bridal music was played by Kenneth W. Moffatt.

Miss Blaisdell was given in marriage by her father, and had for her honor attendant her sister, Mrs. Paul Blanshard, Jr., of Winchester. Miss Jean Purington of Pittsfield, was bridesmaid.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle with a veil of illusion caught to a coronet of pearl orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white roses, bouvardia and orchids. Both the bridal attendants wore dresses of bride's blue chiffon with tiaras of yellow rosebuds, and carried bouquets of matching roses.

Archer Nickerson, Jr., of Weymouth was best man for his brother, and another brother, Clarence Nickerson of Belmont, ushered with Joseph Grover of Hanson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, the house being decorated with ferns, palms, white gladiolas, white chrysanthemums, smilax and vases of assorted flowers. After a short wedding trip Ensign and Mrs. Nickerson will make their home for a time at Key West, Fla.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and attended Bates College. Ensign Nickerson graduated from Quincy High School, Browne and Nichols, and Bates College in the class of 1942. He was included in the College Who's Who, and at Bates was a member of the track team, Robinson Players and the Varsity, Politics, Flying and College Clubs. He was commissioned Dec. 2 in New York and has been assigned to further study at the Naval Sound School at Key West.

MISS MacDONALD ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. MacDonald of Ravenscroft road announce the engagement of their daughter, Gene to Lieut. (j. g.) Frank Allen West. U. S. N. R. of Stockton, Calif. Mr. West is the son of Mrs. Frank West and the late Mr. West of Stockton and Washington, D. C.

Miss MacDonald is a graduate of the Brimmer School and of Wellesley College, class of 1940. Mr. West attended St. Paul's School and is a graduate of Princeton, class of 1932, and the Harvard School of Business Administration. There are no immediate plans for the wedding.

MAURICE JOSEPH SULLIVAN

Maurice Joseph Sullivan, a native and widely known resident of Winchester, died Sunday evening, Dec. 6, at his home, 44 Spruce street, after a long illness. He was 52 years old.

Mr. Sullivan was the son of Patrick and Catherine (Breen) Sullivan. He was born in Winchester and spent his entire life in this town, being for nearly 40 years an ash contractor and general jobber, having his own business, a business he started as a boy with a single wheel-barrow. Later he replaced the barrow with a horse and wagon, which in turn gave way to a modern dump-truck. During his many years in business he served residents of all walks in life, located all over Winchester. He was long a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

Mr. Sullivan leaves four sisters, Mrs. John W. Lane, Miss Catherine T., Miss Nellie M., and Miss Teresa E. Sullivan, all of this town. There are also three nephews surviving.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the late residence with solemn high mass of requiem celebrated in St. Mary's Church.

Rev. Fr. Francis J. Sullivan was celebrant, Rev. Fr. George Wiseman was deacon and Rev. Fr. Harold Garrity of St. Charles Church, Woburn, subdeacon. Seated in the sanctuary were Rev. Fr. Joseph M. Fitzgibbons, pastor of St. Jerome's Arlington-Belmont Parish; Rev Fr. George Kilcoyne, S. J., home on leave from his duties in the British West Indies; and Rev. Fr. Stephen Moran of St. Peter's Church, Cambridge.

Bearers were Edward Cantillon, Leo McDermott, Charles Cox, John Cox, Peter Holland and John McLaughlin, all of Woburn. Interment was in the Sullivan family lot in Calvery Cemetery.

Committal prayers were read by Father Kilcoyne, Father Moran and Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

CHARLES WILLIAM TOZIER

Charles William Tozier, son of Dr. Charles H. Tozier, of 21 Ridgefield road, died Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 8, at a hospital in Lewiston, Me. He was an instructor of Government at Bates College in Lewiston and the funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the college chapel. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Mr. Tozier was born 32 years ago in Somerville, but had been for some years a resident of Winchester He prepared for college at Phillips Exeter Academy and was graduated from Dartmouth where he was a Rufus Choate scholar. He received his M. A. degree from Harvard, taught at Williston Academy and was head of the History Department at Worcester Academy for six years, joining the Bates faculty this fall.

He leaves his father and his wife, the former Virginia Tarr of Swampscott.

POINTING THE WAY TO VICTORY

Our country is engaged in a war which necessitates the speedy and accurate moving of men, equipment and materials over great distances. Aeroplanes and ships are important factors in accomplishing this gigantic problem, and vast quantities of instruments are needed for their guidance under changing temperatures and varying altitudes. These instruments require accurate and balanced pointers to insure correct calabration and reading. Supplying these highly delicate pointers is a part of our war effort.

Since 1868 we have specialized in the manufacture of watch and clock hands. Today our production has been converted to the manufacture of all types of instrument pointers, and many other parts for our war industries.

We are most grateful that our efforts have resulted in our receiving the Army-Navy "E" Production Award for high achievement.

We pledge to continue to supply our Government with high precision products that "point the way to victory."

J. H. Winn's Sons

The official presentation of the award will be made at the Winchester Town Hall, Friday, Dec. 11, at 8 P. M. Friends and neighbors of the Company are invited to attend.

WALTER EDWARD DURANT

Walter Edward Durant of 33 Westley street, a World War veteran, died Tuesday evening, Dec. 8, at the Veterans' Hospital in Newington, Conn., where he had been a patient for about three weeks. He was 51 years old and had been for some time in failing health. Flags on the Common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff in his honor.

He leaves a sister, Mrs. Alice Robinson of Brockton and two brothers, William J. Durant of Boston and George W. Durant, living in Oregon.

Mr. Durant made his home in Winchester with Fireman and Mrs. Everett W. Kimball at 33 Westley street and the funeral will be held from their residence Saturday morning. High mass of requiem will be celebrated at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's Church. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The meeting on last Tuesday was conducted by Mrs. John O'Leary, vice president in the absence of Mrs. Hintlian.

Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini and Mrs. Daniel Murray report great success on the bond and stamp sales. The amount sold to date by the Guild has reached a total of $28,020.40. Mrs. Ghirardini also reports that the sales for the month of December at the two railroad stations are meeting with satisfactory response.

The lecture given by Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S. J., on Thursday of last week was well enjoyed by members of the Guild and their friends. Mrs. James Heaton was chairman of the lecture committee.

Owing to the scarcity of tea, coffee, sugar and canned goods, the annual penny sale which is held during December will have to be postponed. Mrs. John Gorman, who has made these sales famous is hopeful that by spring, she may put one on successfully.

Our popular hostess, Mrs John Lennon was welcomed back on last Tuesday after an absence of two months. During Mrs. Lennon's absence Mrs. William Murray took over the duties of hospitality.

The next meeting of the Guild will be on Dec. 22, and members are asked to attend and bring a small gift suitably wrapped. These gifts should be very inexpensive and will be placed in a grab basket.

Mrs. J. Elmer Chisholm, who has been seriously ill at Lawrence Memorial Hospital, is reported much improved.

The hostesses at tea on Tuesday were Mrs. Frank Murphy, Mrs. Edward McDevitt, Mrs. James Blackham, Mrs. M. G. Moffett, Mrs. Harry Collins and Mrs. William Murray. The table was very beautifully decorated in honor of the day, Dec. 8.

RELEASED JAP PRISONER TO SPEAK

Since it has become known that Mr. Charles Copp who is to lecture Monday evening, Dec. 14, in Winchester is the only prisoner of war released from Japan since Pearl Harbor, to escape with photographs, interest has been mounting in this coming event.

Mr. Copp is lecturing here at 8 p. m. in Metcalf Hall, Unitarian Church, under the auspices of Cub Pack No. 6 of which Dr. Paul Chapman is Cub Master. Mr. Copp will have his highly interesting pictures with him and they will be shown by sterioptican camera if it is possible for the committee in charge to secure one, announced Alvan Smith, secretary. If anyone in Winchester would be willing to lend his sterioptican equipment, Mr. Smith would appreciate having telephone advice at Win. 1678.

The Cubs all report a ready sale for the tickets to the lecture with many of the boys having already exceeded their quotas. Evidently, although Mr. Copp has lectured no nearer Winchester than Nashua, N. H., word of the high current interest in what he has to say has spread and an eager audience awaits him here.

Mr. Copp, a world traveler, a teacher in a boy's school in Japan for 20 years, a prisoner of war there for nine months of which four months were served under excrutiating circumstances in solitary confinement, recently returned to this country as an exchange prisoner, arriving recently in New York on board the famed S. S. Gripsholm which brought so many bearers of Japan's treatment of American nationals who were caught there at the time of Pearl Harbor just a year ago.

Cub Master Chapman announces that those who may not be approached with tickets by the cubs, will be very welcome to come to Mr. Copp's lecture and buy their tickets at the door, Monday evening.

Cub Master Chapman also announces that Charles Hart, formerly a popular Scoutmaster in town has signed up as assistant Cub Master for Pack 6 which rounds out the organization reported in the Star last week. Six full dens of cubs have now been organized in Pack 6, all under Den Mothers.

SERVICEMEN GUESTS AT DANCE

Forty-five of Winchester's attractive Misses, and 60 boys, both Army and Navy, dancing to the delightful strains of Bing Grindle's Orchestra, was the setting an onlooker peeking into the Recreation Center last Friday evening would have seen.

Yes, the En Ka gave a dance for the men in service, who came to Winchester from the U. S. O. in Boston. Gowned in formal dresses, the girls each had corsages of greens with red trimmings given to them which had name tags and numbers on them. These numbers were paired off with the boys who held the same numbers and in that way each had a partner and became acquainted more easily.

The boys were from all parts of the country, California, Michigan, Kentucky, and other southern states, all the New England States, and Canada, and there was one who came from Winchester, England.

Miss Martha Hadley, who was one of the hostesses, was the winner of the lucky number dance, and both she and her partner were awarded prizes.

The hall was very cleverly and attractively decorated with U. S. O. decorations, such an anchors, wings, eagles, and other emblems of our armed forces.

Mrs. Harold Meyer and Mrs. Florence Richmond were at the punch table and refreshments of sandwiches, cakes, ice cream and cookies were served to the guests and hostesses by other members of the very able committee in charge.

NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY LIKES CHASE'S MAPS

Mr. Ernest Dudley Chase of Lakeview terrace, who has published a number of pictorial maps, as most Winchesterites perhaps know, recently sent to the New York Public Library at their request a complete set of drawings, illustrations, etc., showing the method of going about the making of pictorial maps. This will circulate among the 75 branches of the New York Library, including (in February) an exhibit at the main library, corner of 42nd street and 5th avenue.

THE FAMOUS STEVENS TRIPLETS

These famous Winchester children were born in the Winchester Hospital, helped through the early weeks by the Winchester District Nurses Association, both local Agencies supported by the Greater Boston United War Fund Campaign.

THE WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Every member of the Winchester Art Association who attended the capacity filled gallery at the library on last Sunday afternoon felt a surge of pride in the tremendous influence of "The Master," Charles J. Connick, on whose shoulders rests the American contribution to the world through the medium of stained glass.

Mr. Lyle Bush, president of the Association, introduced Mr. Charles Hadley Watkins, chairman of the Speakers' Committee, who in turn introduced the internationally famous craftsman.

Something of the aura of a preacher surrounded Mr. Connick as he carried his listeners back to France of the twelfth century where unknown craftsmen displayed a remarkable scientific knowledge of the action of light and color which enabled them to reach the zenith of the glass stainers' art. Continuing through the hideous productions of the art glass industry of the 19th century, the speaker proceeded to the present day work of his own shop, where men fashion glass with the skill and care of the ancient guild workers.

The war has touched even this dignified old craft which got itself innocently enough into trouble with the priorities authority by using 13 pounds of copper and 130 pounds of steel. The war motif is also apparent at the library show in the designs for windows done by Mr. Connick for the new Navy Chapel at Jacksonville, Fla.

An especially interesting feature of the local show is the portrait of Mr. Connick's wife, an impressionistic bit of painting, showing a dining table and guests fading into the background as symbollic of the artist's first meeting with the lady at dinner.

The exhibition is not one especially adaptable to reviewing. On display are many small watercolor designs for windows, done in reds, blues, yellows and whites, glowing jewel-like against dark backgrounds. From these small designs the craftsmen get their colors, and then the actual sections of glass and lead frames are secured from the large full-size cartoons, done in charcoal, which may be colored or not as the designer wishes. Examples of both are in the local show. If the patron desires to see the detail of the window more clearly, sections are enlarged and drawn to scale, to show what the finished panel will be like. Several of these detailed enlargements are on display with actual cuts of glass, in and out of their lead binders. Of especial interest is a colored cartoon for a small rectangular window at one side of the entrance to the gallery, the finished window, lighted and glowing with color, being shown on the opposite side.

A departure from the usual custom of serving tea were cups of hot spiced cider, served from huge, Bennington ware ale jugs. Pouring were Miss Edna Hatch and Mrs. John L. Lobingier. Mrs. Truman Godfrey arranged the table, with her stunning English antique pewter toureen filled with fruits, and Sheffield candlesticks, resting on a rust linen cloth. She and Mrs. Sherman W. Saltmarsh were hostesses for the afternoon.

The exhibit is open to the public from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., weekdays, through Dec. 29.

MR. CHAPMAN TO PREACH BOOK SERMON

Sunday, Dec. 13, at 11 a. m., Mr. Chapman will review the book, "Get Thee Behind Me," which is the life of a preacher's son, written by Hartzell Spence, who is the son of a Methodist minister. Having been born in a Methodist parsonage and had many parallel experiences to those of Mr. Spence, Mr. Chapman will point out what seems to him the important message of this book.

MUSIC AT THE LIBRARY

The second evening of Music Enjoyment at the Public Library will be held next week Thursday, Dec. 17 at 7.45 p. m.

This is a new feature offered by the library and conducted by Mrs. John P. Carr and Mrs. Charles S. Livingstone.

The adult public is cordially invited to enjoy this hour of recorded music. Information about the program may be obtained by telephoning to Mrs. Carr or Mrs. Livingstone.

Miss Mead, the Librarian, suggests that these evenings of music are informal, that knitting and sewing are in order and that reading while listening to the music may add to the pleasure for those who care to do it.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church held its December meeting on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 8, the president, Mrs. Theodore C. Browne, presiding. All business was omitted to give time for the reading of the play, Family Portrait by Lenare Caffe and William Joyce Cowen, the story of Jesus and His family from the time he started preaching.

A large number enjoyed the fine sympathetic interpretation given this unusual play by Mrs. Robert Norton Ganz who is a graduate of Emerson College.

After the reading Mrs. Whitelaw Wright gave much pleasure with her group of songs suitable to the Christmas season including He Shall Feed His Flock, Away in a Manger, It Came Upon the Midnight Clear and Silent Night. Then followed a social hour and tea served in the ladies' parlor by the tea committee.

It's Home Sweet Home Now!

Hour after hour and day after day, Home becomes closer and more important to each and every one of us.

To the Soldier, Sailor and Marine, Home is the uppermost thought in his mind. It is the inspiration that leads him on to battle, the promise of a bright American future.

Now, with more Boston Edison customers spending long hours at war production work and long evenings at home, good lighting is a vital necessity. In many homes, people are using their eyes as much as one-third more. That means more need for good light to guard against eyestrain. Here are some simple suggestions on how to get the most light from your lamps:

1. Wash lamp bulbs and reflector bowls frequently. In many cases you can get from 25% to 30% more light!
2. Replace darkened lamp bulbs with fresh bulbs. Darkened bulbs waste electricity.
3. Fill all empty sockets with the right size bulbs.
4. Replace dark or yellowed shades with light ones and brush them frequently.
5. Arrange your lamps and furniture so each lamp can provide good light for several people. A difference of 12 inches from the lamp to the book you're studying can cut the amount of light by as much as 50%.

WINCHESTER HAD GREAT FOOTBALL SEASON

Unbeaten-Untied Team Won State Class C Title

When Winchester High beat Woburn in the rain and mud of the Woburn stadium on Thanksgiving, it completed its current football schedule unbeaten and untied, with the added honor of annexing for the first time in the school's history the State Interscholastic Class C championship. In recognition of this fact, sweaters were awarded the 19 lettermen and the varsity manager.

It has been a good many years since Winchester High had a perfect football season, if indeed the school has ever had a year in which its eleven has been unbeaten and untied.

None of the teams Coach George Lauer had in the three years preceding Coach Knowlton's coming to Winchester, got by unbeaten, even that great team of 1937 captained by Gerry Ficcociello and Pete Sibley losing two, to Arlington and Marblehead. During Coach Wendell Mansfield's long tenure there were several teams that were unbeaten, but all were tied, and perhaps the best of all his teams, that captained by the high school's present coach, Henry Knowlton, lost a heart-breaking 13-6 game to Melrose, to mar an otherwise perfect season that included a post-season victory over Amesbury. Andy Lentine's fine team of 1933 lost games to Arlington, Concord and Maynard, though it won the Middlesex League championship and beat Woburn 6-0.

Ordinarily the later Mansfield coached teams had little chance to go through undefeated because they played Arlington regularly and the Spy Ponders in those days had gotten too big for Winchester.

Further back, that truly great team of 1933, captained by Dana Kelly and coached by Rufe Bond, rated by many the best in Winchester's history, was tied in its season's opener by Milton Academy. After that it won all its games with but a single touchdown scored against it, by Watertown, beating Arlington 48-0, and Melrose, 46-0, if memory serves.

Still further back Brooks Jakeman's 1915 team, coached by "Doc" Sexton and considered one of the school's good clubs, won five, lost three and tied two, though it won from Arlington, 3-0, on a dropkick by Bob Skinner. George Bird's 1916 team, another strong team, lost games to Lexington and Revere. Previous to those years we can recall no team that was unbeaten or untied, unless it was previous to 1909, and we would be inclined to doubt that any of the old teams in the days of the "formation A" got through a perfect season.

So it would seem that this year's team has hung up something of a gridiron record for Winchester. Surely no team in the school's history has a better one, and for the benefit of those who contend that the old teams played tougher schedules, it can be argued with equal cogency, that in those days, schools like Arlington, Melrose and Watertown, and further back even Medford, Everett and Revere were considered in Winchester's class. Then squads were small and teams played man for man unless injuries forced substitution. Dana Kelly's team wasn't going out of its class playing Arlington and Melrose in 1922. No one figured it had performed a miracle by winning decisively from those clubs.

But those days are now gone, and communities like Arlington, Melrose, Watertown and Belmont have far outstripped Winchester in growth. Most of these schools are away bigger than Winchester High and their squads too powerful for the local boys to meet on even terms. This year's team, playing in its own class, has done everything it has been asked to do. It has won all its games, three the hard way, by coming from behind, and its record, at least as far back as 1909, is unmatched. What this year's team would do against any of the good old teams listed above, no one knows. Perhaps it would lose to some of them. Probably it would beat some of them. At all events the current team has a perfect playing record and an equally impressive showing in sportsmanship on and off the field. Everything considered it's as fine a team as Winchester has had.

On the statistics side Winchester scored 568 points, making 90 first downs and 1724 net yards. It completed 18 of 52 passes for 211 more yards and drew 160 yards in penalties. Total yards gained rushing and passing were 1935. These statistics do not include those for the Maynard game when no play by play account was kept, but as Winchester won that one 24-0, outclassing the Orange completely, its figures would have been much more impressive with that included.

Winchester's opponents, exclusive of Maynard, scored 33 points, making 63 first downs and 740 yards by rushing. They completed 32 of 90 passes for 389 yards and lost 195 yards in penalties. Their total yards gained were 1129.

This year's team was captained by Bill West, one of Winchester's great "all time" football players, a boy good enough for the first time in the school's history to make the "All" teams picked by every Boston newspaper, and the first teams at that. Coaching was Henry Knowlton, who culminated three successful seasons with this unbeaten-untied championship outfit. "Hennie" has had his problems with injuries this year, but surmounted them in a manner to rank him with the best coaches in the district. Winchester is very proud of him.

Letter players, besides Capt. West, were Frank Buzzotta, Bob Jackson, Ken Harvey, capt.-elect; Harry Boodakian, Tom Derro, Gaspy Lentine, Dave Holmes, Fred Hicks, Angelo (Shiny) Amico, Doug Cromwell, Jim Tibaudo, Jim Milliacci, Bob Treacy, Frank Melargni, Jim Farrell, Jack Errico, Fran Poirier, Manager Alan Bugbee and Trainer Dick Briggs.

Second team letter players were Addison Augusta, Frank Faieta, Ed Sweidler, Roger Latham, Dick Collins, Joe Errico, Glen Prentiss, Jim Kimball, Harvey Clark, Mike Penta, Guy Washburn, Ralph Muehlig, Nini Luongo, Stew Smith, Charlie Lovejoy, Charlie Walsh, Sam Tibaudo, Carmen Tofuri, Sam Tompkins, Hal Bergquist, Steve Greene, Fran Lambiase, John Murray*, Frank DiMambro, Charlie Roche and Bob Quine*.

HIGH SCHOOL HELD FOOTBALL BANQUET

Championship Team Given Sweaters Harvey New Captain

The Winchester High School Athletic Association feted its unbeaten, untied football team last Saturday evening in the school gymnasium, giving a banquet for the first squad in the school's history to win a State championship.

Winchester won the Schoolboy Class C championship and it was felt that proper recognition should be made, despite the fact that because of prevailing conditions it was impossible to hold the usual "All Sports" banquet including the members of all teams, both boys' and girls', sponsored by the school.

As a consequence only members of the football varsity and second teams with their coaches and managers and members of the freshmans squad sat down to last Saturday's dinner which was prepared and served by the school cafeteria staff under the capable direction of Miss Gladys Niven. High school girls volunteered to serve as waitresses and the long tables were placed to form a huge "V", decorations being miniature football fields. During the dinner piano selections were played by Angelo (Scratch) Amico.

Just before the speaking program Charles Murphy, president of the W. H. S. A. A. presented Miss Niven with a handsome bouquet in appreciation of her efforts in providing the banquet on exceptionally short notice. Murphy then presented Principal Samuel M. Graves, who ably filled the toastmaster's chair.

There was no guest speaker at this year's banquet and all the speakers were commendably brief. Responding to toasts were Chairman Geoffrey C. Neiley of the School Committee, Superintendent of Schools James J. Quinn, Football Captain Bill West and Coach Henry T. Knowlton, himself a W. H. S. gridiron immortal and former Springfield College football captain.

Mr. Neiley brought the School Department's congratulations to both the team and coach and reminisced humorously about his own football experiences at Winchester High, back in the days of 1912 when he and the present Selectman Marshall Symmes were rivals for left end, the spot made famous by Winchester's "Chattanooga Choo Choo," Bob Jackson.

Mr. Quinn, after letting the banquet in on the true meaning of Mr. Graves' Christian name, and incidentally lauding the job the latter is doing at the post left vacant when Principal Wade L. Grindle was called to the Colors, added his personal congratulations to Coach Knowlton and his squad praising the quality of instruction and conditioning and the manner in which the boys had played the game. He would, he said, be just as happy to attend a banquet for a team that had not won a game if its coach and members had given their best and conducted themselves like sportsmen.

Mr. Graves rather built up Capt. West as an orator in his introduction, but Bill would have none of it. and in his usual modest fashion briefly announced Ken Harvey, dependable left tackle, as next year's captain. Harvey got a great hand from all present and added to his own popularity by expressing the wish that he might be half as good a captain as Bill West.

West then presented the team's gift to Coach Knowlton, a fine hunting coat. The popular gridiron mentor had to wait for some time for the applause to stop before he could speak. He told the squad that they did not need to give him a gift, for they had already given him the gift supreme in their splendid playing and attitude during the unbeaten season. He reminded the boys of their hard work and its reward, linking it with the greater task facing them in life, and paid high tribute to the second team boys who shared equally with the more publicized varsity in the glory of the season's achievement.

After characterizing this year's squad as the best he had ever coached, he announced that because of winning the State Championship the A. A. had decided to award sweaters to the letter players of this year's team. Calling each by name Coach Knowlton presented the sweaters, black with big, double, scarlet W's and a scarlet football with the words, Class C Champs, on the sleeves.

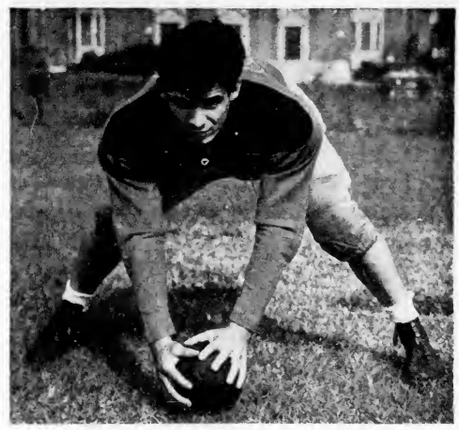
Those receiving sweaters were Capt. Bill West, Manager Alan Bugbee, Frank Buzzotta, Bob Jackson, Ken Harvey, Harry Boodakian, Tom Derro, Gaspy Lentine, Dave Holmes, Fred Hicks, Angelo (Shiny) Amico, Doug Cromwell, Jim Tibaudo, Jim Milliacci, Bob Treacy, Frank Melargni, Jim Farrell, Jack Errico, and Fran Poirier. Trainer Dick Briggs also received first team insignia.

Second team letters were awarded to Addison Augusta, Frank Faieta, Ed Sweidler, Roger Latham, Dick Collins, Joe Errico, Glen Prentiss, Jim Kimball, Harvey Clark, Mike Penta, Guy Washburn, Ralph Muehlig, Nini Luongo, Stew Smith, Charlie Lovejoy, Charlie Walsh, Sam Tibaudo, Carmen Tofuri, Sam Tompkins, Hal Bergquist, Steve Greene, Frank Lambiase, John Murray, Frank DiMambro, Charlie Roche and Bob Quine.

Mr. Graves sprang a surprise after the sweaters had been awarded by presenting to Mr. Knowlton a handsome black and scarlet windbreaker, the gift of the A. A., holding up another for Assistant Coach Manford Palmer, who was unable to be present.

After the speaking program moving pictures of the Winchester-Woburn game were shown by Coach Knowlton. Needless to say they were enjoyed by all.

Richard F. Coss, who is in the artillery stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., has been at home spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Coss of Salem street.



TONY DETESO
Elected Co-Captain of Tufts Football Team

Tony DeTeso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore DeTeso of Olive street, has been elected co-captain of the Tufts College football team for next year, after completing two years as varsity center. In addition, at the conclusion of the current season, he was voted the most outstanding player on this year's team.

All Winchester football fans will rejoice at this latest gridiron honor that has come to one of the town's finest football players. Tony, for all his lack of stature, he may scale 150 by now, ranks with the outstanding centers developed at Winchester High and there have been some truly great pivots at the local school.

"Tony," it was, who in 1936 stepped into the breach as a freshman and played all four periods in the center of the Winchester line against Woburn when Paul Lentine became ineligible. No one who saw that battle in the Woburn mud can forget the corking game the little gamecock played against the Orange, and the next year he was the regular snapper-back. From that time until his final game as co-captain in his senior year, he was one of the mainstays of the team, a good offensive player, fine passer and a veritable demon on defense.

Entering Tufts, he made his freshman team, and the next fall shared the varsity center's duties with the 195 pound Ellwood Richardson of Lynn. This year Richardson did not return to school and Tony carried on, playing 52.8 of the 60 minutes in every game and winning the plaudits of all cheering sections for his great defensive play.

Tony is a junior and one of the high ranking students of his class. He is in the Naval Reserve.

McLAUGHLIN AND WITTET

Something just has be done about this feller, Wittet. All summer long he eschews the shoes for tennis and then when the frostbite season roils around he bikes down and upsets the regular members of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association week after week, or at least as often as he draws "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe, and champion of all Nahnassett, as a partner.

Old "Foul Line" drew "Wild Willie" last weekend just as soon as the latter put in his belated appearance, minus the overcoat, but protected against the elements by a natty zipper-front mackinaw.

Previous to McLaughlin's arrival President Royal P. Teele and the Secretary had gone down best three in five to Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, and Henry Tiffany Knowlton, the latter contributing several ringers and plenty of close ones to the winning cause. By far the best game of this series was that won by Teele and the Scrivener, 25-6.

That sent Henry and Arthur against McLaughlin and Wittet with the usual results. Mr. Butters did pretty well against the Pride of Stowe the first game, but "Wild Willie" would not be denied and in the second game three double ringers by the champion of Nabnasset proved a bit too much for the Pine Tree State titlist, especially after several of Mr. Wittet's shoes bounced on the pin at most inopportune moments. We wouldn't say that Arthur "blew" exactly, but his mental equalibrium was enough on the ostophagus to affect his usually sound game materially.

Meanwhile on the second court Mr. Teele and the Secretary pulled themselves together to take three straight from "Thin Finger" Pridham and Herb Gardner, neither of whom it must be admitted was in top form.

Returning to the championship arena the intrepid Royal, sporting his bluest britches and minus his usual leather jacket, though still wearing gloves, squared off with the Secretary against McLaughlin and Wittet. A double header by Mr. Teele plus a singleton by the Secretary in the first two boxes gave their side a nine point lead and they coasted to victory, to the ill-concealed delight of Mr. Butters.

"Wild Willie" got going in the second game which he won with a double-header that the Secretary made a good, but fruitless effort to cover.

The deciding game was at first all Teele and the Secretary, some caustic comments upon each other's pitching getting results to such an extent that they led 9-1 and then 20-12. Mr. McLaughlin had let down a bit, but with the opposition at 20 he started to go, covering every ringer the luckless Secretary threw and whenever there was an odd point picking it up.

Twice only Mr. McLaughlin missed the stake for a no-count and on both occasions the Secretary, to his own chagrin and Mr. Teele's even greater disgust, was unable to get in a counter.

At his own end of the court the doughty Royal, trying like the mischief, was getting nowhere against the invariable shoe that Mr. Wittet was bouncing backwards against the stake in just the right position to prevent enough Teele ringers to win the game easily.

Point by point Mr. Wittet forged up until the count was 20-16. Mr. Teele, with an exclamation ill befitting his exalted position in the Association, threw a ringer and a close one to make it 24-16. The Secretary got a ringer but Mr. Teele's whoops of joy choked into a sickly gurgle as McLaughlin covered it and took the extra point.

Mr. Wittet bounced in his usual close shoe and what would have been a Teele double header spun harmlessly from the stake. With the score 24-18, Mr. McLaughlin unlimbered a double-header. The Secretary got one shoe on for a second, but it finally spun off and the count was 24-24.

Mr. Wittet's first shoe was out of the park, but his second once again bounced against the stake. Mr. Teele's first one was a nice "would-have-been", had the Wittet shoe been anywhere else, but his second one was "wild" and the slow music was started for him and the Secretary.

WEST ON FOUR "ALL" TEAMS

Capt. Bill West, Winchester High's star fullback, was chosen yesterday for the All Scholastic first football team of the Boston Globe, making the fourth such team he has made this fall The Post, Herald and Traveler had previously chosen him, all for their first teams. Bob Jackson, big end, was chosen for the Globe's second team and also made the Post's second team.

West is the first Winchester boy the Star can remember who has made four All football teams in a season. The last Winchester boy to make a first All team in football was Andy Lentine who was chosen by the Globe as first string center and captain in 1933.

West was the leading schoolboy scorer of the past season, making 16 touchdowns and one point after touchdown for 97 points. In only two games, those against Lexington and Swampscott did he fail to tally and in the Swampscott victory he threw the pass to Treacy that scored the game's only touchdown. This, of course, is not the whole story. Bill's ground gaining ability set up most of the scores made by his team mates while his defensive ability turned enemy scoring threats aside. All in all, it can be said that the boy named Winchester's greatest all around back would have to beat Bill for the job. At 6 ft. and 180 pounds big Monk was quite a fullback!

Are you war conscious yet? Hold to our social gains.

We wonder if the President really knew how much damage was done at Pearl Harbor when he spoke of those damnable lies last February.

And another thing we forgot when we built our house was to put in that chute from the wood pile to the fireplace.

We wonder if those fellows who have been crowing over their coal heaters saw that little item in Tuesday's paper announcing a "big increase" in the cost of coal.. Well—anyway—let's all ite and keep inflation down. We are the only ones it bothers.

It must have been an economic royalist who told that story about the manufacturer who sought priority for a hundred feet of leather belting. No doubt you remember that when asked what part of his production was for defense, he replied 60 per cent. So he got 60 feet of belt.

Winchester has always been fortunate in its selection of special boards and committees for town affairs, but there appears at the present time to be one public group here which is coming in for considerable criticism. The criticism of its actions and work seems almost universal—and not all complimentary. We refer to the Rationing Board. When the Star applied for some kerosene to wash press rollers last June it got six coupons and thought the Board a pretty skimpy group. But by redistilling and sweetening, the six gallons were eked out to last until Dec. 1. Now, after due delay, it has finally got another six coupons. "Well"—you may say, "it got along didn't it?" Yes, but think of how much more it could use. The incident is typical of the complaints. So how would YOU like to be on our Rationing Board? Think you could do a better job? Think you could stop all complaints? We just want to go to bat for these gentlemen for one short inning. First and foremost they serve without pay and simply as a patriotic duty. Don't let anyone tell you different. And they work hard. Likewise don't let anyone tell you different. They don't like to work night after night and all day Sunday any more than you do. Secondly they are your own friends and neighbors. It is just as hard for them to cut your oil or gas ration as it would be for you to cut theirs. They are playing no favorites and you would not stand for them if they did. They are doing the hardest kind of a job and trying to do it the best they know how. Sometimes they make mistakes. That one about Parker Holbrook. Superintendent of Streets, filling out his application for kerosene for his lanterns, which he must place at dangerous spots about town, and getting a letter back asking him to convert to coal, is a good one. So doubt there are others. But what is life without a little humor? We ourselves, like to visit the Rationing Board. Perhaps it's because we usually see Mabel McCarthy or that other good looking girl they call Jerry or something, but we usually do pretty well. And don't forget those girls are really earning their money. Just try meeting the public (not through the press) and see how you get along. Yes, we appreciate what our Rationing Board has on its hands, the quality of the men giving their services, and the fact that they are not only ready but willing to do everything possible to help out your pet grievance. Put yourself in their shoes—would you like the job? Gentlemen of the Rationing Board—we salute you!

THE STAR'S Christmas Edition
IS OUT TODAY
★ ★ ★ ★

You will find in the pages of this issue a veritable shopping guide of Winchester, with advertisements from a number of friendly merchants in neighboring cities and towns.

These merchants have assembled their Christmas merchandise in anticipaton of your wishes and are ready to serve you courteously and efficiently.

It will pay you to read their ads carefully. You will be surprised how many of your holiday needs you can satisfy right here in town.

Successful local merchants are an asset to the community, and loyal patronage is one of the keys to business success.

So patronize your local shops this year. Help yourself by avoiding the tedious trips to crowded city stores. Help the merchants who serve you faithfully through the year. And help the town by encouraging local business to provide even better opportunities to shop at home through the years to come!

WINCHESTER BASKETBALL CANDIDATES OUT

With their football togs cleaned and put away for another year, Winchester High School's athletes have started their basketball campaign, a good sized squad being hard at work in preparation for the season's opener with Woburn here on Dec. 18.

Faculty Director of Athletics Henry Knowlton is coaching the team this year instead of Ted Bartlett who is now in the Army Air Corps. Coach Knowlton has had plenty of experience handling basketball at both New Hampton School and Plymouth High. He has only two letter players ready to start this year's campaign, but there is a nucleus of experienced boys available and the outlook is far from drab.

Neither Capt Pete Twombly, who played both forward and center, an Bill West, rugged guard, was considered a regular last year, though both saw plenty of service. Sandwiched in among the non-letter candidates are quite a few boys who played regularly with last year's second team that lost but a single game to Woburn.

Besides Twombly and West the present squad includes Frank Buzdotta, Jim Farrell, Jack and Joe Errico, Fran Poirier, Chucker Roche, Sam Tibaudo and Roger Latham, football players; and Ken Wright, Charlie Murphy, Gordon McGovern, Bert Moore, Ted Atkinson, Richie Callahan, Dick Coon, Kendall Way, Charlie Slack, Gene Thompson, Bill Bird, Stewart Tisdale and John Patterson.

Robert Swenson, new guidance teacher, is assisting Coach Knowlton with the team. Manager is Alan Bugbee, with the "one and only" Red Hannon as assistant.

INDUCTEES LEAVE TOMORROW

Thirty-eight men from Winchester and Stoneham will assemble tomorrow morning at the Town Hall at 7.30 to march to the train at Winchester Station which will take them on the first leg of their journey to Fort Devens and induction into the U. S. Army. They will board a special car on the rear of the 8.32 train for Boston. St. Mary's Band and Legionnaires from Post 97 will escort the inductees to the train, and the Ladies' Canteen Service of the Red Cross will serve coffee and doughnuts.

LILLEY—MURRAY

The altar of St Mary's Church was decorated with white carnations Saturday morning, Dec. 5, for the marriage of Miss Mary Frances Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Murray of Elm street, to Edward Joseph Lilley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lilley of Gould street, Wakefield. Rt. Rev. William J. Casey of St. Thomas Church, Jamaica Plain, performed the ceremony at 9 o'clock and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. It is of interest that the same clergyman married the bride's mother in St. Mary's Church 27 years ago.

Miss Murray was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory faille designed with cut-work and having a sweetheart neckline. Her long veil of tulle was caught to a coronet of bouvardia, and she carried a white prayer book decorated with gardenias and streamers of bouvardia.

Miss M. Virginia Morrissey of West Somerville, whose mother was one of the bride's mother's wedding attendants, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. William Murray, Jr., of Winchester, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Ruth Lilley of Wakefield, sister of the bridegroom.

The honor maid wore a powder blue faille dress trimmed with rose velvet. Her coronet was of pink sweet peas and she carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of the same flowers. The bridesmaids wore dresses of the same material in rose, trimmed with blue velvet. Their coronets and crescent bouquets were of matching sweet peas.

A reception and wedding breakfast was held after the ceremony at the Hotel Continental in Cambridge, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the members of the bridal party. Afterwards the bride and bridegroom left upon a wedding trip to New York.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and Burdett College. Mr. Lilley graduated from Wakefield High School and from the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance. He was an accountant for a Medford firm before entering the Army and is now a sergeant in the Second Weather Squad at Grenier Field, Manchester, N. H.

The Golden Text is: "In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God" (Psalms 62:7). Other Bible citations include: "Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding. He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength" (Isaiah 40:28, 29).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The spiritual demand, quelling the material, supplies energy and endurance surpassing all other aids, and forestalls the penalty which our beliefs would attach to our best deeds. Let us remember that the eternal law of right, though it can never annul the law which makes sin its own executioner, exempts man from all penalties but those due for wrong-doing" (p. 385).

A deputy Tax Assessor has been assigned to Winchester on Jan. 27 from 9:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. and from 2-4 p. m. As this date comes on Wednesday and that is a busy day for the Red Cross workers, the Tax Assessor will use the Park Department office on the second floor.

THINK IT OUT

Secretary Morgenthau warned on Sept. 6, that unnecessary spending throughout the country has reached a point of "national danger." "It cannot go on", he said, "without threatening the success of the war on the Home Front and, therefore, must be checked and brought under control promptly by bold and resolute action."

However, Attorney General Biddle openly said at a banquet in Washington rather recently, that even in the war period New Dealers had no idea of giving up social reforms.

Well, there you are! Billions still being spent on social reforms that should be going to direct war efforts. 2,500,000 civil employees in the administration branch, one-half that number in peace time! At the peak of the last war there were only around 900,000.

The nation is ready and willing to give its all for war but it is beginning to wonder why social reforms should not be curtailed until we win the war. Probably $5,000,000,000 could thus go towards winning the war and tax burdens correspondingly decreased.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN

PRACTICE AIR RAID AND BLACKOUT

The State Public Safety Director has ordered a practice drill sometime between midnight Dec. 13 and midnight Dec. 19. This is state wide and all units of the Civilian Defense Corps are requested to report to their assigned posts on the mobilization signal. This signal consists of 3 short blasts and one long blast repeated for not more than four minutes.

STATE GUARD LOCAL UNIT

Men between the ages of 18 and 55 interested in joining a local unit of the State Guard should register at once at Defense Headquarters, 572 Main street, or telephone 0207 between 2 and 5 p. m., except Sundays.

FIRST AID WORKERS

If you have completed a first aid course and are not assigned in Civilian Defense and can serve in one of the Medical Depots during an emergency please register now as a member of the First Aid Corps. Many more persons are needed for this particular branch of the Defense organization.

IDENTIFICATION FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN

The Public Safety Committee recommends that all women and children wear metal identification discs in some form at all times. Wrist or ankle bracelets or metal medals on chains around the neck would be suitable. Although men usually have some means of identification in their pockets, women and children seldom do. Identifying the women victims in the Cocoanut Grove disaster proved to be a very difficult task.

Harold S. Fuller, Defense Director

SHOP WISELY

Take advantage of bargains and specials. Serve foods that are "in season"—they're plentiful and cheaper. And less expensive cuts of meat have the same nutritional value as costly ones.

PLAN BALANCED MEALS

Serve health-building meats, vegetables, milk, eggs, bread and cereal. Provide yourself with a food-value chart and vary your menus for taste-appeal and health.

Cook with gas

Try "waterless" top burner cookery on your gas range and low-temperature roasting in your gas oven, to save precious food value and minerals. Make full use of all the superior time and fuel-saving advantages your modern gas range offers. You'll be practicing thrift and patriotism, too.

GARDEN CLUB HELPS WINCHESTER REMEMBER

Lovell Hospital Wards Decorated

The Executive Board of the Winchester Better Homes Garden Club met at the home of the president, Mrs. James A. Newman, on High street, Tuesday of this week. It was decided to further the plans of the Federation of Garden Clubs in their effort to have in every community the important work of Victory Gardens.

The small home garden, the neighborhood garden and, as in the last war, the school children's gardens. A committee, whose chairman is to be Mrs. Norman Mitchell with Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood and Mrs. Alonzo M. Woodside, who supervised the World War School Garden work, have been asked to serve.

Mrs. Harold M. Twombly has been chairman of a committee arranging for the decorating, again, of several wards at the Lovell General Hospital at Fort Devens and the Christmas greens for the Winchester Public Library and Home for Aged. Club members have generously contributed to the fund to purchase material for the hospital wreaths and garlands and the member of the board, following the Tuesday meeting, did the work and are to be prepared to carry to Devens enough greens for five wards. Originally planning to assist with two wards the request came from the state committee to take over more, so Winchester will have the privilege of bringing this Christmas cheer into some wards where there are many soldiers who have returned from first line service.

Mrs. John B. Gilbert, treasurer, reported that the club had sold $175 in War Bonds and $15.80 in War Saving Stamps, at the Library in connection with the drive by the Winchester Women's Committee for the sale of War Bonds.

The December meeting of the club will be held in the Art Gallery of the Library the afternoon of Wednesday, the 16th. A delightful program has been arranged. Mrs. Harold H. Given, of Forest street, formerly of Woburn, but born and brought up in Norway, will speak. Her subject will be "Christmas in Norway in Time of Peace." Mrs. Given attended the Oslo University, has been in this country a number of years, is a member of the Woburn Women's Club, the Winchester Fortnightly and is secretary of the International Relations Committee of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

This is an open meeting and members are welcome to bring guests.

FRESH FROM CHINA

The speaker at the Epiphany Church Service League, Tuesday, Dec. 15, will be one of the Americans whose return on the Gripsholm last August was permitted by the Japanese government, the Rev. Robert Edward Wood.

He is a graduate of Cornell University. Since 1899 he has been an active part of Christian life in China and has shared many of the most dramatic experiences of that country. He was there during the Boxer outbreak against foreigners and foreign ideas in 1900. He went through the Revolution of 1911. For 40 days he was under fire in the besieged wall city of Wuchang. He has done much work with harried Chinese refugees, fleeing before Japanese machine-guns and bayonets, and trying still to keep alive family life, schools, and religion.

He knows the hearts of Chinese, from those who govern to those who run in the ricksha shafts. He was with Chinese laborers in France two years during the first World War. He can speak, with knowledge, of present Chinese leaders in Church and state.

Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker will preside at the weekly luncheon and will present Father Wood at 1.15.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The Women's League of the First Baptist Church, held its December meeting last Thursday. A large group was present and worked diligently on the White Cross quota for Miss Crawford, our missionary in China.

At noon Mrs. Martin Swanson's group served a delicious luncheon to the workers. Then our president, Mrs. Roy Elliott called the afternoon meeting to order and Mrs. Fred Emery led devotions and gave us a Christmas message of hope and cheer.

Mrs. John Casler, chairman of Christian Friendliness, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Martha Mixer from West End Community House, who not only entertained us with stories of her settlement work, but, inspired us to carry on even in times of great obstacles.

After a brief business session, Miss Dorothy Swain, our director of Young People's Work made a special appeal for the World Emergency Fund and the meeting was adjourned.

EDUCATIONAL DIVISION OF THE UNITED WAR FUND

The Educational Division of the Greater Boston United War Fund of which Mrs. Ben R. Schneider is the Winchester chairman reports that great interest is being shown by many local organizations in the annual drive for funds which takes place early next year.

A new film, showing the activities and projects of the fund and including actual war scenes sent from foreign countries has already been shown before a meeting of the Women's League of the First Bantist Church and the Ladies' Guild of the Unitarian Church. Other meetings have been held by the Knights of Columbus on Dec. 7 and the William Parkman Lodge, Masonic Order on Dec. 8. Speakers from fund headquarters also gave interesting accounts of the many activities

THE FORTNIGHTLY

Music will be the theme of the Christmas program at the regular meeting of the Fortnightly on Dec. 14 in Fortnightly Hall, with Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, president, presiding. Immediately after the opening of the regular meeting, members of the Glee Club in their robes will lead the singing of Christmas carols and patriotic songs. Mrs. George Lochman, chairman of music will announce the music program. Mrs. Mary R. Witham will direct and Mrs. Lucy Wilcox Cushing will be the accompanist for the Glee Club.

The entertainment for the afternoon will be a musical program by Mrs. Earl Weidner, pianist. Mrs. Weidner is chairman of music in the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. Master Earl Weidner, 14 years of age, who has proven himself to be an artist of rare talent in spite of his years will be the violinist and Helen Bedford, harpist, makes her harp live the choice music of the artists.

A food sale of home cooked foods will be held before and after the meeting to aid the Scholarship Fund. Mrs. Ralph M. Sparks, chairman of scholarship will be assisted by the members of her committee.

The Philanthropic Committee wishes to thank the members and friends of the Fortnightly who helped to make the Holly Dessert Bridge and white elephant auction such a fine success financially and socially.

War Stamps and Bonds will be on sale at the meeting Monday.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

Archie R. Giroux, chairman of the Lexington Board of Selectmen, Middlesex County Commissioner and President of the Boston Stock Exchange, was the speaker at the meeting of the Winchester Women's Republican Club on Wednesday, Dec. 2.

Mr. Giroux, a veteran of the last war, emphasized the necessity of an American Public Opinion which would demand the principles of the post war international relations as an objective, while this war was being carried on. He pointed out the errors following the First World War, and expressed the opinion that a repetition of these errors could be avoided only through the knowledge of the purpose for which United States is fighting.

Mrs. Nathaniel Nichols has been appointed secretary in place of Mrs. William D. Barone and Mrs. Harris S. Richardson will serve on the Finance Committee.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The December meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association was held on Friday, Dec. 4 at the home of the president, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer.

Present were Mesdames Bradlee, Clarke, Coulson, Dwinell, Grosvenor, Huckins, Jope, McGovern, Monroe, Pond, Righter, Russell, Shoemaker, Spencer, Thompson, White and Willing. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted. Mrs. O'Leary reported 243 visits for November.

The Association is moving its office to 10 Dix street, the Professional Building this week. Calls for the nurses will still be taken at the hospital as usual, Win. 1900.

SYMMES CORNER CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. A. H. Farrell, 6 Sargent road, will be hostess to the Symmes Corner Group of the parish of the Epiphany at 10 o'clock Friday morning, Dec. 18. It will be a gift-giving, but not a gift-receiving, Christmas party. Each member will bring an article that will give joy or comfort to a child of any age, and these will be taken to the Boston City Mission for distribution to children whose lack of parents or whose family misfortune of any kind makes provision scant for Christfas happiness except as the Church supplements gifts and kindness.

EVENING BRANCH ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Evening Branch of the Epiphany Service League will have their annual Advent party in the library of the parish house at 8 o'clock, Thursday evening, Dec. 17.

Mrs. A. B. Corthell will play for the carols, and song in front of the open fire will bring the spirit of the Yule log and holly-decked halls.

All members and friends of the parish are welcome. Each is asked to bring a not expensive article for the "sight unseen" and by-chance-awarded Christmas gifts.

PLANS FOR LOCAL STATE GUARD COMPANY

Plans for a Winchester company of the Massachusetts State Guard, which have been laid before the Board of Selectmen by Lt. Col. Gardner B. Wardwell, Commanding Region 5, (North), began to take shape this week as local citizens started to show an interest in the development of such a project.

Major Harold V. Farnsworth, 4 Central green, former Selectman who is now a staff officer of Region 5, (North) with headquarters in the Somerville Armory, made an urgent appeal last night to his fellow townsmen to awake to the total lack of military defense of the town. In an interview with newsmen he said:

"I would like to take it upon my shoulders to tell citizens of this community of the important role that a local company of State Guardsmen might play in the event of an attempted invasion by enemy troops. Though it may seem remote, danger of such an attack does exist, as a matter of fact, is so imminent that the Governor of the Commonwealth has deemed it necessary to call upon all communities to form State Guard companies.

"In the event of such a disaster, Winchester troops will be called upon to defend with arms their own community. Theirs will be the task of harrassing and holding the enemy until such time as regular troops arrive to perform the task of annihilation.

"Winchester, geographically, is wide open to an attack by enemy token forces which could be landed from air transports at any one of a dozen spots in and around the town. Military experts, including Major General Sherman Miles, commanding the First Service Command of the United States Army, deem it advisable for Winchester to form a unit of the State Guard. Therefore, I feel it my duty to add my voice to theirs in an appeal to my neighbors to get busy immediately in this emergency."

Local citizens ranging in age from 21 to 50 who might be interested in enlisting in such an organization should get in touch with the chairman of the Civilian Defense Committee.

UNITED WAR FUND SOLICITORS TASKS TO BE MADE EASY

With the 1943 campaign of the Greater Boston United War Fund only a little more than a month away, local leaders have announced an interesting plan to make the work of the individual solicitors easier and more pleasant. During the week of Jan. 11, groups of two teams will meet in a friendly informal way in private homes for a conference on campaign plans. Though the meetings will last little over an hour, each such meeting will be visited by a group of three speakers now training under the leadership of Mr. John Stevens. One will speak briefly on the background and purpose of the 1943 campaign; another will give practical and proven methods of solicitation; and the third will explain the proper methods of filling out cards, report forms, etc. In this way an individual solicitor will, with a minimum of time and effort learn just how his task of a few calls can be made most easily, pleasantly, and successfully.

On Sunday afternoon, Jan. 17 a Winchester War Fund Campaign Rally will be held at 4 p. m. at the Winchester Country Club as a get-together for all those concerned with the Winchester campaign. At this meeting there will be motion pictures and last minute information from the top men in the Greater Boston Organization including Charles C. Cabot, general chairman for 1943, and Brooks Potter, chairman for the Metropolitan Division.

Work in completing the local Winchester organization for the campaign is progressing rapidly according to reports made by District Directors at a meeting at the home of Harlow Russell, associate community chairman in charge of districts. Representatives of every district were present, and reported enrollments of workers that showed that almost all districts had a complete roster of Captains with a better than 25 per cent average of individual solicitors already formally signed up. In reporting for Boston headquarters, J. Henry Smith, Jr., general chairman for Winchester noted that Winchester is now fourth in rank for organization so far as the Metropolitan District is concerned.

Several matters were discussed at the district directors meeting. It was brought out that Winchester's quota for 1943 of $60,500, an increase of about three per cent over last year, was nothing in comparison to the wonderful results being obtained all over the country where the campaigns for 1943 funds have already taken place in recent weeks. A few of the results, showing the percentage increase in amounts actually raised for 1943 funds, as compared to 1942 are as follows.

Cleveland, Ohio, 146 per cent increase.
Detroit, Mich., 253 per cent increase.
Milwaukee, Wis., 219 per cent increase
Indianapolis, Ind., 249 per cent increase
Pittsburg, Pa., 166 per cent increase
Minneapolis, Minn., 177 per cent increase

Looking at these figures, an increase of three per cent for Winchester did not seem too much to ask the citizens of Winchester to give in the coming campaign. It was also brought out that in addition to all the benefits that directly or indirectly come to Winchester and citizens of Winchester from the fund-supported agencies outside of Winchester, more than one third of the money raised in Winchester actually comes back directly to Winchester for the support of Winchester's own local agencies. This means that Winchester is asked to give only about $40,000 for its share of the agencies outside of Winchester, including all the strictly wartime groups such as the U. S. O., Soldiers and Sailors Committee, United Nations Relief, etc.

FIREMEN BUSY

Members of the Winchester Fire Department have been busy since last Friday forenoon when they were first called to take care of an overheated stove at the home of Mrs. Alice M. Coon, 20 Hillcrest parkway. At 11.30 that morning there was a grass fire at Russell's Farm on Main street, and at 2.06 p. m. the men were called back to the Coon home by an overheated boiler. Another overheated boiler in Lyceum Building gave the department its last run Friday at 2.25.

There were three grass fires Saturday, the first at 10.53 in the morning on Holton street and the second two minutes later near the Immaculate Conception Church on Sheridan circle. The last of the three was at 12.20 on Farrow street.

Sunday's only run was at 3.50 p. m. for a grass fire on Cross street opposite the residence of Mr. Michael McGonigle at No. 360.

There were several fires Monday, the first a grass fire at 1.13 p. m., on Hemingway street near Main street. At 2 o'clock there was a grass fire at the corner of Water and Rumford street, and at 2.25 the men went to the Goddard home at 403 Main street where a fireplace fire got out of control. A little more than an hour afterward the department was called back to the same place to put out burning wood in an ash barrel in the basement. A brisk brush fire on Hutchinson road in the rear of the Country Club was reported at 6.10 by Mr. Leslie Wildgust.

There were two alarms on Tuesday, the first at 2.33 for what was thought to be a fire at the International Cooperage plant on Swanton street. This proved to be smoke only. Box 36 came in at 4.10 for an overheated heater at the home of Mrs. Esther C. McCarthy, 201 Washington street.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Ships of the Destroyer type comprise the bulk of our fighting ships in the American Navy. Their average displacement is about 1800 tons, and they are fast, powerful, and hard hitting. They have been particularly effective in convoy duty and gave a good account of themselves in the Coral Sea engagement. They cost approximately $3,600,000 each.

Every Navy shipyard is turning out Destroyers in record time. They are essential for our two-ocean Navy. Purchase of more and more War Bonds will assure all-out production of these vital units for the Navy. Buy every pay day. On Christmas Eve at 11 o'clock the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will again be host to the other churches of the community with its beautiful and unusual Candlelight Carol service. This hour service inaugurated by the pastor, Rev. Roger E. Makepeace will be held for the fourth consecutive year and its acceptance, not only by the people of the church but of the community has been demonstrated by the large attendance. Dim-out conditions will prevail outside the church, but inside the attractive colonial sanctuary many will come to celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace.

The Senior Choir and soloist, Mrs. Ruth McHale, will participate in the service and also lead the congregation in the singing of the Christmas carols which form an important part of the worship. The musical part of the program will be under the direction of Mr. Richard P. Law, the organist and choir director.

The special Christmas offering will go entirely to the Russian War Relief cause.

The lovely white interior of the church will be attractively decorated with Christmas greens. The church will be open at 10.30 p. m. for those coming early for meditation. Worshippers from other denominations are welcome and are invited to attend this Christmas Eve service.

This is one of the finest Christmas plays ever written. It incorporates the story of the Christ-Child and the Christmas spirit, to a high degree. It is especially fitting in this year of war to emphasize the old, old story of Christ's birth and the promise of peace on earth. The church will be open at 4.30. A silver collection will be taken at the door to defray the expenses of the play. Children under 10 years of age should be attended by a parent or guardian.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE OF EPIPHANY CHURCH SCHOOL

At 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon the Christmas Eve service of the Epiphany Church School will follow the pattern established by Deaconess Helen Lane a good many years ago and faithfully kept by her successor as Director of Religious Education, Miss Ethel B. Davis.

The parish children who are still too young for even the kindergarten department usually have at this service their first experience of going to church. They will probably recognize familiar faces in the line of scarlet and white which begins the service, as the Lower School circles the church singing, O Come All Ye Faithful.

The Lower School will be marshalled by the Superintendent, Mrs. Edward F. Boyd and her teaching staff, Miss Eleanor Barron, Miss Ruth Dodge, Miss Florence Barron, Miss Louise Kelley and Miss Marie Barron.

The procession of the Upper School will be led by the Girls' Choir in vestments of blue and white.

Members of the choir are Ann Albree, Christine Barchus, Joan Bodman, Mary Bodman, Nancy Booth, Dorothy Brant, Barbara Buffum, Marilyn Chase, Joyce Foster, Nancy Cate Jenney, Shirley Hamilton, Janet Ober, Betty Parkin, Joan Salmon, Elizabeth Seager, Ellen Shoemaker, Elenor Thompson, Helen Walker, Helen Williams and Judith Wyman.

The Director of the Girls' Choir, Mrs. E. Phillips Walker, will also assist Mrs. Chas. Butler in the Mystery Play.

Brand new actors this year in two wordless parts of the play will be two small sisters, Diana and Virginia d'Eseaux. They will be the cherubs who sit watching the Christmas story unfold in pictures and carols.

Children will bring to this Christmas Eve service gifts for the use of the Boston City Mission, used or new toys, dolls, books or games.

Only those too young for Church School will receive gifts, those still on the font roll.

WINTON CLUB PRESENTS MUSICAL SHOW

High School New Setting for Annual Benefit

The Winton Club, whose annual Cabaret has always been a high spot of the winter social season, broke a 22-year old tradition last week and presented a stage show in the high school auditorium which was enthusiastically received by large audiences. A drastic change from the Town Hall Cabarets of former years, and a date which was many weeks in advance of the usual time, seemed necessary in view of increasing shortages of professional services, heat, transportation, etc. and many former patrons expressed their approval of the changes.

Mrs. E. George Pierce was the general chairman of the show which was directed by Mr. William Hobrecker of the Jer ome Cargill Company of New York. Mrs. Pierce, whose charming personality makes her a most popular member of Winchester's young set, and whose executive ability is well known, handled the many problems of the show with rare poise, patience and tact, and never relaxed in her efforts towards a smooth, finished production. Members of her busy committee included Mrs. Fulton Brown, president of the Winton Club, advisor; Mrs. Percy Bugbee and Mrs. Chandler Symmes, talent; Mrs. Kenneth Pond, costumes; Mrs. Frederick Eves, secretary; Mrs. Loring P. Nichols, treasurer; Mrs. Lucius Smith, publicity. Mrs. Raymond Dexter had charge of the program and she and her committee procurred a large number of lucrative ads for the attractive program.

The show was in two acts and 19 scenes, a much longer revue than shows of the past, and was an entertaining combination of tricky dancing. It was a well-balanced program that moved speedily and was greatly enjoyed. A fact which few in the audience realized was that, with the intervening Thansgiving holidays, the show was in actual rehearsal only 14 days.

The costumes were fresh and colorful; the music gay and melodious. Old and new favorites lent their talents in ensemble and specialty numbers, including Virginia and Priscilla Danforth whose clever tap dancing was a joy to see; Mr. and Mrs. Dana Kelly, welcome newcomers to the cast, whose solos were pleasing; Janet Burbank, always a splendid performer; Virginia Voorhis, possessor of a beautiful voice; Yvonne Clennon, lovely young dancer whose talents are well known in high school vaudeville shows and Peter, Mary Lou French and Carol Crandall, an attractive singing trio; and Virginia Black, whose acrobatic dancing is always amazing.

Taking parts in exceptionally well done skits were Elouise Graves, Gerald Hills, Samuel Graves, Stearns (Chubby) Ellis, Elsie Flagg, Dick Wilcox, Sally Woodward, Jack Tarbell, Lois Harmon, Joy Woolley, Bill Smith, Leonard Lawson, Tom Worthen, Warren Downs and Tommy Reese.

WINCHESTER LIONS CLUB SPONSORS A RUBINOFF CONCERT

The Winchester Lions Club makes it possible for the people of Winchester to have a rare musical treat, and at the same time the club hopes to replenish its charity fund. In order that our friends may know that we are living up to the club's aim as a service club, let us enumerate some of the services we have rendered.

A few years ago we presented the Winchester Hospital with a fine oxygen tent, which has been used in many respiratory troubles. More recently we supplied the means for hanging dividing curtains between each bed in the maternity, medical and surgical wards. For a number of years we have sent underprivileged children to summer camps. We have supplied examinations and glasses for needy children. We have given to the Red Cross, the T. B. fund and similar organizations. Last year we entirely redecorated the reception room and main hall of the Home for the Aged and have under consideration further help of the same kind. We have given useful gifts to many of our town boys going into the service. Last spring we depleted our charity fund supplying band and collation for a number of dances for our Army and Navy men at the Charlestown Y. M. C. A. and the Riverside Boat Club.

We feel we are continuing the usefulness and aims of our club by giving this Rubinoff Concert to the residents of Winchester at a time when we are asked not to drive our cars any more than is positively necessary.

Rubinoff won great fame as a radio violinist and became the musical idol of the public. He is making a concert tour of New England and first handed we hear that his program holds his audience spellbound with repeated demands for encores. The advance sales of the tickets has proved to the sponsors that Winchester appreciates a high class musical entertainment.

ONE OF SURVIVORS

It will be good news to the many friends of Lieut. A. Harmon Hall, U. S. N. R., to learn that he is one of the survivors of the U. S. S. Achiba, reported lost as a result of enemy action. Lieut. Hall is married to the former Janet Mackay of Athol.

J. H. WINN'S SONS RECEIVE COVETED TROPHY

Presentation of Army-Navy "E" Award

Our heartiest congratulations are extended to the management and employees of J. H. Winn's Sons. Winchester can well be proud of her first concern to win the coveted Army-Navy "E" Award.

Among those present were the employees with their relatives and friends, representatives of the Army and Navy, the Company's New York and Philadelphia representatives and many state and town officials.

The hall was beautifully decorated with bunting and flags arranged in a manner that centered all eyes on a magnificent American flag which was hung in the center of the stage. Directly below the speakers' platform the J. H. Winn's Sons Minute Man flag for 100 per cent employee payroll deduction for War Bonds was on display. The Winchester Sea Scouts acting as ushers added dignity and a military air to the program.

The speeches were of high order stressing the honor that came to employees, management, town and state in the granting of this award, and the hope and assurance that the good work which had been done would continue with renewed purpose to excell past achievements.

Mr. Joseph W. Worthen, attorney, former member of the Board of Selectmen and Finance Committee, acted as master of ceremonies. The program opened with the singing of The Spangled Banner, led by Miss Helen M. Tarbell, vocalist.

The Rev. John P. O'Riordan of St. Mary's Church then gave a most inspiring invocation.

Mr. Worthen then extended a welcome to all present and briefly referred to the high points in the history of J. H. Winn's Sons. Excerpts from his remarks are: "The American people will never forget those dark days only 30 months ago when the cause of freedom and democracy was being forcibly upheld by only one great nation, led by a bulldog of a man. Nor will we forget when fighting without a single ally, with its back to the Atlantic Ocean, those words which will go ringing down the centuries to stir and cheer the hearts of patriots as long as the English language is used.

To speak the thoughts and hopes of freedom-loving men, 'We shall fight them on the beaches, we shall fight them in the fields, and on the streets, we shall fight them in the hills, we shall never surrender. We shall continue to struggle until in God's good time, the New World with all its power and might will step forth to the rescue and the liberation of the new and old.' Only seven months later, in another great memorable address we heard these well-known words, 'Give us the tools and we will finish the job.'

BAD FIRE AT JOY HOME

Sisters Taken from Burning House by Firemen

A two alarm fire this morning did considerable damage to the home of the Misses Alice and Minnie Joy at 6 Lawson road and was threatening the safety of the occupants of the house when the firemen arrived.

One of the sisters smelled smoke in the house and notified the Fire Department at 2.17, and Box 26 was pulled from the street by Patrolman John F. Hogan. A second alarm was ordered by Chief John J. Gorman of the Fire Department when he saw the severity of the blaze. The second alarm took everything from the local station and Engine 1 came down from Woburn to cover in.

The fire apparently started in a fireplace in the dining room of the house and ate its way into the kitchen, going down into the cellar as well as straight up through the back of the dwelling, mushrooming out to the front of the upper structure. It was a hot fire and the slate roof and insulation made the work of the firemen doubly difficult. Five lines of hose were gotten onto the blaze and the men were obliged to work from ladders to get at the fire at the top of the house.

When the firemen arrived Miss Alice and Miss Minnie Joy were on the second floor of their home, looking out. Chief Gorman, Lieut. James Callahan and Lieut. John O'Melia got them from the burning dwelling, and Miss Minnie Joy was carried across the street to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. George Pierce by Fireman Frank Amico and Patrolman James Flaherty. Neither of the ladies was apparently injured and both were loud in praise of the firemen's efforts.

The actual fire was largely confined to the rear of the house which was badly gutted. The roof and upper part were honeycombed and the firemen had to break holes in the slate roof to get at the blaze. It was cold, wet and dangerous work in the slippery going, a fresh fall of snow adding to the hazard. So far as the fire was concerned the front of the house was not damaged extensively though there was heavy water damage. The heating and lighting system was put out of commission. Engine 2 and the ladder truck had not returned to quarters at 8.45 this morning.

While working at the fire Chief Gorman drove a nail into his foot and was treated by Dr. Philip J. McManus.

NATALIE JEWETT KELLOGG

Natalie Jewett Kellogg, daughter of Mr. Henry Johonnott Kellogg and Mrs. Caroline Jewett Kellogg, both of Winchester, was born in Turners Falls on Sept. 9, 1920. In 1929 the family returned to Winchester to live and Natalie with her sister Caroline and brother Henry attended the Winchester schools. Many Winchester young people cherish memories of happy hours with the Kelloggs at Lake Spofford N. H. and at home in Winchester with Miss A. Natalie Jewett.

Although at the age of 12 Natalie had rheumatic fever with resulting limited activities, she kept up her school work, graduated with her class at the Cambridge School in Weston, and from Bradford Junior College with honors and; finally completed a year's secretarial course at the Erskine School.

Natalie's love of people, her understanding and wisdom beyond her years her courage in facing problems and her gay spirit were precious qualities to all who knew her. Natalie had a great appreciation of life and all it had to offer; her keen interests and warm friendships and the devotion of those she has left are tributes of her contribution to life.

Natalie Kellogg died at her home on Sunday, Dec. 13. Members of the family and close friends attended the services which were held at home on Tuesday, Dec. 15. The Rev. George Hale Reed officiated at the services. The burial was at Wildwood Cemetery.

President Mrs. Hintlian has asked every member to attend and bring a small gift. These gifts will be distributed so that everyone will receive a memento.

A beautiful down puff, which has been on chance books, will be awarded at this meeting. Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini makes this contribution to the Guild each year. Those who have not taken chances before this my do so on next Tuesday before the drawing.

On Dec. 26, Saturday, at 8 p. m., there will be a Christmas dance at Hotel Vendome, Dartmouth street, Boston. This is under the auspices of the Guild each Christmas season for the younger members. A pleasant reunion is anticipated by the different college groups, most of whom have been away since early fall. Our own Junior members are cordially invited and may contact Mrs. Michael Hintlian for tickets or Miss Jean Logue, president of Junior members.

Owing to the strict dimout regulations and the conditions due to war time, many of our evening social affairs will be canceled for the winter season. This does not mean that we have relaxed in the vital work of the Guild for which we are organized. The care of mothers and infants is as badly needed as ever before. We must continue this responsible and praiseworthy task and the money needed to make it possible must be realized. Members who are willing to conduct whist parties either at home or in the hall, should plan to do so these winter afternoons.

The next meeting of the board will take place early in January. The date will be announced later and cards will be mailed to board members.

MRS. JULIA TRACY NUTTING

Mrs. Julia Tracy Nutting, wife of William J. Nutting and formerly for many years a widely known resident of the Highlands section of Winchester, died Monday, Dec. 14, at the home of her son, Leslie J. Nutting, 124 Essex street, Beverly, after a long illness.

Mrs. Nutting was the daughter of Cyrus M., and Caroline (Needham) Tracy. She was born Aug. 5, 1857, in Lynn, coming to Winchester in 1894 and making her home here on Garfield avenue until two years ago, when she went to live with her son in Beverly.

During her long residence she was a member of and active in the Second Congregational Church and was a member of its Bethany Society. Her pleasing personality, neighborliness and many other sterling attributes endeared her to all with whom she came in contact and news of her passing brought genuine regret to a wide circle of friends.

Besides her husband, and son in Beverly, Mrs. Nutting leaves another son, Lawrence, in Waterman, Cal., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at the Second Congregational Church with Rev. Kenneth E. Beckwith, pastor of the Dane Street Congregational Church in Beverly, officiating. The church organist and musical director, Mrs. George H. Lochman, played two favorite hymns, Jesus Saviour Pilot Me, and Rock of Ages. Interment was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn.

DAVIS—GOODNOUGH

At a candle-light ceremony at the home of her parents on Saturday evening, Dec. 12, Miss Elva Mae Goodnough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Goodnough of Main street, became the bride of Roland Frank Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Davis of Bedford road, Woburn. Rev. Roger E. Makepeace, pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, read the marriage service in an attractive setting of palms and pom pom chrysanthemums.

Miss Goodnough was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor maid and only attendant her sister, Miss Helen Goodnough of this town. Roland Morris of Waltham was best man.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white brocaded satin and lace with a sweetheart neck. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle was caught to a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses. The honor maid also wore a princess style dress of raspberry and wine taffeta. Her matching shoulder length veil was caught to a coronet of velvet flowers and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

An informal reception for members of the families and close friends was held after the ceremony.

Th bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Davis, a graduate of Winchester High School, is a chief petty officer in the United States Navy, assigned to foreign duty. Before his enlistment he was a traffic manager for the Crosse and Blackwell Company in Boston.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

The public, so far, is responding generously to the annual Christmas Seal appeal made at Thanksgiving time throughout Mid-Hesex County although many former contributors have not yet replied.

Mrs. Harold Beebe, treasurer, of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee states that Winchester is running slightly ahead of last years receipts to date. She adds that Christmas Seals are still available through her.

DEC. 15 SURPRISE BLACKOUT

This week's surprise air raid and blackout drill was far from being 100 per cent perfect. There were a few glaring weaknesses which, although small in themselves caused considerable confusion and annoyance to various defense units. However, these were easily recognized and can be quickly remedied. There were several mistakes made in the interpretation of orders. These same mistakes probably will not be repeated. Two or three business houses and a few homes were not completely blacked out. However, the town was really black. There were to have been about 32 planned incidents reported. Enthusiastic wardens sent in 50 of their own which upset the plans of the various unit chiefs. Be that as it may it was on the whole a good practice drill.

The new semi automatic signal equipment which syeronizes all the air raid sirens and whistles in the town was used for the first time. It proved very satisfactory. The Report Center control of this system was planned and built by Howard Walsh, Chief Warden of Division 1. Due to the fact that he was just completing the last detail of the equipment when the warning flash was received, he had the pleasure of sounding the alarm himself.

The response to the mobilization alarm which was sounded at 9:32 was very gratfying. The Report Center was fully manned in about eight minutes. Many of the Wardens were on their posts before the mobilization alarm had stopped. The Medical Depots were set up and ready to function at least 15 minutes before the Air Raid alarm had sounded. The Public Service Division was exceptionally speedy in mobilizing its many public works units. All other units reported quick response.

The Auxiliary Police using their branch telephone line direct from the Report Center for the first time carried out all their assignments effectively as usual.

The Junior Police covering the center and air raid shelters took good care of all the pedestrians.

All the fire apparatus manned by regular and Auxiliary Firemen proceeded to their assigned stations. Communications were established with headquarters, but due to a misunderstanding no incidents were reported to them.

Members of the Canteen Unit served doughnuts and gingerale to the Report Center crew after the all clear was sounded.

Several units of the Evacuation Division were called out for the first time, but due to lack of blackout equipment at their station were obliged to work in the dark with the aid of a flash light.

Although much progress has been made since the last practice drill, there is need for more co-ordination and attention to details. The greatly increased personnel of the Defense Corps requires more concentrated training.

Each person charged with the responsibility of issuing orders should be explicit in his instructions to those under his command. The carrying out of these assignments will never be perfect, but can and will be improved.

"DON'T SELL ROTARY SHORT" WAS THE PLEA

Walter Boireau, District Governor of Rotary District 196, used this title for his talk.

He told how the International Rotary President, a native of South America, who said though he could not speak the English language very well he wished to talk with his heart and his hand.

Governor Walter declared we should defend tomorrow today by keeping our home fires burning by the deeds we do so tha the sky glow of good news will travel afar.

Governor Walter reported that over 400 service men will receive a Christmas remembrance from International Rotary. He reminded the Winchester Rotarians that Rotary is not based upon creed but upon deed. He pointed out that recent figures state that 85 percent of the colleges in the United States did not require study of American history. He forcast that the boys when they come back from the war they will be far far more mature than their chronological age would indicate and will demand a new understanding of Democracy and a new devotion to that for which they have fought and many of their comrades died. "We must get busy about Americanism."

Jim Cullen told some interesting experiences of a young cousin of his who is a Marine home from the Pacific.

It was voted to give special contribution after George Davidson spoke of the need sharing Christmas spirit and Nat Nichols spoke about work done here for 40 years.

Ernie Dade brought two guests, Ray Brown, from Bendix Aviation Corp. and Jack Sally, Philadelphia representative of J. H. Winn's Sons.

SONS OF ITALY LODGE NOTES

The Christmas party committee, of which Angelo P. Tofuri is the chairman, reports that it is making splendid progress in the preparations for the party. This event is joyfully anticipated each year by the children, and will be held at the Lincoln School auditorium on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 20. The program includes talking moving pictures, featuring Donald Duck, Mickey Mouse, etc., ice cream and cake, and, last but not least, Santa Claus' arrival.

This important role is capably performed by Frank Dattilo. In other years he has climbed down ladders, stepped out of fireplaces, or made his entrance by other means. However, this year when the stage curtains are opened, Santa will be seated in his sleigh, the rear of which is laden with gifts for each boy and girl. The floor of the stage will be covered with snow, and the stuffed reindeer will jingle its bells.

The members of this committee are Angelo P. Tofuri, chairman, Anthony C. Ficociello, treasurer, Gabriel J. Vespucci, secretary, Frank Dattilo, Sam Casolinuovo, Carmine Frongillo, Henry Peluso, Vincenzo Gigliotti, Vincent Puopolo and Anthony Derro.

WINCHESTER SCOUT COMMITTEE MEN ELECTED

The monthly meeting of the Winchester District Committee of Fells-land Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held at Scout Headquarters on Border road last Monday evening, Dec. 14. District Commissioner Francis H. McCall was in charge and the principal business for the meeting was the nomination and election of Winchester men who will attend to the welfare and progress of Winchester Scouting for the coming calendar year.

John Casler, Scoutmaster of Troop 7 and Chairman of the Camp Lane Committee, headed the nominating committee which included Kenneth S. Hall and Chandler W. Symmes. The committee presented the following men to take over the respective duties in Winchester, as follows:

Chairman, Robert H. Sibley
Vice Chairman, Robert H. Carruthers and Edward R. Grosvenor.
Secretary, Gerald D. Curtiss.
Commissioner, Francis H. McCall.
Finance, Alvin G. Smith.
Health and Safety, Dr. John D. McLean
Cubbing, Waldon B. Hersey
Training, Otis W. Leary
Camping, Robinson S. Whitten
Camp Lane, John C. Casler
Advancement, Kenneth S. Hall.
Organization and Extension, Frank W. Horne
Public Relations, Alfred J. Higgins
Activities and Civic Service, Dexter H. Blenkhorn

New Four-Area Plan

The nominating committee was given unanimous confidence in an atmosphere of assurance that the new officers, individually and as a serving group, will enhance the expansion of boyhood betterment and opportunities Scout Executive Edward W. Nelson and Field Scout Executive Charles L. Noyes were present to represent Fells-land Council which administrates all Boy Scout affairs in Burlington, Medford, Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn. Mr. Nelson and Mr. McCall presented and demonstrated an area plan for Winchester that augments the ideal of neighborhood Scout Troop and Cub Pack growth and control. The new plan was considered favorably and four Neighborhood Commissioners will be sponsored to complete the four area divisional operation of service to the growing boys in their respective home communities in Winchester.

For Mothers and Fathers

It is believed these new area offices will import closer unity and a more frequent inter-relation between parents, their boys and the Scout and Cub leaders. Surely, the large Winchester organization obliterates any obstruction to a parent or a young man desirous of reaping the benefits of the splendid training and educational features offered by the Boy Scouts of America.

Cider and Doughnuts Hit the Spot

After hearing various reports the meeting was formally closed at a late hour and everybody present immediately seconded John Casler's motion for adjournment to his surprise larder of cider, doughnuts and cheese. All can testify that Mr. Casler's one manone area plan of "take another doughnut and have a piece of cheese" was ravinously adhered to until one glass jug remained. Fortunately for John's jug, no one had a glass cutter. Good Scouters H. R. Brown, Ralph Perkins, Francis McFeeley and Ernest Butterworth might have formed an appropriate murmuring quartet at the soft auditory pitch limited by tasty, chewy cheese and hummed, "Praise ye John, ye hit out appetition."

CELEBRATES HIS SEVENTH BIRTHDAY

Philip Emery Dresser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Dresser of 83 Cambridge street celebrated his 7th birthday at his home on Wednesday, Dec. 16. The playroom of his home had been prettily decorated for the occasion and music was furnished by a victrola.

Philip had as his guests a number of chums from the Wyman School, where he is a second grade pupil. Among the boys were Christie Adams, Jimmie Adams, John Barchus, Kenneth Hiscoe, Cecil Pride, Jr. and Philip Salmon.

Games were played until the big birthday cake was uncovered by Philip's mother. While refreshments were being prepared by his aunt, Miss Grace Wickwire, moving pictures were being shown of Mickey Mouse and other well known comic characters.

Philip was born in Winchester Dec. 16, 1935. He attends the Wyman School and the Sunday School of the First Congregational Church. He has a three year old sister, Suzanne.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

These huge 60-ton heavy tanks cost $120,000, and America's automotive and locomotive plants are turning them out on a never-ending assembly line. Our army uses light tanks, weighing 14 tons, and medium tanks of 23 tons also, but we favor the medium tank over the other two.

These heavy tanks are needed for certain phases of modern warfare, and with their thick armor and heavy-gauge guns they are almost unstoppable. They are considered superior in gun power, in maneuverability and in the power of their huge tractor motors to Axis tanks. Americans everywhere are helping to pay for these monsters of war through their purchase of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day.

It's no use talking, there is only one way to survive. Get a Government job and join the million and a half now on the federal payroll. Someone has to pay that enormous sum just granted them in raised pay and overtime and vacations. A million and a half votes is quite a bloc. Are there enough of us left to pay the bill? Hold to our social gains.

We quote from Edson B. Smith in the Boston Herald: "Next year the American people face deprivation and regimentation on an unprecedented scale. They at least will insist, we believe, that the depriving and regimenting be controlled by the best men available for the jobs. We will submit to hardships which are necessary to win the War, but we do not want to be kicked around by a lot of socialistically-minded morons just for their enjoyment."

We quote again: "Coal and oil heating stoves for private dwellings in the 30-state fuel oil rationing area will be rationed beginning Friday. (The Price Administrator) called it a 'unique rationing program,' explaining that instead of asking the public to refrain from buying or limiting purchases drastically 'we are making coal heating available to any one who can use one and who is eligible under the program.'"

Speaking of oil conservation, we wonder what is the status of that Ickes pill box which was erected, along with that fine dam, down on the Aberjona River at Mystic avenue? Now there was a typical New Deal improvement! Has anyone inquired into the feasibility of installing a water wheel in it, and converting it into some source of heat and power? Or perhaps we should not ask that up in these times of stress and worry. We never were tactful.

JUST A LITTLE OIL

We hate to let anybody know it after that elegy on the Rationing Board last week, but our oil company, the well known Socony people, have informed us that we must apply for more oil! It appears that there must be some little error in our allotment. We got over that birthday with flying colors, thanks to our good friends, Lester Tibson, Sam Bailey and John McManus. We went to the best venison dinner we ever attended, enjoyed some tender country sausage and visited with Lester in his fine new acquisition, that farm at South Hampton, N. H., with its 1714 house. But the home-coming was different. We went to bed with the glass at 50 and got up in a temperature of 40, and the only thing that saved the Little Woman from a complete expression of her opinion was the steam she acquired in pushing the Wintons on and off the stage at the High School. To sum it up, our oil was out. Now as we have published, we like the Rationing Board, clerks and all, but we know just where we head off in asking for more oil, and we would hate to compel our old friend Frank Tuttle, who we fought with at the old Highland School, to get harsh and stern with us. Our number one man here at the Star Office, Jim Penaligan, is going through the process. His mother is not so active as she was, and a fifty degree house is not quite in her line. Jim is seeking assistance in filling out one of the New Deal puzzle forms. Thus far he has Doctor Burgoyne stumped and is trying to contact his oil man who is working on a project in Tennessee. We wish him luck. We, ourselves, (including the sprat), are going to freeze. The only thing we can see in the way of relief is to put in red electric light bulbs and get a few of those fire protection signs from Perk Bugbee warning everyone to watch out for fire. We might, of course, set up a cot here in the Star Office—which is a thought. Only a thought. But we fully realize that more oil is out. Definitely. We took a peek into the living room yesterday after we had put our ulster on, and we did get a thought. The place is like a barn and the floor creaks when you walk on it, but what a coal storage it will provide! That is another thing we miss in these modern houses. So we have chalked it down as just the place to keep the Christmas turkey until the electric stove is ready for it. There is no heat in an electric stove, that's why we put one in, but you can tell when it will cook by a certain click it makes. And the turkey can't possibly spoil in our living room. We might buy a barrel of apples and put them in there—or store that keg of cider Lester is sending us. Yes, it has its compensations. And bringing in the turkey, what do you suppose we are doing? Buying half a turkey! We had one at Thanksgiving when we had heat and it went first rate. They slice it lengthwise and you get one liver and the gizzard if you wish and of course the last end that went over the fence. We suppose, since he advertises with us, we might tell you that Harrow the chicken man is the one who steered us onto the idea. We found that half a 23 pound turkey went very well at Thanksgiving. We usually have fish on Thanksgiving, but since the New Deal has let us go back to the old New England feast day, now that it has several other things to play with, including getting us up in the middle of the night every morning, we celebrated. If we may apologize to our good neighbor Marjorie Mills, we will tell you how we cook it. First you get the half turkey. Then you make the dressing without chestnuts (sacrilege). You should obtain a piece of cheese cloth or cambric or some similar unrationed cloth, and place it in the roasting pan. Place the dressing in this cloth and then place the half turkey over the dressing—having the turkey the proper side up of course. Roast as usual. It's pretty good, although a little confusing to us when we carve it. The only thing we are worrying over is where we are going to eat, but we suppose we can try out the living room fire just once more, and our ski suit is still warm. We know where we get off in this oil business, and we assure you we have no intention of visiting that Rationing Board in its finely appointed and well heated ground floor suite in Waterfield Building. We all have colds and personally we used twelve handkerchiefs yesterday. With such a drain on our own supply, we have few if any to hand out to the rest of the family, so we suppose we may be obliged to write for a blank and get Franklin E. Barnes' assistance in filling it out for a further supply. All hail to our New Deal. They planned it that way; don't let anyone tell you different. Hold to our social gains—and contact your doctor, your heating engineer, your plumber and your oil man, and fill out your blanks.

THE MATTER WITH THE DENTAL CLINIC

An Open Letter to the Board of Health

School Department
Town of Winchester, Mass.
COPY
Dec. 14, 1942

Board of Health
9 Mt. Vernon street,
Winchester, Mass.

Gentlemen:

At a regular meeting of the School Committee Monday evening, Dec. 7, I was directed to write to you substantially as follows:

As you know the School Committee, for several years, have been very desirous of seeing reduced the number of dental defects among public school pupils. The Dental Clinic, which is under the auspices of your Board, has provided practically free dental service through the first four grades. The Committee for some time have been endeavoring to see the services of your clinic extended to the less privileged throughout all the grades including High School grades.

You will recall that at a meeting previous to the Annual Town Meeting last March, there was an agreement subscribed to by yourself, representatives of the Finance Committee, the School Committee, the American Legion and the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association to the effect that services of th clinic would be extended through the Junior High School. The proposed appropriation for the Dental Clinic was therefore increased from $2,090 in 1941 to $4,125 in 1942. This, we understand was included in the total appropriation for the Health Department recommended by the Finance Committee and voted by the Town.

On Page 24 of the Warrant for the Annual Meeting in March, 1942, a statement referring to this increase reads as follows:

"The School Committee recommend and the Board of Health agree to this increased appropriation. The Finance Committee concur in such recommendation."

The School Committee now understand that the Board of Health have not rendered dental services to pupils beyond the fourth grade and that the question remains practically where it was previous to the last Annual Town Meeting. They are keenly disappointed and very much dissatisfied with the failure of the Board of Health to abide by their agreement, and they are surprised that the Board have not utilized the increased appropriation for the purpose which such increased appropriation was made.

In such critical times as these with dental defects continuing to show up in large numbers in the physical examinations of draftees, the School Committee go on public record as urging immediate action in extending the services of the Dental Clinic to the less privileged pupils of our community.

Respectfully,
James J. Quinn,
Superintendent of Schools and
Secretary to the School Committee

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Tompkins of Glengarry are to spend Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Mapletoft, in Lyndhurst, N. J.

To the Editor of the Star:

Because I find that some of those in Winchester who might be interested are still uninformed, I would appreciate the mention in the Star of the fact that I am now in the Army.

Soon after being commissioned I found it necessary to resign, with regret, my enjoyable duties as member of the Finance Committee. At present I am located at Fort Banks as assistant Post Engineer of the Harbor Defenses of Boston. Have been in that location for three months previous to which I was at Westover Field for a short period.

Very truly yours,

I have been receiving the Winchester Star for the past three weeks and I think it is very good. It brings all the news from home and if there is anything a fellow who is so far away likes, it is to know what is going on back home. I expect another one of your papers tomorrow and I just can't wait to see it. I am here in California with Pvt. William Fiore of Srpuce street, and he and I depend on the Star for our news. It may interest you to know that Pvt. Fiore and I graduated from air mechanics school with high honors and we are now working as mechanics on air craft. Thanks for the home news and I hope everyone in the service feels the same as I about the Star.

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE TO PARENTS

Dec. 14, 1942

To the Parents of Seniors in the College Preparatory Course:

You are no doubt aware that, during the past few weeks, several of our colleges have announced their willingness to enroll a number of high school seniors at the end of the first half of the senior year. As parents of those students who might wish to take advantage of this proposal, you will be interested to learn of the opinion of your school authorities on this matter. The School Committee, Superintendent and High School Principal do not recommend this earlier college entrance because they believe it is more to the educational advantage of our seniors to remain in high school and complete their high school course.

If, however, you desire to take advantage of this mid-year entrance plan and the record of the student concerned shows outstanding scholastic ability, I shall be glad to confer with you at your convenience.

Sincerely yours,
Samuel M. Graves,
Acting Principal

SPENT THANKSGIVING IN CHINA

George Dotten Writes of Experiences With Air Forces

Letters received recently from George "Bud" Dotten, son of Water Superintendent and Mrs. Harry W. Dotten of Reservoir street, place him as "Somewhere in China" with the United States Army Air Force ground crew.

"Bud" writes that he has seen some of the world since leaving the U. S. A., visiting India and South Africa before going to China where he spent Thanksgiving. He describes watching the sun set over the Indian Ocean while eating Boston Baked Beans in a tea room in India and also tells of his interest in the first camel caravan he saw in that country.

Meals come high in China. "Bud" writes of a meal for which he paid $75 in that country and then of a show he went to afterward for an admission price of $14. The ratio between Chinese and American money is about $14 Chinese to $1 American. Tangerines sell for $5, gum for $15 and American cigarettes for $90. Incidentally the Chinese are excellent cooks, and Bud found the $45 meal he had in town very good. He didn't know at all what he would get, nor did the Chinese have any idea what he wanted, neither understanding the other, but the result was satisfactory all around.

When he wrote, the Winchester soldier hadn't tried a rickshaw ride, but he was planning to at his first opportunity. One steps lively, he says, or he is hit by these stranze man-powered vehicles.

Bud offered his letters as proof positive that his outfit hadn't been sunk or annihilated in transit, as reported by propagandists. He writes that the boys have had many a laugh over their reported destruction, though they all realize such reports are hard for the folks back home.

MRS. CAPITOLA MAY WELBURN

Mrs. Capitola May Welburn, wife of Alfred P. Welburn and a former widely known resident of Winchester, died Tuesday, Dec. 15, at her home, 7 Irving terrace, Cambridge, after a long illness.

Mrs. Welburn was the daughter of Orville A., and Dora E. (Walter) Steiner. She was born Aug. 1, 1885, in Nevada, Ohio. She was for 17 years a resident of Winchester, making her home at 9 Ridgefield road and being actively identified with the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. She left town with her family three years ago and had since resided in Cambridge.

Surviving, besides her husband, is a daughter, Mrs. Roger G. Blair, living in California; three sons, Paul A., in the Army in Africa; Robert E., of Cambridge; and John W. Welburn of Woburn; a sister, Mrs. Jessie S. Rummel; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church at 2 o'clock with Rev. A. B. Gifford of Medford, a former pastor officiating, assisted by Rev. Hobart F. Goewey, Ph.D., pastor of the Harvard Epworth Church of Cambridge; and the pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, Rev. Roger E. Makepeace. Interment will be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

WINCHESTER CIVILIAN DEFENSE
OFFICIAL BULLETIN

DIM OUT

All outside lights attached to private homes or apartment houses whether under a porch, or on the side of the building or garage or on a post shall be permanently shielded so that the cone of light is directly downward and does not exceed 90 degrees. The bulbs used in such lights shall not exceed the intensity of a 15-watt incandescent lamp. Inside lights of private garages also should conform to this rule.

All skylights on all types of dwellings must be made opaque by shades or paint if there is any chance of light filtering through from inside the building.

Cellar windows must be so covered that no light can be seen outside.

In order to avoid the possibility of light showing and also to conserve heat why not pull window shades all the way down instead of only three quarters?

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The Board has received its Christmas greeting from Lt. Gen. F. H. Griffiths, Mayor of Winchester, England, which was in the form of a very interesting 1942 calendar showing scenes in the city.

Bond for the Town Treasurer has been set at $52,700 and for the Collector at $50,700.

The School Department has been required to turn in 10 of its typewriters and the Board, accordingly to the by-laws, approved the sale of them.

Building Inspector Macdonald is making thorough inspections of all public halls in town with a view to preventing any such disasters by fire as have been occurring lately in various parts of the country. It might be a good idea for householders to have a care as to the decorations used this season in the homes.

Selectman Cullen and the Town Engineer were appointed to perambulate the Medford-Winchester boundaries on the 17th, with the Medford City Engineer.

Letters are going out to all department heads regarding the 5 per cent deduction of the Victory tax from payrolls beginning Jan. 1. This is authorized by Commissioner Long's office.

SNOW REMOVAL A PROBLEM

The help situation in all the town departments that co-operate in the removal of snow is quite acute, as the staff has been seriously depleted by men entering the service and going to highly paid defense jobs. The surplus help which has always been available in the past no longer exists. Of necessity the snow removal for the coming season must be materially curtailed and the public is asked to be patient with unavoidable inconveniences. The question of hiring extra trucks with plows attached is a problem as the contractors are unable to get the necessary men to operate them.

The Superintendent of Schools has very kindly offered to co-operate with the Highway Department and to furnish 50 or 60 high school students whose grades are well up to aid in this work. This will be of great assistance but will not furnish skilled operators for snow plows. The Superintendent of Streets plans to plow out the main streets first, then the secondary streets and to do the best he can of sidewalks with the man power available. Many of our citizen-ant children can be of tremendous help in this problem of shoveling sidewalks and will find it very beneficial exercise and car owners can be of immeasurable help in keeping their cars off the streets until after plowing has been done.

The understanding patience of citizens is requested, as it will be impossible to maintain the high Winchester standards of snow removal during the coming season.

THE PARISH BELLRINGERS WILL AGAIN RING IN THE CHRISTMAS SEASON

Many people will recall with joy the beauty that was added to the Christmas season in Winchester last year by the presence of the Bellringers in a revival of a quaint old custom that dates back to the days of Shakespeare and Queen Elizabeth. The girls rang the carols from church and school, through the streets on Christmas Eve, and around the Community Christmas tree.

The Parish Bellringers, members of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church, are sponsored by the church, and are trained by Mrs. Ethelruby Poveleite of Winchester. Mrs. Poveleite is a disciple of Mrs. Arthur Shurtcliff who first brought bellringing to this country, and she has organized groups of bellringers all over the country. Mrs. Poveleite has worked with great skill, paticene, and inspiration in her teaching with the bellringers, and Winchester owes her both gratitude and appreciation for the Christmas spirit which she has added to our Christmas through her work with the Bellringers.

The Bells which the girls ring are old English Handbells, made especially for Mrs. Poveleite at the White Chapel Foundry in London, in the shadow of St. Paul's Cathedral.

This same foundry made the bells for Westminster Abbey.

The lantern which is carried is an exact reproduction of the lantern which hangs on the side door of St. Paul's Cathedral. It is old pewter, and contains a candle, which was the custom in the days when bellringing was a familiar sight, along the lanes and paths of the English villages on Christmas Eve.

The costumes are authentic reproductions of the Elizabethan period with the large white ruffs at the neck the suits of red and black, and the hats with the great plumes.

The girls who ring the bells are: Betty Engle, Marion Horwood, Marjorie Johnston, Virginia Lovejoy and Barbara Johnson.

The Bellringers will ring the Christmas Carols at the morning church service at the First Congregational Church on this Sunday, Dec. 20 at 10.45 a. m.

The Bellringers will also broadcast over the radio over the Blue network of Station WHDH on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 19 at 1.30 p. m. and on Sunday afternoon over the same Station WHDH, at 5 o'clock.

SERGT. GREGORY AT OFFICERS' SCHOOL

Staff Sergt. H. D. Gregory, son of Mrs. Muriel D. Gregory of 224 Forest street, Winchester, is now attending the Army Air Forces Officer Candidate School at Miami Beach, Fla., according to an announcement from Headquarters, and Headquarters Squadron, Second Air Force Service Area Command, Fort Worth.

Sergt. Gregory, who is 25 years old, enlisted in the Air Corps on April 4, 1940, and after a short period of training was sent to Honolulu where he was assigned to the Hawaiian Air Force. He was on duty at Hickam Field on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941, the day the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor. Like many soldiers who went through the attack he "has nothing to say" on his experiences that day.

Promoted from Sergeant to Staff Sergeant in July of this year, Sergt. Gregory was transferred from the Air Corps to the Air Service Command a few weeks later and assigned to Fort Worth. He served there as orderly and chauffeur for Brig.-General James A. Mollison, Commanding General of the Second Air Service Area Command.

WINCHESTER SCHOOL DATES UNCHANGED

Publicity has been given in some of the Boston papers this week to the purported setting of Feb. 1 as a uniform date for the opening of the second semester of the school year throughout the state, the stabilizing of the date being made, according to the announcement, so that prospective draftees would be able to graduate by applying for status as second-half seniors.

State Commissioner of Education, Walter E. Downey was said in the news report to be sending letters to Superintendent of Schools throughout the State, announcing the Feb. 1 date.

In response to several requests for information the Star contacted Winchester's Superintendant, Mr. James J. Quinn. He stated that he had received Commissioner Downey's communication, and because the second semester in the Winchester schools commences Jan. 25, had questioned him and the chairman of the Local Selective Service Board.

Commissioner Downey did not feel it would be necessary to change the date of the second semester in Winchester and Chairman W. Allan Wilde of the Local Selective Service Board stated that since there are no places here to induct men under 20 until after Feb. 1, the second semester problem does not affect Winchester this year.

O'CONNOR WON FOOTBALL LETTER

"Jimmy" O'Connor, son of Dr. and Mrs. James H. O'Connor of White street, was among the members of the football team recently awarded varsity letters at Tufts College. A reserve guard for Tony Zullo, he played in the games with Middlebury, Boston University, Williams, Massachusetts State and University of New Hampshire.

"Jimmy" is a sophomore and weighs 184 pounds. He is enlisted in Class V-1, of the Pre-Medical Naval Reserve Corps at Tufts. He played no varsity football at Winchester High, being better known here as a baseball player, having also played independent ball at Hampton Beach during summer vacations there. His showing with the Tufts varsity for one of his limited football experience was considered excellent. He was the youngest member of the Tufts squad having but recently passed his 18th birthday.

SELECTIVE SERVICE BOARD CONDUCTS EXAMINATION

The Local Selective Service Board subjected to preliminary physical examination about 50 of its registrants on Thursday evening, Dec. 17, in the offices of the Local Board in the Winchester Town Hall. The majority of such registrants who pass the requirements of the preliminary physical examination are expected to be among those who will be inducted in the next call for inductees on Jan. 29, 1943.

The Local Board has received advice that its quota for inductees for January is considerably reduced compared to the number of inductees they have been obliged to furnish in recent months. They have been advised that they are required to supply only 29 men to fill their quota for the month of January. This reduction is state wide and apparently is the result of the fact that Massachusetts has supplied in the recent past a larger number of men for the armed forces than have been required of other states.

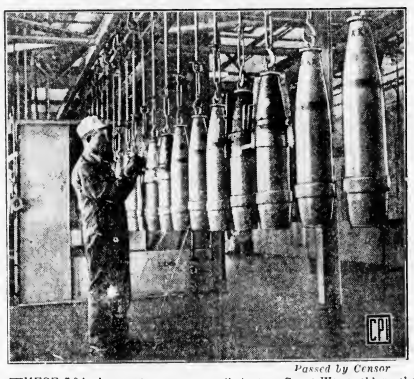
BUNDLES FOR BOCHES



Passed by Censor

THESE 7.2-inch monsters are one of 30 types of shells produced in Canada's munitions factories. Slowly revolving on the endless trolley these are nearing the end of the production line where they will be crated and sent on their way to strike another blow in the crusade against Hitlerism. The workman in this photograph is stencilling each shell with an identifying mark. The coating of anti-rust varnish which covers each shell brings it precisely to the dimensions required by the gun. Perfected in Canadian laboratories to eliminate a Great War problem, the varnish is a special compound which does not clog the breach of the gun. Canada and the United States have coordinated munitions output under the Joint War Production Board, which since November, 1941, has directed a plan under which both countries divide the responsibility for maximum production, sharing costs, material and labor. Scarce raw materials are being allocated between the two countries, each providing articles it is best able to produce for the most efficient prosecution of the war.

Oxalic Acid in Plants

Oxalic acid is found in a wide variety of American plants, but seldom in quantities sufficient to cause illness. Leaves, not stems, of the garden rhubarb occasionally cause enough of it to cause trouble. The most important oxalic acid plant, economically, in the United States is the greasewood that grows abundantly in the arid regions of the West. Sheep often are injured by it.

Just One of the Troubles

"One of the chief troubles in this life," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "comes from the fact that when you tell people falsehoods they are liable to be interested, and when you tell them the truth they are liable to get angry."

PROMISES

How about the Reorganization Act of 1939, held out as a promise to the people of condensing bureaucracies and governmental costs?

Instead we have had an unbelievable inflation of administrative personnel, not due to the war. It is now absolutely essential, when sacrifices must be made, enormous taxes faced, and lowered standards of living necessary, that this New Deal do what they promised. Where are our New Deal Congressmen? What are they for?

The Budget Bureau better be investigated and asked why it does not function? Where is the National Resources Planning Board? Why have they almost advocated deficit financing? Is that their job?

We are at war! Probably $5,000,000,000 a year could be saved on domestic government alone and probably 1,000,000 civil employees could be released for vital war work.

No Congressman who has voted these enormous, peacetime, unnecessary expenses (which now must be added to war taxes) should be reelected. Ask your Congressman, Why?

Socrates

"O. O. O."

The Wagner Act forbids employers from dismissing employees because they belong to or fail to belong to Labor Unions.

Yet a Closed Shop Agreement requires employers to discharge employees who do not pay their dues.

The joker, that the Wagner Act allows the exception, if the employer and the Union make a voluntary agreement to do so. Is a voluntary agreement one where employers are told, "Do it or else?" Does a voluntary agreement between a Union and Employer supersede all other New Deal laws or orders? If not, why not?

As Unions must agree with the theory of monopoly, as Closed Shop Agreements specify it, there could be no objection to inserting another little innocent clause in all agreements. "It is hereby agreed, voluntarily between said Union and said Employer that no competitor shall be allowed to take any customer away from said company for any reason whatsoever, there shall be no stoppage of work or cessation of black ink for any cause whatsoever (priorities, lack of materials, transportation, gasoline, or rubber); taxes cannot be increased and reports, orders, regulations, and agency-monkeying with business shall not exist for the duration of this agreement."

Why not with all government agencies and laws, if it's done voluntarily, between the two parties? If you can do it with the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. why not with the O. P. A., the O. D. T., the S. O. S., or any of the other hundreds of O. O. O.'s?

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

It's not a pleasant picture to contemplate, but War calls for "blood and sweat and tears." And the Army Medical Corps, with its efficient nurses and its volunteer Red Cross "Angels of Mercy," needs thousands of surgical beds for field and base hospitals on every front.

These beds cost approximately $22 each. They are the latest thing in modern hospital beds, with elevating springs. In some instances surgical cots are used in temporary field hospitals and there is a folding bed which may be used in ambulances. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps can buy many of these beds for the Army. You'll sleep better if you know our boys have every hospital comfort. Buy War Bonds every pay day. Invest ten percent of your income.

RUBINOFF SIGNED TO APPEAR AT WINCHESTER

Announced today by The Winchester Lions Club was the news that Rubinoff, famous conductor, composer and violinist, and his $100,000 Stradivarius violin, will offer a concert of popular classical music at the High School Auditorium, Jan. 3, 1943.

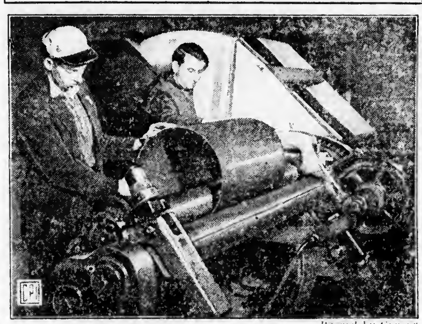
In negotiating for the celebrated instrumentalist's local engagement, the Lion's Club believe they have booked one of the country's most popular musical attractions.

Talented as an instrumentalist, composer and conductor, Rubinoff leaped into national prominence as the result of the inspirational quality of his music. His program will include music from his famed broadcasts, original compositions, tunes from his motion pictures and other familiar classics.

Rubinoff is a name in every home that possesses a radio and there are more than 20 million radios in the nation. This legion of listeners will almost certainly result in capacity audiences for his local appearance.

Tickets are now available at Purtle Drug Store, Star Office, McCormack's Drug Store, Ward's Fish Market or any Lion. Prices are for evening concert $1.50 and $1 tax paid. 3 o'clock afternoon educational concert for children 25c.

EVERY CANADIAN IS FIGHTING



Passed by Censor

THE power and precision with which the roller bends a steel plate into a perfect circle to make a depth charge reflects the spirit of Canada's war program. It will be closed at both ends, waterproofed and filled with high explosives, to be loaded aboard a ship of the Royal Canadian Navy engaged in ridding the Atlantic waters of Nazi submarines. With the growing need for manpower in the armed services, war industries and agriculture, Canada's new selective service policy is directing workers in "non-essential" categories into war work as curtailment and restrictions on civilian goods make an increasing number of workers available. In the next year 200,000 volunteers will be required for the armed services; thousands will be called up for compulsory military service and 100,000 men and women must be found for war industries. Recognizing the need for maintaining farm production, the government has granted indefinite postponement of military service for agricultural workers. They may enlist as volunteers in the armed forces but must not accept non-agricultural work without special permission. Training center and placement services have been established to introduce more women into war industry and transportation may be arranged to an area where women workers are required. Men fit for military service between 17 and 45 years are barred from accepting employment in a long list of restricted occupations which include almost every civilian job not connected with war work. Every Canadian is affected in some measure by the regulations.

ORDERS ISSUED FOR DEC. 30 SELECTIVE SERVICE INDUCTION

The Local Selective Service Board has issued orders for induction into the United States Army to 72 of its registrants, who have been ordered to report to the Town Hall, Winchester, at 7.30 a. m. on Wednesday, Dec. 30, at which time they will be conducted to the railroad station and taken by special car attached to the rear of the 7.59 train for Boston, where they will be met by Army trucks and taken to the Army Induction Station at 1005 Commonwealth avenue.

These men will receive during the day a complete physical examination and those who are considered physically acceptable for combatant or non combatant service will be sworn in and thereafter given an eight day furlough at the end of which time they will be again ordered to report to their Selective Service Board in the Town Hall, Winchester, for the purpose of an induction ceremony and for transportation to Fort Devens.

It now appears that the Army is having no large a proportion of men fit for non-combatant service called to them for induction have been issued to the Induction Station that they accept only 20 per cent of the total number of men who are accepted in any one day for such non-combatant service.

It may therefore, happen that some registrants whose physical condition would indicate that they are fit for non-combatant service only will be temporarily rejected if they follow outside of the above-mentioned 20 per cent limitation. The Local Selective Service Board is directed to retain these men in class 1A and to send them in with each successive induction until such time as they fall within the 20 per cent acceptable quota or are determined to be physically unfit for military service.

DECORATED WARDS AT DEVENS'

The zero weather did not keep the committee of the Winchester Better Homes Garden Club, who were to go to Fort Devens to decorate five wards from leaving Winchester early and spending the day at the Lovell General Hospital spreading cheer with their beautiful wreaths and garlands. Mrs. Harold M. Twombly has had charge of this work and the members of Mrs. Newman's executive board made enough so that there would be two garlands and 12 wreaths in each ward allotted to the club.

The December meeting, held in the Art Room of the Library on Wednesday was conducted by the president, Mrs. Newman. Following a short business period when Mrs. Newman reported the meeting of last week in Boston of the invited Federated presidents, she told of the importance stressed upon the Victory Garden for next year. The Winchester club has voted to co-operate in this work and a committee is to report at the next meeting.

The story of Norway at Christmas in Peace Time told by a native born Norwegian, resident of Winchester, Mrs. Harold H. Given, of Forest street, was a delightful recital of the customs and program carried through the holy holiday period.

Many interesting facts were told by Mrs. Given and she did want to talk only of the Christmas as loved in peace time but the third Christmas season which Norway has had to go through under the Nazi oppression is hard to overlook. The freedom or consideration for the customs of other days is given. But these people carry on knowing that there will be other Christmases in Norway in peacetime.

NAVY, COAST GUARD, MARINE ENLISTMENTS REOPENED

The Local Selective Service Board is in receipt of advice from National Headquarters to the effect that, as a temporary measure in force only until Feb. 1, registrants under Selective Service may apply for permission to enlist in the Navy, Coast Guard or Marine Corps through the Local Selective Service Board.

It appears that this action was necessary until such time as the system of accepting Selective Service inductions for these branches of the armed forces could be perfected.

For the time being and until contradictory orders are received "any registrant between the ages of 18 and 38 who wishes to volunteer for induction into the Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard may make application with his local board by completing an Application for Voluntary Induction (Form 165), provided he has not previously been ordered to report for induction. The requirement that before classification a volunteer for induction be physically examined by a local board examining physican is hereby waived. If after classification the registrant is not deferred, the local board shall prepare and turn over to the registrant, for delivery to the Commanding Officer of the nearest recruiting station of the service for which he has volunteered, "the necessary papers to accept such induction into the Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard.

If a registrant who chooses this method of induction is rejected by the branch of the armed forces to which he applies because of some physical defect, it does not necessarily follow that he is immune from Selective Service inductions when his order number shall be reached in the natural process of filling quotas for induction into the Army, as the physical requirements for induction into the Army are somewhat less severe than the physical requirements for induction into some of the other branches of the armed forces.

The Local Selective Service Board is prepared to handle such requests as may be made by registrants coming under its jurisdiction, or to assist registrants whose home is now within the jurisdiction of this Board but who are registered with some other Selective Service Board.

1 Year of War in the Automobile Business

OUR PART IN THE WAR EFFORT

AUTOMOTIVE TRANSPORTATION is absolutely essential to the winning of the war.

GOODS must reach their destination and WORKERS must get to their jobs on time.

SERVICE MEN, in maintaining and conserving both vehicles and tires, are performing a most important function in the Nation's war effort.

Joseph S. Eastman,
Director
OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION

Our loss of personnel has been very serious, ten men to the Armed Forces and men to the War Production Industries.

If there is no mechanic to make your car operate, it doesn't make any difference how much gas you have or how good your tires are.

Service replacement parts are increasingly difficult to get, but we are assured by our factory that parts will be available, so no car need go off the road because of a functional part.

If you are eligible for a new car we have FORD, MERCURY and LINCOLN cars in stock.

We have a number of good used cars which will give you economical transportation.

We have been in business in Winchester for 17 years and we are going to see this thing through.

OBSERVATION POST COMPLETED FIRST YEAR

Last week Wednesday, Dec. 9, Winchester Observation Post, 97-A, of the United States Army Air Corps Aircraft Warning Service, completed its first year. The Post was organized by Winchester Post, A. L., 97, and has been operated by the Legion with Past Comdr. Stafford Rogers as Chief Observer. Much of the credit for the excellent record established by the local Post must go to him. His effort has been both efficient and untiring.

The local Post first functioned from the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Nean at 202 Ridge street and the kindness and hospitality of the Neans in those early days is fondly appreciated by the executives and observers at the Post.

With the donation of a playhouse by Dr. H. H. Pentz the observation post was moved across the street onto land, the use of which was kindly donated by Mr. Francis Hodgkins. An oil burner was donated by Police Chief William H. Rogers.

This latter post served well enough during the winter, although with the arrival of spring, foliage spoiled the visibility and it was finally decided to erect a suitable tower on property owned by Mr. Ralph Thompson, a short distance from the post in use. The price of the materials was provided by the Selectmen, plans were drawn by one of the observers, Mr. Winthrop Upton, and the tower built by volunteers, working under Mr. Upton's direction. It was completed early in last July, and among the many gifts, one of the most important was that of a newer and larger heater from the En Ka Society.

The Post now has 146 active observers and 433 inactive observers. Five of the actives have served more than 200 hours, 36 have served from 100 to 200 hours and 73 from 50 to 100 hours. Many of the observers serve one four hour watch each week.

Since Dec. 9, 1941, the Post has been in operation night and day without a break, a total of 12,691 flights having been reported, breaking down into an average of 34.6 flights daily.

Functioning under Chief Observer Rogers are Winthrop L. Upton, secretary; Assistant Chief Observers Harry E. Dodge, Martin Foley, William E. Gillett, Louis E. Goddu, John H. McCarthy, Charles E. Howe, and Robinson S. Whitten. Officers of the Day are Howell M. Stillman, Sunday; Ralph H. Bonnell, Monday; M. E. Joyner, Tuesday; J. Waldo Bond, Wednesday; William B. Wood, Thursday; John H. McCarthy, Friday; and William E. Gillett, Saturday. In making his first yearly report Chief Observer Rogers singled out for special mention the service contributed by Charles E. Howe, Kenneth S. Hall, John H. McCarthy, Winthrop L. Upton, James E. Newman and James McMullen.

At a recent mass meeting of local observers in Fortnightly Hall, Major H. M. Baldridge, commanding the Boston Wing of the First Flight Command, U. S. Army Air Force emphasized that the ground observation corps is the "spark plug" that sets off all defense activity along the coast, in that reports from posts such as that in Winchester, are the starting signal for action by interceptor planes, searchlight batteries, anti-aircraft batteries and mobile service units within the Army, as well as the entire Civilian Defense organization in threatened areas.

Police Headquarters was notified last Saturday morning shortly before 11 o'clock that boys had done considerable damage to a Packard sedan, parked in the rear of the Eastern Felt Company's factory on Canal street by its owner, the company's engineer.

In addition to the damage done the car the Police say the boys broke 10 suphuric acid carboys piled up at the rear of the factory and valued at $50. The boys' were taken home and their parents notified.

SERGT. RICHARD C. PEIRCE REPORTS FROM N. IRELAND

Response to the Red Cross and similar appeals becomes so automatic to most people and the results are so frequently hidden that an eye witness report of the use of the facilities is refreshing.

Sergt. Richard C. Peirce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Peirce of 10 Marshall road has been in Great Britain since May. In a recent letter from No. Ireland he writes:

"Had a 24 hour pass Friday which I made use of by spending the night at Queen's Best at the Red Cross in Belfast and eating three very good American meals. The Red Cross has done a fine job over here. Has a restaurant, reading room, game room, shower, basketball court, etc., all available to American troops. We'll have no place to go if it weren't for such hotels. I never thought I'd benefit by my small contribution, but I have."

Sergt. Peirce enlisted in January and received his preliminary training at Fort Eustis, Va. After being sent overseas with an anti-aircraft unit of the Coast Artillery, he was assigned to a British School of Communications in England. Successive courses led to an instructor's course and the rank of Technical Sergeant. At present he is instructing and working at wireless maintenance.

WINCHESTER NEWSPAPER MAN WAS SPEAKER

Herbert Black, of 7 Seneca road, foreign desk editor of the Boston Evening Globe, addressed the Foreign Policy Association meeting last Saturday at the Copley Plaza, Boston. He discussed the military side of the Mediterranean struggle and Prof. Hans Kohn of Smith College spoke on the political side in a discussion titled The Mediteranean Pattern for Victory.

Mr. Black predicted that when Gen. Eisenhower completes the extremely difficult feat of moving his main armies into position a blitz-like attack will drive the Germans out of Tunisia and into the Mediterranean. He pointed out that we should not be discouraged by the lack of concrete news from Tunisia because secrecy was necessary in preparing for the attack. He praised the work of General Montgomery's army in Libya and suggested that Hitler will have his hands full fortifying the entire Southern Mediterranean coast of Europe against an inevitable allied attack which may come anywhere from Spain to the Balkans.

Mr. Black came to Winchester about six months ago and is one of a constantly growing group of Boston newspapermen who have selected Winchester for their homes.

UNITED WAR FUND CAMPAIGN GAINS MOMENTUM

Winchester leaders of the 1943 Greater Boston United War Fund were among the 175 community leaders and their associates at last week's Dutch treat dinner-meeting of the Metropolitan Division held at the clubhouse of the Junior League in Boston.

J. Henry Smith, Jr., community chairman, headed the Winchester delegation. He was accompanied by William J. Croughwell and Harlow Russell, 2d.

All-out participation of the 48 cities and towns of the metropolitan area in the 1943 campaign was forecast by the large enrollments of volunteer workers reported.

Brooks Potter, chairman of the Metropolitan Division, who presided, congratulated the assembled community chairmen and their associates on the rapid enrollment of workers and emphasized that the number is considerably ahead of that reached at the same time last year. The large enrollment figure, he stated, pointed to the complete organization of the Metropolitan Division well ahead of the campaign's opening next month.

Miss Mary Veronica Asaro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Asaro of Harvard street, and Robert James Colclough, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Colclough of Metcalf street, Medford, were married Sunday afternoon, Dec. 13, at 4.30 in St. Mary's Church by the pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Asaro wore a gown of white satin and old lace, and carried a white prayer book with bride's orchids. Her maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Dorice Asaro of Winchester, who wore a Spanish rain-sin gown of velvet and taffeta and carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

Albert E. Colclough of Charlestown, was best man and the ushers were Nicholas Asaro, U. S. N., and Frank Asaro both of Winchester.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, the mothers of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with Miss Very Muraco and Miss Lorraine Beale. Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Colclough left on a wedding trip to New York and Annapolis, Md.

The bride attended St. Mary's School and graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1937. She is a member and past secretary of the Order Sons of Italy in America and a member of the Christopher Columbus Club. She has been employed as a beautician by William Filene's Sons in Boston.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Medford High School, class of 1932. He is now serving as a seaman, first class, in the United States Navy and is stationed at Annapolis, Md.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The regular meeting of the Fortnightly held on Monday, Dec. 14, was well attended regardless of the poor traveling because of the snow and cold. The afternoon program was in charge of the Music Committee. The Glee Club in its robes led the singing of patriotic and Christmas music. The entertainment for the afternoon was a program of music by Mrs. Helen Bedford, harpist, who made her harp live the music of fine artists. Mrs. Earl Weidner was the accompanist for her son Earl, who at 14 years of age, is an artist of rare talent with his violin. Mrs. Weidner, who is chairman of music, in the State Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on the beauty and charm of music just previous to the entertainment. Mrs. Hall, president, extended sincerest wishes to all for a happy Christmas and invited those present to have tea with her.

The food sale before and after the meeting in aid of the Scholarship Fund was very successful. Mrs. Sparks, chairman of Scholarship, and her committee, wishes to thank all who helped in the success of this sale.

WINCHESTER BOY LEAVES FOR GEORGIA

Private Laurence P. Pinkham, who last week completed his three months basic training at Camp Croft, S. C., leaves Saturday to enter the Infantry Officers' Candidate School at Fort Benning, Columbus, Ga.

He was recommended for this further study by his superior officers because of his excellence in military record, education and character. His formal examinations given by the officer candidate board were passed with a high ranking percentage. In addition to his military duties at Camp Croft, he has enjoyed serving as company editor of the Battalion News.

His new course of study at Fort Benning will be of 12 weeks duration, the satisfactory completion of which will then entitle him to the commission of second lieutenant.

We have the new Total War Battle Map in colors by Ernest Dudley Chase, artistic and practical. 50 cents at the Star Office.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Our army spells and pronounces it ponton, not "pontoon", as you do. Ponton bridges cost all the way from $15,000 to $700,000. The smaller bridge using individual metal pontons is pictured here. The largest ponton bridge is 1,080 feet long and is made of rubber instead of aluminum.

One small bridge has a weight capacity of 25 tons, using about 2,000 individual metal pontons. The smallest is used only to take troops over smaller streams. But whether our army uses the smaller or largest ponton, our engineers need plenty of them. If you and every American invests at least 10 per cent of income in War Bonds every pay day we can supply our fighting forces with these essentials to a victorious war.

VISITED LIBRARY

Twenty-five seniors from Simmons College Library School visited the Winchester Public Library Thursday afternoon. They were accompanied by an instructor. This was part of their school program. Miss Mead, Winchester's Librarian, spoke to the group and conducted them through the various departments of the library.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS AT LIBRARY

Christmas carols will be played in the Boys' and Girls' Department at the Public Library during next Tuesday at the noon hour and in the afternoon.

WOBURN HOOP TEAM HERE TONIGHT

Winchester High School opens its current basketball season tonight in the high school gymnasium with Woburn and is surely picking no soft touch for its initial game.

The Orange and Black will come to Winchester with three veterans of last year in the lineup, though minus Cheepie Doherty and Mush Tedesco, who were the stars of last year's five. Because of its background and the greater chance boys have to play the game in the tanning city Woburn will be a strong favorite tonight. The game was originally scheduled for Woburn but was switched to Winchester because the Woburn gym is not yet blacked out to conform with dim-out requirements.

Coach Henry Knowlton, who is replacing Ted Bartlett, now in the Army, has been hard at work with his squad, and has been generally pleased with the results thus far obtained. The boys have looked good in practice, but it will not be until after he has seen them in actual competition that he can get a real line on their ability.

Only one letter player will be in the lineup that faces Woburn. Capt. Pete Twomble will start at left forward, but Bill West, football star and other letter man, has not reported for basketball yet, having been ill since the football season and not yet fully recovered. West's absence will hurt Winchester's chances against the tanners since he is a big, fast, aggressive guard who is very effective under the backboard.

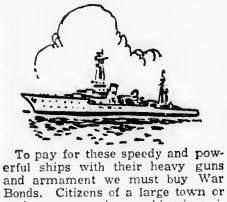
Pairing with Capt. Twombley on the forward line tonight will be Jim Farrell, towering reserve end on the football team, who has played quite a bit of basketball around Akron, Ohio, before coming East. Gordon "Stretch" McGovern, center on last year's successful second team, will play the pivot post, and the guards will be Kennie Wright and Charlie Murphy. Ken Wright played on the seconds a year ago, but Murphy is new to competition, having been an assistant manager last year. This group will have plenty of height, with Farrell and McGovern going nearly 6.04, Twombly, six feet and both Wright and Murphy approaching the 6 ft. mark. With West in there another 6 footer will be added.

Jack Errico, star forward on last year's second team and Fatty Buzzotta, rugged guard, will see plenty of action tonight, but will not start, having reported late for practice. Fran Poirier is another guard who will be in there before the final whistle.

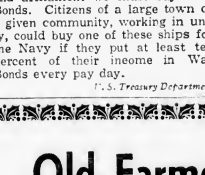
The local second team will probably line up with Bert Moore and Chucker Roche, forwards, Richie Callahan, center, and Dick Coon and Kennie Way, guards. The second teams will get away at 7.30 and seats are always at a premium at the Woburn game. Frank Garvey of Chelsea and Jimmy Haggerty of Woburn, sports editor of the Woburn Daily Times, will referee.

CARS IN COLLISION

A Buick sedan, driven by Benjamin W. Harriman of 83 Lexington street, Woburn, while turning south on Main street from the traffic circle at Symmes Corner Monday shortly after 12.30 p. m., was in collision with a Chrysler sedan, driven south on Main street by Charles E. T. Scribner of 11 Kilgne avenue, West Medford, who was making a right turn to enter Grove street. Both cars were damaged but no one was injured.



Navy Cruisers are built in two classes, light and heavy, the latter displacing about 10,000 tons. Our navy has about an equal number of light and heavy Cruisers, the 10,000 ton Cruiser costing approximately $20,000,000. Many Cruisers are under construction and many more are needed.



To pay for these speedy and powerful ships with their heavy guns and armament we must buy War Bonds. Citizens of a large town or a given community, working in unity, could buy one of these ships for the Navy if they put at least ten percent of their income in War Bonds every pay day.

U. S. Treasury Department

J. H. WINN'S RECEIVE TROPHY

Now these distinguished representatives of the Army and Navy come here to Winchester to this fine 75 year old concern, not to make an appeal, but to say 'You have given us and are giving us the tools. They are fine tools made by your loyal and patriotic Americans who are your partners and employees.'"

Hon. Horace T. Cahill, Lieut. Governor of Massachusetts brought greetings from the Commonwealth and the personal good wishes of his Excellency, Governor Salttonstall. Lieut.-Governor Cahill said in part, "By winning this award you serve notice on the world that a democracy of free men and free women, of all races, colors and creeds, will work harmoniously and efficiently to destroy Hitler and all the enslavers of mankind. Therefore, on behalf of the Commonwealth, I bring you our official thanks for the fine work you have done. Massachusetts takes off her hat to you."

Major H. R. Battley of the Air Corps, representative of the Under Secretary of War, R. B. Patterson, made the presentation of the Army-Navy "E" Award Flag to the President of J. H. Winn's Sons, Mr. Ernest B. Dade.

Major Battley congratulated both management and workers for overcoming production obstacles and obtaining the highest award that can be given by the services. To quote from his address, "For more than 75 years J. H. Winn's Sons has been recognized as producers of high quality, close tolerance instrument parts. Now you have shown the world that you are living up to the reputation made by your predecessors established in by-gone years. I use the phrase 'showing the world' because I dare say the items that you make now in your plant, are on every battle front from Iceland's snow-caped mountains to the Coral Seas in the South Pacific, and the burning sands of Africa.

Sometimes it is very difficult for a worker who has been engaged in the manufacturing of small parts to see just how their work ties in with the War Program. They cannot see that the little pointer, little instrument, little machine tool that they produce, does contribute to Victory, so let me point this out to you and leave this thought with you. It may be just the small pointer that you made today that will be in the bomber that bombs enemy camps, or sinks a Japanese cruiser, so you see the work that sometimes may seem monotonous is vitally important, and no aircraft is complete without parts, or similar parts, that you make. Therefore, you have in every fighting craft a part of YOU. YOU are members of the fight ing crew.

I take great pleasure in presenting to Mr. Dade, the highest award that can be given to any industrial plant or civilian. When you see this pennant waving above your plant you will feel a thrill of past accomplishments and spur you on to greater efforts."

In accepting the pennant, Mr. Dade stated that difficult obstacles had to be overcome in changing from peace-time production to that of war. Having achieved this, he pledged renewed efforts toward even greater achievements and resolved to produce more for final victory, and furthermore pledged the company to the service of winning the war.

The pennant was raised by Messrs. Lester R. Snow and Edward H. Newhall, partners, while the Waverly Post 1272 V. F. W. Band played the Army Air Corps March.

Lieut.- Comdr. W. M. Cashin of the U. S. Navy, after a stirring speech explaining the meaning of the Navy "E" made presentation of "E" pins to the following employees as a representative group.

Miss Mary A. G. Haggerty, 35 years.
Miss Catherine Connolly, 29 years.
Mr. George H. Morse, 29 years.
Mr. Paul D. Goldia, 27 years.

Mr. Glenn W. Husted, chairman of the employees committee, accepted the pins in behalf of the employees. His speech was one to cheer and inspire the hearts of all within the hall. With all the Americans banded together in the spirit expressed by Mr. Husted, final victory is moved many days closer to our doors.

Mr. Husted stated, "We give our pledge for the continued effort to produce enough and on time so that never again will we be tortured by the phrase, 'Too little and too late.' As you return to your post of duty, wherever it may call you, we bid you God speed and take with you our pledge of fidelity."

The program was then brought to a close by the singing of America, led by Miss Tarbell.

All regretted the asence of Mr. Harry T. Winn, member of the firm, and one of our Town Assessors, who is slowly recovering from a severe cerebral hemorrhage which he suffered last August.

WINCHESTER GIRL MARRIED IN TENNESSEE

Mr. and Mrs. Thorley Collester of 10 Oxford street returned on Saturday from Nashville, Tenn., where they attended the wedding of their daughter, Mary Louise Collester, to Aviation Cadet Allan Stewart Macdonald, who is stationed with the United States Air Force in that city. The wedding took place on Wednesday, Dec. 9, at the Nashville Congregational Church, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Malcolm White, pastor of the church.

Cadet Macdonald is the son of Mrs. Stewart Macdonald and the late Professor Macdonald of Melrose. He enlisted in the Canadian Air Force in 1941 and last May went through a crack-up while acting as a co-pilot, being hospitalized for two months. Upon receiving his discharge from the Canadian Air Force, he joined the United States Air Force. He attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the Cambridge School of Liberal Arts.

Mrs. Macdonald is well known among Winchester's young people. She attended the Brimmer May School of Boston and Bennett Junior College at Millbrook, N. Y. She has recently been connected with the Winchester Trust Company.

The couple will make their home for the present in Nashville.

SALVATION ARMY APPEAL

The Salvation Army appeal in Winchester is being hurried so that all will be cleared before the busiest Christmas shopping and cheer plans in Winchester, come along. To that end Brother Thomas Woodruff, an official collector of that organization remains another week to contact new donors and old friends. William N. Beggs, attorney, chairman of the sponsoring committee, is grateful that so many have handed or mailed their contributions to G. Dwight Cabot, an official of the Winchester Trust Company, who is serving as campaign treasurer.

Many Winchester people are each day contacting the Salvation Army's Christmas Kettles on the streets of Boston.

DON'T THINK YOU WON'T BE MISSED!

Have you forgotten something? Forgotten to pay for the Christmas Seals you received last month from the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee?

If you did forget, it's not too late to send the money now to the Treasurer, Mrs. Harold Beebe at 27 Everett avenue. Your money is needed more this year than any year since 1917.

APPEARANCES

(Written for Winchester Star)

To try to see ourselves as "others see us,"
Our disobediences to life's better things
Is oftener the result of morbid self-consciousness
Than of an honest desire to discover and amend
Our envies, malices, and petty jealousies,
Those subtle, unseen workings of personal sense,
Animosities, cruelties, which too oft pass unchallenged
In the daily lives of men in their relations one with another.
Only as God can understand and judge men truly
It is wiser as well as more comfortable to be concerned
About What We Are, rather than what we may seem.

Eugene Bertram Willard

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

RED CROSS

BLOOD DONORS ATTENTION

Mrs. Wm. Hevey, Win. 0892-M, is chairman of the Blood Donors division of the Winchester Red Cross Chapter. She will be glad to answer any questions about the giving of blood, and can arrange for transportation to and from Boston whenever desirable for that purpose.

It is suggested that a group of three or four donors plan to go at the same time. In that case the Red Cross bench wagon can be sent, which would simplify the problem for many people.

As the war goes on, the need for blood becomes constantly greater. It is one contribution that many of us can make, even if we are prevented from doing other kinds of war work. Please, if you possibly can, telephone Mrs. Hevey right away and see about an appointment.

ASSIGNED TO ARMY AIR DUTY

Pvt. Angelo B. Caputo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Caputo, 15 Irving street, Winchester, has been assigned to active duty with the U. S. Army Air Forces following his graduation yesterday from the New England Aircraft School, Boston. As a member of the Army Air Forces Technical Training Detachment stationed at the School for the past five months, Private Caputo has been given specialized instruction in the maintenance and repair of all types of airplanes in preparation for service with a skilled ground crew.

HILLS NOW CADET

Kenneth M. Hills, Jr., son of M. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Hills of 17 Mason street, has enlisted in the service as a Naval Aviation Cadet. Kenneth graduated from Winchester High in June 1941 nd is now a sophomore in the Engineering School at Tufts College majoring in Chemistry.

DINNER PARTY

On last Friday evening, a small dinner party was given to Mrs. Charles W. Meek of Church street before her departure for Los Angeles, Calif., where she has gone to visit her son, William and his wife.

We have the new Total War Battle Map in colors by Ernest Dudley Chase, artistic and practical. 50 cents at the Star Office.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Barbed wire used by Uncle Sam's fighting forces is vastly different from that used on American farms. Army and Marine barbed wire is much heavier and the barbs, about three inches in length, are more vicious than ordinary barbed wire.

The Marine Corps pays fifty cents for each twelve yards, or 36 feet of this specially manufactured barbed wire. The Army and Marine Corps needs thousands upon thousands of feet for defensive warfare. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps will insure sufficient quantity for their needs. Invest at least ten percent of your wages in War Bonds every pay day.

LEGION NOTES

Winchester Sons of the Legion are taking great interest in the formation of a young people's volunteer aviation corps, to be known as the Civil Air Patrol Cadets which will parallel that of the senior Civil Air Patrol (CAP) and which has been sanctioned by the Director of Civilian Defense.

The purpose is to extend opportunity for training under guidance to civilian volunteers of a younger age level, who will not be assigned to flying duties, but who, upon completion of their cadet training and graduation from high school, will be eligible for full membership in the Civil Air Patrol, where 18 is the minimum age for flying assignments. Membership in the junior patrol is limited to native born students in the senior or junior years of high school.

Under the present setup each senior Civil Patrol member will be permitted to sponsor one boy, that one of his acquaintance most likely to succeed in aviation, and then will be personally responsible for helping the recruit make good.

Ground training will be the same as for the senior patrol. The cadets will learn navigation, meterology, radio, and other aviation subjects. Emphasis is placed also on military drill, courtesy and discipline, with such defense subjects as first aid, gas protection and code signalling. Conduct of classes and drills is determined by the local CAP units, and special programs will be arranged for cadets, centered as far as possible around the airports so the recruits will quickly get the feel of aviation.

Members of Winchester Post, 97, now in the Nation's armed forces include Charles N. Bacon, Theodore E. Burleigh, Vincent P. Clarke, Wade L. Grindle, Theodore W. Lawson, Richard W. MacAdams, Daniel P. Morse, Jr., Nathan Thumim and Sherman W. Saltmarsh.

Of the Legion's Boy Scout Troop now in service are Henry H. Breen, John W. Campbell, Joseph C. Sciarcia, Joseph P. Daly, Frank M. Feeney, James M. Feeney, Robert E. Feeney, Francis Ferro, Arthur R. Hills, Robert Joyce, John Kenton, Carmine J. Luongo, Michael Penta, Joseph Russo, John H. Styglés, Jr., and Leo F. Treacy.

Sons of the Legion in service include Frederick J. Donahue, Jr., David H. Goodwin, Frank Migliaccio and Frank Zaffina.

RUSSIAN WAR RELIEF

Last week Friday morning Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, as guest of the Russian War Relief spoke to an overcrowded ball room of the Statler Hotel. Her topic was, "Experiences in England." She emphasized particularly the response of the British people towards Russian War Relief under the chairmanship of Mrs. Winston Churchill.

The British people are very thankful to the Russians for diverting ne terrors of the Air Raids from their own soil, because most of the airplanes have been engaged during the past months on the Russian front.

The Winchester committee wants to remind the residents that the drive for warm clothing is going on. Precinct centers were announced in the last issue of the Star but those who missed this copy may find the information at the Public Library.

Christmas at the Library

Certain things are traditional at the Library during the Christmas season and they are in evidence as usual this year.

In the adult department are to be found the Creche, the Snow Village with its many tiny lights and as usual the center table in the foyer has its angels and choir stall to attract people to the good collection of Christmas stories, poems and carols that are so much a part of Christmas. Among the books to be found in this collection are the attractive Christmas annuals of the past several years including the current issue for 1942.

One notes with pleasure that the blacked out windows in the students' room are made attractive with appropriate decorations. On one of the windows is a Bethlehem scene and the other is covered with green paper with a Christmas bell and rope pull crowning a colorful poster "We'll keep our Christmas merry still."

The decorations that are much loved by the children are taking shape in the Boys' and Girls' Library. As usual there will be the Snow Village, Tiny Tree and Santa Claus in the glass case. Gay lights will be a part of the scene because this little village is not in the dim-out area. Christmas books are displayed conveniently.

All of these things are attractively arranged and placed each year for the pleasure of the library patrons and visitors. Most of the displays have been creatd by staff mmbers. It is almost a ceremonial.

Christmas greens were furnished by the Better Homes Garden Club and add greatly to the decorations.

Your Library is a cheery place and is happy to make you welcome.

McLAUGHLIN AND PRIDHAM CHAMPS

If you were listening, and even if you weren't, you must have heard the shouts of triumph emitted by Royal P. Teele, doughty president of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, at the conclusion of last week-end's pneumonia session on the gale-swept beach courts.

Royal's exuberance stemmed from the fact that he and Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champs, were finally successful against "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and champion of all Nabnasset, and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham, after twice taking it on the well known chin from the Larruping Lake Street Lancers. Mr. Teele was inordinately happy in victory and his whoops of joy would have made Miriam's well known Old Testament Song of Triumph after the deliverance of the Israelites sound by comparison like a reed flute in competition with one of the larger locomotive whistles.

Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Pridham took their defeat philosophically, the former pointing out that even minus the last series he and his partner were undisputed champs for the session, having beaten Teele and Butters twice, the Secretary and Mr. Knowlton twice and the Secretary and Mr. Gardner, once. All these victories were, more-over, won without the loss of a game, excepting only the first with the Maxwell road mug-wumps, the Secretary and Mr. Knowlton, who took the first game of their first series with a nice exhibition of co-operative effort, finally winning through on a most unexpected double-header by the scrivener, of all people.

In commenting upon the loss of the final series Mr. McLaughlin gave it as his opinion that this match did not constitute a "league game" since he personally was so cold he was pretty sure he lost track of the score at least once or twice. Mr. Pridham felt much as Mr. McLaughlin, but Mr. Teele and Mr. Butters advanced the contention that previous to the series in question, they had been taking things easy so as not to discourage the opposition.

The final match was a hum-dinger. The Lake Street Lancers took the first game going away, Mr. McLaughlin's double-headers, plus some very steady work by Mr. Pridham, bringing home the bacon rather easily.

The second game went to the President and the Maine State champ, with Mr. Teele doing some very classy pitching indeed. Mr. Pridham stayed with him nicely but Mr. McLaughlin, his proboscis getting redder and redder, had commenced to fade, even in this one. "Willie" is a warm-weather pitcher and the icy chill had gotten pretty well into his carburator by that time.

The final game saw McLaughlin hanging on the ropes, even his customary little rum around a circle after each pitch failing to restore him from his sub-arctic condition.

Meanwhile Mr. Teele and Mr. Pridham had been indulging in a bang-up duel, Mr. Butters, hampered by a burly wool jerkin being somewhat below his usual form.

It should be recorded however, that Arthur opened the last game with a nice double-header that practically broke McLaughlin's heart and from time to time he rung the stake, generally however only to have Mr. Pridham cover his shot.

Mr. McLaughlin, as stated, was not so good, and Mr. Teele was able to match the Pridham consistency until the score stood 22 apiece.

It was Royal's effort and he tossed on a ringer, his yells of glee ringing clear through the frosty air. Pulling himself together, Mr. McLaughlin came through with a ringer and a close one to put his side ahead, 23-22, Mr. Teele's comment being of a type not caluculated to be reproduced herewith.

Mr. Pridham delivered his shoes and they were close, but not on. "Close but no cigar" as Mr. Knowlton (with his earlaps down by this time) put it, Mr. Butters was in the clutch. The Pridham shoes were plenty good enough to count and two were all that were needed. The issue hung upon his well swathed trusty right.

Plotting the course with care and drawing the old double hyperbole directly upon the stake, Arthur let go, chucking up a pretty ringer and following it with a second, to sort of rub it in, as the old saw has it. In sombre silence Mr. Pridham and Mr. McLaughlin left the courts as Mr. Teele and Mr. Butters joined their voices in a peaen of sheer ecstasy.

JOHNSON—GLIDDEN

The marriage of Miss Frances Glidden, daughter of Mr. Henry O. Glidden of Hillcrest Parkway and the late Mrs. Dorothy Ayer Glidden, to Lieut. Robert Johnson, U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Johnson of Madison avenue west, took place Monday afternoon, Dec. 14, at the First Baptist Church. The pastor, Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton, performed the ceremony at 4.30 o'clock in an attractive setting of chrysanthemums, gladiolas and palms. Walter T. Trefry, organist of Malden, played the bridal music.

Miss Glidden was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Howard Newman (Dorothy Glidden) of New York City. The bride wore a gown of ivory white rayon jersey, having a lace bodice and extending into a long train. Her tulle veil was arranged to form a self coronet and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and white sweet peas.

Mrs. Newman wore a dress of blue satin and georgette, trimmed with crystal. Her hat matched her dress and she carried a bouquet of small yellow rosebuds.

Douglas O. Lees of West Medford, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom was best man, and the usher was Walter P. Gleason of Winchester.

After the ceremony the bride and bridegroom received informally at the rear of the church, before leaving to spend their honeymoon skiing in the White Mountains.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and attended Bates College, graduating from the Chamberlain chool of Design in the class of 1942. Lieut. Johnson graduated from Winchester High School and attended Norwich University, graduating from the Oxford School of Business Administration last March. He recently graduated from Officers' Candidate School of the Quartermaster Corps at Camp Lee, Va., and reports for active duty Christmas Day at Fort Robinson, Neb.

ALUMNI GAME WEDNESDAY

Winchester High will play its annual basketball game with the Alumni next Wednesday evening in the school gymnasium at 7.30, ringing down the curtain before the Christmas vacation.

Just what sort of team the Alumni can put on the floor in competition with Uncle Sam is hard to say, but there probably will be enough graduates on hand to give the schoolboys quite a battle. It may be necessary for Lou Goddu to get into this one and Lou has stated that he is ready.

HILLS PROMOTED

Arthur R. Hills of this town is one of 30 Massachusetts men promoted from second to first lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps for temporary service with rank from Nov. 30. Massachuetts led all states in the Eastern Recruiting District from Maine to West Virginia in the number of men thus advanced.

Lieut. Hills is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills of Dartmouth street. He is a Dartmouth man and is well known here as a tennis player, having been one of the Winchester Tennis Association champions in 1941.

PLEASE remember that Christmas and New Year's are not holidays for the Armed Services, and War Calls Still Come First.

DO NOT call centers of war activity, especially Washington or the South and the Far West.

CALL long distance only if you feel you must, and on those occasions be brief.

LONG DISTANCE lines at the time may be busy with important Army, Navy or War Production traffic, so your call may be subject to unavoidable and long delay.

OVER THE HOLIDAYS circuits will be especially busy with the additional traffic of service men who will want to call their homes. We believe you will agree with us that this Christmas the long distance lines belong to our Armed Forces.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB WINTER CONCERT CANCELLED

At a meeting of the Mystic Glee Club held Monday evening at the home of President Carl W. Wood of High street it was decided to cancel the usual winter concert in favor of one big concert to be given early in the spring.

Several factors entered into this decision, chief among them being the heat situation and the many demands being made upon everyone at this season of the year.

The club is meeting regularly for rehearsals and there is the same enthusiasm among the members that has been so apparent in previous seasons. Despite the fact that a dozen or so members are now with the colors new singers have filled the ranks with no less in efficiency, balance in the voices being even better than ever.

Among the new singers are David Downer, well known tenor, and Dana Kelly, baritone, both of whom sang leading roles in the recent presentation of the Pirates of Penzance under the auspices of the Mothers' Association. Both have added greatly to the quality and strength of the sections in which they sing.

In spite of the transportation problem Bill Cruger is again coming over from Waltham to lead the club and is pleased with the enthusiasm and ability of the local singers. Needless to state the club is delighted to have Bill with them again since his leadership, fine voice and pleasing personality have meant much in every appearance of the chorus.

The club has been fortunate to secure as accompanist Mary Louise Wood of Arlington, a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and an advanced pupil of Madame Szumoska, noted pianist and friend of the great Paderewski. Mrs. Wood is an experienced pianist and accompanist who has already proved her competency in the short while she has been playing for the chorus.

As usual the spring concert will benefit some worthy charity, it being the club's policy to sing only under such conditions. Meanwhile the group is making several informal appearances both in and around Winchester.

COUNTRY DANCE

Saturday evening Jan. 9, is the date of the Informal Country Dance, to be held at Metcalf Hall, Unitarian Church, from 8-12 p. m. Miss Chapin has had much experience with this work as a teacher at the Country Dance Society, 87 Beacon street, Boston.

It is to be hoped that the young people home from college as well as the not so young will come to this party for a really good time. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

SEVERE COLD HIT WINCHESTER

The cold snap which hit Winchester last week Tuesday night intensified over the past week-end with bitter cold weather prevailing Saturday afternoon and night and all day Sunday and Monday. Temperatures were reported about town from 10 to 18 degrees below zero and at the CAP observation tower during the height of the cold spell the glass was reported at 28 below.

With oil-heated houses running on rationed schedules many were downright cold over the week-end and physicians reported quite a bit of illness. Plumbers and garage men were on the go, thawing pipes and towing refractory cars. About the only happy individuals we encountered were the winter sports enthusiasts who were in high glee.

The only cold weather casualty reported to the Police was the freezing of Patrolman William Haggerty's left ear during his tour of duty Sunday night and early Monday morning.

S. N. R., son of Mrs. Harris George LeRoy of Forest street and the late Mr. LeRoy. The rector of the church, Rev. Ralph M. Harper, read the service at 4 o'clock.

Miss Mills was given in marriage by her father. She wore an empire style gown of white taffeta with a veil of tulle caught to a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas.

Miss Madeline McCarty of Ashmont was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Marian and Miss Ruth LeRoy, sisters of the bridegroom. The honor maid wore a dress of confetti red net with a tiara of blue sweet peas and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. The bridesmaids wore dresses of pale blue net and their tiaras and bouquets were of pink sweet peas.

Robert LeRoy of Winchester was best man for his brother and the ushers were James V. Doolin of Somerville and Edward Kelly of Wellesley.

A reception for members of the families and intimate friends was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. After a wedding journey Ensign LeRoy and his bride will make their home in Jacksonville, Fla., where the bridegroom is an instructor in instrument flying at the Naval Air Station.

A BUSY PROGRAM FOR BELL RINGERS OF WINCHESTER

The Christmas holidays have been very busy for the Bell Ensemble of Mrs. Henry A. Poveliete and hours of practice have brought a remarkable degree of precision and facility in execution which has resulted in a blending of tones which serves to bring out adequately the true melody of their selections.

The talent of the group has been wide spread with the result that radio stations have vied with one another for the Bell programs as presented this Christmas. Wednesday morning over the air from Station WBZ was rung a most successful program of Christmas Carols; which brought in requests for additional numbers, although the time could not be arranged impromptu. However, the group have been engaged for a beautiful Easter broadcast over this same station and will start soon after the holidays on the new Easter program of joyous music.

The girls in this group are Marion Horwood, Virginia Lovejoy, Barbara Johnson, Betty Engle, and Marjorie Johnston with Mrs. Henry A. Poveleite, director. This is Mrs. Poveleite's ninth year with Bell broadcasting for New England as well as the nation wide programs.

The Easter program will be national and if possible inter-national as well.

Lieut. Burns was severely wounded and is now in a base hospital in this country. The citation said that when the coxswain in charge of landing barge carrying 200 soldiers was struck by machine gun bullets Lieut. Burns siezed the wheel and got both men and cargo safely ashore in Morocco, though he was wounded in so doing.

The Winchester boy, well known in local Knights of Columbus circles, was in charge of a contingent of Military Police included in the 850 ship convoy that landed in Africa as a surprise move. BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Winchester Unit

Many generous Winchester people read the Star, the Winchester Unit knows. For when the Star has told of a need, responses have come from those the Unit had no other way of reaching. Mrs. Cameron and all the workers hope thes generous people will read the Star this week, for they have no other way of thanking those who have given good used clothing anonymously. For example, a box of good warm suits for men had no name. And there was no name with a box that carried happiness for a mother and baby, a cheerful, pretty dress for the young mother and a warm little pink bunny-hug robe to snuggle the baby in if they go to have Christmas [illegible] the Cratchitts and Tiny [illegible]l of the list which the [illegible]me and thank we grate[illegible]e Star. The workroom group voted Dec. 16 to thank also the wardens and vestry of Epiphany for the use of the parish hall. Because it has friends like these, the Winchester Unit goes busily on without a cent of overhead.

The list of thanks is long: for the patterns lent for the toy-making; for madras samples that made perfect dol-skin; for cash for toys; for money to supply thread; for Canada yarn to knit for merchant seamen; for generous price concessions on serge from a factory.

Finally to the lad whose civilian clothes started to the British civilian front the day he started for the Rockies and strenuous training for work on some northern defense or battle-line. Even his precious ski clothes all were given, the cap that last year flashed along in a troop of schoolboys; the stockings that went streaking down Maine hillsides. When peace comes, and all its good things, may this schoolboy turned soldier share abundantly, as he now gives. To him and to all who are not here this Christmas, and to all who miss them, a good Christmas of love and hope and sharing.

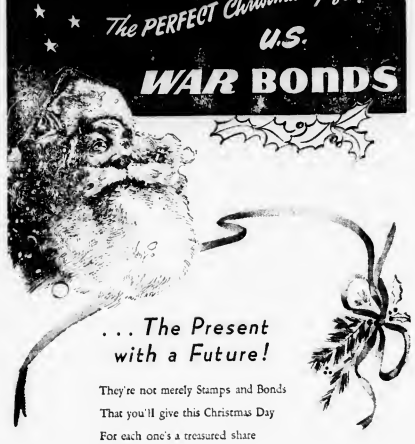
PAST NOBLE GRAND'S SERVICE CLUB

The Past Noble Grand's Service Club of Victoria Rebekah Lodge, I.T.S, met at the home of Sister Josephine Arnold, Dix terrace on Wednesday evening for their regular meeting followed by their regular Christmas party.

The first of the evening was devoted to the regular business meeting and was presided over by our President, Sister Mabel Larson, at the close of the meeting, the members stood in silence during a very impressive memorial service, dedicated to our dear Sister, Ruth MacDonald, who lost her life in the Cocoanut Grove fire.

Later in the evening we were invited into the dining room, which was prettily decorated for Christmas including a beautifully lighted Christmas tree laden with gifts. As we took our seats at the small tables in the room, we were presented with a lovely gift from our hostess. Delicious refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted by Sister Arzillia Higgins. Then came the Christmas tree which was very much enjoyed by all. Carols were sung, Merry Christmases were wished to all and we bade our dear hostess good night and many thanks for another lovely Christmas party.

The next meeting will be held on Jan. 27 at the home of Sister Mabel Larson, Maxwell road.



. . . The Present with a Future!

They're not merely Stamps and Bonds
That you'll give this Christmas Day
For each one's a treasured share
Of our own proud U. S. A.
Gas appliances can wait
(Though they're nice to give - that's sure)
Till the War and Peace are won
And our future is secure.

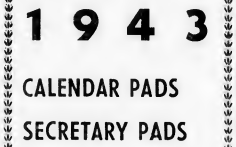
Injury From Bullheads

Experienced fisherman pay little attention to the feelers, or "whiskers," about the mouth of a bullhead when they are handling this species of fish, for despite the belief of many persons to the contrary, there is no danger of injury from possible contact with these, according to old-time fishermen. But anyone who knows anything about bullheads does take care to grasp a squirming, slippery specimen in a manner to avoid the first back fin and the two side fins or pectorals, for with these the bullhead is capable of inflicting a really painful wound.



BLUE BARN

"Did you ever see a blue barn?" Mrs. Vincent Clarke, chairman of the Christmas Seal Campaign of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee, is asking that question these days. In the last few weeks, her interest in barns has grown considerably, particularly in the color of barns.

The 1942 Christmas Seal, is a snowy country scene with a red barn in the background.

Mrs. Clarke says that a recent survey by a farm journal among 25,000 farmers shows that 75 per cent of them had red barns.

"I believe I know why farmers paint their barns red," she said. "Isn't it because red paint is cheaper, holds its color in all kinds of weather, doesn't get dirty and sets off by contrast the other farm buildings? But does the tradition of red barns go deeper than practical reasons?"

The 1942 Christmas Seal has caused more favorable comment than any Seal in recent years, says Mrs. Clarke.

But has any one ever seen a blue barn?

SAMUEL STEPHEN SMYTHERMAN

Samuel Stephen Smytherman, veteran of World War 1 and widely known employee of the Highway Department, died Friday morning, Dec. 18, at the hospital of the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea after several months illness.

Mr. Smytherman was the son of Laurence and Mary (Fitzgerald) Smytherman. He was born Sept. 6, 1887 in Winchester, was educated in the local schools and was a lifelong resident of the town. He was for 25 years a member of the Winchester Highway Department.

During World War 1 Mr. Smytherman served overseas with Co. B of the 504th Engineers' Battalion, seeing service with the 11th Engineers at Cambrai and laying light railway at Sorey, Corneville, Giraud and Menil LeTour. He was a member of Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Flags on the common and public buildings were displayed at half staff in his honor.

Mr. Smytherman made his home with his sister, Mrs. Catherine Flowers at 17 Holland street. Besides Mrs. Flowers he leaves three sisters, Mrs. George Joyce, Mrs. Irving Welch, both of Winchester, and Mrs. Mary McCall of Woburn; and two brothers, Lawrence and Thomas F. Smytherman, both of Winchester.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the late residence with requiem high mass celebrated in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. George F. Wiseman. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by St. Mary's pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan.

MISS DOROTHY M. McISAAC

Winchester friends of Miss Dorothy M. McIsaac, secretary of the local insurance firm of Luther Puffer, Inc., were shocked to learn of her sudden death last Saturday morning at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The next regular meeting of the Fortnightly will be held Monday, Dec. 28, in Fortnightly Hall.

The Winchester boy and girl scouts will be guests of the club when they will hear Mr. Archibald Gilchrist speak on Australia. Mr. Gilchrist was born and lived the greater part of his life in Australia. He owned and conducted a newspaper in the far Northwest of Australia. His father, the Rev. Archibald Gilchrist, M. A., Ll., D. was one of Australia's most noted lecturers.

Mrs. Hall, president, has recently visited the U. S. O. headquarters at 13 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, and delivered two violins, one mandolin, and one ukele for the boys in the service and donated by club members. Mrs. Hall was informed that these instruments are to be used on transports and patrol boats. If the members have any magazines that men would be interested in, or books on technical subjects as Engineering, Algebra, History please get in touch with Mrs. Hall, or Mrs. Priest, as the demand at the U. S. O. is very great and any kind of old-school books will be greatly appreciated.

WINCHESTER NURSE COMMISSIONED

Miss Kenneally is a graduate of the Waltham Training School for Nurses in Waltham and is registered in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Florida and the Province of Ontario in Canada, having more than 14 years' experience.

She has been educational director of the Municipal Hospital in Tampa, Fla., and before that, superintendent of nurses at St. Luke's Hospital in New Bedford. Active in the Tampa Little Theatre, Red Cross and Nursing organizations, Miss Kenneally resigned the presidency of the Tampa Branch of the Pan American League upon receiving her commission.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Garden Club met on Thursday, Dec. 17 at the home of the president, Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini. After a delicious luncheon served by the hostess to members of the club and their guests, a delightful paper on the subject of Iris, written by Mrs. Preston Corey, a former resident of Winchester, was read by Mrs. Herbert West. Mrs. Corey's knowledge of her subject and love of beauty was plainly revealed in her paper and an invitation was extended by her to the members to visit her garden in Reading.

Mrs. Teele, who is a well known member of the Garden Club Federation, showed some charming color photographs of her original arrangements of dried plant materials, and talked informally on the subject, adding greatly to the pleasure of the afternoon.

The president reported that war bonds and stamps were sold during the week of the Women's Drive, to the extent of $694. A check was sent from the club to the new Station Hospital at Fort Devens, and a check was also sent to the Red Cross for the work of the councils.

HORSESHOERS HAD SABBATICAL

Old Aurora Borealis won a clean-cut decision over the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association last week-end, even those frost-bitten chillblained warriors who miraculously escaped pneumonia the previous week refusing to risk death by freezing on the gale swept courts.

Royal P. Teele, doughty president of the Association, stuck his nose gingerly outdoors and seeing his stalled station wagon and the glass below the round-1 with the heavy black line decided to get a second opinion. The Secretary said he wasn't going to pitch and "Will Willie" McLaughlin, Pride of Stowe, and champion of all Nabnasset, was even more emphatic. He had not, on his on admission, thawed out from the previous session. As early as Wednesday last week Mr. McLaughlin handed in a negative ballot for the pitching to come.

The other end of the Lake Street Lancers, Roland "Thin Finger" Prilham, couldn't be reached, but we are inclined to believe if any one would have reported, that one would have been Roland. Herb Gardner was still rubbing goose grease on his chilllaines and H. Tiffany Knowlton's terse "no" just about indicated where he stood, with or without goloshes.

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, wasn't polled, but his remarks of the previous session anent the general imbicility of grown men who would leave even their 65 degree firesides for the sub-arctic temperatures of the Palmer Beach steppes made personal contact unnecessary in this case. The Butters answer was recorded as negative without bothering to find out.

As for warm weather pitchers like ol' "Foul Line" Wittet and the "Double Figure" Winchesters and Cullen Brothers, Johnnie and Benjie, no reports were necessary. When it 's too cold to bike, Wittet is out and the others haven't been seen since the glass got below 60. We did hear unofficially that Harry Pilkington was dressed for the beach, fur coat and all, but his dog grabbed him by the coattails and wouldn't let him out.

WINCHESTER WON FROM WOBURN

First and Second Teams Gave Tanners Surprising Reverses

Winchester High School's surprising basketball team upset the dope completely last Friday evening by taking Woburn High into camp in the local gymnasium, 34-26, in the opening game of the year for both schools.

Woburn was known to be considerably weaker than last season, but the Tanners have dominated Winchester on the court so completely in recent years that it was figured by the wise ones that they would be good enough to win.

They weren't, and there was nothing flukey about the local boys' win either. It was fairly earned. The Winchester seconds' win over the Woburn seconds was by the score of 34-24, and it seemed in both games that the winners' margins could have been greater.

Woburn showed little in the way of a team game, but this is nothing new. In past seasons the Tanners have depended more on the individual class of their performers to pull them through than upon combination play and basketball finesse.

This year there was no "Cheepie" Doherty or "Mush" Tedesco in the Orange lineup and though the visitors shot from any and all angles, they weren't so successful with the sucker shots that were dead sure pop when "Cheepie" and "Mush" were near the basket.

Johnnie Doherty was Woburn's best scoring threat and high scorer, caging four floor goals for 8 points. He was closely covered by Winchester's Jim Farrell, towering forward, who did a good job in limiting the Woburn ace's total while racking up 15 points himself on 6 floor goals and three shots from free tries.

Farrell, who formerly played in Akron, Ohio, was the game's leading scorer, and looked very promising at his right forward berth. His 6 feet 4 inch frame makes him a hard man to cover. Charlie Murphy, who last year was an assistant manager, followed Farrell with 7 points.

Winchester's control of the ball was better than for some time and for a while the game looked like a walk-away, the locals having a 10-1 lead before the Tanners came to life. The local boys were very basket-minded and often were guilty of ineffective passing in their eagerness to get the ball under the enemy's basket. As usual the local boys' shooting wasn't too effective, many shots from close in being missed. Generally speaking, however, their showing was good enough and their unexpected win over the Tanners so pleasing that their followers were a joyous crowd leaving the gym.

MR. NEWTON TO DIRECT "SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE"

Directing this year's Junior-Senior production "Seven Keys to Baldpate" adapted for stage presentation by George M. Cohan from the novel, "Seven Keys to Baldpate" by Carl Biggers, and to be presented in the high school auditorium on Jan. 16, will be Mr. John Roy Newton, new member the high school English Department.

Mr. Newton's former experience in directing plays includes, among others, the one act play, Submerged, and two three act plays, Nothing But the Truth, and Dollars to Doughnuts.

A select cast has been chosen, at the head of which are Joanne Mullan as Mary Norton, an ambitious newspaperwoman, and Frank Horne, as Magee, an aggressive novelist.

Joanne's previous experience consist's of taking part in and directing school plays.

Frank created an impressive Merlin in A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court, last year's production, and should be an equally impressive Magee.

The cast is showing its determination to make a success of the play, as several rehearsals are being planned for the Christmas holidays.

PERFORMANCE REASSURING

Last week these columns announced that the Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts and Cubs were to canvass Winchester Dec. 29 and 30 selling War Stamps and Bonds. The third line of such news items can often spill into an extra cup of tea or coffee being served at Bertha's knitting bee for baby bonnets and babushkas or into an arm chair strategist's glassy dream confusing the Beverydge Plan with prohibition or one confessing that Rommel's run broke all speed records but your own to the gasoline pumps last Saturday morning, and so we repeat.

Take heed of the importance of the Boy Scout. Look for him, call for him and praise his mission and youthful solicitation. If you are down town seeking the Rationing Board, see a Sea Scout first! He will have plenty of the latest V stamps of the different calibers. If you should enter the theatre for a film showing how our older boys are making out with a jungle full of Japs or how they are nullifying Nazi nihilism, get a few sheets of stamps with which to fan yourself through their hell. Then you'll be calm and much more comfortable knowing that bit of flak in the air or the pretty pom-pom puff will fade only briefly, as your purchase has released another shot of powder bag to dam the froth of hate. Yea, if your gas ration book is getting too thin for decent appearances, pad it with V coupons that guarantee better mileage in the future. Just call a Cub or shout to a Scout!

If the cold has you busy laying more newspapers in between the blankets of your soft bed any you don't get in town to see if prices went where the thermometer did, or you are in your blackout room sorting over old coffee grounds with microscopic precision and are counting, "91, 92, add one fresh one," et cetera, drop everything but your purse to answer the door bell on the 29th and 30th. It may be a belated Christmas gift or your warden checking on the way you flatten out tin cans, but the chances are it will be some spark of light dodging through the surrounding dimout, a youth—eternal sunlit truth! A neighbor's son, our rising sun!

This scribe dozed off on the second word of a news item reporting that so and so was not planning a trip to France's sunny south this winter and dreamed:

While busy fighting for Victory
And planning peace for you and me,
Let's not forget we used to be
The unscathed child in gaiety.

A Tinker Tom or Betty Bee,
A Jean and John, now she and he
Proud parents in the family tree
Guiding branches, more golden nee.

Yes, Victory for sure, if all that be
Will see the utter futility
In all that neglects little she or he
Soon to take over the master key!

To which dream there is no jest. So Ahoy for the boy! Ahoy!

YOUR good performance will reassure HIM!

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

WEST GUEST AT COLUMBIA

Bill West, captain of Winchester High School's championship football team this past season, was recently entertained at Columbia University in New York. Big Monk won wide recognition on the schoolboy gridiron this fall and several of the big colleges would be delighted to have him enroll as a freshman in the fall. Bill has taken both the West Point and Annapolis exams and is believed to have a decided preference for one of the service schools.

Craig Greiner, Jr. returned Monday from Northwestern University for the Christmas holidays.

SAGAS OF THE SKIES

by R. C. Oertel

Manager of Aviation Division
Colonial Esso Marketers

IN fact and fiction man has ridden steeds of diverse temperament, size and shape. We have all read of the wonders of The Magic Carpet, of Tarzan who rode the wild jungle beasts. Rajahs of foreign climes ride in majestic splendor on wise and knowing elephants; the Arabian mount is a magnificent servant to a brilliant and clever horseman, but it remained for Derek M. Sharp to ride in an unusual manner the most modern carrier the world knows today—the airplane.

At the U. S. Air Corps training school, Tuscaloosa, Ala., Jay McCausland, an instructor, and Cadet Sharp were flying at about 500 feet when the airplane began to act strangely. Immediately Pilot McCausland investigated this peculiar behavior and found, to his surprise, that he was quite alone. Then, in amazement, he saw his passenger out on the tail of the plane!

Reacting promptly to the needs of the situation, the instructor climbed to a height of 2,500 feet so that Sharp might safely make a parachute jump; then he kicked the rudder bars back and forth to attract the attention of the plane's hitch-hiker. To his surprise, he felt Sharp take hold of the tail and wriggle it back at him, and he found his pupil had straddled the rudder and was conveying by "thumbs up" that he chose to stay there rather than jump. In this strange manner both men came safely to earth, as Instructor McCausland made a perfect landing.

Cadet Sharp's unruffled explanation of his mishap was that he suddenly found himself sitting on thin air, then felt a severe rap as his head hit the tail of the airplane. Instinctively he threw his arms around the tail with his legs dangling below and wiggled himself up onto the elevator surfaces. He also added that he was "pretty comfortable" and that he "enjoyed the ride."

As pointed out in the opening paragraph, varied indeed has been man's means of transportation.

With the outside glass at an even zero Tuesday morning, we were much comforted to read in our early paper the following: "Despite cold weather, construction of the 857-mile eastward leg of the 24-inch war emergency oil pipline from Norris City, Ill., to refineries at New York and Philadelphia began today on the main line section west of Phoenixville Junction, Pa. A second and third crew are expected to start work in a few days and by early January work should be going full blast on all 17 contract sections, Ickes said." Who the guy was that planned it that way we do not know, but from our experience during the past ten years we would imagine him to be a New Dealer filled with the spirit of democracy and a desire to brighten our Christmas festivities. They need a little brightening. It isn't that we are not willing to freeze if necessary. It's the fact that during the hot weather last summer, when there was no frozen ground, our great New Deal planners were so busy planning that it takes a zero morning to break the news to us that they have planned this oil situation along enough to start relief in the midst of an unprecedented cold spell. And that's some sentence to get out of our system in this temperature!

Dear Chief:

Your department responded to a small chimney fire in our home at 12 Rangely road last Wednesday evening and Mrs. Burns and I would like to take this opportunity of thanking you and your department for the efficiency and consideration and the care your men took in minimizing the damage.

This kind of service from your department can only make a citizen of Winchester more proud of the town and the services the town renders.

Very truly yours,
R. A. Burns

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS

Dear Parker:

I want to offer my congratulations on the excellent job of sanding our streets performed by your department Wednesday morning. I am sure that every one of the drivers of Winchester's myriad A-cards appreciated it—especially as they dashed about after the ice began to melt.

SELECTMEN PRAISE ST. MARY'S BAND

The Board of Selectmen has written Rev. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's Church, in praise of St. Mary's Band as follows:

"The Board has noted recently with a great deal of pleasure and pride the services that have been rendered by St. Mary's Band.

We believe that your efforts in establishing this very interesting body of young people have been helpful as a character builder, a developer of good citizen-ship and a patriotic service. You and Professor Barone are to be congratulated on the splendid results you have obtained in so short a time. The Band is certainly a credit to your Church and to the Town.

With hearty good wishes, we are

Very truly yours,
The Board of Selectmen"
By Ben R. Schneider,
Chairman

In reply Father O'Riordan wrote: "In the name of St. Mary's Band, Professor Barone, our parishioners and myself, I wish to express gratitude to you and The Board of Selectmen for your highly valued communication of Dec. 16.

Little did we think when, with civic and patriotic hopes, we organized this group of boys and girls that we would gain the commendation of the highest authorities in our Town.

The Board's appreciation of the services of St. Mary's Band is the most powerful incentive to the entire membership to measure up in the future to what Winchester has done for them and to what Winchester expects of them.

With sincere good wishes, I am
Very truly yours,
Rev. John P. O'Riordan"

RETURN OF STARS APPRECIATED

The Star wishes to express its thanks to the large number of subscribers who returned to this office their copies of the issue of Dec. 4. Through this kindness many relatives and friends of Cocoanut Grove fire victims were supplied with copies. The response to our appeal for these copies was very gratifying.

It might be a good reminder to those readers of the Star who do not subscribe that in these times of increasing circulation and a probable shortage of paper, all subscribers will continue to receive their copy of the paper in advance of counter customers. While we have no intention of purposely limiting our issue, exceptional demands for the Star may not always be met. Subscribe now and be sure of receiving your copy regularly each week. You save money too, for it costs you only a little over 1 cents a week.

SOCIALISM

In June, of this year, the Federal Government had 2,207,754 civilians working for it on its payroll and this has been growing since at about the rate of 50,000 a month.

At the height of the last World War only 918,000 civilians were on the payroll. The New Deal (before we entered this war in 1940) had 1,014,117 civilians on the payroll, a number higher than in World War 1. Now it is 2,207,754.

Before the New Deal, America got along in its most prosperous times with only 500,000 civilian employees.

What under the sun is America thinking of? This New Deal should be told to cut out every cent of spending not for direct war. Of course, when 150,000,000 of us are all on the government payroll, we will actually have Socialism. It can automatically happen.

"Home" for Christmas!

HELP THEM HURRY "HOME" BY OMITTING YOUR LONG DISTANCE CALLS

YOU may be sure that at Christmas time they are all thinking of home.

Many American boys in training camps throughout the country are spending their first Christmas away from their families. They would like to be home, of course, but this year many of them are planning to wish Mother and Dad a Merry Christmas by telephone.

You can make it easier for them to get "Home" for Christmas by not placing long distance calls over the holidays.

But if a call is urgent, we know you will be patient with any delays. You want military calls to come first. So do we.

SIXTH COLUMN

There is beginning to be the first, insidious signs of "Forget some of the ideologies of our Democracy for the duration", stop all opposition or grumbling because we are at war. This wicked or careless attack upon our Democracy from within is taking several forms, whether organized or not is too early to see. Probably much of it springs from an honest desire to have harmony, yet harmony always has its base, its tenor, its contralto, and its soprano.

Unity we must have but the superstitions that accompany all wars must not blind us so that we could create a philosophy of infallibility with nothing but a foundation of yes men for our leaders to lean upon. This always creates centralized governments or some form of totalitarianism with its inevitable last mistake, defeat!

Criticism can be suppressed by fear, political or material, but it cannot be suppressed and keep the confidence of the people in their democracy; and America must decide whether its government is too weak to stand criticism.

No elections during war? We won the last war and Congress was changed from Democratic to Republican right in the middle of it. Talk (that it would kill unity and the war effort for a President not to have his party in control of Congress) is not borne out by facts. Opposition creates strength, courage, and caution. Remember the bitter criticism of Washington, the true greatness of Lincoln and his election in the mid lle of his troubles? (He thought the very night before election he was to be defeated.) In fact he told intimate friends that his opponent would probably be elected on the morrow; and said he would offer to work together with him in between the election and the inauguration for the crisis could not stand such an interlude. President Hoover made the same offer, but it was not accepted. Lincoln said, after his election, in that troubled crisis in our country: "The election has demonstrated that a people's government can sustain a national election in the midst of a great civil war. Until now it has not been known to the world that this was a possibility. It shows also how sound and how strong we are . . ."

Shall these United States admit to Hitler that America is not as strong politically today as it was in the middle of its Civil War? Will the New Deal candidates ever admit, during their campaigns, that our Government must be all one party for us to win this foreign war? What an indictment of people's government and the ideology of Democracy!

America will have its free election and the people will advise its government while backing it up 100 per cent or Democracy cannot longer exist.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

The Country is at war, and we
Are hanging on to beat the Axis,
With lots of things we have to do
As well as fret about our taxes;
There's rationing for this and that,
Get in the scrap, turn down the heat,
Give up spare tires for the car
And have less sugar, tea and meat;
The coffee situation 's bad,
Gas gallonage is dow nto three,
And as we "hold our social gains",
Our trouser cuffs no more may be!
The future 's looking pretty grim,
We're finding life both real and earnest,
We burn oil, so the OPA
Says brother go back to a furnace!
But still we aren't a total loss,
Though freeze we may, and broke we're going,
Despite the New Deal and the war,
The STAR to date is up and doing!
So thinking now of all our friends,
For one day we all gloom will by-pass,
And wish for one and all our best
Old "Horse and Buggy" Merry Christmas!

SERVICE AT CRAWFORD MEMORIAL CHURCH CHRISTMAS EVE

On Christmas Eve at 11 o'clock the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will again be host to the other churches of the community with its beautiful and unusual Candlelight Carol service. This hour service inaugurated by the pastor, Rev. Roger E. Makepeace will be held for the fourth consecutive year and its acceptance not only by the people of the church but of the community has been demonstrated by the large attendance. Dim-out conditions will prevail outside the church, but inside the attractive colonial sanctuary many will come to celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace.

The Senior Choir and soloist, Mrs. Ruth McHale, will participate in the service and also lead the congregation in the singing of the Christmas carols which form an important part of the worship. The musical part of the program will be under the direction of Mr. Richard P. Law, the organist and choir director.

The special Christmas offering will go entirely to the Russian War Relief cause.

The lovely white interior of the church will be attractively decorated with Christmas greens. The church will be open at 10.30 p. m. for those coming early for meditation. Worshippers from other denominations are welcome and are invited to attend this Christmas Eve service.

The Golden Text will be: "If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; even the Spirit of truth" (John 14:15-17). Bible selections will include the following passage from Matthew 5:43-45: "Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; that ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven; for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust."

One of the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included in the Lesson-Sermon, reads as follows: "The letter of Science plentifully reaches humanity today, but its spirit comes only in small degrees. The vital part, the heart and soul of Christian Science, is Love" (p. 113).

GOD GIVE US UPLIFTERS

(Written for the Winchester Star)

God give us men of noble thought and passion,
Ever zealous to fight the forces that darken and harm.
In this critical period teeming with confounding mazes!
Penitence and faith need a determined guiding,
And life's experiences a strength [illegible] of self-sacrifice;
God give us men with hearts that will ride
Out this [illegible] civilization's grim [illegible]trations,
Challenging its cruel injustices and base pretensions
So powerfully intrenched, and which pander
To tumult, to hate, and to human malignancy—
Marking the indiscretions of men so plainly
That even adolescents recognize human decency's decline;
God give us strong men who will prove impregnable
As they regarrison their courage and their souls,
In the midst of despiteful barren and unfruitful lives;
We need men who dare go onward and look upward,
Unmoved, beyond life's stresses, and with placid tempers,
Ever walking in new strength to overcome hate and depression
More fully cognizant of human power to bless, restore, heal;
God give us men, real men, ready to go through trials and tribulations
More fully to master the way of Service to one's fellows;
Entertaining and cherishing an enduring stronghold,
Casting out all wrong acts and in harmony
Giving never a thought to cowardly recession;
God give us men alert to listen and obey
Who recognize that human cussedness arises from lack of love;
And who will give Service as a shining way of peace and happiness.

Eugene Bertram Willard

CUT IT OUT

President Roosevelt felt that it would be a good thing to build a United States Information Center Edifice, in Washington, so that tired business men could go there and find out where to go. Now they are told to stay away from Washington. It's too busy, too crowded, and too-too. Tired business men have found out where to go and they are going fast. (They now stay home.) It has reached the point where they have not enough money to go to Washington, the fastest growing, highest per capita income city in the United States.

Well, this monument to stupid bureaucracy was built, $600,000 it cost, in real workingmen's money. (The New Deal has not one cent of its own money. It comes from taxation, hidden and otherwise.) This building is known now as "Mellett's Madhouse," nobody hardly uses it, it's a flop. It's typical of the whole New Deal Social Reform spending orgy, money that we wish we had now to help pay for the war, to help keep taxes down and standards of living up.

We are at war, desperate war. All our resources must go to direct war. The New Deal should be frozen in its tracks for the duration, at least. No New Deal Congressman or Senator, up for election, should receive one single vote. They and they alone are wholly to blame for millions thrown away. Necessary war spending is hindered by New Dealer spending of our own money for its whims, fancies, and vote getting ideas. War-spending, if it takes all we have, is as it should and must be; but, on top of this, the billions New Dealers have squandered and are still squandering will be felt by every family in America.

Citizens, get smart! Stop being foolish. Win the war first!

When coal was in the making in the earth insects were like giants flying in the air. A genus of dragonflies with a wingspread of about a foot, although their body diameter was not much greater than a lead-pencil, probably were the most striking.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

When the American Expeditionary Force landed in Ireland recently newspapers reported the citizenry remarked at the similarity of the steel helmets worn by our boys with those worn by German troops. These steel hats are protection from shrapnel fragments and other light missiles. We need thousands of them for they are a regular issue to every American soldier.

A smart strap fastens under the chin and they are padded for comfort. One steel helmet costs $5 so every time you fill a $5 stamp book you are buying protection for an American soldier. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. Help your community reach its War Bond Quota. U. S. Treasury Department

Etching Defined

Etching is the producing of original pictures by drawing on a copper plate covered with an acid-resisting ground; allowing the drawing, whose lines have bared the copper, to be eaten into the plate by immersion in an acid bath; rubbing a stiff ink into the sunken lines and then taking from this, by means of an etching press, a limited number of proofs.

HIGH SCHOOL EDGED GRADS

Winchester High School's basketball team, away below its Woburn game form, barely got by a dogged Alumni group Wednesday evening in the high school gym, finally winning 20-19.

The graduates had a great chance to win in the final minute of play when they had two free tries. Both were missed in about as intense a finish as you would care to witness.

Billfolds at Wilson the Stationers.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The power of the greatest Navy in the world, our own two-ocean fleet, rests in large measure on its backbone—the Battleships of the Line. They displace approximately 35,000 tons and cost up to $70,000,000. We have something like a score of these huge ships in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Eight huge battleships are under construction and more are contemplated. To finance these modern goliaths of the sea it is necessary for every American everywhere to buy more and more War Bonds. We can do it if everybody does his share. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day to help your county go over its Bond Quota. U. S. Treasury Department
